Texas scrip used to be quite common,—scamps had it,—statesmen had it, some who have been almost worshipped,—and we, the people of the United States, have had to pay for it,—exactly as these filibusters mean we shall pay for their outfit.

☞ Senator Douglas seems to be rapidly getting the better of the administration in the matter of the Lecompton Constitution, making good his boast that in sixty days he would be in harmony with those in the party that were relied on to crush him. The Democrats of Ohio, Indiana and Wisconsin have formally declared in his favor. The Lowell News states that "the Democrats of Merrimack County, N. H., in convention, on Thursday, adopted resolution sustaining Douglas, in place of a series upholding the President. The vote stood 21 to 17, however, showing a divided state of opinion, and a wavering of purpose, that augurs badly for the success of that party in March."

CONGRESS.—After the transaction of the usual morning business on Tuesday, in the United States Senate, the death of the late Senator Rusk of Texas was announced by Gen. Houston of that State, and eulogies were pronounced by Mr. Collamer of Vermont, Gwin of California, and Seward of N. York. The proceedings of the House were brought to a close at an early hour, by a message from the Senate in regard to the death of the Texan Senator.

☞ We are glad to see that City Marshall Westcott, of Newburyport, is re-appointed, as he was a most efficient officer last year; so efficient that the keeper of a gambling den offered to spend $1,000 to defeat his re-election, and probably did spend it.

In the Board of Aldermen, previous to Mr. Westcott's re-appointment, resolutions were introduced, against appointing policemen who took part in politics so as to influence voters.—But though half the Aldermen voted for them, yet they were defeated by the good sense of Mayor Cushing, who killed them by his casting vote, thus disappointing the powers of darkness and vice.

Mayor Cushing also defeated, in the same way, a resolution revoking thirty illegal agencies. These agencies expire in May,—and they may not—we think will not then be renewed.—The moral effect of the city election is not lost.

☞ In the Supreme Judicial Court, Manchester, Jan. 16, in the case of State v. Ch's. Jaquith, of New Ipswich, for selling a half pint or liquor to Frederick W. Bailey, last November, Bailey was the only witness in the case. The Jury returned a verdict of guilty, but recommended mercy, considering the circumstances. The Court said it had no control over the fine, which would be $50, but as to the costs they would be stricken off, in accordance with the wishes of the Jury, the prosecuting officer acceding.

A Chinese proverb says a lie has no legs and cannot stand; but it has wings and can fly far and wide.

VARIETY OF DOCTRINE.—Last year, at Pitt Street Chapel, Boston, a novel course of sermons was preached, by clergymen of different denominations, from the text—"What shall I do to be saved?" The crowds who listened to these sermons have not ceased to bear testimony to their good results.

This year an equally novel course is to be preached. Sects are by some regarded as opposing parties in religion, and clergymen as party leaders. Narrowness and bigotry or great laxity of religious principle are often ascribed as the causes of the existence of these sects, and of the zeal of their ministers.

A gentleman from each of six different denominations has been invited by the Pitt street Chapel Associates to answer this question: Why from love to God and man am I a Methodist, a Baptist, or whatever the preacher's denominational term may be? The following named clergymen have accepted the invitation, viz: Rev. Messrs. Clarke, Methodist; Thayer, Universalist; Sykes, Baptist; Rev. Drs. Adams, Trinitarian Congregationalist; Randall, Episcopalian; and Gannett, Unitarian. The series will be closed by a sermon from Rev. T. Starr King. The sermons, although preached from the same pulpit on consecutive Sunday evenings, are entirely independent. Perfect freedom also is given to each preacher, to answer the question by arguments drawn from peculiarity of doctrine, or church government, or any other considerations.

STRANGE HORSE STORY.—Correspondents of the Boston Journal, state that a high-spirited horse, driven by two young men on the morning of the 15th inst., between 3 and 4 o'clock, when near the village of E. Corinth, Vt. became frightened, and succeeded in detaching himself from the sleigh. He ran most furiously through the street, until, for what reason can hardly be imagined, he turned his course directly toward the door of a house occupied by Mr. B——, a merchant of Corinth, crossing a field to reach the house. Striking with great force against the door, it gave way, and the horse made his way through the hall into the kitchen. Out of this kitchen, opens a door into a small bedroom, occupied at this time by Mr. B——, his wife, and three children. Mr. B. and child occupied one bed, and Mrs. B. and two children the other. The furniture consisted of two beds, a crib, mirror, clock, chairs, &c. The horse, probably attracted by a light which was burning in this room, dashed in, breaking down both beds and the crib, each of which were in different corners of the room, demolished the mirror and clock, and finally taking refuge in the corner of the room, shivering with fright. In coming in contact with the mirror he seems to have received a severe wound about his mouth, from which the blood was freely distributed about the room, upon the beds, and even on the occupants; the whole presenting an appearance that cannot be described. The strangest part of this story perhaps is that no one received the slightest injury, although they were not a little frightened. The scene of the remarkable transaction has been visited since by many from Corinth and adjoining towns.

☞ The N. H. Patriot informs us that Rev. Obadiah Smith of Fremont was put in jail last Wednesday, [in Exeter, we suppose,] on a charge of rape and incest.—Will some one at Fremont or Exeter please tell us who and what the criminal is, of what denomination, &c.? His name is not in the Register.

☞ On Thursday last a man in Lawrence was brought before the Police Court in that city and sent to the House of Correction for 40 days, for stealing a newspaper left at the door of a subscriber. Served him right.

☞ Bills of all the Rhode Island Banks, except the following, are now received at the Suffolk Bank, viz.:—

Bank of South County, Wakefield; Bank of Republic, Providence; Farmer's Bank, Wickford; Hopkinton Bank, Westerly; Rhode Island Central, East Greenwich; Tiverton, Tiverton; Warwick, Warwick; Mount Vernon, Providence.

☞ A correspondent of the Exeter News Letter says:—

In Ludlow, Mass., a revival has been enjoyed, and a rum-seller has professed conversion, banished liquors, and changed his bar-room into a place for prayer meetings. This looks well. If one is a subject of converting grace, all bad practices are given up, and the person is a "new creature."

☞ Hon. Wm. S. Damrell, representative from the Third Congressional District, Mass., has resigned his seat in Congress in consequence of sickness that renders him unable to perform the duties.

BUSINESS IN BOSTON.—The Shipping List says:

Money is becoming quite abundant, and there is evidently more confidence in monetary circles, than for some time past. Prime business paper is very scarce on the street, and can easily be negotiated at from 6 a 8 per cent., but at these figures the security must be undoubted. Very good notes are still disposed of at 10 a 12. Owing to the dullness of trade for some months past, there will be but a comparatively small amount of paper maturing for months, and the demand for money for business purposes must be small for the present. The Banks are also discounting quite liberally, and the bulk of the prime business paper is absorbed by them.

The improvement in stocks continues to be sustained, and the tendency is still upward. Railroad shares have advanced materially during the past two weeks, and Bank stocks have again become favorite investments with capitalists. First class Mortgages are more inquired for than for some years, and city securities are also more sought after and are scarce.

The advices from abroad are favorable. In merchandise no movements of any importance. The leading articles remain without material change. The arrivals of Flour continue fair for the season, and as the prospect of an export demand is not very favorable, prices are likely to rule low for the present. Calcutta Goods remain about as last reported, and in Provisions there is no change.

The Portland Advertiser says that Rev. Mr. Hayden of that city, on Sunday last gave a learned and interesting discourse on Infant Salvation. "The preacher" it says "took up the subject of infant damnation, from its first distinct introduction as an essential doctrine of the church, by St. Augustine, and traced it down to modern times, from the writings of Calvin and others, and to the time of the Assembly's Catechism, and from that time to within forty years. The collection of authorities was most ample, fully showing the general concurrence of the church in the doctrine. He then gave a statement of the teachings of Swedenborg, who gave the world a new doctrine about a century since, in which he taught that the souls of infants were saved, matured and educated in the path of holiness in heaven."

The subject of infant damnation has recently attracted attention in various parts of the country, and called forth many able articles and well considered sermons.—Whatever may have been the former views of the church authorities upon this subject, there can be no doubt now that the authorities fully sanction the doctrine of the salvation of infants.—Kennebec Jour.

☞ A Mrs. Colby, aged nearly 80 years, attempted suicide in Amherst, N. H., on Wednesday, by making use of a razor.—Her throat was badly cut, but her recovery is probable.

☞ Judge Davies of New York has decided that the letters from Gen. Washington to Tobias Lear, now in the possession of Mrs. Higbee, belong to Louisa Lincoln Lear Eyre, who brought suit to recover them.

☞ The word creole means native, and may have no reference to color or race; and creole horses and creole cows are as properly spoken of as creole men.

WILD CHERRY.—We hear so much said of the wonderful curative power of Dr. Wistar's Balsam, in all stages of diseased lungs, that we feel perfectly safe in recommending it for general use for coughs, colds, bronchitis, &c.

IT IS A MOST UNDOUBTED FACT

That "Dr. Sanford's Invigorator or Liver Remedy, is one of the greatest discoveries made in medicine the past century. It has been a study of the Dr. during twenty years practice to find what particular organ when diseased, caused the greatest number of ills or pains, and his conclusion is that the liver is the greatest regulator of the system and the most liable to disease while if kept free from disease, is a preventative of Dyspepsia, Jaundice, general debility, &c., while last, but far from least, we mention consumption; for our experience is, that more cases of consumption occur from diseased liver, than from all other causes put together.

Taking this so be a correct hypothesis, we have but to find a remedy with which to correct the liver, and we have a cure of nearly all the diseases we are subject to by simply using a preventative. That the Invigorator is such a remedy, is beyond doubt to all who try it, for its virtues are such that for all complaints arising from liver derangements it is an unfailing remedy, while as a family medicine, for all the diseases of the stomach, or bowels, which are caused in a greater or less degree by liver derangement, it is the safest, surest, and most efficacious remedy known.

LOCAL.

☞ Wm. Winter, Esq., of Cambridgeport, gave us a most agreeable disappointment, at the Lyceum Lecture on Tuesday evening.

Before a thin audience, in a cold house, of a slight figure, and with youthful appearance, he was announced as the substitute in place of a promised orator. Standing there, he announced his subject as having something to do with the Uses of Biographical Reading.

We made up our minds, to bear it as well as we could. But the subject opened, and the lecture gained, step by step, while we followed the lecturer in every sentence for an hour and a half, pleased, amused, instructed, satisfied.

After an introductory dissertation of a few minutes, the lecturer took up Addison, as a man of Thought, and Richard Brinsley Sheridan, as a man of Action, giving brief biographies of both, and comparing and analyzing both characters. He also enriched his lecture in every part, by apt quotations, and by the introduction of other characters, showing himself to be a critic, a scholar, and a writer, who needs not to be ashamed of his work.

☞ We learn that B. P. Shillaber, Esq., has been requested, by a number of his friends and admirers in this city, to read his new and popular Poem, in the Temple, at an early day. We hope our citizens will have an opportunity thus to hear him—which a house-full would gladly improve.

☞ We are requested to state that Mr. Albert Blaisdell, (who we are informed is to take charge of the work on the new Custom House this morning,) is simply to take the place of the late Superintendent of Construction—and that the bondsmen of the contractors, and not the Government, are to finish the building. Mr. Blaisdell is authorized to survey all work done, and to settle all differences between the government and the bondsmen—for all which he has proved himself amply competent.

☞ The Firemen's Fair, last evening, "opened rich." Each Engine Company "did their prettiest," it is to be presumed—with the "aid and comfort" of the ladies; and all did well enough—displaying much industry, skill, and good taste.—We shall draw no comparisons, as yet—go and see for yourself. The show is worth a half-dozen admission-fees, to say nothing about the object.

To-night a varied programme will be presented.

Republican Meeting.—There is to be a Republican Meeting at Rechab Hall this (Thursday) under the direction of Ward Two Fremont Club, who have invited the Republicans of the other wards to join them the occasion.

☞ Six stores in Market street have been broken into within a short time; and we learn that the traders on that street,—where there are but few dwelling-houses and so much property exposed—are intending to petition for a special City Watchman there.

☞ The Kehoe man or boy arrested at Dover, is not of this city, as we are told by one of the family living here,—though the culprit might give his name in that way.

☞ See Auction column, for a chance to buy good Horses or Sleighs, to-day.

Tuckerman's Extravagance.—A Boston correspondent of the Newark (N.J.) Evening Journal, says that Tuckeman's (the mail robber) acquaintance have probably noticed that a gaily dressed lady, (Mrs. C——ll) with a husband of leisure having no visible means of support, constantly followed in his train and put up at the fashionable hotels wherever he and his family journied. The patrons of the Adams House in Boston, when they call to mind this gay feminine and her loafing lord, together with the extreme politeness and delicate little attentions manifested toward her by the late Treasurer of the Eastern Railroad, will be at no less to account for the missing funds of that Corporation.

The Nebraska Legislature Mobbed.—New York, Jan. 20.—The Tribune says the explanation of a mysterious dispatch, stating that a majority of the Nebraska Legislature had suddenly left Omaha for Florence, is afforded by our correspondent in that Territory. It seems that a proposition to remove the capital was under consideration, when a mob of Omahas broke into the hall, dragged the Speaker from his desk and charged upon the members with bowie knife and pistol. The next morning an adjournment to Florence was voted by a majority of two to one.—The minority, seven members in all, remained in Omaha in possession of the journal, according to the telegraph.

A School on Fire.—New York, Jan. 19.—Public school house, No. 14, corner of Concord and Navy streets, Brooklyn, took fire this afternoon, between two and three o'clock, while the building was filled with children. A terrible scene ensued. Several were smothered or crushed to death in their efforts to escape, and many were badly injured.

The number of the dead is seven; two have their backs broken. The number of the injured is not yet known.

The fire took from the heater. The teachers in one of the rooms, noticing an unusual heat, began to open window after window, and it was not till the smoke came pouring into the room that the true cause was suspected.

The teachers showed great firmness and courage in their attempts rescue the children, and remained in the rooms till all were cleared.

Many of the children were saved by being thrown from the windows, and caught in the arms of the people below.

None were burned, as far as known.

The school was for both sexes; but all the dead are boys.

The building was the largest, finest, and the most complete of its kind in this vicinity, and was believed to have been the most thorough-built. It was of brick, four stories high, and covered a large lot of ground.

Many exaggerated stories are afloat as to the number dead, but it is believed the foregoing gives the extent of the calamity.

Fernando Wood in the Field.—Washington, Jan. 17.—The Committee will probably report the bill for the admission of Minnesota on Tuesday.

Fernando Wood, the other day, after finding that the administration would not espouse his quarrel, left here for Richmond, whence he returns to-night after a conference with Gov. Wise. He returns to New York to organize a movement in favor of Wise for the Presidency.

Death of a Shipmaster.—Capt. Sampson, of ship Daniel Webster, died at sea, and the ship is now commanded by Capt. Goodspeed.

Counterfeiters Arrested.—New York, Jan. 19.—The Police, yesterday, arrested John Frednack, proprietor of a porter house, corner of West and Harrison streets, and John Haggard, his barkeeper, on a charge of manufacturing and uttering bogus coin. A large quantity of counterfeit 50-cent pieces, 25-cent and 10-cent pieces were found on the premises; also, a galvanic battery, moulds, chemicals, and other apparatus for the kinds of coins mentioned. The accused will to-day be brought before the U. S. Commissioner for examination.

Washington, Jan. 19.—(Cor. N. Y. Eve. Post.)—The Lecompton members of the Senate Committee on Territories refuse to act on the Minnesota Constitution until Thursday. The republican members and Douglas are willing to take the Minnesota Constitution regardless of the question who were its framers, as the voice of 39,000 people of the Territory. A private letter from Gov. Robinson shows him to be in favor of the new Constitution submitted by the Territorial Legislature. He does not insist on the Topeka Constitution, as reported.

A Sharp Female Trick.—Susan Holmes, sentenced to the New Hampshire State Prison for two years, was left in a room at the City Hotel, Manchester, on Monday night, with two other female convicts, who (being sentenced for short terms) were considered trustworthy, and were set to watch Susan. Mr. Hills, the jailer, was in the next room waiting for her to retire, and then he was going to take the clothes of all three to his room and lock them in. The two "about town" girls went to bed, but Susan said she wanted to see Mr. Hills. She went to the door, and turning, said that Mr. Hills was in the entry talking to another man. She entered into a conversation, and kept it up for a minute, but did not come back into the room. The other girls jumped up, and called Mr. Hills, but Susan had disappeared. She was not found till two o'clock the next morning. She has broken jail once before, and is altogether too smart for locks and bolts.

A cotemporary says "there is an overwhelming majority opposed to slavery" in Kansas, and yet he is willing to force the Lecompton slavery constitution upon her people. He says, "admit it as a state today and her own people would have to manage her affairs to-morrow." That is, make her a slave state to-day and her people will have power to free her to-morrow. "I don't understant colic," said the quack, "but I can give the patient a medicine that will throw him into fits, and I'm death on fits!"—Bath Organ.

THE GREAT BEAUTIFIER
So long unsuccessfully sought,

FOR IT RESTORES PERMANENTLY GRAY HAIR to its original color; covers luxuriantly the bald head; removes all dandruff, itching, and all scrofula, scald head and all eruptions; makes the hair soft, healthy, and glossy, and will preserve it to any imaginable age; removes, as it by magic, all blotches, &c., from the face, and cures all neuralgia and nervous headache. See circular and the following.

DOVER, N. H., Feb 2, 1857.
Prof. O. J. Wood & Co.—Agents: Within a few days we have received so many orders and calls for Prof. O. J. Wood's Hair Restorative, that to-day we were compelled to send to Boston for a quantity, (the dozen you forwarded all being sold,) while we might order a quantity from you. Every bottle we have sold seems to have produced three or four new customers, and the approbation and patronage it receives from the most substantial and worthy citizens of our vicinity, fully convinces us that it is A MOST VALUABLE PREPARATION.

Send us as soon as may be one gross of $1 size; and one dozen of $2 size; yours very rarely.
DANIEL LATHROP & Co.

Hickory Grove, St. Charles Co., Mo., 1856.
Prof. O. J. Wood—Dear Sir: Some time last summer we were induced to use some of your Hair Restorative, and its effects were so wonderful, we feel it our duty to you and the afflicted, to report it.

Our little son's head for some time had been perfectly covered with sores, and some called it scald head. The hair came out entirely; and in consequence, when a friend, seeing his sufferings, advised us to use your Restorative, we did so with little hope of success, for we had tried almost all of all our friends, a very few applications removed the disease entirely, and a new and luxuriant crop of hair soon started out, and we can now say that our boy has a healthy scalp, and a luxuriant a crop of hair as any other child. We can therefore, and do hereby, recommend your Restorative, as a perfect remedy for all diseases of the scalp and hair. We are, yours respectfully.

Gentlemen, Ladies, &c., Mar. 28, 1855.
Prof. O. J. Wood—Dear Sir: I have used two bottles of Professor Wood's Hair Restorative, and can truly say it is the most entirely satisfactory article for restoring and changing the Hair. Before using it I was a man of seventy. My hair has now attained its original color. You can recommend it to the world without the least fear, as my case was one of the worst kind.
Yours Respectfully.

LOTTERIES.

THE Lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are chartered by the State of Georgia, and have sworn commissioners appointed to superintend their drawings, and certify that everything connected with the same is done in a strictly honorable manner. They offer the public a fair opportunity for investment, the interests of parties at a distance being as well protected as if they were present. The Manager would respectfully call attention to the fact that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Georgia, as the lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are authorized by the Legislature of that State. The lottery will be drawn every Saturday throughout the year, all orders received being filled in the drawing next to take place after the same comes to hand. According to the chance one ticket in every ten must draw a prize. Tickets are $10; halves, $5; quarters, $2.50. No tickets sent unless the money accompanies the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket, and every prize being drawn, and result of drawing forwarded to all purchasers.

☞ A list of the numbers that are drawn from the wheel, with the amount each prize is entitled to, will be published after every drawing, in the following papers:—New Orleans Delta, Mobile Register, Charleston Mercury, Nashville Gazette, Atlanta Intelligencer, and New York Weekly Day Book. Write your address plainly, and direct to S. SWAN & Co., Augusta, Georgia.

LOTTERIES.

The well-known Maryland Consolidated Lotteries, of which R. FRASER & Co are the managers, are chartered by the laws of Maryland, and a commissioner elected by the people, who is sworn to superintend and certify that everything connected with them is done in a strictly honorable manner, and all persons interested, whether reside at a distance or are well protected as if they themselves were present at the drawing. Another fact which should recommend the lottery is, that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Maryland, as lotteries are legalized by special law in that state. A lottery is drawn every day of the week, and the particular class is named, orders are filled in the first drawing to take place after the communication comes to hand. Prizes are paid immediately after the 90 or 80. No tickets are, however, sent unless the money for the same is received with the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket (after the manner of Pool) and Ternary combination. Prizes vary in amount from $20 to $100,000. All orders for tickets or packages will receive prompt attention, and the results attained to all purchasers immediately after it is over.

☞ The drawn numbers of the Maryland Lotteries are published by the State Commissioner in the following papers: The Sun, Clipper, Patriot, American, Argus, of Baltimore; also, the National Intelligencer and Union, of Washington, D.C.

S. D. & H. W. Smith,
—MANUFACTURERS OF—
Melodeons, Organ Melodeons,
—and—
PEDAL BASS MELODEONS,
No. 511 Washington St., Boston.

The first premium over all competitors, at the Fair of the Mass Charitable Mechanic Association, of the National Fair, Washington, D. C., also at the Ohio State Fair, held at Columbus, Ohio, was awarded to these Manufactures.

By means of a new method of Voicing, known only to themselves, they have succeeded in removing the harsh and buzzing sound which formerly characterized the instrument, and rendering the tones full, clear and organ like. The action is prompt and reliable, enabling the performer to execute the most rapid music without blurring or confusing. The swell is arranged to give great expression.

THE PEDAL BASS MELODEONS,

Are designed particularly for Churches, Lodges, Halls, &c. It is arranged with two manuals, or banks of keys, the lower set running an octave higher than the other, and may be used separately, and thus get in one case two distinct instruments; or by use of the coupler, the two banks of keys may be played at the same time by use of the front set only. This connected with the Pedal Bass, will produce the effect of a large organ, and is sufficiently heavy to fill a house that seats from 1000 to 1500 persons.

THE ORGAN MELODEON

Is designed for parlor and private use. The construction is similar to the Church Instrument, being arranged with two banks of keys, and when used together, by means of the coupler, is capable of as great volume of power as the Church instrument when used without the pedals, and has every variety of MELODEONS for Parlor use.

Purchasers may rely upon instruments from our Manufactory being made in the most complete and thorough manner. Having removed to the spacious Buildings

511 Washington Street,

We have every facility for manufacturing purposes, and employ none but the most experienced skillful workmen; in short, we can promise our customers an Instrument equal, if not superior, to any Manufacturer, and guarantee an entire perfect satisfaction.

Music Teachers, Leaders of Choirs, and others interested in musical matters, are respectfully invited to visit our Rooms at any time and examine or test the instruments on exhibition for sale at their pleasure.

As a still further guarantee to the public as to the excellent character of the MELODEONS from our Manufactory, we beg leave to refer, by permission, to the following who have examined our Instruments, and will attest their correctness when called upon:

Piano Forte Manufacturers of Boston,

Chickering & Sons,	Hallett & Cumston,
T. Gilbert & Co.,	Wm. P. Emerson,
Brown & Allen,	A. W. Ladd & Co.,
George Hawes,	Woodward & Brown,
	Newhall & Co.

MELODEONS RENTED.

"Persons who wish to hire Melodeons with a view of purchasing at the end of the year, can have the rent credited as part payment of the purchase money. This matter is worthy of special note, and enables those who desire a fair test of the instruments before purchasing, to obtain it at the expense of the manufacturers, to the extent at least of a year's rent.

Orders from any part of the country or world, sent direct to the manufactory in Boston, with cash, or satisfactory reference, will be promptly attended to, and as faithfully executed as if the parties were present, or employed an agent to select, and on as reasonable terms.

FRANKLIN.

The Birth-day of Ben. Franklin, the printer-patriot and the American philosopher, occurred on the 17th of January, 1706, one hundred and fifty-two years ago. It was celebrated in various ways, for the name of Ben. Franklin stands among the great Americans. He is one of our American saints. Theodore Parker, who very judiciously analyzes character, and clearly perceives and states the prominent traits and motives of life, places Franklin first among Americans, and even assumes that without him the revolution of 1776 would have been a failure. We have recently published his lecture, and therefore have no need to go into a eulogy of the Boston printer to-day; but in a recent biography of President Jefferson, we find the following sketch of Franklin from the pen of Jefferson, that will not be without interest:

"We have hitherto passed over one transcendent name, because, if Franklin was heard on the floor, as he doubtless was in his short, pithy way, his influence on the decision of the pending questions was exerted principally in other quarters. That influence was truly great. If he lacked the eloquence of John Adams, he greatly excelled him in other particulars. He was more experienced, and undoubtedly a wiser man. He had a nice appreciation of the qualities of associates, and consummate tact in addressing himself to them. From the suavity of his temper and manners, from his respectful way of treating adversaries, from his entire want of that egotism which disgusts, and that dogmatism which offends all, and particularly equals in position—he was personally popular in and out of Congress.

In the step which he, in his own quiet and peculiar manner, was urging onward, he was apparently incurring greater risks, and certainly making greater sacrifices, than a comparatively young man, who, as yet, had attained to nothing like his general position. Franklin's ability as a statesman had been tested and established, in the most difficult positions. He was better acquainted with Europe, and especially with England, than any of his colleagues. In science and philosophy he enjoyed a reputation not before attained by any American. He possessed exquisite address as a writer. His "Poor Richard's Almanac," had made his shrewd sense familiar to his own countrymen. His style was adapted to all tastes and comprehensions. The scholar admired its compact and nervous simplicity; the uneducated fancied the limpid diction was like that which they themselves employed in familiar intercourse. It united some of the characteristics of Bunyan and Defoe with some of those of Swift and Addison.

There was an obvious common sense in its propositions—its illustrations were so inimitably apt and telling—its poignant but easily-understood wit so surely exposed every weak point of an adversary, so surely carried the derisive laugh of the multitude along with it—that it may be doubted whether a more effective popular writer on a class of subjects (simple appeals to the understanding, in regard to the purely practical affairs of life,) has written in the English tongue.

It he lacked the deep earnestness and fiery enthusiasm of some natures—if he was more disposed to surrender something than ask too much, and act a yielding than a stubborn part until deeply roused—if no one would suspect the cool, placid sage of loving danger for danger's sake—perhaps these negative qualities gave only the more weight to his opinions, when his reputation, his honors, and his life were staked on their accuracy. And all who knew that Franklin had cast off and severed every tie with an only and distinguished son, because he sided with the mother country, knew how implacable were his resolves when his line of action was determined on."

AN AWKWARD OPERATION.—The Richmond South re-publishes the following letter of Gen. Cass, dated on the 9th of May, 1856, in reply to an invitation to attend a Walker fillibuster demonstration in New York city:

"Messrs. Isaiah Rynders and others:—It is not possible for one to attend your meeting, though I sincerely hope the movement may be successful. I think the best interests of this country and all the world require it."

We agree with the South, that "it will be an awkward operation to retreat from this position;" but it must be recollected that the date of the letter was prior to the assemblage of the Cincinnati Convention; and that Gen. Cass has recently performed an equally awkward operation" in retreating from another position, "squatter sovereignty," and that in a case were another member of the great Walker family was particularly interested.—Washington Republic.

THE FLORIDA WAR.—It is reported that Capt. Cone and his entire command have been surrounded by the Indians and made prisoners, in which case it is believed they will fare badly, as it was this corps which recently captured nineteen squaws. A large force is preparing to go to their rescue.—Boston Journal.

American and Foreign Patents
R. H. EDDY, solicitor of Patents,
(Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837.)
No. 70 State st, oppo. Kilby st, Boston,
AFTER an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years he continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britian, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.
This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, not surpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber, and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services more moderate.—The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.
All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.
TESTIMONIALS.
"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any, persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr Eddy as one of the best informed and most skillful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."
From the present Commissioner.
AUGUST 17, 1855.—During the time I have held the Office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the office, as a Solicitor. He is thoroughly acquainted with the law, and the rules of practice of the Office. I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse.
CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

Coggswell's Medical Salt,
A PERFECT SUBSTITUTE
FOR THE
LANCET, LEECHES AND BLISTERS.
INSTEAD of being a panacea for all maladies, it has control over but ONE MALADY—has but ONE AIM—accomplishes but ONE THING, to wit: SUBDUES INFLAMMATORY DISEASE—whatever be its form or locality—whether in the head, throat, chest, abdomen, extremities or skin. Every form of inflammation (but no other disease) is subdued, by it as easily as fire is extinguished by water. Is it asked, how it does this?—simply by restoring the lost balance between the fluids and solids. Such is its potency, that like vaccine matter, it requires merely what adheres to the point of a quill dipped into a solution of it, to affect the entire system.
☞ Of its intrinsic value, the enlightened community, and not the discoverer, must be the judge.

Cold Winter is Coming on.
AND with it will return the usual concomitants, Coughs, Colds, Dyspepsia, Scorbutic Eruptions, Sick Headache, Rheumatism, Tetter, Ring Worm, &c., which the genial warmth of summer and free perspiration has, for a time relieved, but which, the return of rigid, cheerless winter, will bring back, unless resisted by some medicamentum.
MYER'S EXTRACT OF ROCK ROSE,
is peculiarly applicable, and if freely used will not fail to protect the constitution against the sudden and extreme changes of our variable climate. It purifies the blood, strengthens the stomach, and invigorates the whole system, thus fortifying against the insidious attacks of unseasonal frosts and debilitating heats. See Circulars.

CAUSES OF DISCONTENT.

We are always finding fault with our lot in life. Indeed, to complain of the equity of the dispensations of Providence, to distrust the justice of the social and political regulations which constitute the protection of individual liberty, and to be continually seeking after some unattained, perhaps unattainable good, are the common dispositions of mankind. It is even more natural to grumble over the absence of something which we imagine might augment our happiness, than to be thankful for blessings already possessed. Now the question arises, why are we thus desirous of what lies beyond our reach, and discontented with the possession of such felicities as are gratuitously bestowed upon us. To the solution of this problem, the following remarks will be directed.

In whatever pursuits we are engaged, we are apt to magnify the difficulties which encompass them, and to look upon their advantages with an evil and jaundiced eye. We create in our own minds obstructions and perplexities which, though purely imaginative, never fail to harass with their fatal presence. Not content to await the approach of difficulties and master them as they come along, we actually advance on the way to meet them; and allow ourselves to be disturbed by their fancied enormity, long before we are acquainted with their real magnitude. Thus do we suffer in anticipation, all that it is possible for us to undergo in reality. By antedating our hardships we greatly prolong their duration, and render ourselves miserable for years, over that which, in the natural order of things, would have lasted but a single day.

The legitimate result of besetting an occupation with imaginary embarrassments, is the desire of change. Other pursuits appear more attractive and less involved, because of our ignorance of them. However sagacious and acute the mind may be in reasoning upon the comparative superiority of one employment over another, there will ever remain many disadvantages which experience alone is capable of detecting. Owing to our knowledge of the difficulties that attend those vocations which have long received our attention, and our ignorance of the hardships of other kinds of business, we resolve to exchange our calling for one of greater ease and security. And thus we become the dupes of an absurd but fatal delusion. Change finds none of the enjoyments which we vainly hoped would follow it, and after a due abatement of all the numerous evils that flow from a perpetual fluctuation in our occupations, we are forced to acknowledge that at the most we have only caught a Tartar.

Another source of discontentment is to be found in our disposition to disparage the value of such comforts as are already within our possession, and to trust to the future for a fulfilment of our hopes of happiness. And here, it may be remarked, is a fault as fatal as it is common. It it be our determination to stubbornly reject such pleasures as are constantly offering themselves to us, if we mean to be governed by a cold and false theology in regard to our intercourse with our fellow creatures, and if we are resolved to disregard the present and base all our hopes upon the future, when, it may be asked, shall we experience those realizations of bliss and refined felicity which both reason and revelation declare the rightful inheritance of mankind. There always will be a future, and if we choose, we may continually look forward to some distant period of time for the realization of our hopes; but is it reasonable? We maintain that it is not, and that he who seizes upon the present moment and reaps from it all of the happiness it contains, shows himself a truly wise and consistent man.

It is the doctrine of the ancient philosophers and also the opinion of some modern sages, that the hardships and the enjoyments of this life are balanced with so much nicety as to allow neither to preponderate. Agreeable and reasonable as is this theory, there are few who are willing to receive it. By a fatalistic necessity, many force fortune itself to become their constant tormentor. Whether good or ill luck attend their labors, they seem bound to transmute everything into agencies of discontentment and trouble. This is certainly a great error. If it could only be removed, how changed would be the aspect of the human family! All that is required of us, is to grapple with and overthrow obstructions as they present themselves to us, and to enjoy the present with all possible diligence; and then, as Seneca observes, we shall appear as men gifted with the qualities of Gods.

FRANKLIN'S BIRTHDAY.

The most extensive celebration we see mentioned was gotten up by the printers of Manchester—literary exercises, music, dancing, and a feast. James O. Adams, Esq., presided on the occasion, and John B. Clarke, Esq., of the Mirror, was toastmaster. The speaking was excellent, the music enticing, and the supper praised by all. The first regular toast:

City of Manchester:—Twenty years ago with no banks but sand banks, no mills but gristmills, no gins but Holland gins, and no jennies but "Jenny my dearie,"—now the largest, richest, most enterprising and flourishing city in the State. May its good name flourish like the Smith family, which now furnishes us with one whom it gives us pleasure to announce as His Honor the Mayor; was responded to by His Honor Mayor Smyth—from whose pithy speech we extract:

The very mention of Franklin's name fills my soul with veneration and awe. I wish that my name had been Franklin. It is owing to a very slight circumstance that my name is not Benjamin Franklin. If I had just changed the time of being born with my eldest brother, that is, if I had been born in 1806 instead of 1808, and had my brother been born in 1808 instead of 1806, my name would, no doubt, have been Benjamin Franklin.

And, ladies and gentleman, upon refreshing my memory by reverting to scenes which took place at a very early period of my life, I believe that I was connected with the press in my boyhood days, about eight years. From the age of nine to seventeen, I labored a part of each year at press work. However it was not a newspaper press, but it was a periodical press; it was brought into requisition every year, and at about the same season in each year. It was not a printing press, although the impressions were usually red—sometimes a pale red, and sometimes read in the visages of those who had been under its impressions.

Its impressions were not made upon sheets, but I have seen those who were laboring under its impressions, also laboring under several sheets. It used to exercise a limited sphere in moulding and swaying public opinion, but it did sway a great many public heads, and was somewhat instrumental in blunting public opinion. It is not so much used as it was thirty-five years ago. The printing press has thrown so much light upon the arts and sciences—has so modeled public opinion, and so developed the spirit of the age, that the cider press is not much wanted.

May the printing press still continue to exercise its influence in this direction, until temperance and sobriety shall prevail throughout the land; until it should press out of the community every press that serves only to press down those who are laboring under their bad impressions, and until it shall impress upon the mind of every one the lofty and only safe principles of total abstinence from all intoxicating drinks.

This would be an achievement that would eclipse and forever put in the shade all other achievements. It would be a triumph that would fill the earth with joy and gladness, and would stand out in bold relief upon the archives of all future time. It would call down the richest benedictions of heaven; it would cause such a time of rejoicing as has not been known; a jubilee

Whose deafening cheer
Would rend the air,
And cleave the broad ce'spreading sky;
And the angelic host on high,
Would catch the joyful sound
And echo it to the ground.

The second regular toast was:

When Franklin was first in London, the Printing Office was called a Chapel; and, to keep the idea good, the Printers are glad to acknowledge for their Chaplain, one formerly connected with the "craft," and popular wherever known, Rev. B. M. Tillotson.

From Rev. Mr. Tillotson's remarks, we take a paragraph or two:

Pass for a moment to the art of printing. This was once called the "black art." You recollect that when John Faustus, with his metalic types, first printed some copies of the Bible, the German monks who had hitherto gained considerable sums by copying the same, were surprised at the multiplicity of his printed copies, and accused him of being in league with Satan, who aided and abetted in the work! Strange business for Satan to be employed in—sending forth printed copies of the Holy Scriptures! Nevertheless, the monks would have it so, and when Dr. Faustus went to Paris to sell his Bibles, they persecuted him and drove him out of the city, and then reported that the evil one had carried him off! Hence printing was once called the "black art," and hence originated the phrase—"Printer's Devil"—so well understood by all the craft.

But whatever this art may have been called, it is of all arts the most useful and honored, and no class in the community wield a greater power than "the gentlemen of the press," as we call them. No armies can equal that vast army of typesetters, the fruits of whose labors flood the land. Their missiles pierce through human skulls, not like cannon-shot, to blow out the brains, but to put new ideas into them and to give them more force and energy.

The Press is the most powerful instrumentality on earth. It has more to do with human weal and human woe. It sways the destinies of individuals and of nations. It scatters the seeds of knowledge broad-cast over the face of the globe. It amuses and instructs—manufactures and moulds public sentiment, and directs the popular current whithersoever it will. It is religion's most potent ally. It preaches sermons where the voice of the pulpit cannot be heard; and when it speaks, vice hides its hydra-head, and goes back to its den again, while virtue wields her scoptre with more confidence and success, encouraged by its words of power.

It has been said, and but few have dared to question the assertion—that the ladies rule the world. We must make this amendment, and say, that the ladies and the printers rule the world.

Among the volunteer toasts were the following:

By A. J. Holmes.

The Members of the Craft:—May they ever remember that the proof sheet of life is read by the Great Judge, from whose eye no craft can conceal the errors; and though the press of time cannot be stopped to correct errors of the past, (they should tend to guide the present aright.

By S. D. Farnsworth.

The Press of the City:—Not poor enough to be bought with money, nor rich enough to sustain itself without a liberal patronage.

By J. R. Hynes.

The Press:—May Heaven prove up the delinquents and grumblers, and give to the Devil his due.

By Frank W. Miller, Ports. Chronicle.

Franklin:—May the recollection of his feast of "saw-dust pudding" and water, teach us independence, frugality and temperance.

IMPORTS.—The total revenue from customs the last year was 64 millions, and Mr. Cobb estimates that of the present year at 51 1-2 millions. The heavy importations of the first half of this year seem to justify this estimate, but we hope and trust that it will fall very far below this sum—that it will not exceed 45 millions. Nothing is more important to the welfare of the country, and the revival of business, than low importations for the coming five months. The effect upon the treasury will not be so pleasant, (says the Boston Journal,) but as that boasted payer of gold stopped payment some time since, and government are even resorting to a paper currency, based entirely upon credit, its effect in that quarter is not worth a second thought. But one year's business terminating so much in our favor as not to require all the gold we get from California to settle the balance, would have a magical effect upon every interest in the country.

☞ The Manchester Mirror has a special correspondent in Concord, who is a strong and earnest temperance man. He says, in a late letter, "I only regret that we differ, because you are not on my side, as I must think I am right, and as I believe three-fourths of your readers are with me—first, all ladies, old and young, or nearly all, and three-fourths of the youth are upon our side of the house, as we say when designating sexes; and I trust, also, a majority of the legal voters—certainly, a large majority in the farming towns, and, I hope, a majority in our rum-injured cities."

☞ Upwards of $75,000 have already been raised, and put out at interest, of the sum required for the purchase of Mount Vernon. $200,000 is the sum demanded for land and buildings.

☞ The winter overcoat now in fashion in London is called a "Bulfanger." They are sold in Regent Street for about thirteen dollars.

FROM THE PLAINS.—St. Louis, Jan. 19. The Leavenworth City Ledger of the 8th inst., says that three young men, Henry Baker, James Smith, and Alexander Francis, arrived there the day before, direct from Fort Bridger. They came the whole distance, 1200 miles, on foot, in 45 days, and say that the day they left, six Mormons came into the camp and reported that the Mormons were in a state of civil war. Brigham Young and about one-half desiring to march against the troops—the other half being in favor of the troops coming into Salt Lake and establishing a milltary government there, and overthrowing the present powers that be.

TENNYSON AN OPIUM EATER,—The report now being so generally circulated through the newspapers that the Poet Laureate is a "confirmed opium eater," and that it is beginning to tell upon his health, is contradicted most emphatically, by those who know him best. He has recently been paying a visit to the Duke and Duchess of Argyle at their castle, and was in his usual health. He was accompanied by Mrs. Tennyson and his two sons.—Boston Trans.

TO ALBERT LAIGHTON.

That strain again; it had a dying fall.
O, it came o'er my ear like the sweet south,
That breathes upon a bank of violets,
Stealing and giving odor.—Shakespeare.

Our own is not the sunny land of song,
Where sweets from never-withering blossoms rise,
Where warbling minstrels sing the whole year long,
And hearts are happy under cloudless skies!
No mounts, no vales, have we, nor groves nor streams,
Made sacred by a Homer's wondrous song,
No spot, like Greece and Rome, to people dreams
With bards whose strains have charmed the world so long.

We cannot boast our shrines where princes knelt
In worship, long, long centuries ago;
Nor lived temples where the gods have dwelt,
And nerved the hero for some giant foe.
Our souls might fill with joy to hold in trust
Some dear memento of the olden time—
To mark the spot where consecrated dust
Has slept for ages from its life sublime.

But such prized gifts of age can ne'er be ours,
Our ancient boast is God's own handiwork,
The beauty of the young earth's whispering bowers,
Where war's dread sorrows ne'er were known to lurk.
His towering Granite piles, our altars old,
Our shining temple-roof, Heaven's starry dome,
Our ancient bards by His own hand enrolled,
The ocean, running brooks, Niagara's foam!

And we have living hearts to-day as great,
As noble, as had ever Greece or Rome,
Hearts far more glorious in their high estate,
Making, for radiant thoughts, an Eden home;
Hearts full of peace and joy, of love and song,
Caught from the ocean's anthem, singing rills,
The wild-wood's whisper, and the feathered throng
Who chant the glory of our morning hills:

The vernal airs, with soft Æolian strains,
Charming to fragrant beauty, bursting flowers;
The beautiful of heaven and earth remains
To thrill with melody such hearts of ours.
Bless God for such great souls—such bards of song
Who drink from Nature inspiration in,
And bless the plodding world their whole life long,
With strains so sweet, hard hearts forget to sin.

I bless Him for them—bless Him for the one
Who sings so sweetly by the sounding sea,
Whose charmed strains with every rising sun
I deem are wafted gladdeningly to me.
Brother, thou hast a Poet's eye to see
The living beauty, smiling Nature wears;
A Poet's heart to thrill with bounding glee,
Scenting the sweetness of its perfumed airs;

A Poet's ear to hear the daily song
Its angel voices sing, so glad and free;
A Poet's power to tell the listening throng
The glorious visions they may never see!
When angels sung thy cradle lullaby,
And blessed thy sleep with golden dreams so long,
Ere leaving thee to seek the Eden sky,
Thou must have caught the echoes of their song.

And in thy soul their sweetness cherishing
Through childhood's legacy of golden hours,
They grew to anthems sweet as skylarks sing,
Or bees, when sipping sweets from summer flowers.
Then sing, my brother, let thy song be heard
When morning blushes tings the purple east,
When noon has hushed awhile the song of bird,
And night calls shadows to their twilight feast!

Sing, when the air is soft with vernal showers,
When Summer glories in its scented breath,
When Autumn mourns its crowns of withering flowers,
And Winter wraps them in the shroud of death!
O sing, my brother, ever sing, that thou may'st
The pains from aching hearts thy whole life long,
And in such hearts thou shalt thy name emblazon,
And joy to link it to immortal song!

IT IS A MOST UNDOUBTED FACT

That "Dr. Sanford's Invigorator or Liver Remedy, is one of the greatest discoveries made in medicine the past century. It has been a study of the Dr. during twenty years practice to find what particular organ when diseased, caused the greatest number of ills to pain, and his conclusion is that the liver is the greatest regulator of the system and the most liable to disease while if kept free from disease, is a preventative of Dyspepsia, Jaundice, general debility, &c., while last, but far from least, we mention consumption; for our experience is, that more cases of consumption occur from diseased liver, than from all other causes put together.

Taking this so be a correct hypothesis, we have but to find a remedy with which to correct the liver, and we have a chance of nearly all the diseases we are subject to by simply using a preventative. That the Invigorator is such a remedy, is beyond doubt to all who try it, for its virtues are such that for all complaints arising from liver derangements it is an unfailing remedy, while as a family medicine, for all the diseases of the stomarch, or bowels, which are caused in a greater or less degree by liver derangement, it is the safest, surest, and most efficacious remedy known.

☞ This glorious weather we are having, without snow, is not peculiarly gratifying, probably, to the makers and dealers in sleighs, &c.; nor to the livery-stable keepers; nor to the dealers in ice—who begin to fear their annual crop will fail.

But it is favorable to those who have no work, or whose wood-pile and flour-barrel are low, or whose stock of clothing is scant.

The Smelt-fishery is being prosecuted with great vigor on Great Bay and elsewhere. Hundreds of dollars are realized every week, by supplying the Boston market.

The skaters, too, cut quite a swath. Ladies and gentlemen, young and—middle-aged, at least, almost continually cover our mill-ponds and other sheets of frozen water, to the number of hundreds, day and evening.

☞ The Republicans of District No. 1 held their convention at the Franklin House in this city, on Thursday, for the nomination of Senator for this District. W. H. Y. Hackett was chosen president, and John S. Kennard Secretary. Samuel P. Dow, having 33 out of 34 votes, was nominated. The convention was addressed by Messrs. Goodwin, Hackett, Bufford, Dodge, Morse, and others.

RICH.—We cut the following item of "news" for Portsmouth readers from the Milford (N. H.) Republican:

Col. John Weare is to supersede Albert Blaisdell, Superintendent of the new Custom House in process of erection at Portsmouth. The cause of this removal is, Mr. Blaisdell is not pro-slavery enough to suit the tastes of certain "hunkers" in Portsmouth, and the "powers that be" in Washington.

Now, when we consider that the fact in the case is exactly vice versa—that Mr. Blaisdell succeeds Mr. Weare—and that probably no such opinions as stated were brought to bear upon the case at all—and that a truthful and reliable newspaper should so mistake facts occurring so near by;—is it at all wonderful that distant men and countries really know so little of each other's history and characters?

☞ An exhibition of the Firemen's Fair, for youth and children, will be given this afternoon, from 2 o'clock till 5, at Jefferson Hall. Tickets 5 cents for children, and 10 cents for parents and others.

The Fair will also be open this Evening, which we believe is the last chance to witness the exhibition.

☞ Postmasters ought to have sharp eyes and patience, to decypher all sorts of pothooks, trammels, and nondescript hieroglyphics, and deliver the letters according to the intent of the writer. But sometimes, the best eyes are of no great use in the case. For example, the following superscription on a letter put into the Portsmouth office this week,—giving almost every particular, except the city, county, state or country, to which the letter should go.

Caroline Delnow No 3 Magaret Street for old Miss McCarty or Daughter.

☞ The hull of sch Sunbeam, of York, Me., which was wrecked on the North Sands at the mouth of Newburyport harbor, a short time since, was sold at auction for about $5, to Capt. George T. Thurlow, who was fortunate enough to get her off and up to town with very little expense. She is not much injured, one or two timbers being broken.

KANSAS AFFAIRS.—Washington, Jan. 20.—[Tribune Cor.]—Private dispatches were received last night, dated Boonville, Jan. 19, which state that the vote of the 21st ult. for the Lecompton Constitution was 6500, one half of which were fraudulent.

The vote of the 4th inst. against the Constitution was 10,000 bona fide votes.—This dispatch is signed "F. P. Stanton."

Kickapoo sent in amended returns, giving a pro-slavery vote of 1400, instead of its first fraudulent return of 900. The increased vote makes the Leavenworth delegation pro-slavery, and with other fraudulent returns in the interior of the State, gives a pro-slavery majority in the State Legislature.

[Post Cor.]—At the Cabinet meeting last evening there was sharp discussion on the Lecompton Constitution. A proposition was submitted to pass it with a provision that the first Legislature under it shall submit the whole thing to the people. This view is sustained by Buchanan, Cass and Toucey, but is opposed by Cobb, Tompson, Floyd and Brown. Black was absent, but is understood to favor the proposition.

St. Louis, Jan. 20.—The Democrat has just received Kansas letters to the 14th inst., stating that the returns of the elections of Dec. 21st and 4th of Jan. were opened by Gen. Calhoun on the 13th inst. in the presence of the Councils and the Speaker of the House. The vote on the 21st of December for the Constitution with slavery was 6,063 and for the Constitution without slavery 536. Three thousand five hundred and sixty-two of these votes are said to have been polled in precincts containing not over a thousand inhabitants.

For Governor, the vote was Smith, Free State, 6,238; Marshal, Democrat, 6,539. For Congress, Parrott, Free State, received 6,623; Carr, Democrat, 6,568.

To the Senate, 13 Free State men and 6 Democrats are elected. To the House, 29 Free State and 14 Democrats.

The vote on the Constitution has not yet been counted.

Gen. Calhoun says he shall not close the count now, but receive what other returns may be presented, although the eight days given for making the returns have expired.

The Territorial Legislature has provided a Commissioner to examine into the election frauds, and will provide for another Constitutional Convention.

The Topeka Legislature will enact a code of laws to be used in case of emergency, but which will not conflict with the Territorial authority.

☞ Cox and Williams, the murderers of Smith, on board brig "Albion Cooper," were found guilty, on their trial in Portland, on Tuesday.

☞ The Brooklyn school house, where the children were killed, took fire in the air-flue! When will men build furnaces and fit them with even tolerable safety?

Dover, N. H., Feb. 2, 1857.

Prof. O. J. Wood & Co.—Gents: Within a few days we have received so many orders and calls for Prof. O. J. Wood's Hair Restorative, that to day we have been compelled to send to Boston for a quantity, (the 6 dozen you forwarded all being sold,) while we might order a quantity from you. Every bottle we have sold seems to have produced three or four new customers, and the approbation and patronage it receives from the most substantial and worthy citizens of this vicinity, fully convinces us that it is A MOST VALUABLE PREPARATION.

Send us as soon as may be one gross of $1 size; and one dozen of $2 size, by express very rapidly.

DANIEL LATHROP & Co.

Hickory Grove, St. Charles Co., Mo., 1856.

Prof. O. J. Wood—Dear Sir: Some time last summer we were induced to use some of your Hair Restorative, and its effects were so wonderful, we felt it our duty to you and the afflicted, to report it.

Our little son's head for some time had been perfectly covered with sores, and some called it scald head. The hair almost entirely came off in consequence, when a friend, seeing his sufferings, advised us to use your Restorative, which we with little hope of success, but, to our surprise, and that of all our friends, a very few applications removed the disease entirely, and a new and luxuriant crop of hair soon started, and we can now say that our boy has as healthy a scalp, and as luxuriant a crop of hair as any other child. We can therefore, and do hereby recommend your Restorative, as a perfect remedy for all diseases of the scalp and hair. We are, yours respectfully.

GEORGE W. BLOOMINGDALE,
SARAH J. BLOOMINGDALE.

GARDINER, Me., June 22, 1855.

Prof. O. J. Wood—Dear Sir: I have used two bottles of Professor Wood's Hair Restorative, and can truly say it is the greatest discovery of the age for restoring and changing the Hair. Before using it I was a man of seventy. My hair has now attained its original color. You can recommend it to the world without the least fear, as my case was one of the worst kind.

Yours Respectfully.

LOTTERIES.

THE Lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are chartered by the State of Georgia, and have sworn commissioners appointed to superintend their drawings, and certify the proceedings connected with the same is done in a strictly honorable manner. They offer to the public a fair opportunity for investment, the interests of parties at a distance being as well protected as if they were present. The Manager would respectfully call attention to the fact that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Georgia, and the Lottery of Samuel Swan & Co. are authorized by the Legislature of that State. A lottery will be drawn every Saturday throughout the year, all orders received being filled in the drawing next to take place after the same comes to hand. According to the scheme one ticket in every ten must draw a prize. Tickets are $10; halves, $5; quarters, $2.50. No tickets sent unless the money accompanies the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket, and are so simple that none can fail to understand them. There is no combination of numbers to mystify the buyer. Prizes vary from $40 to $50,000; every prize being drawn, and result of drawing published in the newspapers.

☞ A list of the numbers that are drawn from the wheel, with the amount each prize is entitled to, will be forwarded immediately after the drawing, in the following papers:—New Orleans Delta, Mobile Register, Charleston Standard, Nashville Gazette, Atlanta Intelligencer and New York Weekly Dispatch. Write your address plainly, and direct to S. SWAN & Co., Augusta, Georgia

Prizes paid in full—no percentage deducted from prizes as in other lotteries.

All communications strictly confidential. m31y

LOTTERIES.

The well-known Maryland Consolidated Lotteries, of which R. FRENCH & Co are the managers, are chartered by the State of Maryland, and a commissioner elected by the people, who is sworn to superintend and certify that everything connected with them is done in a strictly honorable manner, and that the interests of parties who reside at a distance are as well protected as if they themselves were present at the drawing. Another fact which the managers call attention to, is that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Maryland, as lotteries are legalized by special law in that state. A lottery is drawn every day of the month. If no particular class is named, orders are filled in the first drawing to take place after the communication comes to hand. The prices of tickets vary from $20 to $100 100. All orders for tickets or packages will receive prompt attention, and the drawing mailed to all purchasers immediately after it is over.

☞ The drawn numbers of the Maryland Lotteries are published by the State Commissioner in the following papers, viz: Sun, Clipper, Patriot, American, Argus, of Baltimore; also, the National Intelligencer and Union, of Washington, D.C.

S. D. & H. W. Smith,
—MANUFACTURERS OF—
Melodeons, Organ Melodeons,
—and—
PEDAL BASS MELODEONS,
No. 511 Washington St., Boston.

The first premium over all competitors, at the Fair of the Mass. Charitable Mechanic Association, of the National Fair, Washington, D. C., also at the Ohio State Fair, held at Columbus, Ohio, was awarded to these Manufacturers.

By means of a new method of Voicing, known only to themselves, they have succeeded in removing the harsh and buzzing sound which formerly characterized the instrument, and rendering the tones full, clear and organ like. The action is prompt and reliable, enabling the performer to execute the most rapid music without blurring the tones. The swell is arranged to give great expression.

THE PEDAL BASS MELODEONS,

Are designed particularly for Churches, Lodges, Halls, &c. It is arranged with two manuals, or banks of Keys, the lowest running an octave higher than the other, and may be used separately, and thus get in one case two distinct instruments; or by use of the coupler, the two banks can be made to be played at the same time by use of the front set only. This connected with the Pedal Bass, will produce the effect of a large organ, and is sufficiently heavy to fill a house that seats from 1000 to 1500 persons.

THE ORGAN MELODEON

Is designed for parlor and private use. The construction is similar to the Church Instrument, being arranged with two banks of Keys, and when used together, by means of the coupler, is capable of as great volume of power as the Church Instrument when used without the pedals, and has every variety of MELODEONS for Parlor use.

Purchasers may rely upon instruments from our house being made in the most complete and thorough manner. Having removed to the spacious Buildings

511 Washington Street,

We have every facility for manufacturing purposes, and employ none but the most experienced workmen. In conclusion, we will promise our customers an Instrument equal, if not superior, to any Manufacturer, and guarantee an entire and perfect satisfaction.

Organists, Leaders of Choirs, and others interested in musical matters, are respectfully invited to visit our Rooms at any time and examine our stock of instruments on exhibition for sale at their pleasure.

As a still further guarantee to the public as to the excellence of the MELODEONS from our Manufactory, we have leave to refer, by permission, to the following

PAPER BLANKETS PUT TO THE TEST.—A correspondent of the Contreville (Ind.) Chronicle, having seen a notice "going the rounds" of the papers in regard to newspaper blankets, determined to try the experiment. The following are the results:

I first made a blanket (as they are termed) out of the Chronicle, placed it between two covers, and went to bed. That night I slept pretty well, except a little too hot for comfort. The next night I concluded to make a larger one, and out of thicker paper; for this purpose I procured the New York Tribune, and placed it as the above, and went to bed. That night I thought that the world was turning black. I saw a host of women dressed in breeches and eating bran bread, together with black devils and monkeys. I thought that I should suffocate. The effects of this bad feeling made me jump in my sleep, and aroused me. I then began to conclude that there was something in the contents of the paper, as well as its heating power; and for the purpose of testing this fact, I again placed the Chronicle blanket on the bed. My mind soon became calm and pleasant, and I slept well the balance of the night. I then began to conclue that I had discovered a new telegraph conductor to a man's mind.

The following night I made a blanket out of the Cincinnati Enquirer and Commercial, and sewed them together alternately, so as to use two of each, and placing them as above, went to bed. That night my ideas became quite chequered; first it would appear like so many little devils, and then again it would burst up in a brilliant light, and so on, until I was compelled to throw them off.

I now concluded to test the matter fairly, and for this purpose I made a blanket of the Scientific American, and placed it as before; the result was, my ideas became so bright that I could see through all kinds of improvements. I could see machinery, engines, and spindles by thousands, farming implements, household furniture, mitering and sawing machines, and in fact all kinds of machinery, so much so that I was compelled to take it off. I again placed the blanket of the Tribune on my bed, and found, to my surprise, that the same little black devils, monkeys, &c., made their appearance again.

He concludes with the opinion that a blanket made out of some of the Indiana papers would produce the delirium tremens on the first night. Should his experiments prove to be veritable, it becomes a matter of importance that the blankets should be made of the right sort of newspapers, so as to avoid all evil results.

AN ATROCIOUS LAW.—The Springfield Republican says that an alleged slave was remanded into slavery by Judge Kane, at Harrisburg, Pa., a few weeks since, in a manner to show the atrocious lawlessness of the fugitive slave bill. A colored man named Jacob Dupen was seized by the slave hunters while ploughing in the field. Early the next morning he was taken before Judge Kane, and on the testimony of a single witness was remanded to slavery.. All this occurred, and the slave was on his way to Virginia, before the usual hour for opening the court. When his friends afterwards appeared in court with counsel, they were surprised and indignant at the decision which had been sprung upon them, and asked Judge Kane if it was not unusual to hear cases so early in the morning. Yes, it was, the judge gravely replied, but there was often an attempt made to interfere with the execution of this law, and for that reason it was necessary to be peremptory.

This is a simple and not unusual case under the action of this anomalous law, and yet when it is seriously considered, it is a serious and alarming outrage, although enacted in the forms of law. A dollar's worth of property cannot be taken from any man on such insufficient evidence and by so superficial a process as that by which Jacob Dupen was deprived of his liberty. He might have been a slave, but Judge Kane had no evidence that should have determined the fact. It is the iniquity of this fugitive slave, law that it withdraws all the safeguards of personal liberty, and surrenders men to slavery on the oath of those who have an interest in their enslavement. It offers a bounty on kidnapping and perjury.

GOV. BANKS, of Massachusetts, has commuted the sentence against Winslow Eddy, who murdered his wife on the 21st of June, 1856, from the death sentence to imprisonment for life. From the peculiar circumstances which caused him to commit the deed, public sympathy was engaged to an unusual extent, and the deepest interest in the course taken by the executive has been manifested. This is the case where the wife shook the wages of her shame in the face of her husband.—Charlestown Advertiser.

Lord Tenterden had contracted so inveterate a habit of keeping himself and every one else to the precise matter in hand that once, during a circuit dinner, having asked a county magistrate if he would take venison, and receiving what he deemed an evasive reply—"Thank you, my lord, I am going to take boiled chicken,"—his lordship sharply replied: "That, sir, is no answer to my question; I ask you again if you take venison, and I will trouble you to say yes or no, without further prevarication."

CONGRESS.—In the Senate on Wednesday, Mr. Hale of New Hampshire finished his speech on Kansas. In the House, Mr. Davis of Massachusetts introduced the French spoliation bill,—Mr. McKibbin, a bill to grant alternate sections of land to California for railroad purposes, — the Speaker submitted certain resolves relative to Nebraska affairs, and appointed the Committee on the bill to divide certain federal officers among the States and Territories,—and then the Pacific Railroad question was irregularly debated. The topics in the President's Message were appropriately referred, and the House adj.

In the Senate on Thursday, a resolution was passed, calling on the Secretary of War for a statement of the amount necessary for the payment of such volunteer forces in Florida, during the past year, as have not been paid; Mr. Jones of Tennessee reported back the homestead bill, with a recommendation that it ought to pass; Mr. Davis reported a bill to increase the military establishment, by adding to each regiment of dragoons, cavalry, infantry, and mounted riflemen, two full companies, and by increasing each company to 96 men, which was assigned for Monday; Mr. Bayard reported in favor of inquiry into the right of Messrs. Bright and Fitch, Senators from Indiana, to seats; and then the joint resolution, authorizing the President to present a medal to Com. Paulding "as a testimonial of the high sense entertained by Congress of his gallant and judicious conduct, in arresting a lawless military expedition, and preventing the same from carrying on active war against Nicaragua." Mr. Clay of Alabama did not want this matter considered, until the report of the Committee on Foreign Affairs had been received. Mr. Doolittle of Wisconsin advocated the passage of the measure forthwith. Mr. Brown of Mississippi moved a substitute condemning the Commodore, and supported it in an earnest speech. Mr. Pugh of Ohio took a legal view of the questions growing out of the arrest of William Walker; but said nothing about the medal. Pending the question, the Senate adj.

In the House of Representatives, Mr. Gooch, Mr. Banks's successor, was qualified and took his seat; Mr. Kunkel of Pennsylvania was excused from serving on the $87,000 Committee of Inquiry; Mr. Jones reported the fortification, civil, and legislative appropriation bills; Mr. Phelps of Missouri reported a bill covering an appropriation of $790,000 to supply the deficiency in the printing and binding accounts.

WHAT THEY DRINK.—The San Francisco Bulletin gives, in the following paragraph, some idea of the quality of liquors drank in California. Those imbibed elsewhere are not much better:—"The police lately seized a quantity of liquor kept for sale at several of the drinking saloons by one Diedrich Gerdes, and suspecting it to be poisonous, had it analyzed by a skilful chemist. In his report we were told that the 'brandy' was fiery, burning and bitter—composed of forty-seven parts of spirits and fifty-three parts of water—was colored with burnt sugar, and contained one-sixteenth of a grain of sulphate of morphine to every ounce of liquor. The 'gin' was of water, with a dash of sulphuric acid. The 'whisky' contained strychnine and creosote. The 'pale brandy' contained, among other poisons, Prussic acid."

LAWRENCE, STONE & Co.—We have been assured by the leading New York member of the firm of Lawrence, Stone & Co., that not one dollar was ever paid to any editor, or to any person connected with the press, for any services rendered by any city journal. The payments in question were solely and exclusively for compiling, editing, printing and distributing the pamphlets referred to, some of which were made up of original statistics and other matter, while others, issued subsequently, consisted mainly of extracts from the leading and influential journals which sustained these views.—N. Y. Mirror.

CRUELTY.—The Northampton, Mass., Gazette states that Moses H. Beals and wife, of Williamsburg, were brought before Justice Wells on Tuesday last, on the charge of cruel treatment of their child, a boy five years old. The alleged cruelty towards the child consisted in severe whipping (without justifiable cause), exposure during severe and inclement weather, and deprivation of food, extending over a period of some six months.

American and Foreign Patents
R. H. EDDY, solicitor of Patents,
(Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837.)
No. 76 State st, oppo. Kilby st, Boston,
AFTER an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britian, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.
This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate.—The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.
All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.
TESTIMONIALS.
"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy; and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."
From the present Commissioner.
August 17, 1855.—During the time I have held the Office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the office, as a Solicitor. He is thoroughly acquainted with the law, and the rules of practice of the Office. I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

Coggswell's Medical Salt,
A PERFECT SUBSTITUTE
FOR THE
LANCET, LEECHES AND BLISTERS.
INSTEAD of being a panacea for all maladies, it has control over but ONE MALADY—has but ONE AIM—accomplishes but ONE THING, to wit: SUBDUES INFLAMMATORY DISEASE—whatever be its form or locality—whether in the head, throat, chest, abdomen, extremities or skin. Every form of inflammation (but no other disease) is subdued, by it as easily as fire is extinguished by water. Is it asked, how it does this?—simply by restoring the lost balance between the fluids and solids. Such is its potency, that like vaccine matter, it requires merely what adheres to the point of a needle dipped into a solution of it, to affect the entire system.

MYER'S EXTRACT OF ROCK ROSE,
is peculiarly applicable, and if freely used will not fail to protect the constitution against the sudden and extreme changes of our variable climate. TEARS.

BY ALBERT LAIGHTON.

To-day I scanned each face I met
Within the quiet city;—
None with the dews of grief were wet,
None with the tears of pity.

Is there no anguish in the world;
Is passion calmly sleeping;
Is Misery's tattered banner furled,
That an eye is weeping?

Alas! I know that every breast,
In hovel or in palace,
Must bear the weight of Life's unrest,
And drink from Sorrow's chalice.

But when I thought that CHRIST had wept,
The sinless one, the lowly,
I felt that tears of earth were kept
For Prayer, they are so holy.

O weary ones! the Father hears
Each spirit when it calleth;
His eye beholds your silent tears,
That in the darkness falleth.

And wheresoe'er your lot is cast,
In crowds or lonely places,
Remember that his hand at last,
Shall wipe them from all faces.

This world is bright and fair, we know,
The skies are arched in glory;
The stars shine on—the sweet flowers blow,
And tell their blessed story.

But softer than the Summer's breath,
And fairer than its roses,
Will be the clime afar, when Death
The pearly gate unclosES.

The land where broken ties shall twine,
And fond hearts will not sever;
Where Love's pure light shall brighter shine,
Forever and forever!

YEAST CAKES.—Those made by Davis & Co. are the best ever brought into our market. We have eaten the bread in which they were used, and never tasted better. Try them, and you will readily acknowledge that they will do their own puffing without aid from us.

Once, before yeast cakes were in fashion, and the old leaven was in use, a pan of dough was nicely prepared in the evening, carefully covered with napkins, and placed on the hearth near the stove until the influence of the leaven expanded over the whole lump. Now if there is one place softer than any other in the room, that place the delicate cat is sure to find out—and what more inviting place for a night's repose of the feline, than on a napkin with soft dough beneath, growing softer and softer as the process of fermentation from external heat goes on? "Scat! scat!" said the first who came into the room in the morning—and nothing more. The cook thought the dough had raised finely. The cakes were baked, and were passed around the table—so light! so well raised! Why, Bridget, how did you make them? And sure, mum, the pan was raised all round, and hollowed in the centre—that's all I know. The true explanation given a week after occasioned some merriment—and although the cat process was allowed to be very effectual, it was not deemed expedient to have it repeated.

MUNICIPAL.—In Board of Aldermen, Jan. 21, The School Committee of District No. 1 asked for a further appropriation of $250 in order to enable them to keep their schools in operation during the year, otherwise they will be compelled to discontinue them for one month. Laid over till next meeting.

Petition of Chas. E. Myers & Co., and others doing business on and about Market street, asking for an additional watch in that vicinity.

The City Watch was increased by the addition of six men; and the following appointed for the next quarter:

David Twombly, Leonard M. Chapman, John A. Hammond, E. H. Smith, John T. Teal, Smith Chatman, Edward Clark, Albert Spinney, Samuel Twombly, Abraham Holmes, John Mortimer, Ira A. Brown, Alexander L. Rand, J. G. Tibbets, R. G. Randall, Wm. Shannon, C. H. Littlefield, Wm. A. Gove, jr., Geo. J. Smart, J. M. Walden, Moses B. Reed, Wm. A. White, J. McGaw, Parker Fernald, Joseph Stickney, and T. O. Rand.

☞ Rev. J. H. Shepard, of the Universalist denomination, has made arrangements to preach as follows:

In Fremont, the 1st Sunday in each month.
In Kingston, the 2d " " "
In Atkinson, the 3d " " "
In Danville, the 4th " " "
In Brentwood, the 5th, when it occurs.

The Derry Congregational Association will hold its next meeting at the house of Rev. Wm. Page, Salem, on Tuesday, the 2d day of February next. Preacher, Rev. Mr. Bartley; substitute, Mr. Parsons.

On Thursday evening, three men in passing the residence of T. M. Ball, Esq. deliberately unhitched the several chains which are attached to the posts in front of his residence, wound them around their arms, and bore them off.

The North American Fire Insurance Company of Hartford, Ct. of which Mr. John Sise is agent for this city and vicinity, has recently promptly paid to Mr. Wm. Tarlton, through Mr. Sise, the $3,200 insured on his house and furniture.

Mr. Everett, who repeated his Washington lecture on Thursday in New York city, has already, it is said, repeated it sixty-five times, and the sum realized is over $36,000 for the Mount Vernon fund.

SHIP BUILDING.—It is a singular fact, that there is not at this moment on the stocks, in the port of New York, a single vessel of any description designed for the merchant service. The only ships constructing are the Russian frigate at Mr. Webb's yard, and the United States sloop-of-war building under contract with Jacob A. Westervelt.

ATTEMPT AT SUICIDE.—Miss Tamma Roby, formerly of Goffstown, now of Churchill, N. Y. attempted suicide on Saturday last, at Nashua, N. H. by taking one quarter of an ounce of laudanum. Cause, Spiritualism. She has been for the last few years an active medium. A physician was called immediately, and her life saved.—Manchester (N. H.) American, Jan. 18.

JAMES W. EMERY, Esq., late of Portsmouth, has removed to Boston, and opened a Law office in the Traveller Building, State Street.

Morning Chronicle.

SATURDAY, JANUARY 23, 1858.

THE ADMISSION OF OREGON TERRITORIAL GOVERNMENT IN 1848.—On motion of Mr. Hale, in the Senate, the bill from the House was amended so as to extend the principle of the anti-slavery clause of the ordinance of '87 to the bill. Mr. Douglas moved a further amendment by inserting a provision for the extension of the Missouri compromise line to Pacific Ocean. The bill as amended, was passed by the Senate and House, and approved by President Polk. The President, in approving the bill, sent in a special message, in which he eulogized "the wise and patriotic men who laid the foundations of our institutions—the fathers of the Constitution," and said that "their wisdom ought to be the guide of their successors"—and thus concluded his message:

"Ought we now to disturb the Missouri and Texas compromises? Ought we at this late day, in attempting to annul what has been so long established and acquiesced in, to excite sectional prejudices and jealousies; to alienate the people of different portions of the Union from each other; and to endanger the existence of the Union itself?"

Mr. Benton, in his "Thirty Years View" says:—

"To the momentous appeals with which the President's Message concludes, a terrible answer has just been given. To the question—will you annul these compromises, and excite jealousies and divisions, sections, and endanger the existence of this Union? The dreadful answer has been given—we will. And in recording that answer, history performs her sacred duty in pointing to its authors as the authors of the state of things which now alarms and afflicts the country, and threatens the calamity which President Polk foresaw and deprecated."

MAIL MATTERS.—It will be recollected that two years ago there was great uncertainty in the transmission of letters to and from Kansas, the correspondence being intercepted by the Missourians to conceal their outrages upon Kansas, and prevent communication between the Free State men and their friends at the East. The Lawrence Herald of Freedom of the 9th inst. has information which throws some light upon the perpetrators of these outrages. The Herald says:—

"A friend writes from Westport, Mo., that in cleaning out a well in that place a few days ago, they found several mail bags, containing a large number of letters directed to Lawrence, K. T. The letters were principally dated in June and August of 1856. In one letter was found a $100 draft, which was so defaced that the names upon it could not be deciphered.—The well was in the occupancy of King, the editor of the Border Ruffian, at the time of the occurrence. It will be remembered that Col. H. G. Boon was postmaster at Westport at that time. The parties concerned are laboring to suppress the facts which were developed in connection with it, but we have the whole in our possession, which we shall not hesitate to make public in due time."

PAST SOUTHERN DOCTRINE.

That the late John C. Calhoun moulded, and to a great extent, controlled the Southern sentiment, is a fact well known. State rights, and Popular Sovereignty, has been the popular doctrine in the Slave States, and supposed to be a safeguard of the peculiar institution.

In 1847, Feb. 19, Mr. Calhoun introduced into the U. S. Senate four resolutions, the 4th as follows:—

"Resolved, That it is a fundamental principle in our political creed, that a people, in forming a constitution have the unconditional right to form and adopt the government which they may think best calculated to secure their liberty, prosperity, and happiness; and that, in conformity thereto, no other condition is imposed by the Federal constitution on a State, in order to be admitted into this Union, except that its constitution shall be republican; and that the imposition of any other by Congress would not only be in violation of the Constitution, but in direct conflict with the principle on which our political system rests."

We shall soon see whether Southern statesmen will apply the principle to the admission of Kansas.

CHEAP SWEETENING.—The Planters' Banner, published at Franklin, La., in its issue of the 7th inst. says: "Some of our planters are selling a good article of molasses at $6 per barrel. The barrels cost $1.40, and the molasses stands them in $4.60. This is very disheartening to the planters, but it is glad tidings to poor folks that buy molasses, and have been starving for it, and unable to buy it for several years, on account of the high prices."

☞ Once upon a time Benjamin Franklin was arraigned before the Council of Boston for satirizing hypocrisy and other follies

☞ Some time ago, some unknown friend in England sent us a copy of the Edinburg News, containing insinuations and sneers against Mr. Sinclair, who is now in this country, as a temperance lecturer. From some other articles in the same paper, we deemed it unworthy of credit. The State Temperance Committee of Massachusetts, who employ Mr. Sinclair, received a similar paper, and they wrote to Scotland, and have received answers, fully sustaining Mr. Sinclair as a trustworthy man.

The letters are from such men as Professor James Miller of the University of Edinburgh; Rev. John Kirk, Congregational minister of Edinburgh; Rev. J. T. Wilson, of the Baptist Church, Edinburgh; Arthur Begg, Esq., of Dundee; Sir Walter C. Travilyan of London; Samuel Pope, Esq., Honorary Secretary of the United Kingdom Alliance; Hon. Judge Marshall, of Nova Scotia, &c., &c. Letters from the above gentlemen and from twenty or thirty of the highest reputation, all speak of Mr. Sinclair in terms of unqualified commendation as a consistent, faithful advocate of temperance, and a man, in their opinion, of unblemished moral character. Some of the letters speak of Mr. Sinclair's failure in a business enterprise of establishing a large temperance hotel in Edinburgh; and others state that all the opposition to Mr. Sinclair comes from a party in Scotland who are opposed to a prohibitory law, in the advocacy of which Mr. Sinclair has been prominently active and useful.

The Committee say; our confidence in him as a man of integrity, A successful temperance advocate, a gentleman and a Christian, is undiminished.

FRESH BAIT.—The arrival at Gloucester, of a schooner from Newfoundland, with a cargo of fresh herring, on Sunday morning, the Telegraph says, was received with no little interest by the citizens; as about forty vessels were awaiting the arrival of one of the Newfoundland fleet, before they proceeded to Georges. The herring are caught by the fishermen of Newfoundland and sold to the Gloucester traders, who freeze them and bring them home in that condition. They are retailed to the fishermen, who find them much more acceptable to the cod and halibut on George's Bank, than salted bait, and are consequently more sure of obtaining a full fare of fish. The fleet this winter on George's, will be much larger than usual; some six or eight having already been gone a week or more.

Capt. Rowe, of the schooner above-named, reports very severe weather at Newfoundland, and that he never experienced a harder time than in coming through the Gulf. He was obliged continually to knock large quantities of ice from his vessel. This is very different from what we have been experiencing. Last year, while we were having very severe weather, the Newfoundlanders were having it quite mild.

SURPLUS WHEAT IN CANADA.—The Toronto Colonist, in a statistical article on the grain crops of Canada West, states that the surplus wheat on hand is not less than 8,000,000 bushels, and that no facilities exist, unless they are afforded by the Grand Trunk Railway, for the exportation of this produce. Hitherto Canada has had purchasers for its surplus wheat in every frontier town of the United States; and, indeed, purchasers in the New England States and New York have regulated prices in Canada; but this year the United States itself has a surplus crop, probably better saved than that of Canada. The occurrence, so fortunate for the United States, is the means of locking up in Canada for the present some two millions sterling worth of produce, for which there seems to be no outlet.

LIQUOR INSANITY.—The St. Anthony (Min.) News says that a gentleman from Maine, who recently arrived in that city for the purpose of making investments, was induced to visit one of the fashionable saloons, where he was "drugged with the infernal strychnine doses of the establishment," and has been ever since a wild, jibbering lunatic. After being confined for several weeks, he was taken the other day by his brother, and the two travelled again toward home.

☞ Instruments of torture, idols for Africa, and false coins for most parts of the world, says the Birmingham Press, have given Birmingham some celebrity; but all these are surpassed by an instrument of torture made here and used by the King of Delhi. It is one of the most horrible inventions ever heard of, completely crushing the victim under a heavy weight.

☞ When men try to get more good than comes from well doing, they always get less.

SALTPETRE WILL EXPLODE.—This assertion has often been questioned; but by files from South America, we perceive that, last month, the British bark Elizabeth, of Liverpool, loaded with saltpetre, &c., blew up at Iquique, having taken fire from an attempt to smoke the rats out. This settles the question, "Will saltpetre explode?" The loss was $150,000.

JUDGE CLIFFORD.—The commission of Hon. Nathan Clifford, the new Associate Judge, was read in the Supreme Court at Washington Thursday morning, when Chief Justice Taney administered to him the oath of office.

☞ Peterson's Magazine for February, comes to us from John S. Dyer, 35 School street, Boston. The frontespiece is a beautiful scripture scene,—"Behold the lilies of the field, how they grow!" "Opposite the Jail," is a fine story. The whole number is excellent.

☞ Abraham Perry, a mechanic, formerly of Boston, perished last week at Chicago in a vacant lot, having been driven to insanity by loss of work and destitution. He leaves a wife and two children, to whom he was a kind husband and father.

THE POOR IN NEW YORK.—The disbursements in money to the out-door poor in New York, per week, amount to $2,000, and in coal to over two thousand tuns a week. About twelve thousand persons are now receiving coal, and three thousand are aided with money.

This is mostly a rum tax—and also mostly a foreign tax.

A SLIGHT DIFFERENCE IN TEMPERATURE. One year ago yesterday the mercury indicated the temperature in this city to be 28° below 0, and on Friday the mercury stood 18° above.

SHOCKING ACCIDENT.—Mr. Jewett Jones, an expressman running between Boston and Methuen, attempted to jump upon a train of cars leaving the depot of the Boston and Maine railroad, in Boston, on Tuesday afternoon, and fell beneath the cars, which passed over his body, mutilating it in a shocking manner, and killing him instantly. He had a package of money in each hand at the time, and the accident is wholly attributable to his carelessness in attempting to get on board the cars while in motion, and with his hands encumbered.

☞ It is contemplated by the War Department to dispatch Lieut. Gen. Scott to the Pacific coast, for the purpose of organizing a force against the Mormons from that quarter.

NO LOAN NEEDED!

Washington correspondents say there will be no necessity for a resort, to meet the expenditures of the Government for the next fiscal year, as some have supposed. We might with the same confidence say, that "no loan is needed" by the fortunate individual who invests $10, 5, or 2,50 in S. Swan's legalized lottery, which draws every Saturday at Augusta, Gn. By enclosing those amounts respectively to that well established firm, the holder of a fortunate ticket will be entitled to the capital prise of $60,000, or a half or a quarter of that amount as the case may be.

IT IS A MOST UNDOUBTED FACT
That "Dr. Sanford's Invigorator or Liver Remedy, is one of the greatest discoveries made in medicine the past century. It has been a study of the Dr. during twenty years practice to find what particular organ when diseased, caused the greatest number of ills or pains, and his conclusion is that the liver is the greatest regulator of the system and the most liable to disease while if kept free from disease, is a preventative of Dyspepsia, Jaundice, general debility, &c., while last, but far from least, we mention consumption; for our experience is, that more cases of consumption occur from diseased liver, than from all other causes put together.
Taking this so be a correct hypothesis, we have but to find a remedy with which to correct the liver, and we have a cure of nearly all the diseases we are subject to by simply using a preventative. That the Invigorator is such a remedy, is beyond doubt to all who try it, for its virtues are such that for all complaints arising from liver derangements it is an unfailing remedy, while as a family medicine, for all the diseases of the stomach, or bowels, which are caused in a greater or less degree by liver derangement, it is the safest, surest, and most efficacious remedy known

LOCAL.

ROGUES AT DOVER.—We learn from the Dover Enquirer, that the City Marshal, having received information that suspicious fellows were at the house of Mrs. Hughes, made a descent with assistants, upon the premises on Monday morning, and arrested Arthur Hughes, Charles Murray, William Davis and James H. Jones, and recovered a number of articles stolen.

It was their custom to keep within doors during the day, and commit their depredations in the night. Hughes and Murray belong in Dover, Jones hails from Boston and Davis from Bangor. They were examined, and committed to jail to take trial at the Supreme Court in March. They are all between 18 and 25 years of age, and as promising a set of rascals as ever graced the dock of the Dover Police Court.

On the same day, the Police arrested an Irishman, named Barney Shields, and his two boys, aged about 10 and 13, for theft, who being unable to pay the fine and costs imposed, amounting to $23.50, were committed to jail.

These arrests, we presume, were the only foundation for the report that some thieves were arrested there for committing depredations in this city. It is possible, that they may be a part of the same gang.

There is now no doubt that the three men who broke open three stores in this city on the 15th, were the same three who stole the horse and wagon in Kittery the same night. They left in the wagon a new umbrella, which was stolen from the store of Daniel Knight & Co., and which had their private mark on it. People in Berwick saw three men walking together, two of whom were very muddy on the back and on one side, while the third was quite clean. The wagon was narrow,—and the clean man no doubt was the driver, sitting partly between the others, but mostly before them. We think it highly probable they are part of the gang who have been caged at Dover.

☞ The Fall River News has commenced the publication of births, in the same manner as marriages and deaths are published. The custom of inserting births in the newspapers prevails generally in England, and in some portions of our own country—and we would gladly do the same, were it possible to obtain an accurate record, as the different laws of other States renders imperative.

☞ We learn that a donation of $250, from an unknown source, has been made to the Boys' High School—to furnish a set of Astronomical Apparatus for their use. The Principal, with two of his elder scholars, have acted as a committee to select the list of instruments from the catalogue; and His Honor Mayor Morrison is to purchase them. This will be an important and desirable acquisition to the School.

NEW YORK, Jan. 22—The investigation into the causes of burning of the Brooklyn school house, and death of the boys on that occasion, was concluded yesterday. The jury attach no blame to any person for the catastrophe, and merely recommend an alteration in the style of constructing school houses hereafter.

From Utah—Rumored Massacre of Emigrants.—The Herald's correspondence from the Utah expedition says that Echo Canon is occupied by 3000 Mormons. It also states, without vouching for its accuracy, that a party of California emigrants, 80 in number, men, women and children, were, with the exception of 12 small children, inhumanly butchered by the Mormons and Utah Indians last fall.

LATER FROM NICARAGUA. — New York, Jan. 22.—The Herald has by the Wabash at Havana, and the Black Warrior at this port, received news from Greytown, Nicaragua, to the 8th inst., ten days later than previous accounts. The treaty between Nicaragua and Costa Rica had been signed, and President Martinez and quite a number of superior officers of the armies of both Republics were enjoying themselves at Greytown. They had visited the Wabash, and thanked Com. Paulding for dispering the fillibusters. The Wabash sailed on the 8th, with Col. Anderson and his companions, and reached Havana on the 15th.

NEW YORK, Jan. 22.—A special dispatch from Washington to the Philadelphia Bulletin says that a deputation of twenty leading Democrats of New York city, headed by ex-Mayor Wood, is there for the purpose of urging the President to reconsider his policy in regard to Kansas, delaring that unless he does so he will destroy the Democratic party. They desire him to have the Constitution fairly submitted to a vote of the people of Kansas. The President received a dispatch saying that Col. Jack Henderson, when taken from the stage in Kansas had in his possession the official copy of the Lecompton Constitution.

FREE STATE VICTORY CONFIRMED.—St. Louis, Jan. 21.—The Free State party have made a complete sweep and carried everything in Kansas. The report of last night was given on the authority of correspondents; but that of to-night on the official statement of the officers mentioned in the above dispatch.

TORONTO MARKET REPORT.

Front Street, Corn-Market Square.
TORONTO, C. W., Jan. 19, 1858.

The prospect of good winter roads which I entertained in my last Report has not been realized. The country is again bare of snow, weather unprecedentedly mild for the season of the year; and fears for the safety of the winter crop, in its present exposed condition, are very rife.

Notwithstanding that the last English news is, financially, very satisfactory, the market for breadstuffs continues very depressed. In New York, the Export demand has fallen off again, but prices were firm, although stocks were increasing; good brands of Extras scarce. The decrease in the Exports from New York of 1857 on those of 1856 is enormous, equal to 2,376,481 barrels of Flour, converting wheat into flour.

In WHEAT there has not been much done from the small supplies coming forward; although a good deal has been brought to the different stations of the Railroads branching from this, which will find its way shortly to our market. There is no change in prices.

FLOUR, it is thought, has seen its lowest; and holders are firm at quotations, especially for good and choice lots made from sound wheat. There are heavy orders in the market for Montreal and Quebec for super and fancies, as well as the States, for extras and doubles, chiefly.

Fine Flour, $2 00 to 2 25 per bl.; No. 2 Superfine 2 50 to 2.75; No. 1 do., 3 50 to 3 60; Fancy, 3.70 to 3 80; Extra, 4 00 to 4.15; Double Ex. 4 25 to 4 65.

Wheat.—Prime white winter 86 to 00c; fair average do. 80 to 85c; Spring 60 to 70c; per 60 lbs. Oats 25c per 34lbs. Barley 42 a 50c per 48lb. Rye 50c per 56lbs. Peas 60 a —c per 60 lbs. Hogs 5 00 a 5 25 per 100lbs.

Bank Drafts on New York par to ¼ per cent. premium; Boston par. American Bills ¼ per cent advance of New York quotations.

Freights from Toronto by rail, for full car loads only, to Montreal 60c a bl., 18c bush.; to Boston 120c a bl., 36c a bush.; to Portland 110c a bl, 33c a bush; to Ogdensburgh 50c a bl., 15c a bush.; to New York 110c a bl., 30c a bush. Rates to Island Pond, Northumberland, Danville Junction, are the same as to Portland; to Bangor 25c per bl. more than to Portland.

To Concord, Manchester, Portsmouth, Nashua, Keene, N. H., Lowell, Fitchburg, Salem, Worcester, Groton Junction, Mass., 130c per bl, 46c p bu.

THE GREAT BEAUTIFIER

So long unsuccessfully sought,

FOUND AT LAST.

FOR IT RESTORES PERMANENTLY GRAY HAIR to its original color; covers luxuriantly the bald head; removes all dandruff, itching, and all scrofula, and humors of the scalp; and makes the hair soft, healthy, and glossy, and will preserve it to any imaginable age; removes, as if by magic, all blotches, &c., from the face, and cures all neuralgia and nervous headache. See circular and the following.

DOVER, N. H., Feb. 2, 1857.

Prof. O. J. Wood & Co.—Gents: Within a few days we have received so many orders and calls for Prof. O. J. Wood's Hair Restorative, that to-day we were compelled to send to Boston for a quantity, (the 6 dozen you forwarded all being sold,) while we might order a quantity from you. Every bottle we have sold seems to have produced three or four new customers, and the approbation and patronage it receives from the most substantial and worthy citizens of our vicinity, fully convinces us that it is A MOST VALUABLE PREPARATION.

Send us as soon as may be one gross of $1 size; and one dozen of $2 size; yours very resp'ly,

DANIEL LATHROP & Co.

Hickory Grove, St. Charles Co., Mo., 1856.

Prof. O. J. Wood—Dear Sir: Some time last summer we were induced to use some of your Hair Restorative, and its effects were so wonderful, we feel it our duty to you and the afflicted, to report the case.

Our little son's head for some time had been perfectly covered with sores, and some called it scald head. The hair came off in patches, and in consequence, when a friend, seeing his sufferings, advised us to use your Restorative, we did so with little hope of success, but, to our surprise, and that of all our friends, it very soon supplanted and removed the disease entirely, and a new and luxuriant crop of hair soon started out, and we can now say that our boy has a healthy head and as luxuriant a crop of hair as any other child. We can therefore, and do hereby, recommend your Restorative, as a perfect remedy for all diseases of the scalp and hair. We are, very respectfully,

GEORGE W. HIGGINBOTHAM,
SARAH A. HIGGINBOTHAM.

GARRISON, Mo., Jan. 19, 1855.

Prof. O. J. Wood—Dear Sir: I have used two bottles of Professor Wood's Hair Restorative, and can truly say it is the greatest discovery of the age for restoring and changing the Hair. Before using it I was a man of seventy. My hair has now attained its original color. You can recommend it to the world without the least fear, as my case was one of the worst kind.

Yours Respectfully,

O. J. WOOD & CO., 312 Broadway, N. Y., (in Great N. Y. Wire Railing Establishment) and 114 Market street, St. Louis, Mo.

LOTTERIES.

THE Lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are chartered by the State of Georgia, and have sworn commissioners appointed to superintend their drawings, and certify that everything connected with the same is done in a strictly honorable manner. They offer to the public a fair opportunity for investment, the interests of parties at a distance being as well protected as if they were present. The Manager would respectfully call attention to the fact that Subscribers have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Georgia, as the lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are authorized by the Legislature of that State. A lottery will be drawn every Saturday throughout the year, all orders received being filled in the drawing next to take place after the same comes to hand. According to the schemes one ticket in every ten must draw a prize. Tickets are $10; halves, $5; quarters, $2.50. No tickets sent unless the money accompanies the order. The drawings are upon the principle of the Havana lottery, and have almost removed the disease entirely, and a new and luxuriant crop of hair soon started out, and we can now say that our boy has a healthy head and as luxuriant a crop of hair as any other child. We can therefore, and do hereby, recommend your Restorative, as a perfect remedy for all diseases of the scalp and hair. We are, very respectfully,

A PROCLAMATION
TO THE LADIES.

WHEREAS, it appears that the days of right, honor, and integrity are fast fading away, and WHEREAS, the unscrupulous and ignorant will daily take advantage of the profound and learned. BE IT KNOWN THEREFORE, to all, whether MAIDS, WIVES, or WIDOWS, that Dr. CHRESEMAN'S FEMALE PILLS are ALTOGETHER certain power for the benefit of the female disorganization; they ALONE correcting all painful menstruation, assuaging palpitations of the heart, relieving the sleepy pain in the side, and causing health and happiness to whole sex; more especially to the MARRIED PORTION, as they are certain to bring on the monthly period with regularity.—AND THEREFORE PILLS are purely vegetable and entirely free from mineral's, therefore perfectly harmless in their operations and wholly unknown to the numbers that are upon the public, purporting to effect the objects already detailed. THEREFORE, BE IT KNOWN, that SOTHING but the said PILLS of Dr. CHRESEMAN will accomplish the desired object, when DISAPPOINTMENT has been experienced under the regime of OTHER PILLS; and the Ladies will cause this Proclamation to spread among them, to their own everlasting benefit—always providing that each and every box in one case must be considered NULL and VOID; that is to say the PILLS MUST NOT be taken when any female is in a STATE OF PREGNANCY, otherwise a MISCARRIAGE will be the inevitable result.

Explicit directions, to be carefully read, accompany each box. Price $1. Sent by mail on enclosing $1 to Dr. CORNELIUS L. CHRESEMAN, Box No. 4,521, Post Office, New York City. Sold by Druggists in every town in the United States.

S. D. & H. W. Smith,
—MANUFACTURERS OF—
Melodeons, Organ Melodeons,
—and—
PEDAL BASS MELODEONS,
No. 511 Washington St., Boston.

The first premium over all competitors, at the Fair of the Mass. Charitable Mechanic Association, of the National Fair, Washington, D. C., also at the Ohio State Fair, held at Columbus, Ohio, was awarded to these Manufacturers.

By means of a new method of Voicing, known only to these makers, they have succeeded in removing the harsh and buzzing sound which merely characterized the instrument, and rendering the tones full, clear and organ like. The action is prompt and reliable, enabling the performer to execute the most rapid music without blurring the tones. The swell is arranged to give great expression.

THE PEDAL BASS MELODEONS,

Are designed particularly for Churches, Lodges, Halls, &c. It is arranged with two manuals, or banks of Keys, the lower set running an octave lower than the other, and may be used separately, and thus get in one case two distinct instruments; or by use of the coupler, the two banks of keys may be played at the same time, by use of the iron on the keys. This connected with the Pedal Bass, will produce the effect of a large organ, and is sufficiently heavy to fill a house holding from 1000 to 1500 persons.

THE ORGAN MELODEON

Is designed for parlor and private use. The construction is similar to the Church Instrument, being arranged with two banks of Keys, and when used together, by means of the coupler, is capable of as great volume of power as the Church Instrument when used without the pedals. Also, every variety of MELODEONS for Parlor use.

Purchasers may rely upon instruments from our Manufactory, being made in the most complete and thorough manner. Having removed to the spacious Buildings

511 Washington Street,

We have every facility for manufacturing purposes, and employ none but the most experienced and skilful workmen. In short, we will promise our customers an instrument equal, if not superior, to any manufacturer, and guarantee an entire and perfect satisfaction.

Music Teachers, Leaders of Choirs, and others interested in musical matters, are respectfully invited to visit our Rooms at any time and examine or test the instruments on exhibition for sale at our warerooms.

As a still further guarantee to the public as to the excellence of the MELODEONS from our Manufactory, we beg leave to refer, by permission, to the following

Piano Forte Manufacturers of Boston,

who have examined our Instruments, and will give their opinion when called upon:

Chickering & Sons,	Hallett & Cumston,
T. Gilbert & Co.,	Wm. Hall & Co.,

George Hewes,	Woodward & Brown,

☞ Persons who wish to hire Melodeons with a view of purchasing at the end of the year, can have the rent credited as part payment of the purchase money. This matter is worthy of special note, as it enables those who desire a fair test of instruments before purchasing, to obtain it at the cost of the manufacturers, to the extent at least of a year's rent.

Orders from any part of the country or world, sent direct to the manufactory in Boston, with cash, or satisfactory reference, will be promptly attended to, and as faithfully executed as if the parties were present, or employed an agent to select, and on as reasonable terms.

MR. HALE'S SPEECH

In the Senate of the United States, on Wednesday, Jan. 20th:—

Mr. Hale resumed his remarks from Monday, and commented on two of the positions held by the Supreme Court in the celebrated Dred Scott case: First. The Court affirm that the right of property in slaves is of the same nature as the right to all other property. Secondly. That the right to hold this description of property and to traffic in slaves, at the time of the American Revolution was universally recognized and acknowledged by both England and this country, and no man ever thought of disturbing it. He took issue on both these points. The legal principle was unsound and unsupported. What purported to be a statement of facts was equally unsupported by both truth and history.

The first proposition was more distinctly and fully expressed in the Lecompton Constitution, where it declares that "the right of property is before and is higher than any constitutional sanction, and that the right of the owner to the slave, and to such slave and its increase is the same and is as inviolable as the right of the owner to any other property whatever." He had a higher respect for the Lecompton Convention than for the Supreme Court, because the Convention had been more explicit than the Court in stating just exactly what they meant. He did not deny that in States tolerating slavery there was legal property in slaves. In some of the free States there was a qualified property in human beings. In New Hampshire criminals were sent to the penitentiary for the public good, and anybody might contract with the warden having custody of these prisoners for the use of their labor. The laws recognize his right to the labor of the convicts, and he can take them where he pleases within the jurisdiction of the State, but if he should cross the Connecticut River and undertake to make them quarry marble in the Green Mountains of Vermont, his right to their labor would immediately cease.

Precisely similar was the right of the slaveholder to the labor of his slaves. It is a legal right where slavery exists by law, and nowhere else. The moment the slave goes beyond the jurisdiction which imposes servitude, that moment he is free.

There was an essential difference between the right to the labor of human beings and the right to property in inanimate things and in the brute creation. A man may go all over the world with a horse, and anywhere, both among civilized and savage nations, his right to the ownership will be respected. This right does not depend upon the existence of statute law, but because by the universal consent of mankind the horse is a subject of property. When the horse was created he was made to be a property, and man was made to own him. The right to do so dates back to the earliest period of recorded time.—When God created the earth and gave it to man to cultivate, and filled the land with cattle, and the sea with fish, and the air with fowls, "God also gave man dominion over the cattle, and the fish, and the fowls," but he never gave him dominion over his fellow man. He reserved his last and greatest work for his own peculiar worship.

This distinction had been recognized by every writer who ever wrote on the subject, and by no States more distinctly and clearly than by Virginia, Maryland, Louisiana and other slaveholding States. It had also been recognized by the unanimous concurrence of every member of the Supreme Court of the United States, and in support of his argument he read extracts from various authorities. During his remarks he declared that if the attempt be persisted in to force the Lecompton Constitution on the people of Kansas, he hoped that they would fight and resist even unto blood and death.

CONTRACTS FOR UTAH.—The most wholesale business doing here is in getting contract for supplies to the Utah army, the army there and the five regiments recommended. One contract has been made for $1,700,000, by one party in Missouri, which usually gets the lion's share of the transport business, and a very large amount of the public money. It is supposed that it will require $3,000,000 for the supplies and and transports for the Utah campaign alone, and there is a natural rush for the spoils, and quite as much as has ever been seen at the capitol. The cohesive power of public plunder, perhaps, after all, is one of the strong bonds of the political Union.—Washington Corr. N. Y. Express.

FATAL ACCIDENT.—On Friday last, Mr. Sylvester Bowers, of Thomaston, came to his death by an accident. LET THEM LEARN TRADES.

There is a very general disposition, especially among the weaker-minded men and the softest class of women, (says a contemporary,) to have their boys come up without mechanical trades or a knowledge of other manual labor, as a reliance for future years. The other day an advertisement was inserted in our columns by a party wanting a lad fifteen or sixteen years old, with directions to apply at this office. For several days boys were calling upon us to know what store wanted a clerk, and several women wished to be informed if it was a dry goods store that advertised.—When they were told that a boy was wanted for an apprentice to a mechanical trade, most of them turned away and made no further questions, though the business was such as pays to journeymen as much as the average income of lawyers, physicians, clergymen, editors, or teachers, in the State of Massachusetts.

It really began to lessen our estimate of the common sense of the community, to see how many parents wanted their boys to measure muslins and sell tape, rather than to have a substantial business that would make them independent in any part of the world; and we had less hope for the future, when we saw how many boys were imbued with the false notion that labor was the less respectable, and it was more worthy of their ambition to be clerks.

Nothing is more unreliable for the future than a clerkship. It may at first be more agreeable to wear finer clothes and have cleaner hands, than the poor boy who has the smell of the cattle upon him; but coming years will show the advantage to be on the other side; and most sorrowfully will three quarters of the boys so eager to find places in stores, remember the day when they refused and perhaps despised the place of a mechanic's apprentice, or the farm lad that drove oxen and loaded manure!

Equally false is the idea of the uninformed upon education, learning of schools, for success in life. If our education was true and thorough and practical, as it should be, then might we the more readily say, "give the lad learning, it is his portion." But when we have to take our sons from even the high schools, and send them to commercial schools to fit them for the counting-room; and when we find they have no qualifications in graduating from the university over the grammar school scholars, for ordinary business, we must confess that, as a means of livelihood, mere book-learning is of little avail. Hundreds and thousands of persons there are, of education, as we term it, who are absolutely supernumeraries in the world, without the means of living, without employment, and without friends to assist them.

If there is anything, in addition to the common advantages of the schools, that are open to all, that can give health and happiness; independence, pecuniary and mental; activity of mind and nobleness of thought, and hence pave the way for future advancement, if there be mental and moral foundation for advancement; it is instruction in some trade or calling, to which any one may turn at any time of life, and be sure, by the honest labor of his own hands, by his own skill and industry, to obtain a competence for himself and family.

REV. JACOB NORTON.—Rev. Jacob Norton died at his residence in Billerica, Ms., on Sunday morning, the 17th inst. He was the son of Samuel Norton, was born in Abington, Ms., Feb. 12, 1764, and had consequently attained the great age of 94 years. He graduated with distinction at Harvard in 1786, and at the time of his death was the oldest surviving graduate of the College. He was ordained over the Congregational Church in Weymouth, on Oct. 10, 1787, where he continued his pastoral labours for 37 years, until 1824, when he resigned his charge, and a few years afterwards removed to Billerica, where he resided during the remainder of his long life. Mr. Norton retained his his mental and physical powers to a remarkable degree until past the age of 90. For the last year or two he spent most of his time during the day reading, and without glasses, which he never used, with the exception of a short time, and then laid them aside as useless.—Boston Adv.

SUDDEN DEATH.—Capt. Samuel Knapp, late of ship Clarissa Currier, died very suddenly at Newburyport, on Wednesday night. Capt. Knapp was about fifty-two years old, and has for perhaps thirty years been well known as a worthy and intelligent ship master of excellent habits.—Traveller.

American and Foreign Patents.
H. H. EDDY, Solicitor of Patents,
(Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837.)
No. 70 State st., opp. Kilby st, Boston,
AFTER an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britian, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.
This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and no SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY. He wouldn and that he has abundant reason to believe, can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate.—The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.
All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.
TESTIMONIALS.
"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent Office, and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."
From the present Commissioner.
August 17, 1855.—During the time I have held the Office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the office, as a Solicitor. He is thoroughly acquainted with the law, and the rules of practice of the Office. I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse.

Coggswell's Medical Salt,
A PERFECT SUBSTITUTE FOR THE
LANCET, LEECHES AND BLISTERS.
INSTEAD of being a panacea for all maladies, it has control over but ONE MALADY—has but ONE AIM—accomplishes but ONE THING, to wit: SUBDUES INFLAMMATORY DISEASE—whatever be its form or locality—whether in the head, throat, chest, abdomen, extremities or skin. Every form of inflammation (but no other disease) is subdued, by it as easily as fire is extinguished by water. Is it asked, how it does this?—simply by restoring the lost balance between the fluids and solids. Such is its potency, that like vaccine matter, it requires merely what adheres to the point of a quill dipped into a solution of it, to infect the entire system.

MUSIC.

Nations are the representatives of certain ideas, each embodying in its history, those more or less refined, according to the cultivation and development of its people. In the early dawn of civilization, these symbolic types of national customs, habits and superstitions were extremely crude and barbarous; but as literature was cultivated and arts developed, they became more and more perfect and reliable. This advancement, it will be perceived, is from the simple to the complex, from sciences easily understood and requiring but little inventive genius, to those more intricate and involved. Thus the progress from architecture as practised among the Egytians to sculpture as it appears in the hands of Praxiteles and Phidias, and from sculpture to painting, beautified and adorned by Rubens and Van Rhyens, was strictly in accordance with the great law of mental culture and unfoldment. It rarely happens that the first practitioners of an art are its perfectors. True enough, Homer is the acknowledged master of the epic, and Tacitus the most illustrious historical painter, but they are purely exceptions to the general rule. Locke's doctrine is as good as ever, that man must lift the calf before the ox.

The fact that each nation has fostered arts and sciences which were not practiced with sufficient assiduity to give them historical prominence, in nowise militates against our theory, since the wide and distinctive difference of tastes among a people, demands a corresponding variety of pursuits; and it is those only which become the most perfect and symmetrical, that are recognized as national characteristics. Nor is it impossible for a single science to enjoy the honor of representing at the same time tastes of many nations, as we shall presently see from the history and present condition of music. It is sufficient for the glory of any science if it shall be studied enough to continue its existence along the lapse of ages, until some nation arise, capable of mastering its principles and carrying it to the highest niche in the Parnassian temple.

We have mentioned music in proof of the possibility of a science being preserved by the practice of different generations, and finally arriving at its destined pitch of fame and glory. Let us for a moment attend to the history of that beautiful art by the practice of which the fabled Amphion raised the high embattlements, Orion walked secure amid the raging elements of ocean's surge, and Attic bards diffused the sweet remembrance of heroes slain and cities crumbling 'neath the dust of ages. The origin of music is involved in impenetrable obscurity, but as is ingeniously argued by Dr. Barney and proved by historical evidence, the first musical instruments were percussive. In the absence of more appropriate agents of melodious sounds, sticks, stones, calabashes and tom-toms were used. Soon a refinement of national taste called for more approved instruments, and Egyptian genius lent her aid in the production of the lyre of three strings. From this single and highly useful invention, the Greeks constructed a lyre of four strings. To these others were added, until, after the expiration of a thousand years, the 'great system of double-octave' was evolved. These advancements resulted in the production of many different kinds of music, both vocal and instrumental,—such as the Dorian, Ionian, Phrygian, Eolian and Lydian,—and these were afterwards subdivided into as many as fifteen different and distinct modes.

Thus far nothing but melody was known or practiced. The honor of introducing harmony is due to Christianity. It was brought about in the following manner: In the Christian churches, it was customary for two choirs to sing alternately, the second commencing before the first left off. This probably suggested the idea of harmony which was afterwards cultivated, with unexampled application, zeal and enthusiasm.

It were a difficult task to trace the history of music through all the changes it has experienced since the discovery and application of the principles of harmony. Modern times have set their stamp upon this as well as all other arts. At the present day, sounds are combined in a most miraculous manner, imparting animation to the memory, spiritize the fancy, and energy to the reason. David may have been more lofty, Homer more grand, and Ossian more plaintive, but no one of them combined the glow, variety and richness of Mozart and Handel. Indeed were it not for the production of new pieces of music—every year exceeding in beauty and melody all that have gone before them,—we might rationally suppose that the art had already arisen to perfection. Already do families of moderate circumstances possess that which neither the wealth of Cleopatra nor the ambition of Aspasia could purchase; and we hail the age as not far distant, when vice and degredation shall be banished from the earth, and man, through the instrumentality of music, be lifted to a more exalted conception of Him who giveth every good and perfect gift. T. K. A.

CENTRAL AMERICA.—The Black Warrior, from Havanna, brought advices from San Juan del Norte to the 8th inst., on which day the United States ship Wabash was to sail for Havana, with about forty-five of the fillibusters in a very dilapidated condition. Anderson's party plundered everything they could lay their hands on along the river. Many of them were sick with fever. On the 8th General Jeres called on Commodore Paulding, and, in the name of the President of Nicaragua, thanked him for the great service he had rendered the people of that country.—President Martinez and General Herrara went on board the United States ship Susquehanna, and demanded of Capt. Sands the restoration of the river steamers, but they were referred to Mr. Cottrell, the British Consul, in whose custody they had been placed for the benefit of the proper owners. A Mr. Wolf had been elected Mayor of San Juan.

☞ A correspondent recently stated that the pew rents of Rev. Rufus Clark's church in South Brooklyn had gone up since last spring from $700 to $4,200.—On this the Newburyport Herald says, "the prosperity of these societies very much depends upon the preachers, and if the houses of worship were owned by the preachers themselves, they would receive what is justly their due. Contributions to support the gospel would then be entirely voluntary. If a man preached well he would be popular and well paid; if he had not ability, or was not studious and attentive to his duties, he would not have hearers and would not deserve much salary. There would be a perfect adjustment between preacher and people. Each man too could then declare what he deemed true and useful, and not be under the guidance of parish committees. If the people agreed with him they would hear; if not he would not be saddled upon them. Nobody could turn him off; they could turn themselves off if they wished to, but could not interfere with him, and ought not to."

CRUELTY TO SAILORS.—We learn from the Hartford Free Press that eight witnesses (sailors) who were detained to testify in the case of Capt. Elisha Hull of Norwich, of the whaleship Catherine of New London, charged with cruelty to his men, after having been detained for the trial until last Tuesday, were then paid off and discharged from any further obligation to attend. They immediately scattered for various parts of the world. The case excited much attention at the time of the examination, on account of the inhuman conduct of the captain, which it exposed. The captain's counsel has agreed to admit upon the trial, which is set down for the fourth Tuesday of February, the testimony as it was given before the United States Commissioner. Two of the sailors say, however, that the story was not half told then. The Free Press expresses the opinion that the case will not be brought to trial, as Capt. Hull, who is on bail in the sum of $4000, can better afford to pay that sum than go to prison for several years. Samuel Hoy and William Collins brought civil suits against the captain for the terrible beatings inflicted on them.—Hoy has settled for $500; Collins for $350.

SENATOR GWIN AND HIS SLAVES.—Senator Gwin some years ago, carried several slaves with him to California, who after working about a year, sued him for wages. The case has lately been decided by Judge Norton of San Francisco, who, in his decision stated that no contract was proved, and that the circumstances of these ex-slaves bore an analogy to those of adult children who remained with their parents and worked for them. The law would not imply a promise to pay wages; and some proof of contract or request must be proved to justify a judgement in favor of the claimant.

☞ The new Revenue Cutter for the Key West station, built at Norfolk, Va., has been directed by the Treasury Department to be named the "John Appleton," in compliment to the Assistant Secretary of State.

☞ Hon. Charles Francis Adams is talked of as the successor of Mr. Damrell, in Congress, from Massachusetts.

OUT WEST.—A correspondent in the backwoods of Wisconsin writes as follows, on the receipt of a remittance of Rockingham Bank bills:

CEDAR CREEK, Wis., Jan. 16.

When I opened that budget, and saw what I did see, "on wings of sky-blue glory I felt my spirit rise." Nothing that has ever been sent me by mail has been missed, to my knowledge. Eastern rags are worth more than gold, in Western cities. I don't know but that we are better off for not having that money any sooner—we might have spent it for traps, and as furs have got down in these hard times, it might have been a poor investment. Our prospects before the explosion were good for making a little something on our place by selling out; but are somewhat checked now, as other folks' are. However, we have got no payments to make, taxes are paid, and we don't owe a cent. We shot pure ducks'-feathers enough, last fall, to get two barrels of flour, besides having the ducks ourselves. (The best flour is four dollars a barrel, with no such dirt ground up in it as is shipped about in the shape of wheat.)

We had here two or three cold zero nights in the middle of November, since which time it has been a continual January thaw,—cattle getting their living almost entirely out doors; barns are scarcely needed this winter; the roads are very muddy; have had no snow of any amount—not enough to track a rabbit or haul a saw log. A good horse would be all that we should want to o w w k wo have to do, but to get one out here would cost more than it would come to.

S. is certainly coming home in the spring, and if we sell out, I shall; if not, I shall stay one year more. No good clamming out here, no coling, and no money flying about. I think in the spring, when those loco foco rags get under way, some cash must come, for the wheat that is crushing the old log houses into the ground, most of which, in this wet season, have settled about one log. Wouldn't it look more reasonable for Uncle Sam to issue specie instead of whig rags? Pork is 4 1-2 to 5 1-4 cents a pound for round hogs, beef 4 cents. M.

☞ Ellen McCarthy of Salisbury, Mass., was tried before Justice Turner of that town, on Wednesday last, for violation of the Liquor Law; convicted, and sentenced to pay a fine of $10 and costs of court, with 30 days in the House of Correction, and give bonds in the sum of $1,000 not to violate any law of the State for one year. She appealed, and was committed to jail in Newburyport, for want of bail.

CONGRESS.—The Senate was not in session on Friday. The House refused to ask the President for information in regard to Brigham Young's rebellion; Mr. Davis of Maryland introduced a bill for the improvement of the Patapsco river; in Committee of the Whole the Pacific Railroad project was discused, but no progress was made. Mr. Purviance was placed on the Investigating Committee, in place of Mr. Kunkel, resigned. The House adjourned over to Monday.

FAMILY BROILS.—The Richmond South charges Bennett, of the New York Herald, with having palmed upon the President, as Consul to Bordeaux, one Gabriel C. Fleuret, an "intimate of Bennett's household." The South denounces the appointment as a "national disgrace," and invokes the Senate to defeat it. Is there some Virginian who wants the place?

☞ Midshipman Charles J. McDougal, just arrived at Norfolk, in the U. S. sloop-of-war Cyane, has been presented with a sword and epaulettes, by the seamen who served with him on the cruise. This speaks well, for both officer and men.

SCENE IN A LECTURE ROOM.—A Western correspondent of the Christian Inquirer thus alludes to a sad scene in a lecture room:

"The best temperance lecture—I would say the most impressive and heart-rending appeal in behalf of sobriety that has ever reached my ears—was made, not long since by a gentleman who had been selected to give the first lecture of the season before several of our Western lyceums. As his name is in all the 'Cyclopedias of American Literature,' something creditable was expected; but he had not spoken ten minutes before it was evident that he was sadly intoxicated, and the President of the Society had to perform the painful duty of leading him from the stand, and dismissing the insulted audience."

☞ The Pittsfield, Mass., Eagle says that bogus quarters, dimes, and three cent pieces, are plentfully offered in that town, and suspicions are strongly expressed that the manufactory is not very far off.

FIRE.—We learn that about half-past 3 o'clock Friday morning fire was discovered in the barn of Jonathan Allen, about a quarter of a mile from the village of Salisbury, Ms. and the building, with contents, was entirely consumed. It contained ten tuns of hay, belonging mostly to Mr. Allen, the remainder to Jonathan Camet, together with a carryall and wagon. Total loss $500; insurance $350. Mr. Camet's loss, $150. The fire was the work of an incendiary.—Boston Journal.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.—The War Department has asked Congress for an appropriation of $1,244,000, to pay for 4,880,000 rations for the Utah Expedition, for twenty months from the 1st of July next—that amount being required for 5506 soldiers, 200 women, 300 servants and 1894 employees; aggregate, 8000.

Nearly two thousand persons attended Mrs. Douglas's ball last night, which was the most brilliant one ever given here.

ACCIDENT.—Isaiah G. Brown, a worthy and faithful colored boy employed on the old Boston and Providence Railroad at Providence, running from India Point to Hebronville, slipped off the top of the box cars on Monday, and was run over and had his thigh crushed near the groin. He lived for eight hours afterwards, and bore his sufferings without a groan or murmur. —Taunton Gazette.

SALE OF COTTON GOODS.—New York, Jan. 22.—The sales of domestic cottons on 6 months credit to-day went off with much spirit, at 1 1-4 cent. per yard below the full private sale price on 8 months credit.

☞ A certain classic editor says, if the Naiads were constantly bathing, he presumes, from their name, the Dryads were the ones who brought the towels.

IT IS A MOST UNDOUBTED FACT

That "Dr. Sanford's Invigorator or Liver Remedy, is one of the greatest discoveries made in medicine the past century. It has been a study of the Dr. during twenty years practice to find what particular organ when diseased, caused the greatest number of ills or pains, and his conclusion is that the liver is the greatest regulator of the system and the organ liable to disease while if kept free from disease, is a preventative of Dyspepsia, Jaundice, general debility, &c., while last, but far from least, we mention consumption; for our experience is, that more cases of consumption occur from diseased liver, than from all other causes put together.

Taking this so be a correct hypothesis, we have but to find a remedy with which to correct the liver, and we have a cure of nearly all the diseases we are subject to by simply using a preventative. That the Invigorator is such a remedy, is beyond doubt to all who try it, for its virtues are such that for all complaints arising from liver derangements it is an unfailing remedy, while as a family medicine, for all the diseases of the stomarch, or bowels, which are caused in a greater or less degree by liver derangement, it is the safest, surest, and most efficacious remedy known.

LOCAL.

THE SKATERS have it all their own way, now-a-days. The ice is good, the weather made for the purpose,—and everybody, with his wife, daughters, sisters or sweetheart, is enjoying the occasion. Five hundred skaters, of both sexes, and all ages and stations in life, is not an unusual number to see on the "Old North Mill Pond" at once.

It seems to us that there are not so many fancy skaters now as there used to be; and that there is not, generally, so much good skating, in a winter, as formerly—one of which facts probably explains the other, if either impression is correct.

But there is one new and charming feature, almost unknown, in this region, ten years ago—the introduction of the ladies to the skating-field. When we were younger than we are now, (be it remembered, this was before the days of "invisible embroidery," and skirts which trail in the mud—if not lifted up,) we used to fancy that the dear creatures had no "limbs," but somehow had feet fastened to the hem of their petticoats, and glided along "as angels move." Fashion has explained to us our mistake, since; but the old idea is revived by seeing the charmers glide about on skates.

There is no better exercise than skating; and we are glad so many improve the present opportunity. F.

☞ The Firemen's Fair closed on Saturday evening—having been densely crowded throughout its continuance of four days. It was a great success—and must have netted a considerable sum towards the Fund. The whole affair speaks well for the public spirit of Chief Engineer Hadley, who projected it; as well as for those who so effectually aided in carrying out the arrangements.

☞ We are informed, on the best authority, that the apparatus for the Boys' High School, is not a donation from an individual, but of liberal and praiseworthy appropriation by the City Government.

WASHINGTON, 22d.—California combination for carrying on the Mormon war from that side of the Mountains, has effected its object. Gen. Scott will start for California next week, with full powers from government to organize in that State an army for the invasion of Utah, if the latest advices from Salt Lake city which he shall receive in California are such as to warrant the prosecution of hostilities. In that case he will employ the regulars now on the Pacific side, and will also call upon the Governor of California for volunteers. He expects to reach Salt Lake by June, simultaneously with Col. Johnson. It is part of his plan of operations to conduct the army up the Colorado river, which is believed to be navigable for 300 miles above its junction with the Gila, and in the exact direction of Utah.

The Southern route for the Pacific Railroad has been voted down in the Senate Committee by the casting vote of Douglas.

The President is in travail about Kansas again. He denied himself even to members of the Cabinet on Thursday, and was supposed to be engaged in the preparation of another message on the question of the day.

THE AREA OF UTAH.—It may be a matter of some interest to our readers to know something of the comparative extent of that Territory of the United States, whose chief officer is bidding defiance to our government. According to Colton, the area of Utah is 269,170 square miles. To engineers, and a few others, this will give a just idea of its vast extent, but the majority of people will form a better estimate by being told that it is as large as the whole of New England States, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Delaware, Maryland, Kentucky and Tennessee. Or compared with European countries, it is equal in extent to Great Britain and Ireland, Switzerland, Prussia and Denmark, with the Islands of Guernsey, and Man, and the Ionian Islands added.

SPUNKY GIRLS IN DEFENCE OF LAW AND ORDER.—Several persons were recently fined in the Police Court, in Bangor, Me., for an assault upon a schoolmaster in Eddingeon, who had interdicted chewing of gum in school. It seems, says the Bangor Union, that four of the large boys endeavored to carry into effect a plan they had been concocting for some time, to put the master out by seizing about his neck and choking him, while two of them held the door open. Three of the girls, aged from 16 to 19, two of whom had taught school, then came to the rescue, and by the use of a billet of wood which they used to a good purpose upon the ruffians, laid them out straight on the floor and caused them to give in beat. The struggle lasted some time.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22.—The Republican members hold a caucus this evening to make arrangements for opposing the Lecompton Constitution, which will shortly be communicated to Congress. They are confident that a sufficient number of Democrats will go with them to defeat it.

John W. Nixon of La., and Miles H. Morris of Miss. have been appointed Pursers in Navy.

One million new Treasury notes have been issued, including exchange and payment.

IMPORTANT CASE.—A very important liquor case came before the Municipal Court of Boston.

Thomas Skelley, a wholesale dealer in spirituous liquors, was tried on an indictment found under the "Nuisance Act."—Several sales of liquor were clearly proved against him, and he was convicted. When the jury came in, after a long absence, neither Skelly nor his counsel were present, and Skelly was defaulted. But the counsel for Skelly, moved an arrest of judgement for alleged fatal defects in the indictment. The Court in overruling the motion, said it involved new and important points. The exceptions were filed, to the form of the indictment, and the constitutionality of the law. The case goes before the Supreme Court upon several new points, and the result is looked for with interest. The constitutionality of the "Nuisance Act" will be determined by this case.

THE GREAT BEAUTIFIER

So long unsuccessfully sought,

See circular and the following.

DOVER, N. H., Feb. 2, 1857.

Prof. O. J. Wood & Co.—Gents: Within a few days we have received so many orders and letters for Prof. O. J. Wood's Hair Restorative, that to-day we were compelled to send to Boston for a quantity, (the 6 dozen you forwarded all being sold,) while we might order a quantity from you. Every bottle we have sold seems to have produced three or four new customers, and the approbation and patronage it receives from the most substantial and worthy citizens of our vicinity, fully convinces us that it is A MOST VALUABLE PREPARATION.

Send us as soon as may be one gross of $1 size, and one dozen of $2 size. Yours, very truly,

DANIEL LATHROP & Co.

Hickory Grove, St. Charles Co., Mo., 1856.

Prof. O. J. Wood—Dear Sir: Some time last summer we were induced to use some of your Hair Restorative, and its effects were so wonderful, we feel it our duty to you and the afflicted, to report it.

Our little son's head for some time had been perfectly covered with sores, and some called it scald head. The hair almost came out, came off in consequence, when a friend, seeing the sufferings, advised us to use your Restorative, we did so with little hope of success, but, to our surprise, and that of all our friends, a very few applications rendered the disease entirely, and a new and luxuriant crop of hair soon started out, and we can say that our boy has so healthy, and a luxuriant a crop of hair as any other child. We can therefore, and do hereby, recommend your Restorative as a perfect remedy for all diseases of the scalp and hair. We are, yours respectfully,

GEORGE W. HIGGINBOTHAM,
SARAH A. HIGGINBOTHAM.

GARDEN HILL, Sept. 22, 1855.

Prof. O. J. Wood—Dear Sir: I have used two bottles of Professor Wood's Hair Restorative, and can truly say it is the greatest discovery of the age for restoring and changing the Hair. Before using it I was a man of seventy. My hair has now attained its original color. You can recommend it to the world without the least fear, as my case was one of the worst kind.

Yours Respectfully,

O. J. WOOD & CO., 312 Broadway, N. Y., (In great N. Y. Wire Railing Establishment) and 114 Market street, St. Louis, Mo.

LOTTERIES.

THE Lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are chartered by the State of Georgia, and have sworn commissioners appointed to superintend their drawings, and pledge their entire property with the same is done in a strictly honorable manner. They offer to the public a fair opportunity for investment, the interests of parties at a distance being equally protected as those who present. The Manager would respectfully call attention to the fact that all persons have a legal right to send money for tickets to Georgia, as the lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are authorized by the Legislature of that State. A lottery will be drawn every Saturday throughout the year, all orders received being filled in the order they are to take place after the same comes to hand. According to the scheme one ticket in every ten will win, and tickets are $10; halves, $5; quarters, $2.50. No tickets sent unless the money accompanies the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket, and are in view of everybody, so that all understand them. There is no combination of numbers to mystify the buyer. Prizes vary from $40 to $20,000; every prize is cash, and result of drawing forwarded to all purchasers.

—MANUFACTURERS OF—
Melodeons, Organ Melodeons,
—and—
PEDAL BASS MELODEONS,
No. 511 Washington St., Boston.

The first premium over all competitors, at the Fair of the Mass. Charitable Mechanic Association, of the National Fair, Washington, D. C., also at the Ohio State Fair, held at Columbus, Ohio, was awarded to these Manufacturers.

By means of a new method of Voicing, known only to themselves, they have succeeded in removing the harsh and buzzing sound which for merly characterized the instrument, and render the tones full, clear and organ like. The action is prompt and reliable, enabling the performer to execute the most rapid music without blurring the tones. The swell is arranged to give great expression.

THE PEDAL BASS MELODEONS,

Are designed particularly for Churches, Lodges, Halls, &c. It is arranged with two manuals, or banks of Keys, the lower set running an octave higher than the other, and may be used separately, and the upper one can use two distinct instruments; or by use of the coupler, both banks of keys may be played at the same time by one person, as easily as one. This connected with the Pedal Bass, will enable the player to make a large organ, and is sufficiently heavy to fill a house that seats from 1000 to 1500 persons.

THE ORGAN MELODEON

is designed for parlor and private use. The construction is similar to the Church instrument, being arranged with two banks of Keys, and when used together, by means of the coupler, is capable of the same volume of power as the Church Instrument when used without the coupler. Also, every variety of MELODEONS for Parlor and Vestries.

Purchasers may rely upon instruments from our Manufactory, being made in the most complete and thorough manner. Having removed to the spacious buildings,

511 Washington Street,

DR. FAUSTUS AND PRINTING.

At the Manchester festival, on Franklin's birthday, one of the speakers fell into the common error of attributing the legend of Dr. Faustus and his league with Satan, to the invention of the German monks on the occasion when Faust, the printer, exhibited his printed edition of the Bible. Some German writers have indeed stated that such was the fact, a few saying that the extraordinary number of volumes he exhibited, led the monks to the belief that he must have been aided by the Evil Spirit; and another that they invented the story of hatred to Faust, whose printing was effectually destroying their occupation of copying. There can be but little ground for this belief. There was a chemist named Doctor Faustus, who lived half a century later than Faust the printer, and was the subject of the tradition. The belief that he had sold himself to the devil for twenty-four years, was for a long time credited throughout Europe, and two books were published, one in 1599 entitled "The true History of the horrible sins of Doctor John Faustus," and another, "The League of Doctor Faustus, the Enchanter and Sorcerer, known throughout the world, with the Devil, his adventurous Life and terrible End." The subject has been immortalized by Goethe, in his celebrated "Faust," one of the greatest poems in the German language.

As to the term "Printer's Devil," which those who confound the two Fausts, say arose from the said league of the first printer, another derivation is given. In early times type-setting was necessarily very inaccurate. In the year 1561, a book was printed, called the "Anatomy of the Mass." It had only 172 pages in it, but the author—a pious monk—was obliged to add fifteen pages to correct the blunders. He consequently invented a very ingenious story to the effect that the errors were all the works of his Satanic majesty. Henceforth, the "devil" was made the scapegoat of all that goes wrong in the printers' department. That a few printers may be leagued with the rascal alluded to, may be true; but as we have the evidence of one of his most faithful apprentices, that "Satan's kingdom's tumbling down," we may soon await the time when the "black art" and printing will be as antagonistic as darkness and light. NONPAREIL.

THE CLERGY AND TOBACCO.—The New York Evening Post remarks:

Hall's Journal of Health mentions what it calls an "instructive and alarming fact" in reference to the Wall street forger recently sent to the Penetentiary. It was proven on the trial that he was never seen down town without having a cigar in his mouth; that he was never well. On entering the prison, smoking was absolutely and at once prohibited, by an inflexible rule. In three months he gained fifteen pounds in flesh, and his general health was improved in proportion.

Speaking of tobacco, we cannot refrain from alluding to its ravages among the clergy, who smoke or chew to an extent little suspected by their auditors. Indeed, an intelligent friend in that sacred calling, informs us that not less than twenty of his intimate ministerial associates are habitual chewers. He has no doubt but that this kind of ruminating is seriously injuring the cloth. A highly esteemed Presbyterian clergyman, in Virginia, recently committed suicide, from a state of nervous irritation caused by excessive use of tobacco.

The Council of State of Berne, Switzerland, in consequence of the deleterious effects of this narcotic on the human frame, have recently determined to prohibit the use of it to all "unconfirmed" young men; the religious rite of confirmation is there administered at sixteen. This, we apprehend, will tend more to the growth of the church than the discouragement of tobacco.

FROM THE RICHMOND SOUTH OF Dec. 31. "But we do not hesitate to deny that the Administration ever contemplated any such act of violence and aggression as Commodore Paulding committed in the arrest of General Walker. So far the contrary, we have positive assurances that Mr. Buchanan is vehement in condemnation of the whole affair. But a verbal disclaimer will not suffice for the defence of the Administration. If they mean to be acquitted of all blame in the matter, both Commodore Paulding and Captain Chatard must be instantly dismissed from the service. The country will not be satisfied with any less decisive act of atonement for so unparalleled an outrage."

A FEARFUL WARNING.—A young lady, twenty-five years of age, of elegant accomplishments and fascinating qualities of many kinds, arrived in this city a few weeks ago, from Chillicothe, Ohio, on a visit. She had for some time, been in the habit of taking small quantities of arsenic, for the purpose of beautifying her complexion, and on Friday last she took an overdose, fell sick, and died before yesterday she died.—St. Louis Republican.

HOTEL BURNED.—Dubuque, Jan. 22.—The St. Cloud Hotel was destroyed by fire last night. Loss estimated at $100,000; insured for $80,000. The fire is supposed to have been the work of an incendiary.

RUM, CRIME, AND TAXES, IN CONCORD.—The Concord Correspondent of the Manchester Mirror says, speaking of the arrest and discharge of the drunken fireman Larragee, for the robbery of Spellman:—"The people are taxed too much in a hundred ways, and if they know what portion of their taxes came upon them, directly or indirectly, in consequence of the use of intoxicating drinks, they would rise in their strength and suppress the sale of them everywhere. The person arraigned in the case in question is an intemperate man, and his family suffers from his intemperance. It is understood that the two met in the city agency, an hour before the robbery was committed, and there, in that place of bad liquors, the twenty $5 gold pieces were exposed; and but for the liquor agency, or some other rum hole, there would have been no robbery, as no one, from seeing Spellman, would over think of robbing him. He suffers, the city suffers, and so does Larragee and his family and friends suffer. Two thirds of the imprisonments for crimes, two thirds of the public executions, two thirds of the pauperism, suffering and crime in the community, owe their existence to that low class of men who favor the sale of intoxicating liquors, either unlawfully or by unprincipled liquor agents, acting under a badly administered law."

The special correspondent of the Mirror uses similar language, and says that at the examination of Larragee, "all wondered that a man of his habits should have been retained so long, or at all, in the employment of the Northern railroad. The Superintendent of that road owes it to the reputation of this city, as well as to the best interests of that corporation, to employ no man upon it whose intemperate habits are so notorious as have long been the habits of this man, Larragee. No man of similar habits should be employed upon a single railroad in the country, and never, certainly, as a fireman of a dangerous engine, as has this man been often employed. What would the public say if they were to see a list of the names of railroad men in this state, published, whose habits lead them into rum holes, and drinking saloons, and drinking houses, where they reside?"

DESPERATE MURDERS IN NANSEMOND COUNTY, VA., BY A NEGRO MANIAC.—Suffolk, Va., Jan. 19.—This morning about 1 o'clock, information reached this town that an insurrection of the blacks had broken out between South Quay and Holy Neck, in Nansemond County, and that some white families had been massacred. The town instantly rose in arms, and sent out a scouting party on horseback to near the scene of the reported outrages, who returned about 4 o'clock A. M., and reported that yesterday (Monday), a little after 3 o'clock in the afternoon, a deranged negro man, belonging to Mr. Benton of Gates County, N. C., had attacked a white man, named Whitwel Jones, on the road near South Quay, and murdered him, splitting his skull open.—The negro then went to the House of Mrs. Harrison Howell, a widow woman, whom he murdered likewise. By this time a party had started in pursuit of him.—When he reached the house of Rev. Uriah Rawles, a young man named David Rawles was present with a gun. The negro approached him in a fighting attitude, when Rawles fired twice at him. The negro fled to a pond of water, where he was shot by the party in pursuit of him. Much excitement prevailed.

SOUND ADVICE.—"Mr. Carey," said a lady, "I see adult baptism to be quite right, and yet I cannot make up my mind to submit to it. I am very unhappy about it sometimes; I suppose you would advise me still to pray about it, sir?" "I tell you what I advise, Madam. Go and do what you know to be right, and pray afterwards. Your prayers will then be likely to give you more pleasure.—Life of Eustace Carey.

Brown met Jones on State street, and said: "Ah, Jones, my boy, you're just the man I wanted to see. There's a saddle horse I met with, the other day, that I'll pass over to you, if you like." "Thank you, no," said Jones, "I believe not; the fact is, I've had sad losses enough of my own this fall to take care of." Exit Brown.

"SING AND FIDDLE."—A shrewd churchman was once tormented by his people to introduce the "big fiddle," or bass violin, into the church. He told them the human voice was the divinest of all instruments of music—but they introduced their violin, and the old man rose and said: "The brethren will, if they please, sing and fiddle the thirty-ninth psalm."

A man seldom affects to despise the world, unless the world is regardless of him.

Coggswell's Medical Salt,
A PERFECT SUBSTITUTE
FOR THE
LANCET, LEECHES AND BLISTERS.
INSTEAD of being a panacea for all maladies, it has control over but ONE MALADY—has but ONE AIM—accomplishes but ONE THING, to wit: SUBDUES INFLAMMATORY DISEASE—whatever be its form or locality—whether in the head, throat, chest, abdomen, extremities or skin. Every form of inflammation (but no other disease) is subdued, by it as easily as fire is extinguished by water. Is it asked, how it does this?—simply by restoring the lost balance between the fluids and solids. Such is its potency, that like vaccine matter, it requires merely what adheres to the point of a quill dipped into a solution of it, to affect the entire system.

POLITICS vs. TEMPERANCE.

There seems to be a kind of tempest, not in a teapot, but in the gill pots, as to what the political parties will or will not do, in regard to temperance. The N. H. Statesman said something a short time ago, discoursing about the Republican party and temperance, advising that each stand on its own merits, or fall for want of them. Whereupon the N. H. Patriot comes out with nearly a column of comment on the weakness of the "black republicans," their "shameful inconsistency," and the "unblushing confession of their hypocrisy"—and says:—

For three years past, the Maine Law has constituted one of the most important planks in their platform.

Let us see, says Uncle Toby. Let us see. In 1855 the demand of the temperance men and women of New Hampshire, which they had been making for two or three years, became so loud and imperative, that the American or K.N. candidate for Governor promised to sign such a constitutional bill if it passed—otherwise he could not have been elected. There was no "black republican party" then—for the N. H. Patriot of March, 1855, just after the election, said:—

It is a Hindoo victory, and nothing else. It was the old whig and free soil parties, and a small portion of men who have usually voted the democratic ticket.

Mr. Metcalf was elected Governor, and the legislature passed the bill by a large majority. Some Democrats voted for the law because they had faith in its efficacy as a preventive measure; and others did so because, like some Republicans, they feared to do otherwise. Republicans voted for it, some because they believed it the best that could be made upon the subject; they had the faith that moves mountains, and believed the law would work wonders; while others voted for it because of an earnest constituency at their backs, rather than from the convictions of their understanding. And Gov. Metcalf kept his promise, and signed the bill.

Since that time there have been two State elections. In 1856 there was an American platform, which we have just been reading, but do not see a word in it about temperance or the law for the suppression of intemperance. There was, we presume, no such plank there.

But there was a desperate effort made against the law, in 1856, by Hon. John S. Wells, who mounted the temperance rum plank and stumped the State, professedly as the advocate of a law that "would more effectually stop the sale of liquor and drunkenness—a stringent license law that would enforce itself." In spite of this, however, Mr. Wells was not elected. He wasted his powder—nobody was killed.

He gained, we suppose, two thousand rum votes, by temperance lectures,—but he did not gain enough to reach the Governor's chair. He did more with that plank then, than he or anybody else can do again in this State for some years to come.

In 1857 there was a Republican party, and they built a platform of such planks as as they saved from the wrecks of old parties, but there wasn't a rum plank nor a temperance plank among them. The Patriot and its echoes brought out the old artillery of the previous year, including temperance, pocket pistols, palaces for thieves and harlots, &c., &c.; and seemed about to knock the Republican platform, and the poor blacks who stood thereon, all into the ditch together. But they didn't. The platform was dreadfully bespattered with ink and mud, but it didn't break down, nor Governor Haile neither,—both seemed about as good as new in January, 1858, and the Republicans of all colors unanimously agreed to try them both another year, without much alteration.—The Patriot made a blunder somehow about the plank.

In the mean time temperance has made, is making, and will make progress. Any party that sets itself against it will run the risk of losing its best man. That's about all we need say to rival parties.

LUCY STONE'S TAXES PAID BY A SALE OF HER PROPERTY.—Lucy Stone, who now resides in Orange, New Jersey, refused to pay her taxes, under the plea of "woman's rights," and "no taxation without representation." The law must be satisfied, however, and so a constable seized some of her furniture, and sold about $10 worth, the proceeds of which satisfied the assessment. Two pictures, of Gerritt Smith and S. P. Chase, were among the "$10 worth" sold.

FOREIGN NEWS.—The steamer Europa, with news from England to January 9, arrived at New York on Sunday. She brings later and important advices from India.—Affairs in Great Britain were improving. The money market was easier and the, returns of employment in the manufacturing districts was gratifying. The rate of discount at the Bank of England had been reduced from 6 to 8 per cent. Consols 94 7-8 to 95 1-4. The efforts to launch the Leviathan were attended with success; she was within 64 feet of the water. It is asserted that Lord Palmerston will introduce a bill in Parliament for the transfer of political affairs in India to a Cabinet minister. The intelligence from India is that General Havelock died on the 25th of November. In an engagement between Gen. Windham's command and the mutineers, near Cawnpore, the former was repulsed with loss. Sir Colin Campbell, on hearing this, attacked the rebels on the 7th and defeated them. In France there was a resumption of business. The Empress was sick, and Rachel, the tragedian, died on the 3d of January. Shocks of earthquake continued to be experienced at Naples. From Austria we learn that Field Marshal Radetzky died on the 5th of January, of paralysis of the lungs, in the 92d year of his age. In consequence of the continued illness of the King, the delegated powers of the Prince of Russia were renewed for a further period of nine months. In Turkey, death has removed a "shining light." The news from Sweden is interesting only in a financial point of view.—All concerning China is rumor; but the Australia news embraces the reported loss of ship Catharine Adamson and 21 lives.

FROM BARNSTEAD.

The Concord Democratic Standard has a letter from Barnstead, saying:—

Will you give through the columns of the Standard the reasons that induced the Democratic State Committee to promulgate their resolutions on the Kansas question, &c.

The Democrats of Barnstead strongly endorse the position of President Buchanan upon Kansas matters, and are anxious to know whether they stand pledged, by the recent action of the State Committee, for or against the administration of James Buchanan.

To this the Standard replies:

First, we think a portion of the Committee were controlled by motives of actual hostility to the President. We think so, because we are informed that a majority of the Committee were in favor of throwing Mr. Buchanan overboard. Others were governed by a foolish desire to head off the Black Republicans, by playing over the old unprincipled game of the Wilmot Proviso, and thus showing to the world; that the Democrats of this State are better Abolitionists and Kansas shrickers, than the Black Republicans themselves.

But, we are gratified to know that the Democratic masses will not go with the State Committee and certain democratic organs, in their desertion and covert censures of the President.

FARMING IN MAINE.—The Portland Advertiser states that Mr. Thomas Small, of Bath, has a small farm, containing about 15 acres, three miles distant from the city, which he cultivates with a success that should be an encouragement to all other farmers, especially when it is known that Mr. Small has lost his left hand and all but two fingers on his right. He write sto the Rural Intelligencer as follows:—"I keep one yoke of oxen and two cows, and I have hay to sell every year. I think I cut last season 16 tons of hay, I raised 120 bushels of potatoes, 30 bushels good corn in the ear, 1100 pumpkins, 400 heads of cabbage, 5 1-2 bushels of beans, and 35 bushels of garden sauce. I hired help to the amount of $30, and worked out enough to come to $70. My little place is called Winnegance. I paid $1715 for my land (15 acres) in cash, and I wish I could purchase ten more acres at the same rate.—But there is none for sale near me. I can make it well to pay $100 per acre for land to farm on; other people may say what they please about it."

A PAINFUL SIGHT.—On Tuesday morning last, a man, a raving maniac, secured for the protection of himself and others, in a close fitting box with openings for the admission of light and food, passed through here on the cars. He was from Minnesota, and on his way to Maine, his native state.—Prairie Du Chien (Wis.) Leader.

This is probably the unfortunate person alluded to in our paper a day or two since, as having been made insane by drinking adulterated liquor, at St. Anthony.

☞ A dispatch from Albany announces the arrest of the Westfield murderer, Stoub. It will be remembered that this person, some weeks ago, killed his wife and two children.

AN IRISH UNDERSTANDING.—Louis XIV asked Count Mahoney if he understood Italian. "Yes, please your Majesty," said the Count, "if it is spoken in Irish."

THE MIGHTY DEAD.

Death, as the universal reaper, never stops to see how tall any given head is, before he cuts it down. But we poor mortals take notice when the great go hence.

The last arrival from Europe, brings intelligence that General Havelock, the leader of the British Army in India, is dead. He died on the 25th of November, of dysentery, brought on by exposure and anxiety.

The same papers tell us, that in France, M'll. Rachel, the great tragedienne, died Jan. 3d, at her estate in Cannes. Her last professional performances were those which took place in the United States.

In Austria, Field Marshal Radetzky is dead. The event took place on the 5th of January, its cause being paralysis of the lungs, after an illness of a week. The Marshal was in the 92d year of his age.

In Turkey, Redschid Pasha, Grand Visier, is dead, after an illness of only three days. His disease was apoplexy.

General Sir Henry Havelock was born in 1795, at Bishopswearmouth, near Sunderland, England. He was consequently 63 years old, and has seen much military service at home and in India. In 1827 he published the "History of the Ava Campaigns." Soon after he married the daughter of the late Rev. Dr. Marshman, of Serampore.—The Boston Courier says of him, "Sir Henry Havelock was not only a brave officer, but he was a fine scholar and a thorough Christian. We give the following anecdote in illustration of his character as a Christian soldier."

At a meeting of the Hibernian Bible Society, recently held in Belfast, Ireland, the Rev. Mr. Graham, of Bonn, mentioned this fact:—He had to tell them that General Havelock, who is now so distinguished in India, although a Baptist, was a member of his (Mr. Graham's) missionary church at Bonn, and his wife and daughter were members of it for seven years.—He could also relate an anecdote of that great and good man, which he had heard from the lips of Lady Havelock. When General Havelock, as Colonel of his regiment, was traveling through India, he always took a Bethel tent, in which he preached the Gospel; and when Sunday came, he usually hoisted the Bethel flag, and invited all men to come and hear the Gospel; in fact he even baptized converts. He was reported for this at head quarters, for acting in a non-military and disorderly manner; and the Commander-in-Chief, General Lord Gough, entertained the charge, but, with the true spirit of a generous military man, he caused the state of Col. Havelock's regiment to be examined. He also caused the reports of the moral state of the various regiments for some time to be read, and he found that Col. Havelock's stood at the head of the list; there was less drunkenness, less flogging, less imprisonment in it, than in any other. When that was done, the Commander-in-Chief said,—"Go and tell Col. Havelock, with my compliments, to baptize the whole army."

JACK AND HIS WAGES.—When the crew of the U. S. sloop of war Saratoga were paid off at Norfolk, the larger part of their wages was paid in half dollars of the last coinage. This was not only inconvenient to Jack, who had to lug about in his handkerchief his hundreds of dollars in silver, but subjected him to the loss of three per cent. in getting it changed into gold for safety and convenience. As the U. S. Government does not consider the new silver a legal tender in sums over twenty-five dollars, we think it unjust to thus burden the tars.

CONGRESS.—It is stated that the Committee on Foreign Relations have agreed unanimously in favor of maintaining the Neutrality law intact. Six or seven will report in favor of constructing it so as to cover the right to pursue its violators on the high seas. It is also stated that Senator Douglas will oppose this strenuously.

☞ The New York Assembly had a stormy time on Saturday—the question under consideration of the Assembly being a motion to declare Van Valkenburgh (Republican) Speaker, and Mr. Hughes (American) Clerk. The Democracy, fearing that the coalition would triumph, left the hall, and the House was obliged to adjourn for want of a quorum.

☞ At Hartford, on Friday night, property to the amount of $100,000 was destroyed by fire, in consequence of which a large number of persons are deprived of employment.

☞ The capitol building at Washington cost originally three millions of dollars. It is said the improvements now making to it will cost seven millions more.

BRAHMA.

If the red slayer thinks he slays,
Or if the slain thinks he is slain,
They know not well the subtle ways
I keep, and pass, and turn again.

Far or forgot to me is near,
Shadow and sunlight are the same,
The vanished gods to me appear,
And one to me are shame and fame.

They reckon ill who leave me out;
When me they fly, I am the wings;
I am the doubter and the doubt,
And I the hymn the Brahmin sings.

The strong gods pine for my abode,
And pine in vain the sacred Seven;
But thou, meek lover of the good!
Find me and turn thy back on heaven.

TOM-CAT.

AFTER "BRAMAH."

If the grey Tom-cat thinks he sings,
Or if his song thinks it is sung,
They know not him who boot-jack flings,
Nor all the bottles at him flung.

When comes the dark, to me he's near;
Starlight or cloudy—all the same—
He, on my shed will still appear,
And caterwaul his constant flame.

They reckon ill who bolt him out,*
When he would fly, he needs no wings;
He sits, the spouter, on the spout,
And high the song the Tom-cat sings.

His strong voice oft attracts a brood
Of other cats—some six or seven—
But, when they howl round my abode,
Find me name any place but Heaven!

*The last item of instructions, generally given, I believe, to the maid servants at night, is to "put the cat out into the back yard."—Boston Courier.

☞ Mr. Butler's "Nothing to Wear," has been followed by a legion of imitations, few of which could communicate the plague to that amazingly clever satire, so remote are they from it. Occasionally we find one that is good, and perhaps the best of these is that entitled "Husband vs. Wife," published by Rudd & Carleton, which contains many good passages, the finest of which is the prologue itself, as follows:

Abel McAdam—may his tribe increase!—
Awoke one night from a deep dream of peace,
And saw, within the gas light of his room,
A female spirit (dressed up a la Bloomer,) writing something in a book of gold.
Exceeding drink had made McAdam bold,
And to the presence in the room he said,
"What wretch, dear?" The spirit raised its head,
And with a voice like that of cooing dove,
Murmured, "The names of men whom women love."
"And is mine one?" asked Abel. "No, sir ee,"
Replied the spirit. Abel roared with glee.
Then coolly said, "Sweet spirit, write me as one
Who ne'er finds fault with what a woman's done"
The Bloomer wrote and vanished; but next night
It came again with a great wakening light,
And showed the names by love of woman blessed,
When, lo! McAdam's name led all the rest!

This is pronounced one of the neatest parodies ever written, and said to beat the best that has been made on Emerson's "Brumah," at which everybody has had a shy. Sold by A. Williams & Co., Boston.

IT IS A MOST UNDOUBTED FACT

That "Dr. Sanford's Invigorator or Liver Remedy, is one of the greatest discoveries made in medicine the past century. It has been a study of the Dr. during twenty years practice to find what particular organ when diseased, caused the greatest number of ills or pains, and his conclusion is that the liver is the greatest regulator of the system and the most liable to disease while this is kept free from disease, it is a preventative of Dyspepsia, Jaundice, general debility, &c., while last, but far from least, we mention consumption; for our experience is, that more cases of consumption occur from diseased liver, than from all other causes put together.

Taking this so be a correct hypothesis, we have but to find a remedy with which to correct the liver, and we have a cure of nearly all the diseases we are subject to by simply using a preventative. That the Invigorator is such a remedy, is beyond doubt to all who try it, for its virtues are such that for all complaints arising from liver derangements it is an unfailing remedy, while as a family medicine, for all the diseases of the stomarch, or bowels, which are caused in a greater or less degree by liver derangements, it is the safest, surest, and most efficacious remedy known.

THE STUDY OF NATURE.

The discovery of Rock Rose (Helenthemtum Canadense) by Dr. Whitelaw, has proved an inestimable benfit to mankind. As an alterative it is unequaled in Materia Medica,—as a tonic and deobstruent it is matchless. Myers' Extract is the only scientific and reliable preparation, and has already "made its mark" as a remedy for Scrofula, Salt Rheum, Tetter, Dyspepsia and all diseases arrises arising from impure blood and impaired digestion. LOCAL.

☞ The new ship, built by the Union Co., and now lying at Moffat's wharf, is to be sold at auction on Wednesday.

☞ The South Berwick Cornet Band propose imitating their Portsmouth and Exeter brethren, in giving a series of Promenade Concerts in So. Berwick, the first of which is advertised to come off Thursday Evening of this week. These Entertainments are getting to be very popular wherever there is a band to carry them on successfully, and we hope our South Berwick friends will be well supported in their undertaking. The band leader, Mr. Chas. H. Tompson—is one of our old Typos, and we know him to be "some" on Cornet and Flute, and think a band under his leadership and tuition should play well. Success to the "institution" all round, say we.

☞ On Thursday evening, of last week, a party of young men visited Jamaica Pond for the purpose of skating, when they were brutally assaulted by a number of Irishmen, (who demanded pay for sweeping the ice, although they had been once paid by Hon. S. M. Weld,) and some of them seriously injured. Mr. Andrew B. Vennard, of this city, was among those who were hurt.

A pretty pass things have come to, if we must pay tribute to a pack of Irishmen for the privilege of skating on our native ponds. J.

☞ The News Letter states that the Rev. O. S. Lamphear, late of Lowell, Mass., has accepted the invitation of the second Congregational society in Exeter, to become their pastor.

MRS. TOWNSEND, a trance Medium, gave three communications in Exeter, the past week, to very good audiences. She is a woman of fine address, with a clear musical voice—unaffected and graceful manner of delivery, an eloquent flow of words; and from whatever source her ideas come, they were in the lecture we heard, pure and good and worthy of any preacher, of any sex.—Exeter News Letter.

The Portsmouth Chronicle asks for information respecting Obadiah Smith of Fremont, who is lodged in Exeter jail.—The said Smith was never a regularly ordained minister of the Free-will Baptist persuasion, though he did, some time ago, preach or exhort as a member of that denomination. He has not attempted to preach, we understand, during the past year. He is an intemperate man, and when drunk has been in the habit of abusing his wife and children. He was complained of by his wife, to one of the Selectmen of Fremont, who had him arrested. He was examined and committed for trial on the charge of rape and incest. His case will probably be attended to at the term of the Court in Exeter, in February next.—Exeter News Letter.

QUESTION OF RATES BETWEEN UNITING RAILROADS.—The referees in the controversy between the Lowell Nashua and the Concord railroads, as to the rates to be charged upon the respective shares of the joint business, have decided in favor of the latter, which had taken the position, that the proportion charged by the lower roads to the Concord and upper roads were to be the same over either line, provided that neither road should be compelled to reduce its rates on such business below those then charged. The referees were Ether Shepley of Portland, Francis O. Watts of Boston, and Robert Hale of Roxbury.

VERMONT.—The Prohibitory Law works to a charm in Vermont; is most rigidly enforced, and accomplishes all that its most sanguine friends could desire. In a large majority of towns in Vermont, it is impossible to get a drop of intoxicating liquor for other that mechanical and medicinal purposes; and the people like the law, and it could not be repealed.

MORMON WAR.—The War Department has official accounts from the Utah army down to Nov. 30. Col. Johnstone confirms the previous reports of excessive suffering and great loss of draught animals by snow, cold and starvation. Nevertheless, the army was in good spirits, and the Mormons on the other hand, were becoming more and more "afraid of mounted men."

MAKE A NOTE OF IT.—That on the 18th of January, 1858, the schooner Sea Gull, arrived here from Buffalo a week since, loaded with coal, with the intention, which will probably be carried into effect, of leaving for Detroit this evening. If that is not late, or early, navigation for this region, we should like to see it matched from the past records.—Cleveland Herald, Jan. 18.

Twenty years ago, on the 8th of January, the schooner Berkshire left the port of Cuyahoga with some seventy patriots, for the purpose of conquering Canada. The weather was warm, and the Lake was not frozen until about the 1st of February.—The months of December and January, 1837-38, were very like the December and January of 1857-58.—New York Post.

LATER FROM SALT LAKE CITY. — New York, Jan. 25.—The Times has dates from Great Salt Lake City to Dec. 10. The Mormons had completed their preparations for resistance to the troops, not intending to risk an open fight, but purposing to undertake a guerilla warfare. The former intimations of this plan of operations are fully confirmed.

Echo Canon, a difficult pass near the city, had been strongly fortified, and was occupied on the 7th of December by a strong body of Mormon Rangers.

A permit from headquarters was required before parties leaving the city were permitted to pass.

The yield of the crops in Utah had been enormous, so that the Mormons will be well provisioned.

A number of Mormons are known to be in the camp of the Army, and accurate information of the movements of the troops was daily received at Salt Lake City. The Mormons are somewhat troubled by restless spirits, who insist upon immediate measures to open hostility, but are held in check by Brigham until the proper opportunity offers.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23. — (New York Herald Correspondence.)— Both Mr. Calhoun, with the Lecompton Constitution of Kansas, and Mr. Stanton, with the proceedings of the Legislature in opposition to that Constitution, are expected this evening or to-morrow. There will be an exciting time, but the President is firm for the Lecompton Constitution, as the legally expressed opinion of the people of Kansas. It is understood, in official circles, that Capt. Meigs, the Superintendent of the Capitol extension, will certainly be removed, on account of extravagant expenditures and abitrary conduct.

Jan. 24.—The Union, in an article on Southern colonization, labors to show that the late John C. Calhoun opposed the acquisition of territory by force, and says that it believes that the popular voice of the South is now in unison with these sentiments regarding Central America and Cuba.

THE GREAT BEAUTIFIER

So long unsuccessfully sought,

FOUND AT LAST.

FOR IT RESTORES PERMANENTLY GRAY HAIR to its original color; covers luxuriantly the bald head; removes all dandruff, itching, and all scrofulous, scald head, and all eruptions; makes the hair soft, healthy, and glossy, and will preserve it to any imaginable age; removes, as if by magic, all blotches, &c., from the face, and cures all neuralgic and nervous headache. See circular and the following.

DOVER, N. H., Feb. 2, 1857.

Prof. O. J. Wood & Co.—Gents: Within a few days we have received a dozen bottles of your article for Prof. O. J. Wood's Hair Restorative, that today we were compelled to send to Boston for a quantity, (the 6 dozen you forwarded all being sold,) while we might order a quantity from you. Every bottle we have sold seems to have produced three or four new customers, and the approbation and patronage it receives from the most substantial and worthy citizens of our vicinity, fully convinces us that it is A MOST VALUABLE PREPARATION.

Send us as soon as may be one gross of $1 size; and one dozen of $2 size; yours very truly,

DANIEL LATHROP & Co.

Hickory Grove, St. Charles Co., Mo., 1856.

PROF. O. J. WOOD—Dear Sir: Some time last summer we were induced to use some of your Hair Restorative, and its effects were so wonderful, we feel it our duty to you and the afflicted, to report it.

Our little son's head for some time had been perfectly covered with sores, and some called it scald head. The hair almost entirely came off it constantly, when a friend came to our house, and advised us to use your Restorative, we did so with little hope of success, but, to our surprise, and that of all our friends, a very few applications removed the disease entirely, and a new and luxuriant crop of hair soon started out, and we can now say that our boy has as healthy a scalp, and as luxuriant a crop of hair as any other child. We can therefore, and do hereby, recommend your Restorative, as a perfect remedy for all diseases of the scalp and hair. We are, yours respectfully,

GEORGE W. HIGGINBOTHAM,
SARAH A. HIGGINBOTHAM.

GARDINER, Me., June 22, 1855.

Prof. O. J. Wood—Dear Sir: I have used two bottles of Professor Wood's Hair Restorative, and can truly say it is the greatest discovery of the age for restoring the Hair. Before using it I was a man of seventy. My hair has now attained its original color. You can recommend it to the world without the least fear, as my case was one of the worst kind.

Yours Respectfully.

LOTTERIES.

THE Lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are chartered by the State of Georgia, and have sworn commissioners appointed to superintend their drawings, and certify that everything connected with the same is done in a strictly honorable manner. They offer to the public a fair opportunity for investment, the interests of parties at a distance being as well protected as if they were present. The Manager would respectfully call attention to the fact that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Georgia, as the lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are authorized by the Legislature of that State. A lottery will be drawn every Saturday throughout the year, all orders received being filled in the drawing next to take place after the same comes to hand. According to the scheme one ticket in every ten hundred thousand will draw $10; halves, $5; quarters, $2.50. No tickets sent unless the money accompanies the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket, and are so simple that none need fail to understand them. There is no combination of numbers to mystify the buyer. Prizes vary from $50 to $50,000, and are cashed the moment they are ascertained drawing forwarded to all purchasers.

☞ A list of the numbers that are drawn from the wheel, with the amount each prize is entitled to, will be published after every drawing, in the following papers:—New Orleans Delta, Mobile Register, Charleston Standard, Nashville Gazette, Atlanta Intelligencer, and New York Weekly Day Book. Write your address plainly, and direct to S. SWAN & Co., Augusta, Georgia

Prizes paid in full—no percentage deducted from prizes as in other lotteries.

LOTTERIES.

The well-known Maryland Consolidated Lotteries, of which R. PARKER & Co are the managers, are chartered by the state of Maryland, and a commissioner elected by the people, who is sworn to superintend and certify that everything is conducted with strict fairness, strictly honorable manner, and that the interests of parties who reside at a distance are as well protected as if they themselves were present at the drawing. Another fact which the public should pay attention to, is that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Maryland, as lotteries are legalized by special law in that state. A lottery is drawn every day of the month. If no particular class is named, orders are filled in the first drawing to take place after the communication comes to hand. Prizes are paid in cash, from $1 to $20. No tickets are, however, sent unless the money for the same is received with the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket (after the Havana plan), and Tertan combination. Prizes vary in amount from $20 to $100,000. All orders for tickets or packages will receive prompt attention, and the drawing mailed to all purchasers immediately after it is over.

☞ The drawn numbers of the Maryland Lotteries are published by the State Commissioner in the following papers, viz: Sun, Clipper, Patriot, American, Argus, of Baltimore; also, the National Intelligencer and Union, of Washington, D.C.

—MANUFACTURERS OF—

Melodeons, Organ Melodeons,

—and—

PEDAL BASS MELODEONS,

No. 511 Washington St., Boston.

The first premium over all competitors, at the Fair of the Mass. Charitable Mechanic Association, of the National Fair, Washington, D.C., also at the Ohio State Fair, held at Columbus, Ohio, was awarded to these Manufacturers.

By means of a new method of Voicing, known only to themselves, they have succeeded in removing the harsh and buzzing sound which formerly characterized the instrument, and rendering the tones full, clear and organ like. The action is prompt and reliable, enabling the performer to execute the most rapid music without hurrying the tones. The swell is arranged to give great expression.

THE PEDAL BASS MELODEONS,

Are designed particularly for Churches, Lodges, Halls, &c. It is arranged with two manuals, or banks of Keys, the lower set running an octave higher than the other, and may be used separately, and thus give one case two distinct instruments; or by use of the coupler, the two banks of keys may be played at the same time by one set of hands only. This combined with the Pedal Bass, will produce the effect of a large organ, and is sufficiently heavy to fill a house that seats from 1000 to 1500 persons.

THE ORGAN MELODEON

Is designed for parlor and private use. The construction is similar to the Church instrument being arranged with two banks of Keys, and when used together, by means of the coupler, is capable of power and volume of power to the Church Instrument when used without the pedals. Also, every variety of MELODEONS for Parlor use.

Purchasers may rely upon instruments from our Manufactory, being made in the most complete and thorough manner. Having removed to the spacious Building

511 Washington Street,

We have every facility for manufacturing purposes, and employ none but the most experienced and skilful workmen. In short, we will promise our customers an Instrument equal, if not superior to any Manufacturer, and guarantee an entire and perfect satisfaction.

Music Teachers, Leaders of Choirs, and others interested in musical matters, are respectfully invited to visit our Rooms and examine and examine or test the instruments on exhibition for sale at their pleasure.

As a further guarantee to the public as to the excellence of the MELODEONS from our Manufactory, we beg leave to refer, by permission, to the following

Piano Forte Manufacturers of Boston, who have examined our Instruments, and will give their opinion when called upon:

Chickering & Sons, Hallett & Cumston,

George Hewes, Woodward & Brown,

MELODEONS PRINTED.

"Persons who wish to hire Melodeons with a view of purchasing at the end of the year, can have the rent credited as part payment of the purchase money. In this matter it would be of special note, as it enables those who desire a fair test of the instruments before purchasing, to obtain the opinion of the manufacturers, to the extent at least of a year's rent.

Orders from any part of the country or world, sent direct to the manufactory in Boston, with cash, or satisfactory reference, will be promptly attended to, and as faithfully executed as if the parties were present, or employed an agent to select, and on as reasonable terms.

THE GUNNER'S SHOT.

A THRILLING SCENE.

Our noble ship lay at anchor in the bay of Tangier, a fortified town in the extreme northwest of Africa. The day had been extremely mild, with a gentle breeze sweeping to the northward and westward, but towards the close of the afternoon, the sea breeze died away, and one of those sultry, oven-like, atmospheric breathings came from the great sun-burnt Sahara. Half an hour before sundown, the captain gave the order to the boatswain to call the hands to go in swimming, and in less than five minutes, the forms of our tars were seen leaping from the gangways, the ports, the nettings, bowsprit, and some of the more venturesome took their leap from the arms of the lower yard. One of the studding sails had been lowered into the water, with its corners suspended from the main yard arm and the swinging boom, and into these the swimmers made their way.

Among those who seemed to be enjoying the sport most heartily, were two of the boys, Tim Wallace and Fred Fairbanks, the latter of whom was the son of our old gunner, and in a laughing mood, they started out from the scudding sail on a race. There was a loud ringing shout of joy on their lips, as they put off, and they started through the water like fishes. The surface of the sea was as smooth as glass, though its bosom rose in long and heavy swells that set in from the Atlantic. The vessel was moored, with a long sweep from both cables, and the buoy on the starboard anchor was far away on the starboard quarter, where it rose and fell with the swells like a drunken man.

Towards the buoy the lads made their way, Fred Fairbanks taking the lead, but when they were within twenty or thirty fathoms of the buoy, Tim shot ahead and promised to win the race. The old gunner watched the progress of his son with a vast deal of pride, and when he saw him drop behind, he leaped upon the poop, and was on the point of urging him on by a shout, when a cry reached him that made him start as if he had been struck by a cannon ball.

"A shark! a shark!" came from the captain of the forecastle, and at the sound of the terrible words the men who were in the water leaped and plunged towards the ship.

Right abeam, at the distace of three or four cables' length, a shark-wake was seen in the water, where the back of the monster was visible. His course was for the boys. For a moment the gunner stood like one bereft of his sense, but on the next he shouted at the top of his voice, for the boys to turn, but the little fellows heard him not. Stoutly the swimmers strove for the goal, all unconscious of the fearful death-spirit that hovered so near them; their merry laugh still rang out over the waters, and at length they both touched the buoy together.

Oh! what drops of agony started from the brow of our old gunner. A boat had put off, but Fairbanks knew that it could not reach them in season, and every moment he excepted to see the monster sink from sight, and then he knew that all hope would be gone. At that moment a cry reached the ship that went through every heart like a stream of fire—the boys had discovered their enemy!

The cry started old Fairbanks to his senses, and quicker than thought he sprang to the quarter-deck. The guns were all loaded and shotted fore and aft, and none knew their temper better than he. With a steady hand, made strong by a sudden hope, the old gunner seized a priming-wire and pricked the cartridge of one of the quarter guns—then he took from his pocket a percussion wafer, and set it in its place, and set back the hammer of the patent lock. With a steady, giant strength the old man swayed the breech of his heavy gun to its bearing, and then, seizing the string lock, he stood back and watched for the next swell that would bring the shark in range. He had aimed the piece some distance ahead of his mark, yet a single moment would settle his hopes and fears.

Every breath was hushed, and every heart in that old ship beat painfully. The boat was yet some distance from the boys, while the horrible sea-monster was fearfully near. Suddenly the air was awoke by the roar of a heavy gun, and as the old man knew his shot was gone, he sank back on the combing of the hatch, and covered his face with his hands, as if afraid to see the result of his shot, for if he had failed he knew that the boys were lost.

For a moment after the report of the gun had died away upon the air, there was a dead silence, but as the smoke arose from the surface of the water, there was at first a low murmur breaking from the lips of the men; that murmur grew louder and stronger, until it swelled to a joyous, deafening shout. The old gunner sprang to his feet and gazed out upon the water, and the first thing that met his view was the huge carcass of the shark floating with its belly up, a mangled mass.

In a few moments the boat reached the daring swimmers, and half dead with fright, they were brought on board. The old man clasped his boy in his arms, and then overcome by the powerful excitement, he leaned against the gun for support. I have seen men in all the phases of excitement and suspense, but never have I seen three hundred human beings more overcome by thrilling emotions, than on that eventful moment, when they first knew the effect of our gunner's shot.—Journal of an English Naval Officer.

In the hearing of an Irish case for assault and battery, a counsel, while cross-examining one of the witnesses, asked him what they had at the first place they stopped? "Four glasses of ale." "What next?" — "Two glasses of whiskey." — "What next?"—"One glass of brandy." "What next?"—"A fight."

CONGRESS.—On Monday a report from the Committee on Foreign Relations, on Central American affairs, was submitted to the Senate. The Committee do not find that further provisions of law are necessary to confer authority on the President to cause arrests and seizures to be made on the high seas, for offences committed against the neutrality laws of 1818. They do report, however, some new regulations for the guidance of officers who may be placed in circumstrnces similar to those which surrounded Commodore Paulding on the occasion of his arrest of Walker.—Messrs. Douglas and Foot expressed dissent. The report was assigned for the 9th of February. An ineffectual attempt was made to take up the military bill. Kansas affairs occupied the remainder of the session. The House went into Committee of the Whole on the "Pension bill."

Mr. Gartell made a speech in support of slavery, hesitating not to defend the institution as being strictly in accordance with the strictest dictates of humanity and the word of God. The time for apology was passed. The Southern people are a unit, and stand before the world to defend and entirely justify it. Other nations, including France and England, are beginning to see the error of their ways, and are ready to embark in a system of slavery more barbarous and oppressive than any heretofore known. He considered the prophecy of Randolph relative to slavery as a social, moral and political demoralization, falsified by time and experience, and argued to show that Great Britain's emancipation scheme was a failure.

Mr. Washburn of Wisconsin thought that the President had arrived at a lame and impotent conclusion, in declaring that the monetary evils of the country proceeded from the bank suspensions, while hard money was claimed for the basis of government transactions. The Secretary of the Treasury called upon and obtained from Congress power to issue $20,000,000 of red-dog and wild-cat money. He reviewed the Secretary's report, exposing what he regarded as its fallacies, and said that that officer blunders in thinking that something will turn up to relieve him from impending ruin.

Mr. Granger said that the administration, by their extravagance and folly, had increased the expenditures $18,000,000 or $19,000,000 annually, while the revenue has run down $20,000,000 or $30,000,000. One part of the army is surrounded by snow and the Mormons; another is playing second fiddle to slavery in Kansas, and the remainder are fighting for glory and Billy Bowlegs. (Laughter.) And now Congress is called upon to raise four regiments. If he should vote for them his constituents would find it out. The government are in trouble; and so are the people. The Democratic party turned the screw the wrong way when they passed the free trade tariff. If they were wise they would restore prosperity to the country by a protective tariff with incidental protection.

Mr. Bingham said that the House should not recognize the right of the President to dictate them in what manner they should discharge their duties. Notwithstanding the threats of the Southern States, that they will go out of the Union unless Kansas is admitted under the Lecompton Constitution, under no possible state of things would he give to it his sanction. That instrument did not emanate from the people of Kansas. It is not their will. Its provisions are in direct conflict with the Constitution and the eternal principles of justice. It was a fact that could not be successfully denied, that the reason why the Convention solemnly refused to submit the Constitution for approval or rejection, was that the people would have voted it down. Yet the President has the audacity, with this fact staring him in the face, to demand that Congress shall set up that instrument as the Constitution of the people of Kansas. The Constitution was the joint product of federal and local usurpers. But for federal intervention the delegates to the Lecompton Convention would not have been chosen; and but for the protection of federal bayonets, they would not have dared to conspire against the liberties of the people. The rights of the people were trampled upon, and popular sovereignty strangled. Congress has been asked to acquiesce in this outrage for the sake of the Union, and, as the President says, "for the peace of the whole country."—They had been told by the court journal that all is quiet in Kansas—but it is not the calm of the people, secure in their rights, it is the fearful calm that precedes the storm. Let the supporters of the Lecompton Constitution look to it that the freemen of Kansas are not pressed to the point where patience ceases to be a virtue. Kansas is filled with freemen, who know their rights, and, knowing, dare maintain them. Resistance to such a fraud as is attempted to be forced upon them would be a duty, not a crime—patriotism and not treason.

The Committee rose, and the House adj.

A very little boy, who at night, had been repeating the Lord's prayer, was observed to be in a very deep thought. After meditating a long time, he asked—"Mamma, is the daily bread buttered?"

A PERFECT SUBSTITUTE
FOR THE
LANCET, LEECHES AND BLISTERS.
INSTEAD of being a panacea for all maladies, it has control over but ONE MALADY—has but ONE AIM—accomplishes but ONE THING, namely: PURGES INFLAMMATORY DISEASE—whatever be its form or locality—whether in the head, throat, chest, abdomen, extremities or skin. Every form of inflammation (but no other disease) is subdued, by it as easily as fire is extinguished by water. Is it asked, how it does this?—simply by restoring the lost balance between the fluids and solids. Such is its potency, that like vaccine matter, it requires merely what adheres to the point of a quill dipped into a solution of it, to affect the entire system.
☞ Of its intrinsic value, the enlightened community, and not the discoverer, must be the judge.

Cold Winter is Coming on.
AND with it will return the usual concomitants, Coughs, Colds, Dyspepsia, Scorbutic Eruptions, Sick Headache, Rheumatism, Tetter, Ring Worm, &c., which the genial warmth of summer and free perspiration has, for a time relieved, but which the return of rigid, cheerless winter, will bring back, unless resisted by some medicamentum.
MYER'S EXTRACT OF ROCK ROSE,
is peculiarly applicable, and if freely used will not fail to protect the constitution against the sudden and extreme changes of our variable climate. It purifies the blood, strengthens the stomach, and invigorates the whole system, thus fortifying against the insidious attacks of ungenial frosts and debilitating heats. See Circulars.

Morning Chronicle.

WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 27, 1858.

☞ By the steamship Tennessee, at New Orleans, it appears that a new revolution has broken out in Mexico.

Nearly all the mail stages between Vera Cruz and the capital had been robbed. Nearly every state and town in the Republic were issuing pronunciamentos against Comonfort, and the city of Mexico was in a state of siege.

On the 11th, the Zuloaga brigade, which first declared for the dictatorship of Comonfort, pronounced against him. It holds the citadel and barracks of San Augustine and San Domingo.

Comonfort had been refused admission to the last named. He had assembled 2000 troops at the palace, with artillery. He had also arrested Gen. Zuloaga, but afterwards released him on parole.

A portion of the Zuloaga brigade were in favor of Gen. Zuloaga for the Presidency, while others advanced the claims of Santa Anna.

All the foreigners in the capital had hoisted the flags of their respective countries for protection.

Confusion reigns supreme at the capital.

INTERESTING DECISION. The American Express Company were intrusted with $7500 by Marshall & Illsley of Milwaukie, to deliver at the State Bank in Madison.—The Express Company made a tender of the money after banking hours, but it was refused. During the night the express safe was robbed of its contents, including the $7500. Suit was brought by Marshall & Illsley to recover the money of the Express Company, who held that once having made a tender of the money, they were no longer responsible for it as common carriers, and that they kept it over night as a mere matter of accommodation to plaintiffs. The jury on Saturday returned a verdict in favor of the Express Company.

☞ The Ellsworth American says that Capt. Elias Lord, of that town, now about 70 years old, has been master of a vessel for more than 50 years. His business has been that of coasting; and since commencing life as a sailor, he has been seven trips as cook, as a hand twenty-four trips; and first hand, or mate, seven; as master, five hundred and seventy-nine trips. During this long time he has never lost a trip from sickness, or any other cause; he has never lost a vessel, or had one damaged badly enough to call on the owners to pay expenses; nor has he had any goods which were on freight, damaged to any amount. The American thinks a parallel case cannot be found in Maine.

PLEDGED TO DISUNION.—The Charleston Mercury makes the following statement;—

"Georgia, Mississippi and Alabama, stand pledged to secede from the Union, should Kansas, applying to Congress for admission as a slave state, be refused admission."

These three States contributed to the success of the great "Union Saving" party in the last Presidential election—and without whose aid that party could not have succeeded. Our reliance, therefore, upon having the 'Union saved' by the election of President Buchanan, rests wholly on the balance of power maintained by the States pledged to disunion, whenever the national policy is shaped against their individual desires.

A SOLEMN DUE.—The editor of the Lynn Bay State says, "we deeply regret to say that we fear that a large number of our subscribers are dead. We have come to this conclusion from the fact that we have not heard from them for a long time, many for one year, and too many for two and even three years, although we have sent the Bay State to them regularly every week during the whole time. If we do not hear from them soon, we shall insert their names under the head of 'DEATHS,' with such an obituary notice as the circumstances seem to require."

☞ The Belfast Free Press states that on the 17th inst., while Mr. Elijah Young of Lincolnville, was cutting wood at his door, a little son about eight years of age, suddenly placed his hand upon the log, and the axe came down, chopping it quite off! The lad was carried into the house of his grandfather, Moses Young, Esq., when the appearance of the unfortunate little fellow so excited the grandmother, Mrs. Young, that she took to her bed and died the next morning.

☞ The Missourians are raising military companies in anticipation of there being a call for volunteers to fight the Mormons.

☞ The Washington Republic says: The Democratic opponents in Congress of the Lecompton fraud, are not so confident of defeating it as they have been.

The debate and votes in the House, on Wednesday, show that a decided majority of that body are in favor of building a railroad to the Pacific, which shall be a National, and not an extreme Southern road, as recommended by the Administration.

Virginia opposes any road. Virginia wants all the public money for the army and navy, to which she supplies officers.

Appearances indicate a union upon this question, of the Northern, Middle, and Western States.

The admission of Minnesota is still kept back, to be coupled with Kansas.

THE NAPLES EARTHQUAKE was more destructive than at first reported, and the vibrations of the earth continued, at last accounts, daily. It is now estimated that the number killed will reach from twenty to thirty thousand. Owing to the negligence of the government, famine prevails in several of the desolated districts, and it is feared that a pestilence may be engendered from the effluvia of the decaying bodies, which remain unburied.

Dwelling houses, churches, and other buildings, are destroyed. In one city, Petenza, of 15,000 people, not 4 house remains fit to live in. Castelsano is leveled with the ground, every building being thrown down, and 400 persons killed.

☞ A new branch of business is about to commence at the northend, in Newburyport, a Boston firm having purchased the Machine shop and Foundry of James Blood, Esq., near the Eastern railroad, on Water street, and leased other buildings adjoining, and made preparations for additional shop room there—for the manufacture of Agricultural Implements. They will probably employ eighty men, the coming season, and must give new life to that section of the town.

RECORD OF INTEMPERANCE.—On the 29th ult., John Miller, of Effingham county, Ga., and his horse, were drowned in the Satilla river, six miles from Waresboro.—He was intoxicated when he attempted to cross the river. His body was found by the citizens on the 30th.—A young man named Edward Donnely, while intoxicated on Sunday night, walked off the bow of a Hoboken ferry boat, and was drowned.—A drover from Steuben county, N. Y., was robbed of $800 in Hoboken on Monday night. He had drunk freely, and made great display of his funds during the evening.

☞ The Independent Treasury hobbles along on tick, and only flaps its paper wings, as it cannot fly yet. President Buchanan, in his annual message, December 8, has this passage:—

"Thanks to the independent treasury, the government has not suspended payment, as it was compelled to do by the failure of the banks in 1837. It will continue to discharge its liabilities to the people in gold and silver. Its disbursements in coin will pass into circulation, and materially assist in restoring a sound currency."

Don't laugh, gentlemen:—the Treasury is hard up, and the public creditors, laborers, &c., are waiting for their pay-

☞ A paterfamilias was reading to his own dear Susan, a new scholar in the science of skating, a part of the history and the voyage of Dr. Kane, after which Susan exclaimed, "O, father, won't you let me go to Dr. Kane—I can have such a good time of skating there." The paterfamilias answered that on the expedition of Dr. K. they broke all the ice there was. We do not quite believe that. E.

☞ A Washington dispatch of Jan. 25 says:

Senator Douglas failed to get the floor to-day to report the bill to admit Minnesota, but it is all ready. It is considered settled now that the Indiana Senators are to be sustained in their seats till after Lecompton is disposed of. The Grand Jury of the District of Columbia, after a long and tedious investigation, have refused to find a bill against Gen. Collum, late Clerk of the House of Representatives.

☞ The Waterville Mail states that Capt. John Moore, of Clinton, eighty-four years of age, started from his home recently, at nine o'clock, traveled one mile to his work, felled his tree, chopped, split, and put up one cord of hard wood, returning to his home at four o'clock, P. M., hearty and well. How many of the boys can do better?

☞ Two professional pedestrians attempted to walk each other to sleep, exhaustion or death, in Boston, last week; but after walking for 106 hours, the advent of Sunday put an end to their contest.

A GOOD ACQUITTAL.

Upon the acquittal of Mr. Robertson of Rochester, N. Y., charged by Dr. Bigler with endeavoring to procure the poisoning of his wife, several hundred persons escorted him and his counsel to the law office of the latter, who made speeches, thanking the people for their sympathy.

Mr. Robertson was cashier of one of the banks in Rochester, and when first arrested upon the charge, his wife would not for a moment believe that he was guilty of the awful crime. Mr. R. had heretofore sustained an unblemished reputation, and moved in the most respectable circles of society. The principal witness in the case was Dr. Joseph A. Bigler, a homæpathic physician, who, in his evidence before the court, stated at great length the circumstances attending Robertson's advances to him for medicine to gradually destroy his wife's life; he wanted some medicine to produce brain disease; the alleged reason being the irritable and contrary character of his wife, and his love for another woman; Robertson offered him money which the Dr. refused to accept.—R., the Dr. says, then posted himself on medicinal properties, with a view of securing the drug that would kill his wife, in which he was assisted in some little degree by the Dr. who would not take the responsibility to name a medicine himself from conscientious motives. The Dr. is the son of the Dr. Bigler who was about one year ago convicted of criminal practice and sent to the State Prison. The defence alleged that young Bigler, backed by his father, was a conspirator against Robertson, and that his motive was, to avoid the payment of $2,500, loaned and expended on his father's trial. At the trial Mrs. Robertson testified to her happy domestic relations, and swore that her married life had been the happiest part of her existence.

The two Doctor Biglers seem to be a pair of unmitigated scoundrels,—and the verdict of the jury takes this view of the case.

FRANCONIA HEARD FROM.—Before the telegraph gave us daily reports of the weather, we used to hear from Franconia occasionally, and considered it the coldest place in the world,—or at least this part of it, where the sun would almost freeze down. We don't know but Franconia will regain her old reputation. The mercury on the 22d—not a very cold day here—stood 15 below zero.

THE RED PETTICOAT.—Fashionable society has been startled by another Parisian vagary. A lady (dis)gracefully raises her dress at a muddy crossing, and discloses—a red flannel petticoat. The innovation would be shocking, if it did not come from Paris, which of course will insure its adoption.

☞ The Atlantic Monthly for February is received from A. Williams & Co., Boston, and J. H. Foster, Portsmouth.

The leading article is The Great Failure—in which, after a variety of true statement and well considered remark, the writer recommends free trade, as the preventive of over credits, over banking, and financial crashes!

Something about Pictures—My Aquarium—the Queen of the Red Chessmen—and Tea—are choice articles.

HELD ON FOUR COMPLAINTS.—Sherburne Dearborn of Bedford was brought before the Police Court, Manchester, N. H., on Friday, on four complaints for selling liquor on the 20th inst. to various individuals, and held in $200 on each complaint to answer further.

Adeline Jahonnet, Dearborn's mulatto clerk, was held on another complaint for the selling of liquor.

☞ Rev. Mr. Kalloch, of unenviable notoriety, has been giving a lecture on "The Moral Responsibility of the Press." The Charlestown Advertiser says the opinion seems to be very generally expressed, that Mr. Kalloch had now better give the public a lecture on "The moral Responsibility of the Clergy."

☞ Capt. John Codman, of Boston, in a Lyceum lecture at Newburyport, last week, said that "the man who invented the phrase—'a sailor's life is a dog's life,' was a lying cur himself." That's so—any life is just as we make it.

The woman in Day, N. Y., who has eaten nothing for nineteen months, being yet alive, the post mortem examination and the long snake were the invention of some waggish printer.—Manchester Amer.

Very likely—and the whole story of the 19 months' abstinence is rather tough.

☞ Orders have been received at Norfolk Navy Yard for immediately preparing for sea the U. S. steam frigate Colorado, as flag ship of the home squadron.

OBADIAH SMITH.—The following communication from a worthy and highly respectable minister of the Freewill Baptist church, settles Obadiah's character,—deprives him of the title "Rev." which somebody as wise and good as himself applied to him,—and leaves him outside the pale of all the churches.

Mr. Editor.—In your last weekly issue, you asked what Denomination Rev. Obadiah Smith of Fremont was of, he having been committed to Exeter jail, charged with the awful crime of rape on his own daughter. I take pleasure in saying that no Denomination suffers in consequence of the fall of such a character, for he did not belong to any, unless he did to Apolyon's. Neither is the title Rev. disgraced by him, for it did not belong to him, although it is given to him in the N. H. Patriot.

This case was this. He professed to be pious, but did not give evidence of it by a good life. He assumed to preach to a few that he could find to hear him, though he was ignorant, and had not a trait nor a qualification for a minister, unless a boisterous manner of uttering sentences that had little meaning or connection to them, is a qualification. Without ordination or license, he went so far in one or two cases, as to administer the ordinance of baptism. He drank to intoxication, (as I am told by those that are reliable,) in the week, sometimes being so drunk that he could not work, and then when Sabbath came, would go and hold forth as a pretended preacher, till houses for meetings were closed against him, or the few that went to hear, were ashamed of him. If the title Rev. belongs to such, it might grace the devil himself next. A WITNESS.

SONS OF MALTA IN NEW HAMPSHIRE.—This popular institution has been planted in the Granite State. Granite Lodge, No. 1, I. O. S. M., was instituted in Manchester on the 19th inst., Bro. John R. Mullin, of the Grand Lodge of Massachusetts, acting as Deputy Supreme Grand Commander.

EGGS BY WEIGHT.—Many people are in favor of the sale of eggs by weight. The Editor of the Lowell News saw an experiment by a grocer, who had just received a fresh lot, that converted him. He first selected a dozen of the largest-sized and placed them in one scale, and then put twenty-one of the smaller-sized in the opposite scale to balance them. The customer chose the dozen, paying the price that was asked for the twenty-one.

☞ The N. Y. Courier correspondent says the President has decided to remove all Douglas men from office, within two months, unless that Senator returns to allegience. He has commenced by the removal of the Chicago Postmaster. The defection of members of Congress from Pennsylvania and New York alarms him, while the delegates from Ohio are said to be unanimous against Lecompton, and those of Indiana and Illinois nearly so.

VIRGINIA.—The resolves, insisting upon the admission of Kansas under the Lecompton Constitution, have been passed by both branches of the Legislature, unanimously. Governor Wise could not muster a single man, of either party, to sustain his views.—Republic.

SICK HEADACHE.

Bethany, Ct., Dec. 8, 1850.

Rev. A. B. L. Myers: Dear Sir—For several years past I have been much afflicted with the Sick headache, and having had an opportunity of using your Extract of Rock Rose, I was induced to try it. With the greatest confidence in the medicine, I cheerfully advise every one to use it for every disease it promises to cure. Truly yours,

IT IS A MOST UNDOUBTED FACT

That "Dr. Sanford's Invigorator or Liver Remedy, is one of the greatest discoveries made in medicine the past century. It has been a study of the Dr. during twenty years practice to find what particular organ when diseased, caused the greatest number of ills or pains, and his conclusion is that the liver is the greatest regulato of the system and the most liable to disease while if kept free from disease, is a preventativé of Dyspepsia, Jaundice, general debility, &c., while last, but far from least, we mention consumption; for our experience is, that more cases of consumption occur from diseased liver, than from all other causes put together.

Taking this so be a correct hypothesis, we have but to find a remedy with which to correct the liver, and we have a cure of nearly all the diseases we are subject to by simply using a preventative. That the Invigorator is such a remedy, is beyond doubt to all who try it, for its virtues are such that for all complaints arising from liver derangements it is an unfailing remedy, while as a family medicine, for all the diseases of the stomarch, or bowels, which are caused in a greater or less degree by liver derangement, it is the safest, surest, and most efficacious remedy known.

THE FIREMEN'S FAIR.

The Committee of Arrangements for the Fireman's Fair, take this method of expressing their gratitude to the several Companies for the commendable zeal which they manifested in carrying forward and completing all the arrangements for the Fair, and their untiring exertions during our exhibitions. To the Ladies in particular we feel especially grateful, and are at a loss for words to express our feelings for their untiring exertions to aid us, both in and out of the Hall. Without their exertions the Fair must have been a failure; with them, it has been successful beyond our most sanguine expectations. We would also express our heartfelt thanks to Mr. James H. Head for his unceasing labors in bringing forward so successfully the beautiful and interesting tableaux during our exhibition; to the Portsmouth Cornet Band for the excellent music furnished by them for the occasion; to the Portsmouth Mutual Fire Insurance Co. for the liberal donation of $25,—and to several gentlemen for donations of $5 each, and for many smaller sums which were sent us by other gentlemen.

Finally, to the public generally, we return our thanks for their contributions to the Fair before it began, and for their liberal and constant patronage which rendered the Fair, in a pecuniary and every other view, a complete success.

J. G. HADLEY,
in behalf of the General Com.

☞ Andrew Goodrich, an old offender against the laws, who is now in jail in this city on a charge of arson, has had tools passed into his cell by a brother criminal from the outside, and with them essayed an escape. The prison-keeper entered his room on Tuesday morning, on account of the tools, and also of Goodrich's noise and turbulence,—when G. sprung at him and attempted to choke him, but after a long contest the prisoner was subdued and ironed. Goodrich has kept a nuisance in the shape of a groggery in this city, for a few years,—and was one of three or four criminals who were let off improperly by the last grand jury in this city;—but like the rest or them, he seeks and finds his proper level.

☞ Respecting the highway robbery we reported last week, the Journal says:

The young man would seem a very unlikely subject for a stranger to attack, and at that early hour, when many with much heavier purses are passing in that thoroughfare. It is more likely that he was attacked by some mental hallucination.—There are circumstances which lead us to think that our citizens need not be afrighted by the idea of highwaymen in our outskirts, without some more conclusive evidence.

O'Connell and Toole, two of the violaters and murderers of the woman Spitzlein, in Greenwich street, plead guilty of manslaughter in the first degree, and will be sentenced on Saturday. The trial of the two others will commence to-morrow.

MOBILE, Jan. 23.—Gen. Walker arrived here yesterday, and was welcomed by a national salute, and tendered the hospitalities of the city.

He was arrested to-day by an order from New Orleans, but was afterwards discharged on a writ of habeas corpus.

Subsequently Judge Gale quashed the proceedings.

☞ Answer to Enigma in Chronicle of Jan. 22:

If "beauty is its own excuse for being,"
Surely the eye needs no excuse for seeing.
Is aught more restless than the moaning sea?
From "early dew" we take the letter E.
And then, when I-C-E we join together,
We have the ice that boys love in cold weather. E.

ANSWER TO THE LAST ENIGMA.

The world around, through earth and sky,
The beauties of nature are seen by the eye:
And what in the world more restless can be
Than the raging, foaming, tumultuous sea?
The letter E in "early dew is found;
And I-o-e the thing that never's warm.

It is understood in Washington, and is undoubtedly true, that informal assurances have been given to the Democratic leaders, by the majority of the Supreme Court, that a decision will be given, when wanted, protecting slaveholders in Kansas against any alteration of the Lecompton Constitution, except at the times and under the limitations expressed in that instrument.—Washington Republic.

THE GREAT BEAUTIFIER

So long unsuccessfully sought,
FOUND AT LAST.

FOR IT RESTORES PERMANENTLY GRAY HAIR to its original color; covers luxuriantly the bald head; removes dandruff, itching, and all scrofula, scald head and all eruptions; makes the hair soft, healthy, and glossy, and will preserve it to any imaginable age: removes, as if by magic, all blotches, &c., from the face, and cures all neuralgia and nervous headache. See circular and the testimony.

DOYLE, N. H., Feb 2, 1857.

Prof. O. J. Wood & Co.—Gentlemen: Within a few days we have received so many orders and calls for Prof. O. J. Wood's Hair Restorative, that to-day we have commenced to send to Boston for a quantity, (the 6 dozen you forwarded all being sold,) while we might order a quantity from you. Every bottle we have sold seems to have produced three or four new customers, and the approbation and patronage it receives from the most substantial and worthy citizens of our vicinity, fully convinces us that it is A MOST VALUABLE PREPARATION.

Send us as soon as may be one gross of $1 size; and one dozen of $3 size. Yours very rapidly.

DARNELL LETCHOF & Co.

Hickory Grove, St. Charles Co., Mo., 1856.

Prof. O. J. Wood—Dear Sir: Some time last summer we were induced to use some of your Hair Restorative, and its effects were so wonderful, we feel it our duty to you and the afflicted, to report it.

Our little son's head for some time had been perfectly covered with sores, and some called it scald head. The hair almost all came off in consequence, when a friend, seeing his sufferings, advised us to use your Restorative, we did so with little hope of success, but your surprise, and that of all our friends, at very few applications removed the disease entirely, and a new and luxuriant crop of hair soon started out, and we can now say that our boy has a healthy scalp, and a luxuriant crop of hair as any other child. We can therefore, and do hereby, recommend your Restoratives as a perfect remedy for all diseases of the scalp and hair. We are, yours respectfully.

GEORGE W. HIGGINBOTHAM,
REBAR A. HIGGINBOTHAM.

GALLATIN, Mo., June 2, 1855.

Prof. O. J. Wood—Dear Sir: I have used two bottles of Professor Wood's Hair Restorative, and can truly say it is the greatest discovery of the age for restoring and changing the Hair. Before using it I was a man of seventy. My hair has now attained its original color. You can recommend it to the world without the least fear, as my case was one of the worst kind.

Yours Respectfully.

LOTTERIES.

THE Lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are charitered by the State of Georgia, and have sworn commissioners appointed to superintend their drawings, and certify that everything connected with the same is done in a strictly honorable manner. They offer to the public a safe opportunity for investment, the interests of parties at a distance being as well protected as if they were present. The Manager would respectfully call attention to the fact that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Georgia, as the lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are authorized by the Legislature of that State. A lottery will be drawn every Saturday throughout the year; orders received being filled in the drawing next to take place after the same comes to hand. According to the scheme now before us, one ticket must draw a prize. Tickets are $10; halves, $5; quarters, $2.50. No tickets sent unless the money accompanies the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket, and are so simple that none can fail to understand them. There is no combination of numbers to mystify the buyer. Prizes range from $40 to $50,000; every prize being drawn, and result of drawing forwarded to all purchasers.

☞ A list of the numbers that are drawn from the wheel, with the amount each prize is entitled to, will be published after every drawing, in the following papers:—New Orleans Delta, Mobile Register, Charleston Standard, Nashville Gazette, Atlanta Intelligencer, and New York Weekly Day Book. Write your address plainly, and direct to S. SWAN & Co., Augusta, Georgia

Prizes paid in full—no percentage deducted from prizes as in other lotteries.

All communications strictly confidential. m18ly

LOTTERIES.

The well-known Maryland Consolidated Lotteries, of which R. FARNUM & Co are the managers, are chartered by the state of Maryland, and a commissioner elected by the people, who is sworn to see that every thing connected with them is done in a strictly honorable manner, and that the interests of parties who reside at a distance are as well protected as if they themselves were present at the drawing. The fact that the managers call attention to, is, that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Maryland, as lotteries are legalized by special law in that state. A lottery is drawn every day of the month. If no particular class is named, orders are filled in the first drawing to take place after the communication reaches hand. The prices of tickets vary from $1 to $20. No tickets are, however, sent unless the money for the same is received with the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket (after the Havana plan), and Ternary combination. Prizes vary in amount from $20 to $100 70. All orders for tickets or packages will receive prompt attention, and the drawing mailed to all purchasers immediately after it is over.

☞ The Schemes of the Maryland Lotteries are published by the State Commissioner in the following papers, viz: Sun, Clipper, Patriot, American, Argus, of Baltimore; also, the National Intelligencer and Union, of Washington, D.C.

A PROCLAMATION
TO THE LADIES.

WHEREAS, it appears that the days of right, honor, and integrity are just fading away, and WHEREAS, the unscrupulous and ignorant are daily taking advantage of the profound and learned. BE IT KNOWN THEREFORE, to all, whether MAIDS, WIVES, or WIDOWS, that DR. CHEESEMAN'S PEARL PILLS are alone the certain panacea for the troubles incident to our peculiar organization; they ALONE correcting all painful menstruation, assuaging palpitations of the heart, disturbed sleep, pain in the side, and restoring health and happiness to whole sex; more especially to the MARRIED PORTION, as they are certain to bring on the monthly period with regularity—AND WHEREAS, these PILLS are purely vegetable and entirely free from mineral's, therefore perfectly harmless in their operations and wholly unlike those three to five dollar pills publicly purporting to effect the objects already detailed. THEREFORE, BE IT KNOWN, that NOTHING but the said PILLS of Dr. CHEESEMAN will accomplish the desired object, when DISAPPOINTMENT has been experienced under the regime of OTHER PILLS; and the Ladies will cause this Proclamation to spread amongst their sex, to their own everlasting benefit—always promising that said Proclamation in one case must be considered FULL AND TRUE; that is to say the PILLS MUST NOT be taken when any female is in an INTERESTING situation, otherwise a MISCARRIAGE will be the inevitable result.

Explicit directions, to be carefully read, accompany each box. Price $1. Sent by mail on enclosing $1 to Dr. CORNELIUS L. CHEESEMAN, Box No. 4,531, Post Office, New York City. Sold by Druggists in every town in the United States.

S. D. & H. W. Smith,
—MANUFACTURERS OF—
Melodeons, Organ Melodeons,
—and—
PEDAL BASS MELODEONS,
No. 511 Washington St., Boston.

The first premium over all competitors, at the Fair of the Mass. Charitable Mechanic Association, of the National Fair, Washington, D. C., also at the Ohio State Fair, held at Columbus, Ohio, was awarded to these Manufacturers.

By means of a new method of Voicing, known only to themselves, they have succeeded in removing the harsh and buzzing sound which for merly characterized the instrument, and rendering the tones full, clear and organ like. The action is simple and reliable, combining the power to execute the most rapid music without blurring the tones. The swell is arranged to give great expression.

THE PEDAL BASS MELODEONS,

Are designed particularly for Churches, Lodges, Halls, &c. It is arranged with two manuals, or banks of Keys, the lower set running an octave higher than the other, and may be used separately, and thus get in one case two distinct instruments; or by use of the coupler, the two banks of keys may be played at the same time by one of the front set only. This connected with the Pedal Bass, will produce the effect of a large organ, and is sufficiently heavy to fill a house holding seats from 1000 to 1500 persons.

THE PIANO MELODEON

Is designed for parlor and private use. The construction is similar to the Church Instrument, being arranged with two banks of Keys, and when used together, by means of the coupler, is capable of the same great volume of power as the Church Instrument when used without the pedals. Also, every variety of MELODEONS for Parlor use.

Purchasers may rely upon instruments from our Manufactory, being made in the most complete and thorough manner. Having removed to the spacious new building

511 Washington Street,

We have every facility for manufacturing purposes, and employ none but the most experienced and skilful workmen. In short, we will promise our customers an Instrument equal, if not superior, to any Manufacturer, and guarantee an entire and perfect satisfaction.

Music Teachers, Leaders of Choirs, and others interested in musical matters, are respectfully invited to visit our Rooms at any time and examine or test the instruments on exhibition for sale at their pleasure.

As a still further guarantee to the public as to the excellence of the MELODEONS from our Manufactory, we beg leave to refer, by permission, to the following

Piano Forte Manufacturers of Boston, who have examined our Instruments and will give their opinion when called upon:

Chickering & Sons, Hallett & Cumston,
T. Gilbert & Co., Wm. P. Emerson,

Orders from any part of the country or world, sent direct to the manufactory in Boston, with cash, or satisfactory reference, will be promptly attended to, and be as faithfully executed, as if the parties were present, or employed an agent to select, and on as reasonable terms.

WASHINGTON LETTER-WRITERS. — New York, Jan. 25.—(Correspondence of the Courier and Enquirer.)—It is said that the President is about to open on the office-holders who owe their appointments to the influence of Douglas. Unless that Senator repents and comes round to the sound views of the Executive, not a friend of his will remain in office two months from this date. The axe has fallen upon Mr. Price, Postmaster of Chicago, a very valuable place. Mr. Price was appointed last spring on the nomination of Mr. Douglas. His name will not be sent to the Senate. Mr. Harris is to go out of the Union, but remains State Printer. He has gone to Missouri, and to-day it is understood that Mr. Hughes of Virginia, son-in-law of the Secretary of War, takes the tripod. He is bitterly hostile to the Northern Democracy in any shape, looking upon it with fear and disgust.

(Times Correspondence.)—As the time for action on Kansas affairs approaches the President begins to be seriously doubtful of the result in Congress. The detection of the Pennsylvania Delegation is very threatening; the same may be said of the New York Delegation, six of whom are far from having decided to vote Lecompton through. The Ohio Delegation is a unit against it; and very little reliance, at a pinch, can be placed upon Illinois or Indiana. The President withholds from the Senate the nomination of Gov. Wright of Indiana, the present Minister to Prussia, some say because the Prussian Government objects to him, and others because his friends at home will not swallow Lecompton. Mr. Harris' resolution for the expulsion of Matteson will come up to-morrow. It will probably be postponed on Bonnett's explanation that he is absent on account of sickness in his family.

(Herald Correspondence.)—The Senate Special Committee on French Spoliation decided at their last meeting in favor of reporting a bill which Mr. Crittenden is preparing. It will include all the reports heretofore made, together with the vetoes, &c. The mode by which the Committee proposes to pay said claims is to issue U. S. 5 per cent. stock. They limit the amount to five millions, to be paid pro rata, provided they exceed that amount.

KANSAS.—New York, Jan., 25.—[Tribune Correspondence.]—Washington, Jan. 25.—Ex-Secretary Stanton has just arrived from Kansas. He brings no later information. He saw a gentleman at Independence on the day of his departure, who had received a letter that morning from Calhoun, stating that the pro-slavery men had carried the Legislature. Mr. Stanton thinks the result depends entirely on Calhoun in giving certificates, and if the Free State men are defrauded, he (Calhoun) cannot return to the Territory without hazard to his life. Mr. Stanton represents the election frauds as monstrous, open and admitted. People at Weston, and along the river, admit to him that young men had gone in hacks, "over," and voted as often as they chose, without opposition. He thinks Calhoun will come with the Lecompton Constitution. He says that slaveholders are moving out of Missouri, and the whole effect of the Kansas policy of the Administration will be to make Missouri a free State.

St. Louis, Jan. 25.—A gentleman from Leavenworth on 20th inst., arrived here this evening. He reports having travelled from Weston to Boonville with a messenger bearing dispatches from Gen. Calhoun to the members of the Cabinet at Washington, the tenor of which, as derived from the messenger is that General Calhoun rejected the returns sent to Governor Denver instead of him (Calhoun) on the ground that, in accordance with the Lecompton schedule, they are illegal, and therefore void. This gives the State officers to the Democrats; also gives them one majority in the Council and two in the House.

Mr. Stover, a Democratic member of the Legislature, had been shot in the stage coach, between Wyandotte and Lawrence. It is thought he would die.

Mr. Henderson was still in custody in Lawrence.

A few days since a rough, country-looking fellow entered one of the New York Banks, and marching up to the counter, exclaimed, "Here I am; I want you to take a fair look at me." Without a word further he strode out. The next day the same customer appeared, uttered the same words, and again disappeared. The third day, at about the same time, he walked in, and advancing up to the teller's desk, threw down a draft payable three days after sight. "Now," said he, "you've seen me three times, I want the money for it!"

A certain Irish attorney threatened to prosecute a Dublin printer, for inserting the death of a living person. The menace concluded with the remark, that "no printer should publish a death, unless apprised of the fact by the party deceased."

An English paper published the marriage of a couple respectively eighty three and eighty-two years old, and says: "We have often met with the expression, 'a green old age,' but have never seen so striking an example of such a state as this must have been."

☞ A correspondent of the Boston Post says that the Salisbury Mills were joined with the Middlesex Mills in lending "material aid and comfort" for the passage of the tariff bill.

☞ The Newburyport Herald is informed on the best authority, that the reported complicity of the Salisbury with other mills, to affect the late tariff act, is not true. They have never paid one cent of money for that purpose.

MY CHILD'S ORIGIN.

BY DAVID BARKER.

One night, as good old Peter slept,
He left the door of heaven ajar,
When through a little angel crept,
And came down with a falling star.

One summer, as the gentle beams
Of morn approach'd, my blushing bride
Awakened from some pleasant dreams,
And found that angel by her side.

God grant but this—I ask no more—
That when he leaves this world of sin,
He'll wing his way to that blessed shore,
And find that door of heaven again.

P. O. B.—Messrs. Editors:—Your account of a queerly-directed letter which was dropped into the post office here, a few days since, calls to mind an incident which occurred in a small town not far off, illustrative of the difficulties occasioned by ignorance of the proper pronunciation of proper names.

A tall, muscular representative of Erin, after carefully poring over the list of letters pendant outside, entered the suburban post office, bestowed a rap on the little window, which made the frame crack, and on the appearance of a face, exclaimed

"There's a letther for me."

Edified by this valuable piece of information, the clerk blandly inquired what name.

"Pathrick I-dunno-who-sir."

"Well, if you don't know who, I'm sure I dont," replies the representative of the P. O. Department.

"Bad scran to yer foolin'! will ye gie me the letther?" shouts our Celtic friend, highly incensed.

As a spark evolves the latent heat contained in powder, so rage begets rage in a greater degree. Words were multiplied to an alarming extent, and nothing but the partition saved the clerk from the ire of the applicant for correspondence, when he finally asked Patrick to point out the name on the list. It was done, and lo! the name stood

Patrick O'Donahue.

The broad pronunciation of the Hibernian, together with his polite affix of sir, had completely mystified the clerk.

VERUS.

☞ Mr. Marshall, city missionary at Manchester, has had a benefit team of young ladies, who, as the American informs us, on Saturday afternoon drew a barrel of flour from Smyth's Block down Elm street to the Methodist church, where Mr. Merrill furnished an additional load of groceries. From thence the procession, escorted by the Cornet Band, proceeded to the house of the City Missionary, in the southeastern part of the city. Long ropes were attached to the sled, so that the team was numerically strong. A large crowd of men, women and boys accompanied the novel procession. The excitement was great, but the best order prevailed. Arrived at the door, three young ladies of portly proportions carried the barrel of flour into the parsonage, while others deposited the bags of groceries. The pastor and his family were taken by surprise. A brief presentation speech was made by Miss Parker, and replied to by the pastor.

SALEM, N. H.— A correspondent in this pleasant town begins his communication by a remittance of two dollars, and then makes the suggestion that there are some towns in Rockingham County besides Exeter and Portsmouth, of which Salem is one. It contains three thriving villages, situated about six miles from Lawrence and Haverhill, Mass. And it offers many beautiful sites for building, where good society can be had, free from the blemish of vulgar groggeries and from the temptations of genteel gin-palaces, where the fools' pence are taken and the fools destroyed.—It contains no jail, and without groggeries will need none.

Salem, New Hampshire, with these advantages, is a desirable place of residence to any persons who have rural tastes, and means to gratify them.

☞ "Richard, what are you poking round so long for?" inquired a parent of a son sent to empty some ashes in an outbuilding. "O, nothing, only hunting for a safe place to set the shed on fire!"

ALBANY, Jan. 20.—Mr. Alvord, Democrat, was elected Speaker of the House of Assembly, this afternoon. The plurality rule has at last been adopted, under which Mr. Alvord was elected.

REMOVAL.
UNITED STATES AND FOREIGN PATENT AGENCY.
SAMUEL COOPER,
Late Principal Examiner of Patents in the United States Patent Office, at Washington, HAS REMOVED HIS OFFICE TO WEBSTER BANK BUILDING,
13 EXCHANGE STREET, BOSTON.
PATENTS secured in the United States, and in all other patent granting countries. Specifications and drawings prepared. Caveats filed.—Reconsiderations procured, of applications that have been rejected upon imperfectly prepared papers. Interferences prosecuted. Reissues and extension procured, and in general, all business connected with the Patent Office transacted with care and promptness.
British and other foreign patents procured through prompt and confidential agents in London and Paris.
Persons residing at a distance may obtain all necessary information, and have their business transacted, by writing to the subscriber, without the trouble and expense of a visit to Washington.
He begs leave to refer those unacquainted with him to the following testimonials:—
From Hon. Chas. Mason, Commissioner of Patents.
U. S. PATENT OFFICE, Feb 23, 1855.
I take great pleasure in stating that during the time I have been acting as Commissioner of Patents, Samuel Cooper, Esq., of Boston, has been engaged as Solicitor, and has been in that capacity in constant correspondence and intercourse with the office; he has evinced a thorough acquaintance with the Patent Law, and with the rules and practice of the office, a close attention to the interests of his clients, and a marked candor and courtesy that has rendered the transaction of business with him a pleasure. I have no hesitation in stating that I regard him as one of the very best agents for the transaction of business with this office with whom I am acquainted.
From the Examiners of the Patent Office.
The undesigned, Principal and Assistant Examiners in the United States Patent Office, have for several years been well acquainted with Mr. Samuel Cooper, late a principal Examiner in this office, and take pleasure in stating that he is a gentleman of the highest moral character, of unquestioned knowledge in the business and practice of the office, and that his scientific attainments are such as eminently fit him for the business in which he is about to engage.
HENRY B. RENWICK, L. D. GALE, S. H. LANE, } Principal Examiners.
T. R. TALE, THOS. T. EVERETT, F. SOUTHGATE SMITH, WM. C. LANGDON, } Assistant Examiners.
From long acquaintance and intimate official relations with Mr. Cooper, I fully and heartily concur in the foregoing recommendation made by my late colleagues. W. P. N. FITZGERALD,

Coggswell's Medical Salt,
A PERFECT SUBSTITUTE
FOR THE
LANCET, LEECHES AND BLISTERS.
INSTEAD of being a panacea for all maladies, it has control over but ONE MALADY—has but ONE AIM—accomplishes but ONE THING, to wit: SUBDUES INFLAMMATORY DISEASE—whatever be its form or locality—whether in the head, throat, chest, abdomen, extremities or skin. Every form of inflammation (but no other disease) is subdued, by it as easily as fire is extinguished by water. Is it asked, how it does this?—simply by restoring the lost balance between the fluids and solids. Such is its potency, that like vaccine matter, it requires merely what adheres to the point of a quill dipped into a solution of it, to affect the entire system.
☞ Of its intrinsic value, the enlightened community, and not the discoverer, must be the judge.

AND with it will return the usual concomitants, Coughs, Colds, Dyspepsia, Scorbutic Eruptions, Sick Headache, Rheumatism, Tetter, Ring Worm, &c., which the genial warmth of summer and free perspiration has, for a time relieved, but which the return of rigid, cheerless winter, will bring back, unless resisted by some medicamentum.
MYER'S EXTRACT OF ROCK ROSE, is peculiarly applicable, and if freely used will not fail to protect the constitution against the sudden and extreme changes of our variable climate It purifies the blood, strengthens the stomach, and invigorates the whole system, thus fortifying against the insidious attacks of ungenial frosts and debilitating heats. THURSDAY, JANUARY 28, 1858.

A KIND PROVIDENCE.

Comparatively few persons in any Christian community, says the Christian Era, will not admit the goodness of God. His Word declares Him to be "too wise to err and too good to be unkind." Still they are often distrustful and complaining.—Even good men and christians sometimes so far forgot whence their blessings come, and are so unmindful of their unworthiness to receive so many as they have from day to day, as to murmur and complain.

When we carefully look into our own hearts, and then extend our vision to the world around us, we discover such a likeness to Israel of old, that even their murmurings in the wilderness find an apology in our own lives. Man's ingratitude is never long restrained by mercies and continued blessings. So prone is the human heart to distrust the Divine hand, that though we were to witness the falling manna, or even the gushing stream issuing from the smitten rock, we should soon find ourselves trusting in an arm of flesh, and mourning over departed joys, or complainingly shrinking from future dreaded evils.

The great mass of men are never satisfied with the arrangements of Providence. There is not a season passes, which is as they would have it. In their daily intercourse you will hear them not only complaining, but even dictating what ought to be. There ought to be more wet, more drought; more heat, more cold. Forgetting that He who controls the seasons is too wise to err, even in the least forgetting that "whatever is, is right," gratitude often gives place to murmurings.

It would seem that christians ought gratefully to acknowledge the Divine goodness, and confidingly trust him who doeth good unto all men. But alas! even their faith is sometimes weak. There is not a day in which they may not see new evidences of God's paternal care and tenderness; still the consciousness of merited evil awakens the anticipation of it. To illustrate:—

A few months ago, a great revulsion in business was experienced. Business was paralised and thousands of laborers were suddenly thrown out of employment. A long and dreaded winter was approaching. The fears of thousands were excited, lest untold suffering would be almost universal. Forgetting that a kind Father orders all events, deliverance seemed impossible. Yet who cannot now see that God cares for the nations in their calamities? Thousands were, indeed, thrown out of employ, yet a kind Providence interposed for them. The earth had brought forth abundantly, and the necessaries of life have been plenty. The rigors of the so-much-dreaded winter have been mitigated in an unheard of manner, so it is doubtful if the intense suffering this winter has exceeded that of other years.—Now, business is reviving so that the means of warding-off suffering are being given to the poor.

Still further: the prostration in business has given men time to think of the soul as well as the body. The blasting of earthly hopes and prospects, is designed and adapted to lead men to seek enduring riches; so that what men distrustingly regard as an intolerable calamity, was really a blessing in disguise. Thousands will so regard it as in the distant future they shall look back and see by what instrumentalities they were saved.

☞ A lady says that men who are constantly regretting that women are not better educated for the discharge of household duties, ought to reflect upon their own short-comings,—and avers that not one man in ten can carve a turkey gracefully, and not one in twenty knows how to dissect a duck. She wants a carving school established.

ORDINATION.—On Thursday afternoon, Messrs. John W. Ray and Harry Brickett will be ordained for the Congregational ministry at the Hanover street church, Manchester. Mr. Ray is now officiating at West Goffston, and Mr. Brickett at Hillsboro' Bridge.

SHIPS SOLD.—New York, Jan. 26.—The ship Arey, 1127 tons register, built in Frankfort, Me., in 1856, was sold at auction to-day for $29,700. Terms 10 per cent. cash and balance first of February. One half of the ship Phantom, built in New Bedford in 1852, register 1268 tons, sold at auction for $16,500. Terms, one-third two months, one-third four months and one-third six months. Also the bark Escort, 475 tons register, built at Somerset in 1855, for $10,000. Terms half cash and balance four months.

☞ The Concord Democratic Standard has a three column leader in favor of the Lecompton Constitution and popular sovereignty—in which it says:

And first, we would remark that, with respect to the question of popular sovereignty——we believe there's no difference of opinion among democrats.——We do not understand that, with regard to the abstract principle, the President and Mr. Douglas at all differ.——But the President thinks that, under all circumstances, the people of Kansas have sufficiently enjoyed and exercised that right; and that they should now be admitted into the Union, and elevated to the powers, honors and dignities of a sovereign State.

[That is, with the powers, honors, and dignities of being ruled by a power they detest, and to which nine-tenths of them are opposed, and against which they protest! And this to be baptized by the name of popular sovereignty.]

But, says the Standard:

Mr. Douglas thinks they have not sufficiently enjoyed and exercised the great right of popular sovereignty.

They certainly have not. Now hear the Standard speak for itself:

Have not the people of Kansas had every opportunity to enjoy and exercise the right of popular sovereignty? And have they not substantially exercised it, in the formation of the Lecompton Constitution? We think they have.

Rather an odd sort of substance, that, we should say,—in which another exercises the sovereignty of which he deprives us.—Just such sovereignty as the Irish peasant exercises under British rule. There is just about as much substance in one as in the other.

The Standard (we suppose Mr. Burke) closes thus:

What will be the position and fate of Mr. Douglas and his friends, if they persist in their present positions? They must become a sectional faction. The entire Democracy of the South will be against Mr. Douglas, and a large portion of the Democracy of the North. He will, therefore, be the head only of a fraction of the Northern Democracy, in opposition to the administration and the national organization. In no event can he re-instate himself in the affections of the Democracy of the South. And, whatever may be the fate of the Kansas question, he can be the head only of a fraction of the Northern Democracy. Even if the President shall be defeated on the Kansas question, as he has presented it, the event cannot alter the position of Mr. Douglas and his friends.

If they would remain with the national organization, and remain supporters of the administration, they must return to the fold whence they have departed. Otherwise they will remain a faction. And, in that attitude, they may defeat the national Democratic party in 1860. But that is all they can do. They can gain nothing for themselves.

The national Democracy will keep the door open for their return, until they sin past redemption. They should be careful, and not sin past redemption, but return as soon as possible to their allegiance to the national organization of the Democratic party, and to the administration which is the true and only authorized exponent of national Democracy.

MADAME IDA PFEIFFER, THE TRAVELLER. The London Athenæum of January 2d says:—"Through the kindness of a friend, we are able to give the latest information as to Madame Ida Pfeiffer's visit to Madagascar, and its sudden close. Madame P. left Mauritius for Madagascar in company with Mr. Lambert, a gentleman well acquainted with Madagascar, and in high favor with Queen Ranavalona. They arrived at Tananarive, the royal residence, and were at first received with every mark of kindness; but the mind of the capricious Queen soon became possessed of the idea they had some notion of endeavoring to procure her dethronement, and of placing one of the sons of the late king on the throne; she therefore ordered the immediate expulsion of Mr. Lambert and Madame P., with severe threats if they dared to remain on the island. Madame P. forthwith returned to Mauritius, where, on the 4th of November, she was quite convalescent from the terrible Madagascar fever, and was meditating a voyage to Australia.

Madame P., it will be recollected, in one of her expeditions travelled entirely across the Island of Borneo, through numerous tribes who had never seen a white person. Before her departure from Vienna, in 1856, she announced her present expedition would be her last. She is about sixty."

SUDDEN DEATH.—Mr. Joseph H. Bowman, of Roxbury, formerly of the firm of Ammidown, Bowman & Co., dry goods dealers in Milk st., Boston, retired to rest on Saturday night. About 9 o'clock Sunday morning, one of his nephews smelt a peculiar odor, and opening Mr. Bowman's room, found him dead upon the sofa.—There was a four-burner gas stove burning in the room, which was poorly ventilated, and the carbonic gases generated thereby are supposed to have caused his death.—Mr. B. had been a sufferer from a disordered stomach for some time.

EXETERIANA.

EXETER, Jan. 27.

Dear Chronicle:—"At one time or another," says a distinguished author, "we have all been bored to death with something about Hamlet being played 'with the part of Hamlet omitted.'" The Concert advertised to be given, on Thursday evening last, by Mr. E. S. Durgin, assisted by Prof. Bemis, of Boston, reminded us of one of those omissions. Prof. Bemis having missed the cars, was unable to be present. The programme, as amended, rendered the Concert a purely native exhibition, and a very creditable one at that. The school have acquired great proficiency in the art of music as taught by Mr. Durgin. A duet by the Misses Robinson was deserving of especial notice. Miss Mary E. Durgin, who has already acquired a wide reputation as a songstress, appeared even better than ever. Repeated calls having been made for Mr. S. M. Dow, that gentleman came forward and made a neat speech, in which he expressed his readiness always to oblige his friends and the public (applause) but on this occasion they would have to take the will for the deed. (Renewed applause.) A slight performance not announced in the programme, was the rather monotonous declamation of a young gentleman who, in the ardor of his gratitude, thanked the audience about sixteen times for their attendance, etc.; and his teacher in the same liberal proportion, for his unwearied efforts; all of which was received in what Cicero calls the most flattering applause—respectful silence. The Concert was repeated, on Tuesday evening last, when Prof. Bemis was present.

The Baptist Levee, on the same evening, was one of the best affairs of the kind ever held here. The E. C. B., as a matter of course, "kindly volunteered on the occasion." The proceeds, about $100, will be devoted to the completion of the parsonage house on Front street, It is reported that the —— Society will give a Fair at the Town Hall on —— evening; object, the pecuniary emolument of the projectors. The E. C. B. will undoubtedly volunteer to furnish music.

On Friday evening last, a colored person, named C. S. Depp, the gentleman "who was so brutally mobbed on the Mississippi, by Goss and Halloway, while preaching against slavery," delivered a lecture to a very large audience. What his subject was, no one can tell. His remarks melted the hearts of his auditory to the exact amount of two hundred and forty-six cents, Spanish quarters and bills on the Exeter bank reckoned at par value. We would suggest as a text to his discourse, that sage maxim of Prof. Julius Cæsar Hannibal:—"De white man is just as good as de nigger, if he only behaves hisself."

The Portsmouth Cornet Band, at the late Promenade Concert here, won golden opinions. A correspondent of the Boston Ledger says:—"A musical critic remarked that the Epping band played better than the Exeter, and the Portsmouth band better than either." Prof. Bond was present, and played several times during the evening. The receipts were between fifty and sixty dollars. The Epping Cornet Band will give a concert at the Congregational Church in their town on Thursday evening.

The installation of Rev. Mr. Lamphear will take place on Tuesday the 2nd of February. The Sermon will be preached by Rev. Dr. Cleveland, of Lowell. Rev. Mr. Whiting, of your city, is to give the Charge to the people.

The store of one of our traders was broken into a few days ago, and property stolen to the amount of a hundred dollars.—Two men were arrested on suspicion, but were subsequently discharged. There were three suspicious-looking characters from your city, in our neighborhood, on Sunday last, but we do not understand that any articles have since been missing.

Ex-Fountain Engine Company give their first Annual Ball at the Town Hall, this evening. Gilmore's Brass Band from Salem, and the E. C. B. are engaged for the occasion. Yours, P. G.

FILLIBUSTER WALKER.—Mobile, Jan. 26. An enthusiastic meeting was held here on Monday night, at which speeches were made by Mr. Walker, Parson Brownlow, and others. Walker disclosed the secret of the government-opposition to the Nicaragua scheme, which was a rejection of their proposition that he should go to Mexico and incite war there, with a view of their acquiring that territory. Resolutions were passed denouncing the Government and demanding a trial for Commodore Paulding.

☞ The United States brig Perry is fitting out at Norfolk for the coast of Brazil. The following named officers are ordered to her:—Lieut-Commanding Tighlman, Lieutenants Truxton, Cornwell, Haveley, and Passed Assistant Surgeon Greenlow.

CONGRESS.—On Wednesday, in the Senate, Mr. Douglas reported a bill for the admission of Minnesota into the Union.—The Senate then took up the Army bill, and a long debate followed, in which Messrs. Davis of Mississippi, Toombs of Georgia, Hunter of Virginia, Hale of New Hampshire, Fessenden of Maine, and Seward of New York took part. Nearly all of them but Mr. Davis proposed amendments.

In the House,—in debate on the Pension Bill—Mr. Anderson of Missouri spoke in favor of the Administration on Kansas affairs and the admission of Kansas under the Lecompton Constitution.

The House passed the bill for payment of Invalid and other pensions.

They then considered the bill appropriating $790,000 to cover a deficiency in the printing accounts of the last Congress.

Mr. Clark B. Cochrane referred to the fact that at the election in Kansas on the 4th of January, there were over 10,000 votes cast against the Lecompton Constitution, rejecting it by four to one—that the Free State candidates were elected, but he had no doubt that they would be counted out. He was just as certain that to make up by fraud what was wanting in numbers, was the object of this Lecompton Calhoun movement. The question was, whether Congress was prepared to force this loathed and abhorred Constitution on the people, not only without their consent but against their recorded will. The Constitution was a swindle, reeking with fraud and branded with popular condemnation, and was recommended to the approval of Congress, not on the ground of justice but on the plea of expediency. That Constitution was a fugitive from justice, and was smuggled here under the cover of the Federal Arms with the odor of death upon it. That Constitution was buried by more than 10,000 freemen. Instead of breathing into it the breath of life, it should be carried back for interment. It was designedly made odious to keep away from the polls those who were not in the plot, relying on the Executive and his followers to see it through. But the Administration has counted without its host. If its expectations in this regard be realized, the Democratic party will become geographically what it is in principle and fact—a mere sectional organization.

The House refused to entertain a resolution, declaring that the Clayton-Bulwer treaty ought to be abrogated. It also refused to receive a proposition to appoint Commissioners to negotiate with the Mormons for the purchase of their possessions.

A CARD.

THE officers and members of Lafonia Engine Company No. 2, tender their sincere thanks to those Ladies who have exhibited their skill in their various departments in filling our table at the Fair. We assure them they will never be forgotten, and should occasion offer, no exertion shall be spared by us to repay their kindness. Also to the Gentlemen, for their liberal patronage, we feel under obligation, and should duty call us, shall endeavor to show you that we are men among you.

Also to the Committee of Arrangements, we hope that our visit to the Fair was agreeable and profitable to you and us. And while we feel compelled to forego a special notice of many kindnesses, extended to us by friends on every side, we would not omit tendering our grateful acknowledgements to those who have in various ways contributed to the success of our Fair.

NO LOAN NEEDED!

Washington correspondents say there will be no necessity for a loan, to meet the expenditures of the Government for the next fiscal year, as some have supposed. We might with the same confidence say, that "no loan is needed" by the fortunate individual who invests $10, 5, or 2,50 in S. Swan's legalized lottery, which draws every Saturday at Augusta, Ga. By enclosing those amounts respectively to that well established firm, the holder of a fortunate ticket will be entitled to the capital prize of $70,000, or a half or a quarter of that amount as the case may be.

IT IS A MOST UNDOUBTED FACT

That "Dr. Sanford's Invigorator or Liver Remedy, is one of the greatest discoveries made in medicine the past century. It has been a study of the Dr. during twenty years practice to find what particular organ when diseased, caused the greatest number of ills or pains, and his conclusion is that the liver is the greatest regulator of the system and the most liable to disease while if kept free from disease, it is a preventative of Dyspepsia, Jaundice, general debility, &c., while last, but far from least, we mention consumption; for our experience is, that more cases of consumption occur from diseased liver, than from all other causes put together.

Taking this so be a correct hypothesis, we have but to find a remedy with which to correct the liver, and we have a cure of nearly all the diseases we are subject to by simply using a preventative. That the Invigorator is such a remedy, is beyond doubt to all who try it, for its virtues are such that for all complaints arising from liver derangements it is an unfailing remedy, while as a family medicine, for all the diseases of the stomarch, or bowels, which are caused in a greater or less degree by liver derangement, it is the safest, surest, and most efficacious remedy known

LOCAL.

THAT HIGHWAY ROBBERY.—In regard to the robbery of young Sheridan, the statement of which we gave in our last, there have been many stories current the past week; but the truth in regard to it cannot be learned farther then that the money had been paid over to the father of young Sheridan by Mayor Morrison, who refuses to divulge the manner in which it came into his possession. The most probable supposition is that the young man was not robbed at all, but that his story of the robbery, his soiled clothes and marks of blood, were planned by himself to impose upon his father, who always takes all his earnings. The young man having heretofore borne an honorable reputation, we regret that such imputations should be cast upon him; but the character of our city and relief to the timid who have entertained apprehension of robbery in our streets, demand that the facts should be made public. No man is to be justified in the concealment of crime, and it is a duty the chief magistrate owes to our citizens to expose the culprit and vindicate the fame of the city, the administration of whose affairs is committed to his hand.—Ballot.

We think the conduct of the Mayor, as we understand it, is in every way commendable; and in consideration of the previous good reputation of the young man, and out of regard for his worthy parents, we had decided to make no direct expose of the facts in the case,—as above made public by our neighbor.

At the meeting of the Aldermen last week, the reported robbery was brought up, and the matter left with Mayor Morrison for investigation. Somehow, he ferretted out the true state of the case, and recovered and restored the money to Mr. Sheridan. The Mayor, for the sake of screening the young man, desired to hush the matter up, as most men would,—and it may be that the above statement, which doubtless is partly guessed-at, is not entirely correct.

ICE.—Notwithstanding the fear that the "crop" would fail, this warm season, we learn that the Rockingham Ice Co. are actively engaged in cutting the crystal surface from Jones's Pond in Raymond, a foot thick, transparent and clear,—and are to load a ship at this port for Florida, immediately. The Company have two large storehouses at Raymond, and one in this city; and are prepared to furnish the purest ice in any quantity. Joseph Harvey is agent.

☞ The new ship of 1100 tons, built by the Union Ship Company, was sold at auction by J. B. Adams, on Wednesday, for $45,000, to Capt. Samuel Billings.

☞ On Sunday morning, the police of Concord, pitched into a gambling den of one Houston, and arrested Ed. H. Houston, Nathaniel Blanchard, Ed. Aiken and —— Eastman, while engaged in a game of cards for money, with the money up and the cards in their hands. Next morning three of them were arraigned before Justice Pillsbury, of the Police Court, and plead guilty to the charge of gambling on the Lord's day. They were fined $4 each, with costs of prosecution. One of the party failed to appear, and it is generally understood that he "has left his country for his country's good."

There are some Sunday gaming and drinking rooms in Portsmouth, to which the attention of the police might be turned.

MARINE CHRONICLE.

PORT OF PORTSMOUTH.

Ship Fortitude, Lord, im Mobile, ar at New Orleans 17th.

SLANDER.—Messrs. Editors:—A slanderous newspaper article, (respecting John M. Spear, &c.,) anonymously published in an obscure paper in Western Massachusetts, and copied with some additions in the New York Tribune, has been going the rounds of those papers in this section of the country, which are ever open to any story, however absurd, against Spiritualism, but will not publish a denial of any such story, even after it has been proved false. This story, which to any candid minds, bears its refutation in its aburdity, besides being flatly contradicted again and again by those who know it to be false, and after calls have been repeatedly made through the Spiritual papers for proof, if any one has proof of its truth—has been retailed, if we have been correctly informed, by pastors from their pulpits,—using that Sabbath which they hold in so much reverence, to denounce the honest opinions of their fellow-men, and taking anonymous letter-writers' proven falsehoods, for a foundation to hurl their anathemas at—they know not what. Well may they tremble for themselves and their pet creeds, when they resort to such means.

Why, if they wish to preach against Spiritualism, do they not go and examine it, so that they can do so understandingly, and not be forced to retail at the hundredth remove, the malicious slanders of its enemies? If they expect to serve God or their own cause, or injure Spiritualism, by such a course, they will find too late their error. They may succeed in inspiring more zealous and unthinking of their followers, with a blind zeal like their own, which not being of knowledge, will only work injury to themselves. This course has been too long pursued, and we call upon Ministers, if they have any regard for the sacred office they assume, for the feelings of the conscientious and thinking of their supporters, or for their own position and reputation as men,—to cease their ignorant opposition—to hear before they strike—to denounce, if they deem it their duty, not from hearsay, but from knowledge—and no longer use their pulpits to read off violent phillippics, based upon evidence they would not pay the slightest attention to in the most trifling affairs of life. ALEXIS.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26.—(Herald correspondence) The Treasury notes are issued as fast as they can be signed, and are readily taken. The Department has no difficulty in meeting promptly all demands upon it.

The House Committee on Military Affairs are preparing a bill, which will be shortly reported, conferring the benefits of the revolutionary pension laws upon the officers and soldiers and the widows and children of those who served in the war of 1812, and subsequent Indian wars. This bill, if passed, will take millions out of the treasury.

The investigating committee on the $87,000 transaction will meet to-morrow, when the examination of Stone and Walcott will take place, they having arrived here to-day. The general impression here is that nothing will come of this latter investigation, the parties implicated having carefully and fully covered their tracks.

The Union this morning formally maintains the right of the people of the States to alter their Constitutions without any regard to the provisions touching the time and manner of their modification.

THE GREAT BEAUTIFIER
So long unsuccessfully sought,
FOUND AT LAST.

FOR IT RESTORES PERMANENTLY GRAY HAIR to its original color; covers luxuriantly the bald head; removes all dandruff, itching, and all scrofula, scald head and all eruptions;—makes the hair soft, healthy, and glossy, and will preserve it to any imaginable age; removes, as if by magic, all blotches, &c., from the face, and cures all neuralgic and nervous headache. See circular and the following.

DOVER, N. H., Feb 2, 1857.

Prof. O. J. Wood & Co.—Gents: Within a few days we have received a large number of orders and calls for Prof. O. J. Wood's Hair Restorative, that to-day we were compelled to send to Boston for a quantity, (the 6 dozen you forwarded all being sold,) while we might have taken twice that from you. Every bottle we have sold seems to have produced three or four new customers, and the approbation and patronage it receives from the most substantial and worthy citizens of our vicinity, fully convinces us that it is A MOST VALUABLE PREPARATION.

Send us as soon as may be one gross of $1 size; and one dozen of $2 size; yours very resply,

DANIEL LATHROP & Co.

Hickory Grove, St. Charles Co., Mo., 1856.

Prof. O. J. Wood—Dear Sir: Some time last summer we were induced to use some of your Hair Restorative, and its effects were so wonderful, we feel it our duty to you and the afflicted, to report it.

Our little son's head for some time had been perfectly covered with sores, and some called it scald head. The hair almost entirely came off in consequence, when a friend, seeing his sufferings, advised us to use your Restorative, we did so with little hope of success, but, to our surprise, and that of all our friends, a very few applications removed the disease entirely, and a new and luxuriant crop of hair sign started out. And we can now say that our boy has as healthy a scalp, and as luxuriant a crop of hair as any other child. We can therefore, and do hereby, recommend your Restorative, as a perfect remedy for all diseases of the scalp and hair. We are, yours respectfully,

GEORGE A. MONTGOMERY,
SARAH A. HIGGINBOTHAM.

GARDINER, Me., June 22, 1856.

Prof. O. J. Wood—Dear Sir: I have used two bottles of Professor Wood's Hair Restorative, and can truly say it is the greatest discovery of the age for restoring and changing the Hair. Before using it I was a man of seventy. My hair has now attained its original color. You can recommend it to the world without the least fear, as my case was one of the worst kind.

Yours Respectfully.

LOTTERIES.

THE Lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are chartered by the State of Georgia, and have sworn commissioners appointed to superintend their drawings, and certify the results. Being connected with the same is done in a strictly honorable manner. They offer to the public a fair opportunity for investment, the interests of parties at a distance being as well protected as if they were present. The Manager would respectfully call attention to the fact that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Georgia, as the lotteries are authorized by an act of the Legislature of that State. A lottery will be drawn every Saturday throughout the year, all orders received being filled in the drawing next to take place after the same comes to hand. According to the scheme one ticket in every ten must draw a prize. Tickets are $10; half $5; quarters, $2.50. No tickets sent unless the money accompanies the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket, and are so simple that all can understand them. There is no combination of numbers to mystify the buyer. Prizes vary from $40 to $70,000; every prize being drawn, and result of drawing forwarded to all purchasers.

☞ A list of the numbers that are drawn from the wheel, with the amount each prize is entitled to, will be published after every drawing, in the following papers:—New Orleans Delta, Mobile Register, Charleston Standard, Nashville Gazette, Atlanta Intelligencer, and New York Weekly Sun Book. Write your address plainly, and direct to S. SWAN & Co., Augusta, Georgia.

Prizes paid in full—no percentage deducted from prizes as in other lotteries.

LOTTERIES.

The well-known Maryland Consolidated Lotteries, of which R. FRENCH & Co are the managers, are chartered by the State of Maryland, and a commissioner elected by the people, who is sworn to superintend and certify that everything connected with them is done in a strictly honorable manner. They have taken the interests of parties who reside at a distance are as well protected as if they themselves were present at the drawing. Another fact which the managers call attention to, is, that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Maryland, as lotteries are legalized by special law in that state. A lottery is drawn every day of the week. If no particular class is named, orders are filled in the first drawing to take place after the communication comes to hand. The prices of tickets are very low. No tickets are, however, sent unless the money for the same is received with the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket; after the Harvard plan, and Ternary combination. Prizes vary in amount from $20 to $100 000. All orders for tickets or packages will receive prompt attention, and the drawing mailed to all purchasers immediately after it is over.

☞ The drawn numbers of the Maryland Lotteries are published by the State Commissioner in the following papers, viz: Sun, Clipper, Patriot, American, Argus, of Baltimore; also, the National Intelligencer and Union, of Washington, D.C.

S. D. & H. W. Smith,
—MANUFACTURERS OF—
Melodeons, Organ Melodeons,
—and—
PEDAL BASS MELODEONS,
No. 511 Washington St., Boston.

The first premium over all competitors, at the Fair of the Mass. Charitable Mechanic Association, of the National Fair, Washington, D. C., also at the Ohio State Fair, held at Columbus, Ohio, was awarded to these Manufacturers.

By means of a new method of Voicing, known only to themselves, they have succeeded in removing the harsh and buzzing sound which formerly characterized the instrument, and rendering the tones full, clear and round like. The action is prompt and reliable, enabling the performer to execute the most rapid music without blurring the tones. The swell is arranged to give great expression.

THE PEDAL BASS MELODEONS,

Are designed particularly for Churches, Lodges, Halls, &c. It is arranged with two manuals, or banks of Keys, the lower set running an octave higher than the other, and may be used separately, and thus get in one case two distinct instruments; or by use of the coupler, the two banks of keys may be played at the same time by use of the front set only. This connected with the Pedal Bass, will produce the effect of a large organ, and is sufficiently heavy to fill a house holding from 1000 to 1500 persons.

THE ORGAN MELODEON

Is designed for parlor and private use. The construction is similar to the Church Instrument, being arranged with two banks of Keys, and when used together, by means of the coupler, is capable of as great volume of power as the Church Instrument when used without the pedals. Also, every variety of MELODEONS for Parlor use.

Purchasers may rely upon instruments from our Manufactory, being made in the most complete and thorough manner. Having removed to the spacious Buildings

511 Washington Street,

We have every facility for manufacturing purposes, and employ none but the most experienced and skillful workmen. In short, we will promise our customers an instrument equal, if not superior, to any Manufactury, and guarantee an entire and perfect satisfaction.

We still feel the guarantee to the public as to the excellence of the MELODEONS from our Manufactory, we beg leave to refer, by permission, to the following LETTER FROM A WHALEMAN.

LAHAINA, MAUI, Sandwich Islands, Nov. 2, 1857.

Friend J——:—I begin to feel as if near home, to get to the Sandwich Islands.—This is the last letter you may expect for some time, for our anchor is here short, our sails loosed, and we only wait for the skipper, to trip our "mud-hook," and then off we go, sperm-whaling.

Last Sunday our crew attended service in the Methodist Church, the Bethel being out of repair. We had some good singing, a quartet, where I saw the first white woman I've seen since I left America.

You want some adventures, hey? well, you can have them. One jolly time, we were running free, on half a gale of wind, in a dense fog; suddenly the man on the lookout sung out like a madman, "Down with the helm." The tacks and sheets were let go, the old ship shot into the wind, and then slowly paid off on the other tack, when one-fourth of a mile off Bear Island, in the Ochotsk. Had she mistayed, nothing could have saved us, for the cliff is perpendicular, and in many places two or three thousand feet high.

We laid in the ice twenty-five days, and went seal-hunting on the ice eight and even ten miles from the ship. We drifted 180 miles with the ice, and for three weeks we saw no blue water. We visited the ruins of Ian, formerly a small town on the western shore of the sea, in Siberia; a place we visited two years before. Then the Russians were building a small steamer there, but Dort sloop-of-war and Spartan frigate, English, came and burnt the place on behalf of the allies then opposed to the Russians.

One circumstance occurs to me, which I do not recollect to have seen in books on whaling,—an oar is never put into water within quarter of a mile of a whale, while there is any hope of striking him; but the approach is made by sailing, and in as noiseless a manner as possible.

The Kanakas ashore here are allowed to ride as fast as they please; but if a sailor rides last, the kikos (police) grab him.—Friday three men were taken while riding with about twenty "blue-skins," (as the Kanakas are also called,) and for resisting such proceedings (as soon as they were inside the "fort") thirty or forty kikos pitched in and commenced to thrash 'em. There were about twenty whites in there for drinking, who turned the tables by chasing all the kikos out of the calaboose.

Next day eleven larboard watches, (amounting to 90 or 100 men) went ashore on liberty. Every man got a horse, and away we went at a tremendous rate, all over the town. One hundred and fifty kikos went racing 'round to stop us and carry us off. They collected in squads of half a score and spread themselves across the streets, but when they beheld 20 or 30 "liberty men" holding on by their animals' manes, smoking cigars, laughing, hooting, and urging on their horses with spur and club, a path was quickly opened, and the kikos made scarce. At length they got tired of this sport and got horses for themselves. Then came the fun.

I happened to have a "very fast crab" and could laugh at the police—running about fifty races, in all of which I was the winner. Some were not so lucky: in one place might be seen a dozen sailors, galloping off to the mountains, with three times as many kikos at their heels;—In another, twenty kikos bagging off one poor fellow, holding him by the hair, arms, legs, anp neck; and taking ample revenge for all their trouble by cuffing the unruly sailor every time he moved. Perhaps a reinforcement would come to the prisoner, and make a grand charge, with ferocious looks, and bloodthirsty war cries. Then happy was the kiko who could run the fastest, or who had the best horse. The poor kikos would "make time" into the huts, under the cocoa-nut trees, and through the banana patches, at a rate no kiko ever moved of his own accord; while the dreaded "liberty-men" brought up the rear, shouting, whooping, and flourishing big clubs, to the infinite terror of the fugitives. Then a body of kikos would come, and the "liberty-men" would go through the vegetation, ahead of the kikos, until they met sailors gallopping in the opposite direction, when the fortune of war would change, and the kikos have to run.

At length, the sport ended in half the "liberty men" being prisoners, and the kikos tired of their day's work. A.

COOKERY.—A writer in the New York Spirit of the Times, says: The refinement of a family is nowhere so quickly seen as at a table, and nowhere do men's sensual, selfish instincts become more prominent. There is the centre of the family after the day's wandering; there its first meeting after a night of forgetfulness; there we give hospitality to the stranger, there the tongue is loosened, the wandering thoughts called back, and the heart is warmed into expression under generous fare. "He has eaten with me," is the Arabian talisman to protection, and the Christian has made a supper the emblem of his religion.

Then what constitutes a supper? Even the simpler half of a meal, being the food and its preparation, apart from its physiological bearings, is worthy of thoughtful study. As to that other half of a dinner, the people that are to sit around it, they being chosen only on festive occasions, to them I do not allude.

Equally important to a man's physical being, as to his moral health, is the character of the food on the table. It may be insufficiently cooked, crude, and indigestible; it may be overdone, sodden and heavy; it may be dried to a chip, until the nutritive juices are evaporated, or it may be fried to an oily mass that requires the strongest stomach to analise. Then, again, the food that was originally ample and rich may be so wasted by the culinary process, that what was once abundant is prodigally reduced.

One or the other of these faults universally affects nearly every dish that is placed on the American tables.

To avoid such evils, and cook sufficiently without wasting, and in the most economical quantities, is a high art of life, and one of the simplest and most overlooked. It is slighted by the intelligent, and left in the hands of the ignorant; and those whose duty it was to govern, are punished in health and property for their own neglect.

MECHANICAL BAKERIES.—We have already made some mention of the great mechanical bakery in Philadelphia, but the popular inauguration of it the other day has so renewed our wonder at the excellence of the invention, that we cannot forbear adverting to it again. Think of eight or ten barrels of flour turned into a kneading trough at the same time, and thoroughly worked into dough in less than twenty minutes. Think of this mass going through all the stages of the most careful bread-making—raised, kneaded a second time, cut into loaves of uniform weight, raised again, moved into ovens, baked, brought out and deposited in baskets,—all this being carried forward through the successive flights of a four-story building, and without subjecting a single particle of the flour to the touch of a single human hand! Such are the achievements of the new mechanical bakery in Philadelphia. It has two ovens, each of which is equal to fifty-two common bakers' ovens. Into each of them passes twenty-six bread-cars, containing sixty loaves each. Each car stops, on an average, thirty minutes in the oven, to bake its load. The loaves, while baking, rest on brick tiles, and the heat is radiated from brick, so that the bread is said to have the same taste as that baked in the old-fashioned household ovens, a taste that yet lingers in the memories of those who were young many years ago. The cleanliness of the whole process is declared to be admirable, while the cheapness of the result is its crowning merit. Whoever first used the phrase "bread for the million," doubtless had a prophetic sense of this great invention.

MURDERS BY A SLAVE.—On the 21st inst. Mr. Van Cleave, a wealthy farmer in Marion County, Ky., flogged his negro woman severely, when the husband of the woman (also a slave belonging to Mr. Van Cleave,) became very angry, and used insulting language to his master, whereupon the master ordered him to be tied up and whipped also, but while they were taking off his coat to tie him, he drew a butcher knife and killed Henry Van Cleave, the son, on the spot, and mortally wounded Daniel Thompson. The negro is now in jail.

FATAL RESULT.—New York, Jan. 26.—The injuries to Mrs. Sophia Cassin of Georgetown, D. C., caused by her clothes taking fire, have resulted in her death.—Mrs. C. was the widow of the late Commodore Cassin, U. S. N.

American and Foreign Patents
R. H. EDDY, solicitor of Patents,
(Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837.)
No. 76 State st, oppo. Kilby st, Boston,
AFTER an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britian, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.
This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate.—The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.
All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.
TESTIMONIALS.
"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any more acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."
From the present Commissioner.
AUGUST 17, 1855.—During the time I have held the Office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the office, as a Solicitor. He is thoroughly acquainted with the law, and the rules of practice of the Office. I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

Coggswell's Medical Salt,
A PERFECT SUBSTITUTE
FOR THE
LANCET, LEECHES AND BLISTERS.
INSTEAD of being a panacea for all maladies, it has control over but ONE MALADY—has but ONE AIM—accomplishes but ONE THING, to wit: SUBDUES INFLAMMATORY DISEASE—whatever be its form or locality—either in the head, throat, chest, abdomen, extremities or skin. Every form of inflammation (but no other disease) is subdued, by it as easily as fire is extinguished by water. Is it asked, how it does this?—simply by restoring the lost balance between the fluids and solids. Such is its potency, that like vaccine matter, it requires merely what adheres to the point of a quill dipped into a solution of it, to affect the entire system.
☞ Of its intrinsic value, the enlightened community, and not the discoverer, must be the judge.

MYER'S EXTRACT OF ROCK ROSE, is peculiarly applicable, and if freely used will not fail to protect the constitution against the sudden and extreme changes of our variable climate It purifies the blood, strengthens the stomach, and invigorates the whole system, thus fortifying against the insidious attacks of ungenial frosts and debilitating heats. Morning Chronicle.

FRIDAY, JANUARY 29, 1858.

CONGRESS.—In the Senate, on Wednesday, Mr. Wilson of Massachusetts offered a resolution, authorising a peace commission to adjust Utah affairs, which was referred. Mr. Pugh of Ohio presented the joint resolutions of his State Legislature, which contains a qualified endorsement of President Buchanan and his policy. Mr. Wade of Ohio characterized the resolutions as "disreputable." The resolutions were ordered to be printed. After the introduction of bills relative to the Pacific Railroad and in regard to the payment of certain money to California, the Army bill was taken up, and an animated debate ensued, which lasted until the hour of adjournment. The House, after calling for information on the subject of the Utah expedition and the attitude of Brigham Young, went into Committee of the Whole on the Printing deficiency bill, and discussed Mormonism. In the House, reports were received from the Committee on Elections, and then an adjournment was agreed to.

FROM WASHINGTON.—The correspondent of the New York Evening Post thinks it improbable that Gen. Scott will go to California, because the project is not seconded by the President's friends in Congress. He says:

The expenses of the Utah war threaten to be perfectly enormous, and it is believed that the War Department is somewhat to blame for it. The President is very much chagrined at the want of support, or rather at the kind of support his war is receiving from his friends in Congress, and is said to have remarked that if they do not give him troops soon, he will not want them at all.

The Washington States, it is rumored, will wheel into the support of Senator Douglas, and will hereafter denounce the Lecompton Constitution as heartily as it has supported it. This is considered certain in influential quarters.

From the correspondence of the Journal of Commerce:

There is every sign that the struggle in both Houses on the Kansas question will be very hard, and the result is not quite certain. But if the Lecompton Constitution cannot go, no other plan for settling the question can. Mr. Pugh's bill and Mr. Douglas's bill will be nowhere.

The subject will occupy too much of the session, whatever may be the result.

From the correspondence of the Commercial Advertiser:

There is more excitement here among public men, at this day, respecting the Kansas sore, than there has been since the luckless day when Congress invited North and South to enter the lists in that territory for a terrible fight, in which, no matter whether one or the party succeeded, the Union was to fall with the vanquished.

The President has exhibited for a week past his full share of the excitement on this question. He is no longer so much troubled as he is angry about it. He is writing a message to Congress in favor of the immediate acceptance of the Lecompton Constitution by Congress, and makes it a party test, declaring that every one who does not support the recommendation is a traitor to Democracy.

It is believed that the Senate will sustain the President's views, but that the House will not.

☞ The Washington correspondent of the N. Y. Times, Jan. 27, states that the President is about to send the Lecompton bogus constitution into Congress, with a message "making the immediate admission of Kansas with the Lecompton Constitution a party measure. The intelligence that Calhoun has counted in the pro-slavery legislature of Kansas annoys the President very much, because it renders his Kansas policy more difficult of execution."

The Tribune correspondence of the same day says:

The aspect of the Kansas question has changed in the House since last week, and changed for the worse. As there is hope of a pro-slavery State government and legislature, under Calhoun's counting, it is determined that the Lecompton fraud shall be put through, and it probably will be. The Northern democracy are backing down.

The correspondent of the Evening Post says:

The question is already raised, in case Lecompton goes through Congress, what will the people of Kansas do? I heard this question put to Mr. Parrott, the delegate from Kansas, this morning. He says that in case Lecompton is successful, Calhoun will instantly issue certificates to the pro-slavery candidates for the State Legislature. The people of Kansas will never allow this body to meet openly, but they will secretly, and stay together long enough to elect Calhoun and one other conspirator to the United States Senate. This done, the bogus Legislature will fly the territory, and the newly made Senators will turn their steps to Washington, and the Senate will recognize them. This is the reward which Calhoun seeks, and the prospect of which animates him in all his movements.

FOREIGN NEWS.—The steamer Kangaroo, with dates from Liverpool, arrived at New York, Wednesday night.

The Leviathan had been advanced to within a few feet of the water, and it was expected that she would be launched Thursday, the 14th. Flour unchanged; provisions dull.

The details of the India news have reached England. The death of Havelock is confirmed; and "on the 24th of November, Sir Colin Campbell evacuated Lucknow in the presence of the whole force of Oude." He withdrew to Cawnpore.

The defeat or surprise of Gen. Windham at Calpee is also confirmed; but the defeat of the revolutionists by Sir Colin Campbell on the 7th of December was most complete. Subsequently, Gen. Grant came upon the Gwalior rebels, as they were crossing the Ganges, and "after some sharp firing, fifteen guns, with all their stores, ammunition, &c., were captured. Gen. Grant was slightly wounded; but he lost no men, although the loss of the enemy was about one Hundred."

The weather in France had been severe, but had modified. A heating apparatus in the church of St. Sulpice, in Paris, exploded during divine service, and caused the death of three persons.

From Austria, we learn that the funeral of Marshal Radetsky was to have taken place on the 11th inst., and that 25,000 Austrian troops were to take part in the honors of the dead. The standing army of Austria is undergoing a reduction. Already 50,000 men have been discharged.

We have an account of the capture of a slaver on the coast of Africa. The slave captain ran his vessel ashore to avoid being taken. He threw about 800 negroes overboard, and half of the number were drowned. There were in all, 1200 negroes on board the vessel.

3 DAYS LATER FROM EUROPE.

HALIFAX, Jan. 28.—Steamship Canada, from Liverpool 16th inst., arrived this morning.

Steamship Ariel had put back with her main shaft broken, and arrived at Cork, Jan. 15.

Middling qualities of cotton show a decline of 1-2d.

Breadstuffs continue dull and declining. Provisions quiet.

Money market slightly easier. The rates of discount had been reduced to 5 per cent.

GEN. HAVELOCK'S PATENT OF BARONETCY bears date of Nov. 26, 1857, the day after his death. The proposition for a pension having been postponed, Lady Havelock (beyond being the widow of a K. C. B.) and her five children derive, at present, literally nothing from the General's services. Parliament will beyond doubt, vote his heirs a pension, and confer the honor which was intended for the father, upon his oldest son.

CALIFORNIA.—The steamship Moses Taylor, arrived at New York, with intelligence from California to the 5th of January. A slight shock of an earthquake was experienced in San Francisco on the 21st ult. Half a million dollars worth of property was destroyed by fire in Downieville on the 1st instant. The citizens of Los Angeles have asked for protection against the Mormons. Accounts from the mines were encouraging. From Oregon, we learn that the official vote for the State Constitution was—5000 against slavery, 4000 in favor of the Constitution, and 7500 against the admission of free negroes.

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 27.—The Kansas correspondent of the Democrat says the people have decided not to memorialize Congress for an ennabling act, but to pass one for themselves, and frame a constitution which will be in effect the Topeka instrument, and submit it to the popular vote for acceptance or rejection.

Mr. Clarkson passed through Boonsville Missouri, en route to Washington, yesterday, with the Lecompton Constitution and the official returns of the late election.

☞ Emerson's Magazine & Putnam's Monthly for February, is funny and Punchy enough to shorten many a long visage. The chapter on umbrellas, with cuts,—and the picture of presidential ploughing among the abolition stuff, in Jack Downing, are capital in their way.

Publishers, Oaksmith & Co., Broadway, N. Y.

ENIGMA.

There is a word of good import—
Its neither long nor very short.
The pronoun he two letters make;
And if the last from it you take,
The earthquake's heave will be expressed
Exactly, too, by all the rest.
Select three other letters small,
You make the mother of us all.
Two letters give and four you save,
Spelling then the church's nave.
And four, which lacks just three of seven,
Makes the word exactly even. VIR.

A STRANGE SIGHT FOR JANUARY.—A fire caught from the engine on the Boston and Maine R. R. on Thursday night last between Dover and Exeter, in the grass, and burnt over a mowing field.

☞ The N. H. Patriot is very much exercised, because a Republican office-holder in this State, is said to have been drunk. Now we have no defence to make of drunkenness, nor should we recommend persons addicted to it, to any office; and if the Patriot had only stated the case as badly as possible, we should not have said a word about the matter, any farther than to express our sorrow that any citizen, and especially any officer, should thus destroy himself and injure his friends. But the Patriot invites a comparison, and says:—

Now we ask the people of New Hampshire to think of this. We ask them to think of the disgrace brought upon the State and upon them by the election of such a man to a responsible and honorable office. We ask them to look back over the whole history of the State previous to the advent of black republicanism, and they will search in vain for a parallel to this prostitution of a high office—to this burning shame and disgrace to the State—this reproach to public morality.

We are of the people of New Hampshire;—and we can, by looking back a few years, see a man who was elevated to a much higher office in the State, so drunk in his seat in the State House, that the body over which he presided chose to adjourn to let him get sober: we can see cases in court postponed for the same reason on account of the same man—and yet the people of New Hampshire helped to give him higher office still. It is more than a parallel case.

Drunkenness in high places is bad—but it is no new thing in New Hampshire.

ROCHESTER SPIRIT RAPPINGS.—We learn that for some time past it has been the practice of the Liquor dealers in Maine to send up a supply of liquor to Rochester in the night and parcel it among their customers. It has usually shown its tracks by sundry disturbances calling for the services of the police. Last Saturday night the police expected an arrival and were on the alert. When it arrived on a wagon, some of the expectants gave notice that it would be unsafe to unload in the usual place. So it was taken outside the village and unloaded in a field in the neighborhood of a friendly imbiber.—Soon after Spirits were seen hovering around it, then loud raps were heard—and suddenly the spirits departed, leaving a strong smell of bad gin. The tale ends not here. The hens of a temperance man visited the scene Sunday—imbibed intemperately—were unable to go to roost, and had to be packed away in one corner of the shed in a pile—drunk.—Dover Enquirer.

SUPREME JUDICIAL COURT, MANCHESTER.—The following liquor cases, from Manchester, continued from last term, were brought up:—Thomas Welch for selling liquor. Verdict, guilty. Dennis Cochran do. Verdict, guilty. Isaac T. Bond, do. Jury did not agree. Patrick Shehan do. Jury did not agree. Ebenezer Clark, do. Verdict guilty.

NO LOAN NEEDED!

Washington correspondents say there will be no necessity for a loan, to meet the expenditures of the Government for the next fiscal year, as some have supposed. We might with the same confidence say, that "no loan is needed" by the fortunate individual who invests $10, 5, or 2,50 in S. Swan's legalized lottery, which draws every Saturday at Augusta, Ga. By enclosing those amounts respectively to that well established firm, the holder of a fortunate ticket will be entitled to the capital prize of $70,000, or a half or a quarter of that amount as the case may be.

SICK HEADACHE.

Bethany, Ct., Dec. 8, 1850.

Rev. A. B. L. Myers: Dear Sir— For several years past I have been much afflicted with the Sick headache, and having had an opportunity of using your Extract of Rock Rose, I was induced to try it. I began to use it about the first of last October. Since that time, I have used but about one bottle, and have not been troubled in the least with the disease. With the greatest confidence in the medicine, I cheerfully advise every one to use it for every disease it promises to cure. Truly yours,

IT IS A MOST UNDOUBTED FACT

That "Dr. Sanford's Invigorator or Liver Remedy, is one of the greatest discoveries made in medicine the past century. It has been a study of the Dr. during twenty years practice to find what particular organ when diseased, caused the greatest number of ills or pains, and his conclusion is that the liver is the greatest regulator of the system and the most liable to disease while if kept free from disease, is a preventative of Dyspepsia, Jaundice, general debility, &c., while last, but far from least, we mention consumption; for our experience is, that more cases of consumption occur from diseased liver, than from all other causes put together.

Taking this so be a correct hypothesis, we have but to find a remedy with which to correct the liver, and we have a cure of nearly all the diseases we are subject to by simply using a preventative. That the invigorator is such a remedy, is beyond doubt to all who try it, for its virtues are such that for all complaints arising from liver derangements it is an unfailing remedy, while as a family medicine, for all the diseases of the stomarch, or bowels, which are caused in a greater or less degree by liver derangement, it is the safest, surest, and most efficacious remedy known.

OUR CUSTOM HOUSE.

In the "Report of the Secretary of the Treasury, on the State of the Finances, for the year ending June 30, 1857," we find the following paragraph:

PORTSMOUTH, NEW HAMPSHIRE. — The building designed for a Custom House, Post Office, and United States Court, has been commenced; the contractors, however, have made but little progress. This is one of the cases where the interests of the United States are prejudiced by giving the contract to the lowest bidder. In the scramble after government contracts, men are always to be found who will bid the work down to the lowest figure at which it can be done, and even below what it can possibly be done for, depending upon slighting their work, using inferior materials, alterations, extras, &c., to make up the deficiency. The result is, that so soon as they find that they are compelled to furnish materials and do the work as required in the contract, they either abandon the work or force the government to take it off their hands, as provided in the contract, and execute it at the expense of their bondsmen and themselves. This I fear will be the case in the present instance. But little is done to this building beyond excavating the cellar, commencing the drain, and the collection of a small amount of stones for the cellar walls.

Total amount of appropriation	$116,300.00
Amount expended to Sept. 30, 1857,	21,716.89
Balance available for the completion of the work,	94,583.11

This report, it will be observed, was made up to Sept. 30. The government, we learn, have just taken the work out of the hands of the contractors and their bondsmen, as suggested above,—and will finish it themselves, with Mr. Blaisdell for Superintendent. The Drain in State street is nearly completed, and is filled up throughout its entire length; and all work is suspended for the present.

COL. WEARE vs. ALBERT BLAISDELL.—Respecting the appointment of Mr. Blaisdell as Superintendent of Construction of our Custom House, in place of Hon. John M. Weare, the Milford Republican said that Col. Weare took Mr. Blaisdell's place (exactly vice versa,) on political account—Mr. W. not being sufficiently pro-slavery. We corrected the statement of facts, and the Gazette denied that the cause of the charge was that assigned by the Republican. Now the latter paper says:

The Portsmouth Gazette and Chronicle are informed, that all we said in relation to Mr. Weare's removal is true. We have not a word to take back; we speak from 'the book.' There were other minor causes, it is true, but the chief objection raised was, he was too much of a "Douglasite."—No man can hold an office under this Administration, if it is even suspected that he favors Senator Douglas in his Kansas position.—Douglas says himself, that he 'has no more influence with the Administration, than the Republican Mayor of Chicago.' Buchanan is (if it can be possible) more of a subservient tool to the South than Franklin Pierce.

THE FIREMEN'S FUND.

We learn that the late Firemen's Fair, at Jefferson Hall, netted the handsome and unexpected sum of $481.38—which will form a very respectable nest-egg for the Firemen's Relief Fund. The plan now is to assess each member of the Fire Department, a small sum annually, to add to this Fund—which in a few years will thus become, in a measure, a sort of Firemen's Health Assurance Society.

The actual net proceeds of the Fair were something rising $400—a considerable amount having been donated directly to the Fund, including $25 from the Ports. Mut. Ins. Co., as previously noticed.

To Chief Engineer Hadley, we believe, is due the credit of originating the idea of the Fund, and projecting the Fair—in which he was ably and liberally seconded. Gen. Hadley has been an active member of our Fire Department for upwards of thirty years, and has proved himself a most active, efficient, and so popular, Chief Engineer. He has brought the Department into frequent and favorable notice; and done considerable to establish for them the consideration they deserve.

☞ The General Committee of Arrangements at the late Fireman's Fair, with the ladies who assisted them, and a portion of the editorial fraternity of the city, sat down to a glorious Clam Chowder, at the City Hotel, on Thursday evening. It was a social and pleasant gathering,—a neat wind-up to a very successful and gratifying benevolent enterprise.

OUR ANNIVERSARY.—One year ago on Thursday, Jan. 28th,—"our fire" occurred—how, nobody has yet discovered—which resulted in showing that those who suffered by it, had many and strong friends; and in furnishing us a better office, Mr. Pearson a nicer Music Room, and our neighbors below a finer store. As we couldn't hope to come out so well again from a similar visitation, we don't pray for more of the same sort. One thing we can do—acknowledge yearly our obligations to the Firemen, who preserved our premises from total destruction.

THE OLD NORTH BELL.—I am much interested in the preservation of the old North Bell, and would like to know what is the matter with it. Have you noticed, Mr. Editor, with your musical ear, how the poor thing's voice has changed during the past three days? Instead of its usual clear, ringing tones, waving pleasantly about our ears, it has sent forth a rattling, discordant sound. Has it caught a severe cold? or, after tolling the close of several generations of men, has it at last reached its own dotage, and is the tremulous voice of old age indicating that the old Bell is now but a wreck of its former self, and is fast approaching the time when its tongue shall be silenced forever?

This is a very unusual winter, and it may be our centenarian has never seen one like it before, and in doleful sounds sadly regrets the absence of the vigorous cold wind of zero, which usually, at least for a day or two in the season, sweeps through the well ventilated belfry; or can it be possible that the softening, smoothing and improving influence which time has had upon the manner of presenting the doctrines of the pulpit, has had an opposite effect upon the occupant of the belfry, the latter graduating its tones to the necessities of the times, ringing out cheerfully for the ears that listened to the terrors and thunders of the law from a Buckminster, to keep the hearts of men from sinking altogether, but now less anxious for the preservation of the balance of men's minds, when less necessity exists for its interference? Or has it so long watched from its eminence, the ways of trade in Market street, (of which it has a full view) that witnessing the wonderful contrast between Sunday and every day principles, it has become cracked from the immense weight of responsibility which it has hung for so many years over the Parish, calling men in vain to duty?

Whatever may be the cause, Mr. Editor, of this change in the tones of the old North Bell, is it not worth the while to investigate it? For myself, I love a cheerful sound, and the more we have of such in this world, the longer will it be ere the bell shall toll the knell of our departure. X.

MUSIC, DANCING, AND FUN.—It will be seen that the original and successful Perham Troupe of Ethiopian Minstrels advertise one of their popular entertainments at the Temple to-night.

Prof. O. J. Wood—Dear Sir: Some time last summer we were indebted to one some of your Hair Restorative, and its effects were so wonderful, we feel it our duty to you and the afflicted, to report it.

Our little son's head for some time was been perfectly covered with sores, and some called it scald head. The hair almost entirely came off in consequence, when a friend, seeing his sufferings, advised us to use your Restorative, we did so with little hope of success, but, to our surprise, and that of all our friends, a very few applications removed the disease entirely, and a new and luxuriant crop of hair soon started out, and we can now say that our boy has as healthy a scalp, and as luxuriant a crop of hair as any other child. We can therefore, and do hereby, recommend your Restorative, as a perfect remedy for all diseases of the scalp and hair. We are, yours respectfully.

GEORGE W. HIGGINBOTHAM,
SARAH A. HIGGINBOTHAM.

GARDNER, Mo., June 23, 1856.

Prof. O. J. Wood—Dear Sir: I have used two bottles of Professor Wood's Hair Restorative, and can truly say it is the greatest discovery of the age for restoring and changing the Hair. Before using it I was a man of poverty. My hair had now attained its original color. You can recommend it to the world without the least fear, as my case was one of the worst kind.

Yours Respectfully.

LOTTERIES.

THE Lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are chartered by the State of Georgia, and have been commissioners appointed to superintend their drawings, and certify that everything connected with the business is done in a strictly honorable manner. They offer to the public a fair opportunity for investment, the interests of parties at a distance being as well protected as if they were present. The Manager would especially call the attention to the fact that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Georgia, as the lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are authorized by the Legislature of that State. A lottery will be drawn every Saturday throughout the year, all orders received being filled in the drawing next to take place after the same comes to hand. According to the scheme one ticket in ten tens must draw a prize. Tickets are $10; halves, $5; quarters, $2.50. No tickets sent unless the money accompanies the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket, and are so simple that none can fail to understand them. There is no chance for the number to mystify the buyer. Prizes vary from $40 to $70,000; every prize being drawn, and result of drawing forwarded to ticket holders.

☞ A list of the numbers that are drawn from the wheel, with the amount each prize is entitled to, will be published after every drawing, in the following papers:—New Orleans Delta, Mobile Register, Charleston Standard, Nashville Gazette, Atlanta Intelligencer, and New York Weekly Day Book. Write your address plainly, and direct to S. SWAN & Co., Augusta, Georgia

Prizes paid in full—no percentage deducted from prizes as in other lotteries.

LOTTERIES.

The well-known Maryland Consolidated Lotteries, of which R. FRANCIS & Co are the managers, are chartered by the state of Maryland, and a commissioner elected by the people, who is sworn to superintend and certify that everything connected with them is done in a strictly honorable manner, and that the interests of parties who reside at a distance are as well protected as if they themselves were present at the drawing. Another fact which the managers call attention to, is that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Maryland, as lotteries are legalized by special law in that state. A lottery is drawn every day of the month. If no particular class is named, orders are filled in the first drawing that take place after the communication comes to hand. The prices of tickets vary from $1 to $20. No tickets are sent unless the money for the same is received with the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket (after the Havana plan), and Ternary combination. Prizes vary from one hundred to $100'000. All orders for tickets or packages will receive prompt attention, and the drawing mailed to all purchasers immediately after it is over.

☞ The drawn numbers of the Maryland Lotteries are published by the State Commissioner in the following papers, viz: Sun, Clipper, Patriot, American, Argus, of Baltimore; also, the National Intelligencer and Union, of Washington, D.C.

—MANUFACTURERS OF—

Melodeons, Organ Melodeons,

—and—

PEDAL BASS MELODEONS,

No. 511 Washington St., Boston,

The first premium over all competitors, at the Fair of the Mass Charitable Mechanic Association, of the National Fair, Washington, D. C., also at the Ohio State Fair, held at Columbus, Ohio, was awarded to these Manufacturers.

By means of a new method of Voicing, known only to themselves, they have succeeded in removing the harsh and buzzing sound which formerly characterized the instrument, and rendering the tones full, clear and organ like. The action is prompt and reliable, enabling the performer to execute the most rapid music without blurring the tones. The swell is arranged to give great expression.

THE PEDAL BASS MELODEONS,

Are designed particularly for Churches, Lodges, Halls, &c. It is arranged with two manuals, or sets of Keys, the lowest set running an octave higher than the other, and may be used separately, and thus get in one case two distinct instruments; or by use of the coupler, the two banks of keys may be played at the same time by use of the front set only. This connected with the Pedal bass, will produce the effect of a large organ, and is sufficiently loud to fill a house that seats from 1000 to 1500 persons.

THE ORGAN MELODEON

Is designed for parlor and private use. The construction is similar to the Church Instrument, being arranged with two banks of Keys, and when used together, by means of the coupler, is capable of as great volume of power as the Church Instrument when used without the pedals, and is, every variety of MELODEONS for Parlor use.

Purchasers may rely upon instruments from our Manufactory, being made in the most complete and thorough manner. Having removed to the spacious Buildings

511 Washington Street,

We have every facility for manufacturing purposes, and employ none but the most experienced and skilful workmen. In short, we will produce an instrument as Instrument equal, if not superior, to any Manufacturer, and guarantee an entire and perfect satisfaction.

Music Teachers, Leaders of Choirs, and others interested in musical matters, are respectfully invited to visit our Rooms at any time and examine or test the instruments on exhibition for sale at the lowest price.

As a still further guarantee to the public as to the excellence of the MELODEONS from our Manufactory, we beg leave to refer, by permission, to the following

Piano Forte Manufacturers of Boston,

who have examined our Instruments, and will give their opinion when called upon:

Chickering & Sons, Hallet & Cummings,
T. Gilbert & Co., Wm. P. Emerson,
Brown & Allen, A. W. Ladd & Co.,
George Hewes, Woodward & Brown,
Newhall & Co.

MELODEONS RENTED.

Persons who wish to hire Melodeons with a view of purchasing at the end of the year, can have the rent applied as part payment of the purchase money. This matter is worthy of special note, as it enables those who desire a fair test of the instrument before purchasing, to obtain it at the expense of the manufacturer, to the extent at least of a year's rent.

Orders from any part of the country or world, sent direct to the manufactory, at Boston, with cash, or satisfactory reference, will be promptly attended to, and as faithfully executed as if the parties were present, or employed an agent to select, and on as reasonable terms.

ARMY EXPENSES.

In the U. S. Senate on Wednesday,—

Mr. Hale remarked that during the last year the government expended about $19,000,000 for military purposes, and there was a deficiency of $7,000,000 more, making $26,000,000 spent in twelve months for military purposes in time of profound peace. During the most expensive year of the last war with Great Britain, the military expenses of the government never reached as high as $21,000,000. When he first took a seat in congress, fourteen or fifteen years ago, the army cost a thousand dollars for each man every year. This bill proposes to raise seven thousand additional men, which would saddle upon the government a permanent annual increase of $12,000,000, and the idea that the army will ever go back and grow smaller while we have got money or credit to sustain it, was too absurd to be advanced by any sensible man. There were no backward tracks when our government began to spend money. There might be a war, and no matter how expensive, and then when it was succeeded by peace the expenses would go right on steadily increasing. In his opinion the President wants the additional force to carry out perfect freedom and popular sovereignty in Kansas. It had been said that Congress had not declared war against the Mormons, but it was a part of the history of the country that war was once declared to exist by the act of Mexico, and it might also be declared to exist by the act of Brigham Young. He should vote for the amendment proposed. He wanted the bill cut down to a skeleton, and then he should vote against the skeleton itself. (Laughter.)

Two infallible signs of a mild winter are said to prevail in the North this season, namely: the corn husks are unusually thin, and the beavers are making little preparation for cold weather. Time will tell the story.

We cut the above from the San Antonio (Texas) Herald of December 26th. We never before heard that thin corn husks were prophetic of a mild winter, though we have been informed that sagacious hunters and trappers did draw some augurties on this point from the conduct of the beavers. "The North," as used in the above extract, is a very comprehensive term. There are corn husks at the North, and there are beavers; but they are very far apart, and he who can observe the one must go far before he can examine the other. The beaver trapper must go after corn, and the corn-grower must go after beavers. Where you find corn you do not find beavers, and where you find beavers you do not find corn.—Boston Courier.

We have heard of the corn husk sign for about fifty years, and presume it was common fifty years before that.

Beavers and corn were found together among the Indians in New England,—and in new settlements are often together now.

The beavers are more reliable almanacs than the corn,—though there seems to be something in that.

☞ The London Star says:

"Mlle. Rachel leaves two millions of francs to her eldest boy. She died a stanch adherent of the Mosaic dispensation, though oft and oft rumored to have joined the prevalent form of Christianity in France. A rabbi from Toulon presided at her last hour. She is to be buried in the Hebrew cemetery at Paris. The Figaro has devoted twelve columns to a kind of omnium gatherum of anecdotes, letters and occurrences during her short but brilliant career; and some of these letters are odd enough. The account of her singing 'La Marseillaise' is full of piquancy."

The Paris correspondent of the London Times writing on the 8th inst., says:

"The remains of Mlle. Rachel are expected this evening in Paris. The body, which is embalmed, is accompanied by her brother Raphael Felix, her sister Sarah, and the Rabbi who was called from Nice to attend her in her last moments. There is no truth in the statement of an Italian newspaper, that the deceased had conformed to the Roman Catholic faith on her deathbed. The funeral will probably take place to-morrow."

☞ In the Massachusetts House of Representatives, on Wednesday, the Atheist bill was amended so as to allow evidence of disbelief in God to affect the credibility, but not the admissibility, of testimony. The bill was ordered to be printed as amended.

This bill, if passed, would place the witness on the true ground for the public good. The Mahometan, Chinese, Hindoo, or African pagan, should testify when public justice or private right calls for it—always making his testimony "under the pains and penalties of perjury,"—and then the jury should weigh the evidence, allowing proper fare for the faith or want of it, in the witness.

☞ The telegraph announced the majority in Kansas against the Lecompton Constitution on the 4th of January, as 1,226. It now corrects its mistake and says it is 10,226, a very material difference.

☞ Only those who have suffered all the miseries of Dyspepsia in its various forms, can appreciate the value of a medicine that will cure this disease. To all who would find a remedy we say, try the Oxygenated Bitters.

SUNDAY MORNING.

How few of all this hurrying crowd,
Who press to reach the house of prayer,
Who seek the temple of their God,
Seek Him whose spirit hovers there.

See you demure and pious maid!
She surely shows devotion true;
In robes of purity arrayed—
Her bonnet, not her heart is new!

To yonder heaving bosom turn,
Which swells with pious rapture high;
With sacred zeal her heart must burn—
Ah! trace the coquette in her eye.

That grave and stately sage—indeed,
His thoughts must be on Heaven intent;
But Heaven, perhaps, in him may read
A pondering wish for cent per cent!

With nimble steps and eager haste,
That pious youth with pleasure view,
Who fears a single moment's waste—
His footsteps yonder fair pursue.

Yet who shall dare presume to raise
A din of censure, better grudged?
Take then the moral of my lays
And "Judge not that ye be not judged."

"Mercy on us, what a bloody-minded fellow!"—Old Play.

On the 27th of January, in the House of Representatives at Washington, there was a debate, nominally on the printing deficiency bill, but really on matters and things in general. In the course of it,—

Mr. R. Davis of Mississippi said that threats made by gentlemen of the North against the South were held in contempt. The South expect a conflict at a period not far distant, and come when it might, they would be found ready to meet it. If the North should invade the South, let them do it in open day and not by night.—Whenever a single drop of blood was shed there by way of coercing them to submit to injustice and wrong, it would be followed by a stream of fire into the North.—They would find an army marching from the South with the sword in one hand and the Bible in the other, scattering desolation in their path. He had more respect for Abolitionists than Free Soilers, on the principle that the one assassin meets his victim in open day, while the other robs him while asleep.

Mr. Giddings asked the gentleman whether he would carry his desolation into the Western Reserve.

Mr. Davis replied that would be the first point he would strike at, because that was the residence of the warmest and worst of the Abolitionists of the country.—[Laughter.]

Uncle Toby was greatly affected by the religious aspect of the Southern stream of fire. The legions of slavery are to come, we see, with the Bible in one hand. If so, they will be a great improvement on those who went to Kansas, and carried the whiskey bottle. This is progress.

AUTOMIC OVEN.—The Boston Bee says an "Automic" oven, or a series of ovens, is in process of erection in Russell's building, near the People's Ferry, Commercial street. They are to be in operation by the 1st of April. The ovens, with the extensive machinery for working them, the furnace, boiler and engine for driving the various works of the concern, are up and nearly in working order. It is expected that the whole of the building will be used for carrying on their baking business, when in operation; and that the company will be able to supply the citizens with their bread at a saving of between three and four dollars per barrel, and of a very superior quality.

IMPORTANT FACT. — Judge Ellmore, brother-in-law of Senator Fitzpatrick, of Alabama, was appointed Judge of the Supreme Court of Kansas by President Pierce, and removed to that territory with all his slaves. He was a member of the Lecompton Convention, advocated a full submission of the Constitution to the people, and is now most actively engaged to secure its rejection by Congress as being opposed to the will of the people, and an unjust instrument which should not be imposed upon them. The great majority of the national democrats in Kansas are with him. He, as well as the majority of the democrats there, pronounces the attempt to force upon the people of Kansas the Lecompton Constitution against their will, an outrage upon every principle of honesty and popular government.—Bath Organ.

☞ In the early stages of Rachel's final illness, her fondness for gold and jewelry did not desert her. She frequently had her jewels and rich garments brought to her bed, and beguiled the weary hours in looking over; and on one occasion, after taking one long, lingering look at them, she exclaimed, with a sigh of heartfelt distress: "Il faut donc quitter tout!" ("Must I then abandon all!") Her death struggle was long and severe, and her last hours are described as agonizing.

American and Foreign Patents
R. H. EDDY, solicitor of Patents,
(Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837.)
No. 76 State st, oppo. Kilby st, Boston.
AFTER an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britian, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remmitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.
This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below give proof that more is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate.—The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.
All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.
TESTIMONIALS.
"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure extensive and early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."
From the present Commissioner.
AUGUST 17, 1855.—During the time I have held the Office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the office, as a Solicitor. He is thoroughly acquainted with the law, and the rules of practice of the Office. I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

Coggswell's Medical Salt,
A PERFECT SUBSTITUTE FOR THE LANCET, LEECHES AND BLISTERS.
INSTEAD of being a panacea for all maladies, it has control over but ONE MALADY—has but ONE AIM—accomplishes but ONE THING, to wit: SUNDRY INFLAMMATORY DISEASE—whatever be its form or locality—whether in the head, throat, chest, abdomen, extremities or skin. Every form of inflammation (but no other disease) is subdued, by it as easily as fire is extinguished by water. Is it asked, how it does this!—simply by restoring the lost balance between the fluids and solids. Such is its potency, that like vaccine matter, it requires merely what adheres to the point of a quill dipped into a solution of it, to affect the entire system.
☞ Of its intrinsic value, the enlightened community, and not the discoverer, must be the judge.

Cold Winter is Coming on.
AND with it will return the usual concomitants, Coughs, Colds, Dyspepsia, Scorbutic Eruptions, Sick Headache, Rheumatism, Tetter, Ring Worm, &c., which the genial warmth of summer and free perspiration has, for a time relieved, but which the return of rigid, cheerless winter, will bring back, unless resisted by some medicamentum.
MYER'S EXTRACT OF ROCK ROSE,
is peculiarly applicable, and if freely used will not fail to protect the constitution against the sudden and extreme changes of our variable climate. It purifies the blood, strengthens the stomach, and invigorates the whole system, thus fortifying against the insidious attacks of ungenial frosts and debilitating heats. See Circulars.

The State Debt.

The election in New Hampshire whichever way it may go, will not bear a feather's weight upon the destiny of Kansas, or any other territory, but will concern only the local interests of this State. If the people wish for a return of Democratic prudence in the management of the State finances, and a stop put to corporate monopolies, they will sustain the Democratic party; if, on the other hand, they are more concerned about "niggers" than about themselves; if they prefer that our State should continue isolated from the national government, and deprived of those advantages which a factious abolition State cannot demand at the hands of a national Democratic administration; if they prefer to see our taxes, State and County, increased at an alarming rate, they will continue in power the party which has shown itself so capable of producing those results.

PATRICK RAFFERTY.—We learn from a correspondent at Rochester, that this gentleman addressed his countrymen at that place, last Tuesday evening, upon the political topics of the day, eloquently urging them to rally to the support of the Democracy, the only party in the country which sympathizes with adopted citizens, and possesses the power and the will to prevent the destruction of their political rights by the illiberal and proscriptive factions arrayed against them. He earnestly appealed to them, to qualify themselves to take part in the great battle now waged by the Democratic party of this State against the combined hosts of know nothingism and black republicanism—two of the most infamous isms that ever disgraced a civilized people! To that end, he prepared naturalization papers for such as had resided in the country the requisite time, and invoked his hearers to perform the duty of freemen, and hand down to their posterity a record of fidelity to the great party of religious, social and political equality.

Mr. Rafferty is doing a good work, and we hope he will awaken all his countrymen to a sense of their obligations to the country and to the Democratic party, which through its whole history, has been the advocate of those rights and interests which the intelligent emigrant cherishes as blessings beyond price.—Gazette.

NATURALIZED CITIZENS.—We hope that Democrats throughout the County will see to it that we lose none of our strength through neglect of naturalized citizens to comply with the statute which requires an exhibition of "papers" to the Selectmen 30 days, at least, prior to March meeting. The statute has been adjudged to apply only to those who have not been previously admitted to vote in the town or ward where they reside at the time of the election, consequently those who have exhibited their papers and voted last year, if they reside in the same ward or town, need not exhibit them again; but if they have changed their residence, they must again present them. Those in this city whose residence has been changed by the change of ward lines, must present their papers to the Selectmen of the ward in which they now find themselves.—Gazette.

☞ We learn that Edward Everett has been invited by a committee of our citizens, to deliver his new address on Charity, in this city, and has intimated his acceptance of the invitation. The address will be delivered at the earliest possible date, consistent with the engagements of the distinguished orator, and the proceeds will be appropriated for the benefit of the poor of our city. The committee of arrangements comprises the names of those gentlemen who served on the occasion of the late visit of Mr. Everett in this place, to which have been added those of our worthy Mayor, the Hon. Robert Morrison, and Hon. Richard Jenness.—Gazette.

MUNICIPAL.—In Board of Aldermen, Thursday Evening, Jan. 28.—Ald. Raynes in the Chair. J. P. Payson asked for a Case for the Library in Bartlett School; referred to Committee on School Houses. Complaint having been made that the practice of Engines playing against the North Church, was injurious to the same, Voted, That the Board of Engineers be requested to prohibit the playing of water by the Engine Co.'s upon the Church.

Voted, That the use of Court House be granted to the Mercantile L. Association they paying the Superintendent of the same the expense of opening and lighting.

THE EXETER BANK.—We have received a communication in relation to the above institution, which interrogatively attacks the moral and political integrity of one of the gentleman most prominently connected with its establishment and management. The individual referred to is not now a public officer, and although he may be an active and influential party-man, we doubt the propriety of making his doings the subject of a newspaper discussion. At any rate we will never publish or insinuate charges against any person, without the full "documents in our hat" wherewith to substantiate our statements. Therefore, we respectfully decline to publish the communication.—Gazette.

As Geo. W. Adams, about 17 years of age, son of Rev. J. G. Adams, was coming down the stairs of the High School House on Walnut street, yesterday afternoon, he attempted to leap a short distance, when his head came in contact with the ceiling of the flight of stairs above him, and he fell with great violence upon his back, going down some dozen steps. He was picked up insensible, conveyed home and Dr. Nichols called immediately. His intellect was somewhat disordered last night, but we are happy to learn that this morning he has his senses. The physician thinks he will get along, although he is not positive but that he has sustained internal injuries.—Worcester Bay State.

CUSTOM.

Custom forms us all;
Our thoughts, our morals, our most fix'd belief,
Are consequences of our place of birth.—Hill.

Morning Chronicle.

SATURDAY, JANUARY 30, 1858.

FROM WASHINGTON.—A member of Congress, from our State, writing to his friends in Manchester, under date of Jan. 25th, says,—"I do not see any reason to alter the opinion I have heretofore expressed, that when the "Lecompton fight" comes on we shall be beaten. We may not—as we are certainly losing no strength. But the patronage at the White House is immense, reaching $75,000,000 per year, and will soon reach $100,000,000 annually. If we are not overcome, it must be because political death awaits all those from the free states who betray Kansas and the north to slavery."

FRANCE.—In Paris, on Thursday evening Jan. 14th, a bold and premeditated attempt was made upon the lives of the Emperor and Empress. As they were entering the theatre, three explosive projectiles were cast at them, and the Emperor's hat was pierced; one of his aids wounded in the neck; two of his footmen were injured; the royal carriage was broken and one of the horses attacked, killed; and in all fifty or sixty persons were wounded, and five killed outright. Notwithstanding this most exciting occurrence, the Emperor and Empress entered the opera house, where they were received with every manifestation of respect, and remained until the close of the performance. On their return home, they were hailed by a multitude. On Friday, they attended High Mass, accompanied by the officers of State; and on Saturday, rode through the streets of Paris without escort. The attempted assassination was the work of Italians. Four persons had been arrested.

The American bark Adriatic, which was confiscated by order of the French Court of Appeals, on account of her collision with the steamer Lyonnais, escaped from Marseilles on the night of the 8th inst.; and although pursued soon after by a French war-steamer, she was not overtaken. The Adriatic is under command of Capt. Dunham of Belfast, Maine.

☞ In Pennsylvania, the friends of Mr. Buchanan have just made an attempt to adjourn the State Convention from March until June, when it is hoped that the Kansas controversy may be disposed of; but the proposition was voted down in the State Committee two to one. Forney's Press exults at the discomfiture and is evidently disposed to push its opposition to the President to the utmost. It also states that the democratic members of Congress from Pennsylvania, who were at first disposed to support the Lecompton swindle, now waver.

MAKING MAPLE SUGAR IN JANUARY.—Some of the farmers in Michigan, deeming the present extraordinary weather for the season favorable to the running of sap, have recently tapped their maple trees to try the experiment, and succeeded in making quite a quantity of maple sugar? The fruit trees budding in New England—the rivers and lakes navigable in the West—making maple sugar in Michigan! Does the oldest inhabitant' remember the like occuring before?

☞ The Manchester American says, a New Hampshire man who reached here yesterday afternoon after two years residence in Iowa, announces the times as exceedingly hard among the cabins of the western settlers, and gives us a catalogue of social and domestic comforts and discomforts out west, which leads us to give up the idea of moving west the coming Spring. If our young farmers and mechanics would lay up their money instead of spending it,—if they would adopt the same standard of living which is now from necessity used in new States, they would grow rich at home, amid churches, schools, and old friends.

SPRINGFIELD, MASS.—The proprietor of the Eagle Hotel, Springfield, Mr. J. O. Morton, was recently convicted of being a common seller of liquor, but appealed to the criminal term of the Common Pleas Court. One of the witnesses was very absent-minded at the time of the trial, although he could distinctly remember a few days before of purchasing liquor there, i. e. he lied. His name was Barber. But the government proved the complaint without this witness. The owner of the Hotel is supposed to be John Harris, one of the assistant Marshals, and the son of one of the Aldermen. This is the first case since "instructions" were issued to the police.

☞ Daily Chronicle of Wednesday, Jan. 27th, wanted, to complete a file.

☞ The Fredericksburg Recorder says that Gov. Wise "is now preparing a second and more elaborate expose of his views" on the Kansas question, than that embraced in his letter to the Tammany Society of New York.

On this, the Portsmouth, Va., Transcript says:—

We trust our cotemporary is not mistaken in this assertion, as Gov. Wise stands at this time in a very unenviable political attitude. The Black Republican prints are using his Tammany letter as conclusive evidence against the justice and validity of the Lecompton Constitution.

☞ California papers state that C. C. Lyons, R. Poore and D. McCauly, were hung for murder at Sonora, on the 11th. The scenes enacted at the scaffold, as well as after the execution, were absolutely sickening. The culprits had been plied with liquor until they were too drunk to speak coherently, or stand without assistance, and in this state hung. Poore confessed to the murder of eight Mexicans and three Chinamen in that State since 1850.

THE FISHING BOUNTIES.—Referring to the proposed repeal of the fishing bounties, the Newburyport Herald remarks:—

"The influence of the bounties on the fishing business is abundantly illustrated by the experience of this town. It is nearly thirty years since they were virtually abolished here. Not more than one-fifth of the owners or commanders of vessels think to apply for the bounty, in consequence of the strict construction put upon the laws, though the vessels owned here would generally receive the bounty at other ports. The consequence is that the business has not paid its way. In the last year, we doubt whether all their receipts would more than pay their expenditures; and under these circumstances the fleet has gradually fallen off, until it is not more than one-third now what it was twenty-five years ago; and looking forward, we can see that the business will be entirely abandoned before many years; On the other hand, where the bounty has been paid, as in Gloucester and the ports on Cape Cod, the fisheries have increased"

☞ The Banner says that Bishop Burgess has stirred up quite a feeling in Gardiner by a discourse against the New Church. That paper says there are some twenty or thirty families of the New Church in that city, and "they are among the worthiest and best of the people."—The Bishop is represented to have said that "Swedenborg would have been a blasphemer if he had not been a monomania."

VERMONT STATE TEMPERANCE CONVENTION.—The last Annual Meeting of the Vermont State Temperance Convention was appointed at Northfield on Wednesday, the 20th inst., at 10 o'clock A. M. John W. Hawkins, of Baltimore made an address on Tuesday evening preceding. The Vermont Central and the Vermont and Canada Railroads charged fair for only one way to those attening the Convention.

CONGRESS.—On Thursday, in the Senate, the army bill was debated; and the House discussed Kansas matters. Really and truly, Kansas and the administration, polygamy and slavery are almost constantly debated in both.—The finances must come in for debate and action, before long.

☞ Late advices from the department of Gracia, Honduras, state that the cholera has carried off a large number of victims—5,000 persons having died. The greater part of these were attacked after the opening of the graves of some persons who died of cholera about twenty years ago.

☞ A Washington letter writer says:

I learn that Mr. Cobb has removed one of his clerks from the Treasury Department at the instance of Fitch and Bright, (the two persons from Indiana who intrude themselves into the Senate every day without the authority of law,) because he employed his leisure hours, his own time, in directing Douglas's speeches for members of Congress. Comment is unnecessary.

☞ The people of Boston learn with regret that the ship Oxford, from Leghorn, with the statue of Daniel Webster on board, was abandoned at sea in November. The captain and crew were rescued, and taken to Gibraltar by the ship Mary and Martha.

☞ Although the coal of Western Virginia is almost inexhaustible, and can be mined for two cents a bushel, large quantities are imported from Pennsylvania—Virginia "enterprise" being all directed to the negro trade.

☞ Some fools think that the biggest newspaper is always the best. Wise people these—about as wise as the fellow who turned up his nose at a common sized woman, and bragged that he meant to have a bigger wife than any man within two hundred miles.

☞ The equestrian statue of Washington was raised to the top of the monument at Portsmouth, Va., on Thursday.

☞ In 1857, there were 639,487 tons of coal shipped from the mining districts, less than in 1856; but the mild weather, and the suspension of many manufacturing companies, have made up for the deficiency.

LOCAL.

THE ORIGINAL PERHAM TROUPE.—This company, whose reputation as gentlemen and performers is unequalled by any travelling company throughout the Eastern States, have been regaling our citizens during the past two evenings, with their inimitable entertainments. They have been very well patronized, and we bespeak for them a generous support wherever they may go.—Newburyport Herald.

The Original Perham Troupe perform again at the Temple to-night, at the reduced price of fifteen cents admission.—They are worth hearing, and now is the time.

A BIG HOG.—On Thursday last, Mr. A. K. Warren of this city, killed a hog which weighed seven hundred and thirty pounds dressed. We think this hard to beat.

NEW WASHINGTONIAN MOVEMENT.—A new movement has been lately commenced at Cincinnati among the inebriates. The papers thus describe it: "A company of young men went into a drinking saloon in that city, and taking possession of the rumseller's inner room that they might enjoy themselves undisturbed, prepared 'to make a night of it.' They ordered their 'punches,' 'toddies,' &c. While these were prepared they began talking, and glided from gay and bantering remarks into a more serious strain. The feeling seemed to be awakened almost spontaneously and simultaneously in their minds that they were falling into bad habits, and would be ruined if they did not reform.—They discussed the truth of the Bible, the reality of a hereafter, the claims of God's law, and the consequences of disobeying it. In the mean time the liquor had come, but remained untasted on the table.

Finally, these eleven dissipated young men came to the conclusion to break off just then and there, and bound themselves together to help each other in the effort to lead a new life. They threw the liquor away, and drew up and signed the following pledge.

CINCINNATI, Dec. 15, '57.

We, the undersigned, solemnly pledge to each other, that hereafter, we will neither use profane language, drink any intoxicating liquors, nor be guilty of any conduct by thought, word, or deed, that may be in violation of God's commandments; and further that we will use all diligence to make our way to heaven."

They have agreed to meet every Sabbath evening for the pbrpose of comparing their views and experience, and strengthening each other in keeping this pledge.

EX-PRESIDENT PIERCE AND LADY.—It will gratify the numerous friends of Ex-President Pierce to learn that the steam-frigate Powhatan reached Madeira on the 27th December, with these distinguished persons on board, having made the passage from Norfolk in 16 days. The Powhatan had experienced a succession of head winds, with the exception of two or three days. General Pierce suffered no inconvenience from the voyage, but his estimable lady was not so fortunate, she having been compelled by sea-sickness to keep the cabin during the whole passage, with the exception of a day or two. The ship would be detained at Funchal only long enough to replenish her coal, when she would leave for Cape Town. All the officers and crew were in the best of health and spirits. —Washington Union.

MARRIAGE ANNULLED FOR INSANITY.—Supreme Judicial Court.—Cambridge.—Before Judge Bigelow. Charles Henry Hill, Billerica, by petition. The petitioner sets forth that he was married to his wife Emeline about five years ago, but subsequently discovered that she was insane at the time, and had been for some time previous; also that she had not since been restored to sanity. The Court was occupied a considerable time with the case, by adjournment, and finally decided that the petitioner's case was established, and a decree annulling the marriage was pronounced accordingly. Tappan Wentworth appointed guardian ad litem, by the Court, for Mrs. Hill. There are two children.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—(Tribune correspondence.)—Advices by letter and telegraph this morning to the administration, warrant the belief that the Free State party have carried everything in Kansas. A complaint is made by some Democratic parties against Calhoun for agreeing to give a certificate conditional upon investigation of the frauds authorized by the legislature, as surrendering virtually the whole result. In other quarters, it is alleged that the returns communicated through General Denver conclusively settle the election. Southern members of Congress acknowledge that all is lost.

Mr. Douglas in the Senate to-day tried to have the bill for the admission of Minnesota considered, and at that period the Senate adjourned till Monday by a two-thirds majority.

☞ The telegraph reports that Calhoun has determined to give certificates to the Democratic candidates who were defeated on the 4th inst. Ex-Secretary Stanton, who has just reached Washington, says that if Calhoun does this, he must keep the Missouri side of the river.

☞ Vice stings us even in our pleasures, but virtue consoles us even in our pains.

HOUSE AND HOME.

The Christian Era contains a controversy between two correspondents, on amusements. One of them advocates card-playing, as a home amusement for children, and thinks it does not necessarily or probably lead to gambling. The other takes the opposite ground. He says:

I do belive that children need some amusement at the fireside. Our children need it. The young men and women need it. Perhaps I may not be able to say what is best. But I think that, first of all, home should be made attractive. Let parents do all they can to make home happy: the place which our children love more than any other. I would say to parents, make homes for your children. Let the whole house be theirs: garret, cellar, kitchen, parlor, and all. Let them be for your children—not for company on Thanksgiving day or Fourth of July—but let your children live in your house—all of it. Let them play, laugh, romp, it may be. Better have a broken chair than a broken character. Better have a torn and soiled carpet than a ruined son or a God-forsaken daughter. There are many innocent plays —"blindman's buff"—old, but good. It will strengthen the lungs, and put muscle on the bones, which all the card-playing in the world will not do; and there are many other innocent plays, with which we are all acquainted.

I have generally noticed that where there is an instrument of music in a family, the family is better and happier than those where there is not one; though I know some good exceptions to this rule.—But almost all children and youth love music, and will stay where it is, especially if it is their own. I think that a good instrument of music in any family where there are children, will pay for itself, and compound interest in the attractions which it gives to home. But make home attractive if you can. Adorn your walls with engravings; it will cost but a few dollars, and let the father and mother, the older sons and daughters, be children again, sometimes joining in these really harmless old-fashioned home amusements, which have no tendency to evil. Let the merry laugh ring through parlor, hall and chamber, and home will be attractive.—Then if the minister should call, let him have a welcome, for he can ask a blessing on these recreative amusements,—which I think he would not wish to do on card-playing—and if he will not join in them, the sooner he were a child again the better.

SUCCESS IN LIFE.—Henry Ward Beecher finely says in a late lecture:

To win success in life, it is not needful to do what we set out to do, or to succeed in the material part of life at all. All his worldly desires may be thwarted, and yet a man may succeed. A great element of success is for a man to have such a training as to use his external circumstances when propitious, and not to lose himself, while at the same time he does not break down under adversity. We may mark the progress of the world by this, that men who have attained wealth have employed it in these disastrous times to do the behests of their better nature. We were pleased to see a man standing on the pedestal of prosperity, and giving such noble witness of true manhood; but it was something greater than that to go down from worldly prosperity and exhibit a Christian phase of character at the other extreme.—It is a great thing to stand with a perpetual equipoise of contentment. That is manhood, and that is success.

FROM KANSAS.—St. Louis, Jan. 28.—The Kansas correspondent of the Democrat says that the Territorial Legislature have decided not to give way for the Topeka Government, but to proceed to the enactment of an entire code of laws to supercede all laws passed prior to the special session of the Legislature. A protest to Congress against the Constitution has been published.

Colin Clarkson, with the Lecompton Constitution, left here this morning for Washington. Calhoun, Lecompt and Pote will probably reach here to-morow.

☞ Hon. Daniel Clark arrived at Manchester, on Wednesday night, having been notified on Monday of the serious illness of one of his family.

THE GREAT BEAUTIFIER

So long unsuccessfully sought,
FOUND AT LAST.

FOR IT RESTORES PERMANENTLY GRAY HAIR to its original color; covers luxuriantly the bald head; removes all dandruff, itching, and all scrofula, scald head and all eruptions;—makes the hair soft, healthy, and glossy, and will preserve it to any imaginable age; restores, as if by magic, all blotches, &c., from the face, and cures all neuralgia and nervous headache. See circular and the following.

DOVER, N. H., Feb 2, 1857.

Prof. O. J. Wood & Co.—Gents: Within a few days we have received so many orders and calls for Prof. O. J. Wood's Hair Restorative, that to-day we have compounded one gross to Boston by the quantity, (the 6 dozen you forwarded all being sold,) while we might order a quantity from you. Every bottle we have sold seems to have produced there a fine new customer, and the appreciation and patronage it receives from the most substantial and worthy citizens of our vicinity, fully convinces us that it is A MOST VALUABLE PREPARATION.

Send us as soon as may be one gross of $1 size; and one dozen of $2 size, by express very rapidly.

DANIEL LATHROP & CO.

Hickory Grove, St. Charles Co., Mo., 1856.

Prof. O. J. Wood—Dear Sir: Some time last summer we were induced to use some of your Hair Restorative, and its effects were so wonderful, we feel it our duty to you and the afflicted, to report it.

Our little son's head for some time had been perfectly covered with tetter, which we called it scald head. The hair almost entirely came off in consequence, when a friend, seeing his sufferings, advised us to use your Restorative, we did so with little hope of success, but to our surprise and that of all our friends, a very few applications removed the disease entirely, and a new and luxuriant crop of hair soon started out, and we can now say that our boy has as healthy a scalp, and as luxuriant a crop of hair as any other child. We can therefore, and do hereby recommend your Restorative, as a perfect remedy for all diseases of the scalp and hair. We are, yours respectfully,

GEORGE W. HIGGINBOTHAM,
SARAH J. HIGGINBOTHAM.

GARDINER, Me., June 22, 1855.

Prof. O. J. Wood—Dear Sir: I have used two bottles of Professor Wood's Hair Restorative, and can truly say it is the greatest discovery of the age for restoring and changing the Hair. Before using it I was a man of seventy. My hair has now attained its original color. You can recommend it to the world without the least fear, as my case was one of the worst kind.

Yours Respectfully,

O. J. WOOD & CO., 312 Broadway, N. Y., (in great N. Y. Wire Railing Establishment) and 114 Market street, St. Louis, Mo.

LOTTERIES.

THE Lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are chartered by the State of Georgia, and have sworn commissioners appointed to superintend their drawings, and certify that everything connected with the same is done in a strictly honorable manner. They offer to the public a fair opportunity for investment, the interests of parties at a distance being as well protected as if they were present. The Manager would respectfully call attention to the fact, that a lottery will be drawn every month throughout the year, all orders received being filled in the drawing next to take place after the same comes to hand. According to the whole one ticket in every ten must draw a prize. Tickets are $10; halves, $5; quarters, $2.50. No tickets sent unless the money accompanies the order. The drawings are upon the principle of so number one each ticket, and are so simple that none can fail to understand them. There is no combination of numbers to mystify the buyer. Prizes range from $20 to $70,000; every prize being drawn, and result of drawing forwarded to all purchasers.

☞ A list of the numbers that are drawn from the wheel, with the ticket and drawing that the ticket is entitled to, will be published after every drawing, in the following papers:—New Orleans Delta, Mobile Register, Charleston Mercury, Louisville Courier, Atlanta Intelligencer, and New York Weekly Day Book. Write your address plainly, and direct to S. SWAN & Co., Augusta, Georgia

Prizes paid in full—no percentage deducted from prizes as other lotteries do.

LOTTERIES.

The well-known Maryland Consolidated Lotteries, of which R. French & Co. are the managers, are chartered by the state of Maryland, and a commissioner elected by the people, who is sworn to faithfully superintend and certify that everything connected with them is done in a strictly honorable manner, and that the interests of parties who reside at a distance are as well protected as if they themselves were present at the drawing. Another fact which the managers call attention to, is, that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Maryland, as lotteries are legalized by special law in that state. A lottery is drawn every day of the month. If no particular class is named, orders are filled in the first drawing to take place after the communication comes to hand. The prices of tickets vary from $1 to $20. No tickets are, however, sent unless the money for the same is received in advance. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket (after the Havana plan), and Tertary combinations. Prizes vary in amount from $20 to $100 000. All orders for tickets or packages will receive prompt attention, and the drawing mailed to all purchasers immediately after it is over.

☞ The drawn numbers of the Maryland Lotteries are published by the State Commissioner in the following papers, viz: Sun, Clipper, Patriot, American, Argus, of Baltimore; also, the National Intelligencer and Union, of Washington, D.C.

—MANUFACTURERS OF—
Melodeons, Organ Melodeons,
—and—
PEDAL BASS MELODEONS,
No. 511 Washington St., Boston.

The first premium over all competitors, at the Fair of the Massachusetts Charitable Mechanic Association, of the National Fair, Washington, D. C., also at the Ohio State Fair, held at Columbus, Ohio, was awarded to these Manufacturers.

By means of a new method of Voicing, known only to themselves, they have succeeded in removing the harsh and buzzing sound which formerly disagreeable to the instrument, and combining the tones full, clear and organ like. The action is prompt and reliable, enabling the performer, to execute the most rapid music without blending the tones. The swell is arranged to give great expression.

THE PEDAL BASS MELODEONS,

Are designed particularly for Churches, Lodges, Halls, &c. It is arranged with two manuals, or banks of Keys, the lower set running an octave higher than the other, and may be used separately, and thus get in one case two distinct instruments; or by means of the coupler, the two banks of keys may be played at the same time by use of the front set only. This connected with the Pedal bass, will produce the effect of a large organ, and is sufficiently heavy to fill a house that seats from 1000 to 1500 persons.

THE ORGAN MELODEON.

Is designed for parlor and private use. The construction is similar to the Church Instrument, being arranged with two banks of Keys, and when used together, by means of the coupler, is capable of as great volume of power as the Church Instrument when used without the manuals. Also, every variety of Melodeons for Parlor use.

Purchasers may rely upon instruments from our Manufactory, being made in the most complete and thorough manner. Having removed to the spacious Buildings

511 Washington Street,

We have every facility for manufacturing purposes, and employ none but the most experienced and skilful workmen. In short, we promise our customers an Instrument equal, if not superior, to any Manufacturer, and guarantee an entire and perfect satisfaction.

Music Teachers, Leaders of Choirs, and others interested in musical matters, are respectfully invited to visit our Rooms at any time and examine our Instruments on exhibition for sale at their pleasure.

As a still further guarantee to the public as to the excellence of the MELODEONS from our Manufactory, we may be bear leave to refer, by permission, to the following

This matter is worthy of special note, as it enables those who desire a fair test of the instruments before purchasing, to obtain it at the expense of the Manufacturer, to the extent at least of a year's rent.

Orders from any part of the country or world, sent direct to the manufactory in Boston, with cash, or satisfactory reference, will be promptly attended to, and as faithfully executed as if the parties were present, or employed an agent to select, and on as reasonable terms.

Obadiah's Politics.—Messrs. Editors: As you wish to know something about the "Rev. Obadiah Smith" of Fremont, who was committed to jail, &c.,—and as the Patriot has published him as a "Kansas shrieker," thus insinuating that he belongs to the Republican party, a short history of him may not be amiss. The first that was known of him in this vicinity was in the '43 excitement, when he was a Second Advent preacher. We heard but little more of him, only that he was a common drunkard, until the spring of 1855. At that time there was a small party split off from one of the religious societies here, because their minister voted for liberty as he understood it. Soon a meeting was started, and said Smith was engaged as their preacher.

That he was a "political preacher" then we have no reason to doubt, for he was praised by his followers as the best preacher that ever was in town, and it is believed that no man attended his meeting but loved to worship Bacchus, and was a true "democrat." Soon that meeting went down, and for the past two years he has been sinking lower and lower, until last spring he was supported by the Democrats of Fremont for Selectman, receiving nearly all their strength; since that time he has been drinking and abusing his family, until it ended in the disgraceful crime for which he has been committed to jail. He never was ordained, nor received license to preach from any denomination.

A Lover of Truth.

Raymond, Jan. 26, 1858.

The above communication, from a responsible source, fully settles the "Rev." Obadiah's political standing.

A Decided Opinion.—Rev. George E. Fisher, recently dismissed by council from the pastorate of the Congregational church at North Amherst, says the Salem Gazette, preached a farewell sermon on the 10th, in which he expressed his opinion of the opposition which had procured his dismission, with perfect freedom. The tone and temper with which the reverend gentleman come down upon his enemies, may be judged from this sentence of his sermon, which is all alive with the same vigorous style of speech:—

It was an opposition conceived in sin, brought forth in iniquity, increased by ignorance, fed by envy, fostered by jealousy, promoted by pride, fanned by disappointed ambition, continued in malice, encouraged by timidity, strengthened by the unexpected yielding of good men, perpetuated in stubbornness, and triumphant in self-will and wickedness.

Making Voters. — The Manchester American of Thursday says:—

The work of naturalization goes on briskly in the Court—quite a number presenting themselves each day. The number thus far in made voters is said to be about three hundred. We learn that a crowd who were naturalized to-day, were former inmates of the State Prison. B. B. Bunker & Co. have manufactured about two hundred new voters, who have received their full papers. About one hundred and eighty of this number are from this city. The others are from Nashua, Bedford and Hooksett. One-half at least, are spurious and never should have received their papers.

The N. H. Gazette, after quoting from the Manchester Mirror the statement "that some 150 foreigners have been naturalized by the Supreme Judicial Court at its present session in that city," adds this remark:

Glad to hear it; we know of no better purpose to which Hindoo Courts can be put than to make them instrumental in strengthening the Democracy in the method above mentioned.

☞ Postage on the Weekly Chronicle, anywhere else in Rockingham County, free,—any where else in New Hampshire, thirteen cents a year and no more,—out of the State twenty-six cents. We state this for the information of a certain Post Master in the State who has charged and received more in some cases. If he will read the law and his instructions, he will see his error.

Rapid Growth of a Southern City.—A writer in the Knickerbocker says that a three-story house was built in Norfolk, Va., last summer, and there is talk of constructing another next spring. Mr. Jefferson once thought Norfolk would successfully compete with New York as a commercial city.

☞ Only those who have suffered all the miseries of Dyspepsia in its various forms, can appreciate the value of a medicine that will cure this disease. To all who would find a remedy we say, try the Oxygenated Bitters.

☞ An infant was accidentally smothered to death by its mother lying on it one night last week, in Newark, N. J.

INSANITY.—The following statistics show that insanity exists in all countries in the ratio of drunkenness:—In Holland and Belgium the consumption of intoxicating drinks is two gallons to every individual, and there is one lunatic to every 3000 of the people; in France, the consumption is five gallons to every individual, and there is one lunatic to every 600 of the people; in Normandy, three and a half gallons of intoxicating drinks are consumed by each individual, and there is one lunatic to every 750 of the people; in America, three gallons are consumed by each, and there is a lunatic to every 800 of the people; in Scotland, four gallons are consumed by each, and there is a lunatic to every 679 of the people; in Ireland, there are five and a half gallons consumed by every man, woman and child, at least that amount in proportion to population, and there is in that country one lunatic to every 550 of the people.

NAVAL.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—The Navy Department has advices of the 25th November from Com. Armstrong of the Chinese Squadron. Many foreign officers who had visited the Minnesota pronounced her the most formidable vessel of war in the world. Com. Armstrong says that the coal at the depot at Hong Kong is almost worthless for a war steamer.

Dispatches dated Honolulu, have been received from Commander Davis of sloop-of-war St. Mary's. Since the last advices from him over one hundred American vessels anchored in that harbor, having property on board estimated at $20,000,000.

Lieut. Haven, in command of the Atrato Surveying Expedition, writes to the department from Camp Toucey on the Truando river, under date 5th inst., stating that he had arrived at a point 35 miles of the Pacific, and expected to reach the ocean by the middle of this month. He was engaged in discharging his provisions, and had sent to Carthagena for new supplies. He complains that the axes furnished by the Bureau of Construction have proved so miserable as to considerably delay the party in cutting their way through the forests.

Two million dollars in Treasury notes were to-day paid to mail contractors.

ANSWER to Enigma in Chronicle, Jan 29.

What word than HEAVEN, be it long or short,
Offers more blessings—can more good import?
And if from Heaven we take away the N,
The "earthquake's HEAVE" is all that's left us then.
From that fair Heaven our primal mother came,
Those 'three small letters' will express her name.
If we from Heaven the first two letters take,
With what remains the church's NAVE' we make.
There still remains one word, and that is EVEN.
I think I've fully proved the answer—HEAVEN.

FEMINA.

☞ The Lewiston Advocate illustrates smoking by relating an incident which recently occurred in a neighboring town. A young gentleman just from New York city, who is addicted to indulgence in cigars, while riding with a damsel of Freeport, from that town to South Durham, having consumed his "regalia," threw the stump over his shoulder, when it fell upon a bandbox in the back part of the wagon, and soon burned through the cover and destroyed about sixty dollars' worth of wearing apparel, belonging to the lady.—Owing to the direction in which the wind was blowing, they did not discover the mischief until the horse had occasion to walk.

☞ The St. Croix Herald says that the lumbering operations on that river, the present season, are larger than is generally supposed. There are probably not less than 400 teams and 2500 men employed in the several lumbering districts. The season thus far has not been very propitious for the business, owing to the scarcity of snow, but this will not materially affect the general operations. The prospects of a very mild winter lead to the belief that there will be an early resumption of business in the saw-mills, either during the last week in March or the commencement of April.

☞ In Middletown, Conn., one day last week, the farmers came in with gifts for the poor, and soon after 11 o'clock there was in the street a long and noble array of one hundred and twenty-eight yoke of oxen, and three horse teams, loaded with wood and provisions.

☞ William Hamilton, one of a serenading party who were annoying R. N. Pierce and wife upon their nuptial night, in Whitewater, Wisconsin, was shot dead by the bridegroom.

Coggswell's Medical Salt,
A PERFECT SUBSTITUTE
FOR THE
LANCET, LEECHES AND BLISTERS.
INSTEAD of being a panacea for all maladies, it has control over but ONE MALADY—has but ONE AIM—accomplishes but ONE THING, to wit: SUBDUES INFLAMMATORY DISEASE—whatever be its form or locality—whether in the head, throat, chest, abdomen, extremities or skin. Every form of inflammation (but no other disease) is subdued, by it as easily as fire is extinguished by water. Is it asked, how it does this?—simply by restoring the lost balance between the fluids and solids. Such is its potency, that like vaccine matter, it requires merely what adheres to the point of a quill dipped into a solution of it, to affect the entire system.
☞ Of its intrinsic value, the enlightened community, and not the discovery, must be the judge.

Cold Winter is Coming on.
AND with it will return the usual concomitants, Coughs, Colds, Dyspepsia, Scorbutic Eruptions, Sick Headache, Rheumatism, Tetter, Ring Worm, &c., which the genial warmth of summer and free perspiration has, for a time relieved, but which the return of rigid, cheerless winter, will bring back, unless resisted by some medicamentum.
MYER'S EXTRACT OF ROCK ROSE,
is peculiarly applicable, and if freely used will not fail to protect the constitution against the sudden and extreme changes of our variable climate. It purifies the blood, strengthens the stomach, and invigorates the whole system, thus fortifying against the insidious attacks of unusual frosts and debilitating heats. See Circulars.

Morning Chronicle.

MONDAY, FEBRUARY 1, 1858.

QUERY TO UNCLE TOBY.

Dear Unncle:—What are the public to understand by the political items which you copied into the Daily Chronicle of Saturday, from the N. H. Gazette of the same day? Do you approve of them, or believe them? Can you explain them?

Your nephew, QUERY.

THE ANSWER.

Uncle Toby is not sure that he can answer all these questions; but he will do his best to answer part of them.

If he has "got the hang" of the first item, on the State Debt, &c., the Gazette means, first that the Kansas and slavery issue is of no account in this election—but "only the local interests of the State," especially "Democratic prudence in the management of State Finances!"

Now, reader, stick a pin here, and then jump along to the next item, about Patrick Rafferty, the eloquent and illigant jintleman, who comes all the way from Ireland to wake up the five hundred Patricks and Michaels last naturalized, to the importance of voting the Democratic ticket in New Hampshire, next March.

Uncle Toby supposes, by putting these two things together, we are to understand that Patrick Rafferty and these other Pats understand all about New Hampshire finances, and local interests and corporations!

They, of all the men in the country, sure, ought to know about the State Prison, the "palace for criminals and prostitutes," the county jails, the alms houses, and the police and criminal courts.

Every body who can see through a millstone, can see a fitness of things, in a wild Irishman, just caught, and never taught, holding the balance of power to settle the finances of the State! This the "only" issue—and this to be decided by the bogus voters fresh from the bogs, swearing to support a constitution they cannot read, and of whose provisions they have about as much idea as a dirt shovel has of a steam engine.

But does Uncle Toby believe this statement? or approve it? Not quite. He sees in Kansas, as he has seen for years, a struggle between liberty and slavery, between republican freedom and despotism; he sees a similar struggle in Washington, and another is taking place in New Hampshire. If, on the 10th of March, Gov. Haile is re-elected by a large majority, and the ticket with him—the result will be claimed in Washington as a Republican victory, and the free State men there and in Kansas will rejoice at it. But if Mr. Cate and his ticket should prevail, the Lecomptes and Catos, the Washington Union and the Charleston Mercury, the organs of pro-slavery, will rejoice, as well they may.

This is our view of the case; and with one very brief extract we will show it to be the real view of the Gazette also. For that paper says:

If they [the people of New Hampshire] prefer that our State should continue isolated from the national government, and deprived of those advantages which a factious abolition State cannot demand at the hands of a national Democratic administration"—&c.

So there is some other issue, besides democratic economy, viz., slavery and freedom—and Mr. Patrick Rafferty comes to save the Union and keep New Hampshire in it, by his Irish brigade of miners and sappers.

FROM SANTA FE.—The Platte Argus of the 22d announces the arrival at Weston of Mr. Davidson, with advices from the Utah expedition to Dec. 14th. The troops were engaged in making themselves comfortable for the winter; their health was good. There is no news from Captain Marcy, who was dispatched to New Mexico for salt. Lieut. Beal, 10th Infantry, had been placed in command of the volunteer companies, and was engaged in drilling them. Mr. Davidson reports no snow east of Fort Laramie, and that there was plenty of grass and buffalo. He met three army mails, and a train taking salt from Fort Laramie to the camp.

☞ On Sunday, in Baltimore, as Mrs. Herman was sitting in the back parlor window, a white turtle-dove, with a dark ring around its neck, flew in and lit upon her head; the next morning, while attending rehearsal at the Holiday street Theatre, she received the painful news of her husband's death, who died of heart disease, about or near the time the dove made its appearance. She was immediately thrown into convulsions, and had to be carried home.

☞ The yellow fever was quite prevalent at Port au Prince on the 6th instant.

SHALL WE TURN SKATERS?

"I can traverse the snow on skates of wood," was the proud boast of the old Norse hero Kolson. The nation of the north are especially impelled by fierce passions and an over-active vitality. The cloak of civilization has indeed partially concealed the wild riot of their nature, but through the vent-hole of passion some vivacity and fire is still perceivable. The exuberance of power, in the early day when every man's life was an epopee, spent itself in deeds of physical prowress. Then it was that the keen-edged sword of Mimer sundered at one stroke the proof steel of its foeman's armor. Gradually the inherent force divided, and found another outlet in the intellect. But civilization corrupts as it creates. The healthy tones of a Shakspeare degenerated into the querulous repinings of a Byron; the manly sports of good queen Bess, to the sedentary amusements of a more effeminate age.

What, then, is the physical frame of the American Anglo-Saxon to-day? In comparison with the sturdy manhood of our Saxon and Norman ancestors—the shadow of a shade! The glory has departed! We have indeed the stature, "the blond hair, the ruddy cheek," but alas! not "the eternal youth." Like the blackened mummies of Egypt, the vitality, the elasticity of our nature is no more. Perhaps our language is too strong; the power exists, but latent. It is one step toward return, to know that we need rejuvenating. For the rest, the Gods help those who help themselves.

Reasonably, we ought to be in advance of our transatlantic relations. The Puritan, in the change of climate and habits, ought to have acquired additional life. But the soil was hard—it exhausted even as it restored. The chief cause of the present low ebb of the physical power, lies in the habit of mind. We mature too early. Too much mental as well as physical exertion injures, and in the reaction destroys. The true remedy lies in the mingling of employment. The divine mandate must be obeyed. The mental must be offset by the physical.

In the present state of unnatural health, we hail the slightest change with hopeful joy. The heart of England pulsates anew from even the attempts of such men as Dickens and Kingsley, to bring back the old youth. When will America awake from her golden dreams?

In lieu of any other amusement suitable for the purpose in hand, we would heartily commend skating. Perhaps, no pastime offers more inducements to one of sedentary habits. From its nature it gives the freest scope to every limb—to every muscle legitimate action. It cultivates a certain ease and firmness of manner. There is a species of independence which one feels as he glides along the ice. Then the air is so pure and invigorating. One bathes in a nectar more glorious than did Clarence; and, better than he, comes forth with a renewed mortal life.

It is a token of growing healthiness in public sentiment, that many of the fairer sex have of late participated. It were well if more were added to the list—the approach to the wash-tub would be so delicate,—a kind of compromise with nature. If the ladies would manifest a little of that independence in dress, which they exhibit in other particulars; and by donning the bloomer habit—calling it skating-dress or anything they please—thus relieve the eye from the resemblance to a vast moving haystack, we think the most crabbed precisian would allow that the change were favorable. But already we have expanded our theme to an unexpected length. We would close with the honest hope that there may be found some who know that life is not altogether for the present, and that we owe an high duty to posterity in the bequest of a renovated physical nature—the alter Tiphys of a new era. K.

☞ The funeral of Emily Gardiner, late teacher in one of the primary schools in Roxbury, Mass., took place on the 14th. The circumstances attending the death of this young lady were of a peculiarly painful character. She came before the school committee a short time since, at the request of several members, who wished to promote her from the office of teacher in the primary school to the grammar school. Of an exceedingly nervous organization, she was so sensibly affected by the examination as to become insane, and died from the effect of an over-excited mentality.

☞ In the Supreme Court at Manchester, on Wednesday, as we learn from the American, Ebenezer Clark was found guilty, in a liquor case. The three persons found guilty on Tuesday of selling liquor, were fined $50 each, with costs averaging $24 each. Dennis Cochran, not raising the money, was sent to Amherst Jail.

WASHINGTON, J[illegible] N.Y. Herald Correspondence.(Extract.)—[illegible] of Democratic Senators will be held in [illegible]ante-room of the Senate on Monday evening next for the purpose of consultation. Lecompton and Minnesota will be merged together, and put through under the whip and spur. This is the present programme.

(Times Correspondence.) Private despatches received here state positively that Calhoun has backed out of his rejection of the returns sent to Governor Denver.

The administration concedes that the Pennsylvania Legislature will vote against the Lecompton Constitution if the direct question is reached, but their friends design to smother the resolutions in the select committee to which they are referred.

In the House, nineteen Northern Democrats are considered certain against Lecompton, with seven probably in addition.

I understand that it is in evidence before the Committee of Investigation, that a member of Congress proposed to furnish twenty-five votes for that measure, on condition that $25,000 should be placed in the hands of a certain New York editor.

The Fort Snelling investigation seems likely to show that the job was the consideration on which the money was raised by the celebrated New York Hotel Committee to carry Pennsylvania for Buchanan.

(Tribune Correspondence.) Senator Sumner writes from Boston that his health has so much improved that he will be here in time to vote upon the Army Bill.

The Douglas Democrats are exerting themselves to retrieve their losses and strengthen their position. The States, which has become the Douglas organ, has a long and significant article on Lecompton this evening. It declares that no Democratic Senator or member of Congress from a Northern State could face his constituents if he were to vote for its acceptance. It also says that it will drive out of Congress the northern Democratic Senators and Representatives who would stand by the South in bringing in Arizona as a slave State, or in securing to us Cuba, Nicaragua or Mexico.

☞ The lady who is expected to make Mr. Fillmore "the happiest of men" on the 11th of February next, is a Mrs. McIntosh, a woman distinguished for a variety of charms, solid as well as transitory. Her former husband made a fortune in the crockery business in Albany, and was President of the Albany and Schenectady Railroad during the last three years preceding the consolidation.

CONGRESS.—The Senate was not in session on Friday. The House spent the day in debate on the Printing deficiency bill.

NEW HAVEN, Jan. 30.—Tuckerman this morning waived further examination, and was bound over in the sum of $20,000 for trial on the fourth of Tuesday of February.

Old and young are now indiscriminately using Prof. Wood's Hair Restorative; some as a cosmetic or beautifier of the complexion, some to prevent the hair falling, some as a mere dressing of the hair, and others to make it grow and to change grey hair to its original color; and there is no doubt of its answering all the purposes for which it was designed by its illustrious inventor.

We are utterly averse to encurring editorial responsibility in trifling matters, but as we deem it no trifling matter to have the hair on a man's head (when permanently falling off) actually and permanently restored, so neither do we consider it unworthy the editorial profession to recommend a Hair Restorative that will effect this very thing. Wood's celebrated "Hair Restorative" is the article we have in view, and if the certificates of the most distinguished men in the country are entitled to credence then is this preparation all that is claimed of it on the part of its propietor. See extracts from the Missouri Republican in the special notice column of this paper.—Rahway American. Sold by all good Druggists.

Creating such a stir among invalids as Dr. Sanford's Invigorator or Liver Remedy. It gives such quick relief as to convince the patient of receiving benefit almost as soon as the medicine is taken. THE CHRONICLE.—With this morning's paper commences the twelfth (half-yearly) volume of the Daily Chronicle. It is by such occasional marks on the road-side of life, that we are made aware how fast time flies. It seems but yesterday that we issued our prospectus—and it appears hardly possible that we have actually printed upwards of sixteen hundred and fifty (1650) successive numbers of our Daily, besides 265 of the Weekly. As each day's issue costs from $10 to $20, it will be seen that we must have been favored with comparatively a large patronage, in order to succeed in our enterprise. We will only say, for our own satisfaction and that of our friends, that our prospects were never before so good as now; and that while we always regarded the Chronicle as an "institution" from the start—yet we are continually strengthening our position, so as to give less occasion for doubt to those who wish us well, and less hope to those who wish us ill, (if any such there be.)

The present is a favorable time to subscribe for the Chronicle. If all our readers were subscribers, our list (of which we have no complaint to make) would be lengthened considerably.

ODION'S BUILDING PROTECTOR.—An invention for protecting buildings in times of fires,—just patented by Mr. Thomas Odion of this city, was exhibited (per model) at the late Firemen's Fair, by Mr. S. L. Russell. It consists of a series of sheets of boiler iron, hinged together to the dimensions of thirty feet square—rolled on a large cylinder, and drawn on two pair of wheels—the sheet or Protector to be unrolled and raised aloft in sections of ten feet, on iron rods or poles of that length when needed. The wheels may be run in between houses where there is a space of seven feet; and a sheet thirty feet square will protect most wooden houses—though of course they can be made as large as desired. We learn one of these Protectors has just been completed by John Dame.—The cost, we think, is about $1000. The weight of a Protector, with the carriage, is about 4500 lbs.,—about the same as one of our fire engines, if memory serves us.—Four men can hoist it.

Of course the object of these Protectors is, to keep fire from spreading from house to house—and also to save houses next that which may be on fire, from being scorched or smoked. With three of these machines (which is regarded as about a fair complement for a city like Portsmouth) a house on fire could be covered on three sides, so as to be almost as secure from damaging other property, as a fire in any chimney-corner.

PICTURES.—To look round the Daguerrian Saloons of the city, now and then, is pleasant.

At the old stand of Mr. Albert Gregory, on Congress street, will always be found a large gallery of fine portraits taken in all styles of the art. Mr. Gregory has also a few copies of the lithographic picture of the splendid triumphal Arch erected in Market Street, on the occasion of the reception of the "Sons" in 1853—the equal of which has rarely been seen, anywhere,—and a copy of which picture ought to be in every house.

Mr. Salon, the sunny-tempered Frenchman, who must receive a double share of sunshine into his soul, to keep him always in such good humor—has a very nice Saloon built out of Congress Block, and will furnish a picture to suit any taste and any pocket, almost as quick as you can think.

Mr. Davis, also, has fine rooms in Daniel street,—where beside a large collection of pictures, he has a good piano for the entertainment of visitors,—who may be sure of the most gentlemanly reception, and a shadow at least as good looking as themselves.

SEWING MACHINES.—The No Plus Ultra Sewing Machine, advertised this morning, we know to be a very efficient and desirable article of furniture in a household—capable of doing as much work as half a room-full of sempstresses; and doing it well, too. After having one "at home" for several days—we are authorized to declare it "first rate." Most of the work done in all sewing-machines, must be basted—and an operator of one of these machines, can keep several busy in preparing work.

A Sewing Machine is a neat ornament for any room: and as an investment, we know of nothing that will pay better.—These low-priced Machines are said, by mechanics who ought to be competent judges,—to be fully equal to those Machines which bring three or four times the price asked for these. They are worthy of examination and trial.

DESTRUCTIVE FIRE IN KITTERY.—On Saturday evening, a large wooden house, containing six tenements, owned by Mr. John L. Lawrence, situated near the meeting-house at Kittery Point, was totally destroyed by fire. The fire caught on the roof from a spark which escaped from the chimney, and was discovered at about 7 o'clock.

GOOD EXAMPLE FOR THIS AND OTHER CITIES.—The entire police corps of the city of Petersburg, Va., have joined the Sons of Temperance.

S. D. & H. W. Smith,
—MANUFACTURERS OF—
Melodeons, Organ Melodeons,
—and—
PEDAL BASS MELODEONS.
No. 511 Washington St., Boston.

The first premium over all competitors, at the Fair of the Mass. Charitable Mechanic Association, of the National Fair, Washington, D. C., also at the Ohio State Fair, held at Columbus, Ohio, was awarded to these Manufacturers.

By means of a new method of Voicing, known only to themselves, they have succeeded in removing the harsh and buzzing sound which formerly characterized the instrument, and rendering the tones full, clear and organ like. The action is prompt and reliable, enabling the performer to execute the most rapid music without blurring the tones. The swell is arranged to give great expression.

THE PEDAL BASS MELODEONS,

Are designed particularly for Churches, Lodges, Halls, &c. It is arranged with two manuals, or banks of Keys, the lower set running an octave higher than the other, and may be used separately, and thus get in one case two distinct instruments; or by use of the coupler, the two banks of keys may be played at the same time by use of the front set only. This connected with the Pedal Bass, will produce the effect of a large organ, and is sufficiently heavy to fill a house that seats from 1000 to 1500 persons.

THE ORGAN MELODEON

Is designed for parlor and private use. The construction is similar to the Church Instrument, being arranged with two banks of Keys, and when used together, by means of the coupler, is capable of as great volume of power as the Church Instrument when used without the pedals. Also, every variety of MELODEONS for Parlor use.

Purchasers may rely upon instruments from our Manufactory, being made in the most complete and thorough manner. Having removed to the spacious Buildings

511 Washington Street,

We have every facility for manufacturing purposes, and employ none but the most experienced and skilful workmen. In short, we will promise our customers an Instrument equal, if not superior, to any Manufacturer, and guarantee an entire and perfect satisfaction.

Music Teachers, Leaders of Choirs, and others interested in musical matters, are respectfully invited to visit our Rooms at any time and examine or test the instruments on exhibition for sale at their pleasure.

As a still further guarantee to the public as to the excellence of the MELODEONS from our Manufactory, we beg leave to refer, by permission, to the following

Piano Forte Manufacturers of Boston, who have examined our Instruments, and will give their opinion when called upon:
Chickering & Sons, Hallett & Cumston,
T. Gilbert & Co., Wm. P. Emerson,
Brown & Allen, A. W. Ladd & Co.,
George Hewes, Woodward & Brown,
Newhall & Co.

MELODEONS RENTED.

Persons who wish to hire Melodeons with a view of purchasing at the end of the year, can have the rent credited as part payment of the purchase money. This matter is worthy of special note, as it enables those who desire a fair test of the instruments before purchasing, to obtain it at the expense of the manufacturers, to the extent at least of a year's rent.

Orders from any part of the country or world, sent direct to the manufactory in Boston, with cash, or satisfactory reference, will be promptly attended to, and as faithfully executed as if the parties were present, or employed an agent to select, and on as reasonable terms.

THE GREAT BEAUTIFIER
So long unsuccessfully sought,
FOUND AT LAST.

FOR IT RESTORES PERMANENTLY GRAY HAIR to its original color; covers luxuriantly the bald head; removes all dandruff, itching, and all scrofula, scald head and all eruptions; makes the hair soft, healthy, and glossy, and will preserve it by any imaginable age; removes, as if by magic, all blotches, &c., from the face, and cures all neuralgia and nervous headache. See circular and the following.

DOVER, N. H., Feb. 2, 1857.

Prof. O. J. Wood & Co.—Gents: Within a few days we have received so many orders and calls for Prof. O. J. Wood's Hair Restorative, that to-day we were compelled to send to Boston for a quantity, (the 6 dozen you forwarded all being sold,) while we might order a quantity from you. Every bottle we have sold seems to have produced three or four customers, and I feel the approbation and patronage it receives from the most substantial and worthy citizens of our vicinity, fully convinces me that it is A MOST VALUABLE PREPARATION.

Send us as soon as may be one gross of $1 size; and one dozen of $2 size; and oblige, yours truly, reply.

DANIEL LATHROP & Co.

Hickory Grove, St. Charles Co., Mo., 1856.

Prof. O. J. Wood—Dear Sir: Some time last summer we were induced to use some of your Hair Restorative, and its effects were so wonderful, we feel it our duty to you and the afflicted, to report it.

Our little son's head for some time had been perfectly covered with scurf, and some called it scald head. The hair almost entirely came off in consequence, when a friend, seeing his sufferings, advised me to use your Restorative, we did so with little hope of benefit, but to our surprise and that of all our friends, a very few applications removed the disease entirely, and a new and luxuriant crop of hair soon started and now we can now say that our boy has as healthy a scalp, and as luxuriant a crop of hair as any other child. We can therefore, and do hereby, recommend your Restorative, as perfectly safe for all diseases of the scalp and hair. We are, yours respectfully,

GEORGE W. HIGGINBOTHAM,
SARAH A. HIGGINBOTHAM,
GARDINER, Me., June 22, 1855.

Prof. O. J. Wood—Dear Sir: I have used two bottles of Professor Wood's Hair Restorative, and can truly say it is the greatest discovery of the age for restoring and changing the Hair. Before using it I was a man of seventy. My hair has now attained its original color. You can recommend it to the world without the least fear, as my case was one of the worst kind.

Yours Respectfully,

O. J. WOOD & CO., 312 Broadway, N. Y., (in great N. Y. Wire Railing Establishment) and 114 Market street, St. Louis, Mo.

LOTTERIES.

THE Lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are chartered by the State of Georgia, and have sworn commissioners appointed to conduct and shield their drawings, and certify that everything connected with the same is done in a strictly honorable manner. They offer to the public a fair opportunity for investment, the interests of parties at a distance being as well protected as if they were present. The Manager would respectfully call attention to the fact that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Georgia, as the lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are authorized by the Legislature of that State. A lottery will be drawn every Saturday throughout the year, and orders received being filled in the drawing next to take place after the same comes to hand. According to the scheme adopted, one ticket will must draw a prize. Tickets are $10; halves, $5; quarters, $2.50. No tickets sent unless the money accompanies the order. The drawings are upon the principle of the common Yankee ticket, that are so simple that none can fail to understand them. There is no combination of numbers to mystify the public. Prizes range from $50 to $70,000; every prize being drawn, and result of drawing forwarded to all purchasers

☞ A list of the numbers that are drawn from the wheel, with the amount each prize is entitled to, will be published after every drawing, in the following papers:—New Orleans Delta, Mobile Register, Charleston Mercury, Nashville Gazette, Atlanta Intelligencer, and New York Weekly Day Book. Write your address plainly, and direct to S. SWAN & Co., Augusta, Georgia

Prizes paid in full—no percentage deducted from prizes as in other lotteries.

LOTTERIES.

The well-known Maryland Consolidated Lotteries, of which R. FRENCH & Co are the managers, are chartered by the state of Maryland, and a commissioner elected by the people, who is sworn to perform his duties with the utmost fidelity connected with them is done in a strictly honorable manner, and that the interests of parties who reside at a distance are as well protected as if they were present at the drawing at the office. Another fact which the managers call attention to, is, that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets in Maryland, as the lotteries are legalized by special law in that state. A lottery will be drawn every day of the month. If no particular class is named, orders are filled in the first drawing to take place after the communication comes to hand. The prices of tickets vary from $1 to $20. No tickets are, however, sent unless the money for the same is received with the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket (after the Havana plan), and Ternary combinations. Prizes range from $50 to $100,000. All orders for tickets or packages will receive prompt attention, and the drawing mailed to all purchasers immediately after it is over.

☞ The drawn numbers of the Maryland Lotteries are published by the State Commissioner in the following papers, viz: Sun, Clipper, Patriot, American, Argus, of Baltimore; also, the National Intelligencer and Union, of Washington, D.C.

S. D. & H. W. Smith,
—MANUFACTURERS OF—
Melodeons, Organ Melodeons,
—and—
PEDAL BASS MELODEONS,
No. 511 Washington St., Boston.

The first premium over all competitors, at the Fair of the Mass. Charitable Mechanic Association, of the National Fair, Washington, D. C., also at the Ohio State Fair, held at Columbus, Ohio, was awarded to these Manufacturers.

By means of a new method of Voicing, known only to themselves, they have succeeded in removing the harsh and buzzing sound which formerly characterized this instrument, and rendering the tones full, clear and organ like. The action is prompt and reliable, enabling the performer to execute the most rapid music without blurring the tones. The swell is arranged to give great expression.

THE PEDAL BASS MELODEONS,

Are designed particularly for Churches, Lodges, Halls, &c. It is arranged with two manuals, or banks of keys, the lower set running an octave higher than the other, and may be used separately, and thus get in one case two distinct instruments; or by use of the coupler, the two banks of keys may be played at the same time by use of the front set only. This connected with the Pedal Bass, will produce the effect of a large organ, and is sufficiently heavy to fill a house that seats from 1000 to 1500 persons.

THE ORGAN MELODEON

Is designed for parlor and private use. The construction is similar to the Church Instrument, but furnished with two banks of Keys, but when used together, by means of the coupler, is capable of as great volume of power as the church instrument when used without the pedals. Also, every variety of MELODEONS for Parlor use.

Purchasers may rely upon Instruments from our Manufactory being made in the most complete and thorough manner. Having removed to the spacious Buildings

511 Washington Street,

We have every facility for manufacturing purposes, and employ none but the most experienced and skillful workmen. In short, we will promise our customers an Instrument equal, if not superior, to any Manufacturer, and guarantee its entire and perfect satisfaction.

Music Teachers, Leaders of Choirs, and others interested in musical matters, are respectfully invited to visit our Rooms at any time and examine our Instruments on exhibition for sale at their pleasure.

As a still further guarantee to the public as to the excellence of the MELODEONS from our establishment, we beg leave to refer, by permission, to the following

who have examined our Instruments, and will give their opinion when called upon.

This matter is worthy of special note, as it enables those who desire a first class instrument before purchasing, to obtain it at the expense of the manufacturers, to the extent at least of a year's rent.

Orders from any part of the country or world, sent direct to the manufactory in Boston, with cash, or satisfactory reference, will be promptly attended to, and as faithfully executed as if the parties were present, or employed an agent to select, and on as reasonable terms.

OHIO RESOLUTIONS.

In the U. S. House of Representatives, on Wednesday, Mr. Pugh presented the joint resolutions of the Ohio Legislature.

Mr. Wade declared that they were disreputable in their character.

At the impatient demand of several Senators, they were read. They expressed their entire confidence in the integrity and ability of the present Chief Magistrate, and say that the Administration commands their cordial and undivided support. They reaffirm the doctrines of the Cincinnati platform, and regard the refusal of the Lecompton Convention to submit the Constitution to the people as unfortunate for the peace of that country, and declare it to be their unalterable judgment that every Constitution of every new State of the Union, unless otherwise directed by the people, ought to be submitted bona fide to the electors of such Territory for approval or rejection; and conclude by instructing the Senators, and requesting Representatives of Ohio, to vote against the Lecompton Constitution, or any other not the clearly expressed will of the people.

Mr. Wade remarked that the reason why he stigmatized the resolutions as disreputable, was, that they did not speak out with that manly independence with which the Legislature of a sovereign State should always speak upon any question of sufficient importance for expressing any opinion at all. These resolutions endorse the President, and pledge themselves to support every jot and title of the Administration, when they intend to conclude by instructing their Senators to go against the only great and daring measure which the Administration has presented. Why not come directly to the question at issue, and with that calm dignity which becomes a sovereign State, declare their purpose and will? Why go crouching like miserable slaves to the Administration, and hypocritically declare that that they have the fullest confidence in it, when they mean to end by declaring their stern determination to oppose the only important measure which it has brought forward. The President not only announces his determination not to allow the people of Kansas to make their own Constitution, but to force upon them one made by their enemies, and compel obedience to it with the point of the bayonet. Mr. Wade proposed, if it should come to that, to resume the same argument where our fathers left it. The South had not upon their plantations a more craven-spirited set of people than those who passed these resolutions. [Laughter.] Of course there was no necessity of instructing him how to vote. [Renewed laughter.] If the Executive should persist in this policy, he was a tyrant, and deserved the frowns and reprobation of every man. The resolutions call this policy "unfortunate," but he called it downright knavery and tyranny, which demanded not argument, but action. It tends to break the peace, and stir up civil war. Notwithstanding all this, they do not lose their confidence in him. They say, although we adhere to him, we instruct you to throw his message in his face and go—and for one he was ready to do it. [Laughter.]

The resolutions were not the voice of the people of Ohio, and met no sympathy or acquiescence in the Republican party. They were crowded down the throats of the Republicans in the Ohio Legislature by a cowardly majority under the gag rule, because they dared not face the scorn and contempt which would have heaped upon them. Had they permitted the liberty of speech, the brave and generous people of Ohio would have spoken out directly, without catering to the favor of any man—boldly and independently would they have pronounced their will. The resolutions were passed under the statement that haste was indispensable. And yet more than ten days have elapsed, during which time they have slept in some man's breeches pocket.

He was willing to go with the Legislature and resist to the death the attempt to force the Lecompton or any other Constitution, not the will of the people upon them. This is the first attempt since the American Revolution, to take away the liberties of the people, and it must be the last.

At a meeting of the friends of and believers in spiritualism, held in this town not long since, among the "relics" of the departed, the spirit of Daniel Webster rapped itself into notice. The great Statesman, through the medium—a gray-headed believer—acknowledged that he had been a great man, and that he had committed many errors in the flesh. He had made many mistakes, in his social life, in his diplomatic career, in his political courses, and there were some, he was sorry to say, in his Dictionary.—Northampton Gazette.

ORANGES, GREEN PEAS AND NEW POTATOES.—Calling on a friend, at his plantation, in the parish of Jefferson, a day or two ago, we found some of his sweet orange trees putting forth their blossoms, and others yielding abundance of fruit. Green peas are in abundance in that vicinity, and so are new potatoes. And this is mid January!—New Orleans Picayune, 19th.

☞ A Washington letter writer for the Independent Democrat says:

I was told last evening by a gentleman who has been here much and "knows everything," that New Hampshire is the only State that can boast an entire delegation who do not on any occasion indulge in the use of intoxicating drinks.

The number of whaling vessels which touched at the Sandwich Islands during the past year is 165—149 of which were American.

☞ The Bangor Whig says that persons well acquainted with the lumbering business estimate that, if the snow remains in the woods the usual time, there may be 75,000,000 or 80,000,000 feet of logs out the present winter on the Penobscot waters. The old logs remaining are not over 20,000,000 feet, as is understood, against 70,000,000 left over last year. The manufactured lumber now remaining at Bangor is less in amount than for many years. As soon as the general stock of lumber in the country has become reduced, so that demand and supply are in a measure equalized, we may expect renewed activity in this branch of business. Meantime the timber is growing.

The exports of lumber from Bangor to foreign ports during the past season have been; boards 12,331,385 feet, value $164,-794; shingles 3738 M., value $11,591; and other lumber exports to the value of $41,926, making a total value of $218,-491.

☞ The late speech of Hon. John P. Hale, is spoken of at Washington as his best effort in the Senate. Francis P. Blair, jr., said, "Let me congratulate you, Mr. Hale, on the best effort of your life, and one that I have hardly heard excelled in this Senate." Senator Benjamin remarked, "I do not, of course, agree with you in the sentiments of your speech, but I could not help admiring the manner in which you enunciated them." And Mr. Badger, of North Carolina, formerly in the Senate, now there on business, said—"Hale is a glorious fellow, and has only one fault—he does hate slavery a little too hard!"

☞ Stoub, the Westfield murderer, it has at length been pretty well ascertained, did go on board the steamer America, and the latest story of his arrest in Delaware county, New York, is therefore probably untrue. The officers of the America recognize the picture of Stoub as that of a man who took passage with them on the last outward trip, and was put off at Halifax for lack of money to pay his fare. No measures appear to have been taken as yet for following him to Halifax.

☞ One Jane Myers, a crafty girl of 17, has sold the court and jury of Alfred, Me. She was tried for larceny, which was committed by her in Biddeford—but found Not Guilty by reason of Insanity, and sent to the Insane Hospital at Augusta. On the way thither, the sheriff halted with her at Portland jail;—but there it came out that her father and mother live in Portland, and that she has lied about her parents, residence and everything else. Her insanity seems to be of the moral kind.

Our Ambassador at Berlin, Gov. Wright, is complained of abroad, because of the very commendable habit he has acquired of living within his means. He does not furnish his table with spirituous liquor nor wines, uses Indian meal as an article of food, and goes himself to market. With the example of Hannegan, his Indiana fellow-citizen, before him, no wonder Gov. Wright does not furnish his table with that which made Hannegan, in the prime of life, not only a miserable man, but the slayer, in a passion, of a household friend. —Concord Statesman.

Mr. Wright should be honored, not complained of, for his Temperance, Frugality, and American Republican simplicity and independence.

There is a great deal of theology in the idea of a little girl in this State, who wished that she could be good without obeying her grandmother. She said it was easy enough to read good books and pray, but pretty hard to mind grandmother.—Concord Statesman.

Life-like. Thousands say Lord, Lord: while few do the things which the Lord says.

THE BURNING OF THE UTAH TRAINS.—The correspondent of the New Orleans Picayune sends to that paper some of the testimony taken in Chief Justice Eccle's Court, in regard to the burning of the United States trains belonging to the Utah expedition. Several witnesses stated explicitly that the plundering parties were under command of Mormons whom they know personally, and whose names are given; and they also say that these men told them that they were ordered by Brigham Young to burn the trains and cripple the army in every way possible.

I take great pleasure in stating that during the time I have been acting as Commissioner of Patents, Samuel Cooper, Esq., of Boston, has been engaged as Solicitor, and has been in that capacity in constant correspondence and intercourse with the office; he has evinced a thorough acquaintance with the Patent Law, and with the rules and practice of the office, a close attention to the interests of his clients, and a marked candor and courtesy that has rendered the transaction of business with him a pleasure. I have no hesitation in stating that I regard him as one of the very best agents for the transaction of business with this office with whom I am acquainted.

Coggswell's Medical Salt,
A PERFECT SUBSTITUTE
FOR THE
LANCET, LEECHES AND BLISTERS.
INSTEAD of being a panacea for all maladies, it has control over but ONE MALADY—has but ONE AIM—accomplishes but ONE THING, to wit: SUBDUES INFLAMMATORY DISEASE—whatever be its form or locality—whether in the head, throat, chest, abdomen, extremities or skin. Every form of inflammation (but no other disease) is subdued, by it as easily as fire is extinguished by water. Is it asked, how it does this?—simply by restoring the lost balance between the fluids and solids. Such is its potency, that like vaccine matter, it requires merely what adheres to the point of a quill dipped into a solution of it, to affect the entire system.

Morning Chronicle.

TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 2, 1858.

☞ The Kansas swindle is not yet done with. Mr. Calhoun's falsified return has just got to Washington, certifying a democratic victory, as a pro-slavery majority is there called. This state of things must stir up action in Congress and at the White House. From the birth-day of the Nebraska bill, in its fraud and hypocrisy, we have expected to see Kansas admitted to the Union as a slave State. The election of Mr. Buchanan added strength to this expectation, and unless something new should turn up—we still look for the event.

Political power—actual preponderance in the Senate—is what the slave power aims at, and if it can get doe-face enough it will hit the mark. State equality is the name of the thing. Its nature is, for a handful of aristocrats at one end of the country to have a little more than half the Senators, and by that means to get two-thirds of the federal offices, and control the appointments to all the remainder.—Men may possibly submit to all this. But if so, can they be freemen?

☞ In the examination of Mr. Stone of Boston, before the Corruption Investigating Committee—a dispatch says Mr. Stone testified that Mr. Banks borrowed $7000. Another member had borrowed some which the books of the company showed had never been paid. It appears that a New York editor by the name of Stone received a considerable amount for editorial services.

The Boston Journal supposes that this dispatch rumor is based on Mr. Banks's loan of $700,—which loan was paid some time ago.

SMART WORK UNDER AN INDIAN SUN.—It is said Sir Colin Campbell, in twenty-one days, traveled nine hundred miles, forced an entrance into a city defended by sixty thousand fighting men, relieved a garrison besieged for five months, withdrew nine hundred women and children in the face of an overwhelming force, relieved his detachment at Cawnpore, twice defeated an enemy thrice his own strength, and finally stripped them of every vestige of artillery.

RACHEL'S FUNERAL.—We learn from the Paris correspondence of the London Times that the funeral ceremonies over the remains of the great actress were witnessed by an immense crowd. The coffin was covered with a white pall sprinkled with silver stars. The burial was in the Jewish portion of Pere la Chaise, and the Hebrew ritual was used. Dumas was among the pall-bearers, and the principal speech at the grave was made by M. Jules Janin, the great critic. He expressed his regret that the deceased was not eulogized by a man who alone was competent to do so, but who was now in exile, namely M. Victor Hugo.

SUPPRESSION OF TIPPLING SHOPS.—At a meeting of the Board of Aldermen of Chelsea, on Thursday evening, the following order was adopted:—

Ordered, That the City Marshal be and he hereby is instructed to search out all violations of the liquor law by pedlars, and prosecute the same according to law; also to institute legal proceedings against all other violations of the aforesaid law, wherever sufficient evidence of the guilt of any person or persons is furnished, that will satisfy him and the Committee on Police, that a conviction can be obtained.

The number of liquor shops in that city is upwards of seventy.

RUMOR.—It is stated that Huntington, who is supposed to be serving out his sentence in Sing Sing for forgery, is really confined to the Prison walls but a portion of the time, and is never employed at hard work. It is said that he is very frequently allowed the freedom of the village.

A VALUABLE COW.—In a recent trial for receiving and killing a stolen cow, it was in the evidence that the owner had sold in just one year $234.90 worth of milk, besides what his family used in that time.—The cow was valued at $75, but even at this high price she had paid for herself and keeping twice over in a single year.

☞ The North Bridgewater Gazette chronicles the following instance of venerable joking;—

"Dr. Jackson, the elder, of Boston, meeting his old friend Josiah Quincy (both past eighty years of age) on the sidewalk, accosted him with, 'Well, Mr. Quincy, how much longer do you intend to live?' 'Till I send for a doctor,' was the quick reply. 'And when did you send for one last?' inquired Dr. J. 'Just eighty-six years ago!' answered Mr. Quincy, adding the precise date of his birth."

"NECROMANCY."

Last Sabbath, one of our clergymen (for whom I entertain the highest respect) discussed Spiritualism. I desired to see the delusion explained, or its truth avowed by the learned divine. He neither attempted the one nor admitted the other. The "duality" theory and the uncharitable charge of "imposture" were both omitted. Necromancy, he said, had been prohibited; and this was by him declared to be identical with that. Now, if conversing with the spirits of the dead be forbidden, how comes "Moses and Elias talking with him?" If the departed have ever returned to counsel, to warn, or encourage, it has been in conformity with God's laws—then, conditions being equal, may they not come again?

The general charges of "mercenary motives" and "evil results," are no more attributable to one class of speakers than another. How often are our hearts pained at the story of the downfall of some religious leader! By their fruits ye shall know them. The truth is God's, and though its professed adherents are unworthy the name they bear, it will, in God's own time and in His own way be proclaimed, not having been placed in the custody of any man.

The gentleman's experience has certainly been limited. If he could hear, as I have, the devout prayer, the searching reproof, the sublime teachings, the lofty strains of true eloquence from lips unconscious of the burning words and inspiring sentiments, he would hardly say the author was a "driveller." His medium is as "unreliable" as he supposes others to be.

If there are no spirits to try, and no means to try them, then is the passage, "try the spirits," without a meaning.—Denunciation and ridicule have failed to deter men from the investigation; and while no explanation is given, the sceptic, the mourner, the lonely and disconsolate ones, are seeking the evidence of spirit-communion; and thousands upon thousands are receiving from the departed, words of consolation—strength for the daily duty, and becoming purer and better. If this be a delusion, I pray it may be fairly met, and in a proper spirit; but if it be true, that "holy angels guard our beds,"—"a cloud of witnesses" are about us, that the dear ones visit us,—let these considerations be urged, and an influence shed over our lives, that shall prepare us for the change which awaits us all.

The "many things" which the disciples could not bear, may yet be disclosed; and to say that all has been given which is necessary, is assuming an authority which the Father of All has delegated to no one.

KANSAS AFFAIRS AT WASHINGTON.—Washington, Jan. 31.—(N. Y. Times Correspondence.)—Gov. Wise writes here that if President Buchanan's message makes Lecompton the test of party fealty, he will at once publish his threatened expose of the President's duplicity.

The Constitution of Oregon has arrived by a special messenger.

(Tribune Correspondence.)—The President has received a letter from Gov. Denver, declaring that if the Lecompton Constitution is forced on Kansas civil war is inevitable. Gov. Wise, it is said, has also written, strongly protesting against the measures. The more moderate of the Southern men are beginning to beslarmed. A Southern member of Congress will wait upon the President to-morrow morning, to make a formal remonstrance against the Lecompton Constitution, and to warn him that its passage will destroy the Democratic party. Mr. Buchanan, however, persists in his infatuation. He declared to-day that the Lecompton Constitution must and should go through Congress. A caucus of Democratic Senators will be held to-morrow in the Vice President's room at which a resolution will be introduced approving the course of the Administration in regard to Kansas. The object is to drive Douglas out of the party. I understand that he is really to go. When the message is read, the anti-Lecompton plan in the House is to move its reference to a select committee, with instructions to investigate and report upon facts in relation recent elections in Kansas. This motion, it is thought, will be carried, but its passage will be no indication of the final result. A strong protest against Lecompton from the Free State officers, who claim to have been elected, will be presented tomorrow by Mr. Parrott to the House, and by Mr. Douglas to the Senate.

ATLANTIC CABLE.—New York, Jan. 32. A letter from Geo. Seward, Esq., Secretary of the Atlantic Telegraph Company, dated at London, Jan. 15, says: Our arrangements here for the completion of the work we have in hand are progessing satisfactorily; we trust and believe that our next attempt will be crowned with success. The machinery is being overhauled under the direction of British and American engineers, and experiments will be carefully tried before sailing next time, with a view to meet every known or anticipated difficulty.

The English government has again granted us the use of ships, and the manufacture of new cable, to supply the place of that which was lost, is going on satisfactorily. It is intended at present to take out 2800 miles of cable, being 300 miles more than was thought sufficient last time.

EFFECT OF GEN. HAVELOCK'S DEATH IN INDIA.—The Calcutta correspondent of the London Times gives the following affecting tribute to the memory of Gen. Havelock:—

"The deceased general has been a prominent character in Indian history for nearly twenty years. He was one of those few who passed through the Afghan campaign with added reputation. In the first Punjaub war he was Lord Harding's most trusted friend. A slight, spare man, about five feet five inches in height, with an emaciated face and an eagle eye, he belonged emphatically to the class who have never to contend with disobedience or mutiny. As a general, he was the best tactician we have had in India; and as an officer, though stern, and sometimes exacting, his antique heroism made him the idol of his men. He was indeed, perhaps the bravest man in his own army, and was never so chatty and agreeable as under fire. Like most of our Indian statesmen and soldiers, the Lawrences, Edwardses, Nicholsons, Montgomerys, and many others, he was a Christian of the old stamp—a strong God-fearing Puritan man, who thought often in Scriptural phrase, and deemed it no shame to teach his soldiers to pray. 'Turn out the saints,' said Lord Gough on one occasion when he anticipated desperate work; 'Havelock never blunders, and his men are never drunk.' The loss has created a most painful impression in Calcutta. We are all a little hardened here. We have seen so many generals fall, have become so accustomed to misfortune, have learnt so completely to expect mismanagement, that nothing moves us now. Yet even here, a government dispatch announcing, 'All going on well at Alumbagh; Gen. Havelock died two days ago,' excites a little disquiet. The press dare not complain under penalty of confiscation, but the public voice is pretty audible. We have now but two generals left in whom the public have any confidence whatever—Sir C. Campbell and Brigadier Cotton, of Peshawur. Should an accident happen to the former, who has a habit of placing himself in the hottest of the fire, our prospects will be poor indeed."

Bethany, Ct., Dec. 8, 1850.

Rev. A. B. L. Myers: Dear Sir—For several years past I have been much afflicted with the Sick headache, and having had an opportunity of using your Extract of Rock Rose, I was induced to try it. I began to use it about the first of last October. Since that time, I have used but about one bottle, and have not been troubled in the least with the disease. With the greatest confidence in the medicine, I cheerfully advise every one to use it for every disease it promises to cure. Truly yours,

THERE IS NO REMEDY

Creating such a stir among invalids as Dr. Sanford's Invigorator or Liver Remedy. It gives such quick relief as to convince the patient of receiving benefit almost as soon as the medicine is taken. We do not know of a single instance where it has been taken without benefit, and in nearly all cases a complete cure is effected by its use. It has acquired its wide popularity simply because it does what it is recommended to do. It is constantly enlarging its circle of friends, carrying healing on its wings, and joy to the hearts of those suffering from Liver Complaint, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, or general debility.

MUSICAL.—The original Perham Opera Troupe gave two excellent Concerts (of their kind,) at the Temple, last week. Some of the singing was very fine—especially the "Anvil Chorus," "O hail us, ye free," and other pieces. Duley's comic singing and acting is an entertainment of itself; and the dancing of Cluskey and Eugene is as good as the best. The instrumental performances were varied and creditable. Johnny Hassett sings ballads neatly; the banjo performances of Jones and Parker are first-rate; and Montgomery's rich bass tells well—his best song being "Let us speak of a man as we find him." Altogether, the concerts of this troupe are second to none of the sort—and are free from even the slightest allusion to aught that is indolicate or objectionable.

The tenth Promenade Concert by the Cornet Band, came off at Jefferson Hall on Monday evening—successfully and pleasantly as usual. Two more finish the series announced.

Mr. Clark announces an Evening Singing School; and Mr. Pearson an Afternoon School. Hope both will be fully attended—there is need enough of it, judging from the scarcity of singers available among us. Mr. Pearson has continued his School for two and a half years, with occasional interruptions.

The Old Folks Choir are to have a social sing, at Exchange Hall, at an early day, of which notice will be given.

☞ On Wednesday evening, at the Universalist Church, there is to be a public Exhibition of the Sunday School connected with that society. The exercises will be speaking, singing, declamation, and Sacred Dramas,—the whole designed to furnish a chaste, elegant and interesting entertainment. The doors will be open at half past 6,—and exercises commence at N. Y.—Tickets of admission 10 cents, to be had at the stores of Brackett Hutchings and John Harrat,—and at the door.

☞ Prof. Clark advertises an Evening Singing School, which should be fully attended to make it pay him anything, and which cannot be very lucrative even if it is full. Young ladies and gentlemen who wish to attend, should apply at once, as no teacher of music would go through a term with half a class. We ought, by all means, to have at least, one such singing school every winter; and this winter there is more leisure than usual. Mr. Clark, who is well known here as a competent teacher, and whose experience in conducting a choir is ample, is abundantly qualified to give the needful instruction, and to teach a good style of Church Music. His school should be full, not so much on his account, as for the benefit of Psalmody in our churches, and harmony at our firesides.

EVERETT'S CHARITY ADDRESS.—It has already been announced that Hon. Edward Everett has acceded to a request made by a committee of our citizens, that he should deliver his address on "Charity," in this city. By the following note, it will be seen that Mr. Everett's engagements will prevent his doing so immediately:

BOSTON, Jan. 27, 1858.

Gentlemen:—I have received your favor of yesterday, inviting me, in the name of the citizens of Portsmouth, to repeat my Charity Address, for the benefit of the poor. It will give me great pleasure to comply with your request; but as I leave home on the 1st of February, it will not be in my power to appoint a day till my return in the spring.

I remain, gentlemen, with great respect and regard, very truly yours,

EDWARD EVERETT.

Rev. Dr. Peabody,
Geo. W. Haven, Esq.

ONE Oliver Philbrick died recently, who had been a porter in the navy yard, at Portsmouth, Va., for over thirty years.—During the above length of time he crossed the Piscataqua river in a boat ten times a day, on an average, making a total distance traveled for thirty years, 146,000 miles, or nearly six times round the globe. —New York Mercury.

The above item is a droll compound of truth and error.—Mr. Oliver Philbrick did not die lately, but is living and about his business. He was never a porter at Portsmouth, Virginia,—neither does the Piscataqua river run thereby. But Mr. Philbrick crosses the Piscataqua river from the Navy Yard, which is an island on the Kittery side of the channel, to Portsmouth in New Hampshire. Long may he wave!"

☞ We are informed on what we deem reliable authority, that the bondsmen for Mr. Merrill, the contractor for the erection of the Custom-House here,—have made terms with the Government, by which the bondsmen are released from all liability.—It is also said that all claims for material and labor, will be paid at an early day.

☞ Rev. Dr. Peabody of this city, is to lecture before the Mercantile Lyceum this evening,—and will doubtless give us thoughts as valuable, to say the least, as most of the gentlemen from abroad who occupy the position.

NATURALIZED VOTERS.—Our annual election is close at hand; and, as usual upon the approach of that event, the Gazette begins to make a show of the interest it feels in the votes of our naturalized brothers. Of those the Irish constitute the largest portion; and their unselfishness certainly deserves the highest commendation. They have for years given their votes for the candidates of the pro-slavery party; and, so far as we know, without promise, or hope of reward. At all events we cannot recollect when the party here, who claim to be their exclusive friends, ever thought it worth its while to elect, or appoint any of our Irish brothers to any public office, and we do not believe these loving friends of the Irish have ever selected one of their number as a candidate to represent the city in the General Court, or even for a place in the City Council. FAIR PLAY.

SPEEDY JUSTICE.—Julia Flannagan, was before the Police Court, in Newburyport, Thursday morning, for stealing the sum of $30 in cash, and some twenty dollars' worth of female wearing apparel, from the house of Mr. John Tuttle, Hamilton, where she had been imployed as a domestic. She took the cars and proceded to to this city, and on next morning, started for Portsmouth on the same train that her pursuer had just left. But the train not being so fast as the lightning, a dispatch to Portsmouth brought her back on the next train, in charge of conductor Marden, who very often acts in the capacity of Police officer on such occasions. She was arrested by Deputy Sheriff Smith, and on the same day conveyed to the County House, for the space of twelve months.—Newburyport Herald.

IF LESS POETIC,—MORE TRUTHFUL.

Not through heaven's portals bright,
When Peter left the gates ajar,
Came my darling little sprite,
Borne upon a falling star.
But high and clear the full moon shone,
While glistening stars their vigils kept
In heaven's high ethereal dome,
'Neath which earth's weary mortals slept.
Such the night,—all cold and still—
In which my baby dear was born,
And more it did my bosom thrill,
Than if an angel had come down.

THE GREAT BEAUTIFIER
So long unsuccessfully sought,
FOUND AT LAST.

FOR IT RESTORES PERMANENTLY GRAY HAIR to its original color; covers luxuriantly the bald head; removes all dandruff, itching, and all scrofula, scald head and all eruptions;—makes the hair soft, healthy, and glossy, and will preserve it to any human age; removes, as if by magic, all blotches, &c., from the face, and cures all neuralgia and nervous headache See circular and the following.

Dover, N. H., Feb 2, 1857.

Prof. O. J. Wood & Co.—Gents: Within a few days we have received so many orders and calls for Prof. O. J. Wood's Hair Restorative, that today we were compelled to send to Boston for a quantity, (the 6 dozen you forwarded all being sold,) while we might order a quantity from you. Every bottle we have sold proves a fine syndical item or four new customers, and the approbation and patronage it receives from the most substantial and worthy citizens of our vicinity, fully convinces us that it is A MOST VALUABLE PREPARATION.

Send us as soon as may be one gross of $1 size; and one dozen of $2 size, by express.

DANIEL LATHROP & Co.

Hickory Grove, St. Charles Co., Mo., 1856.

Prof. O. J. Wood—Dear Sir: Some time last summer we were induced to use some of your Hair Restorative, and the effects were so wonderful, we feel it our duty to you and the afflicted, to report it.

Our little son's head for some time had been perfectly covered with sores, and some called it scald head. The hair almost entirely came off in consequence, when a friend, seeing his sufferings, adjured us to use your Restorative, and to do it with little hope of success, but, to our surprise, and that of all our friends, a very few applications removed the disease entirely, and a new and luxuriant crop of hair soon sheded upon his head; we can now say that our boy has as healthy a scalp, and as luxuriant a crop of hair as any other child. We can therefore, and do heartily recommend your Restorative, as a perfect remedy for all diseases of the scalp and hair. We are, yours respectfully.

GEORGE W. HIGGINBOTHAM,
SAM'L A. HIGGINBOTHAM.

GARDINER, Me., June 23, 1855.

Prof. O. J. Wood—Dear Sir: I have used two bottles of Professor Wood's Hair Restorative, and can truly say it is the greatest discovery of the age for restoring and changing the Hair. Before using it I was a man of seventy. My hair has now attained its original color. I take pleasure in recommending it to the world without the least fear, as my case was one of the worst kind.

Yours Respectfully,

O. J. WOOD & CO., 312 Broadway, N. Y., (in great N. Y. Wire Railing Establishment) and 114 Market street, St. Louis, Mo.

LOTTERIES.

THE Lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are chartered by the State of Georgia, and have sworn commissioners appointed to superintend the drawings, and certify that everything connected with the same is done in a strictly honorable manner. They offer to the public a fair opportunity for investment, the interests of parties at a distance being as well protected as if they were present. The Manager would respectfully call attention to the fact that persons have the full right to send orders for tickets to Georgia, as the lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are authorized by the Legislature of that State. A lottery will be drawn every Saturday throughout the year, all orders received being filled in the drawing next to take place after the same comes to hand. According to the number of tickets in a scheme, must draw a prize. Tickets are $10: halves, $5; quarters, $2.50. No tickets sent unless the money accompanies the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket, and are so simple that none can fail to understand them. There is no combination of numbers to mystify the public. Prizes varying from $20 to $100; every prize being drawn, and result of drawing forwarded to all purchasers

☞ A list of the numbers that are drawn from the wheel, with the amount each prize is entitled to, will be published after every drawing, in the following papers:—New Orleans Delta, Mobile Register, Charleston Mercury, Nashville Gazette, Atlanta Intelligencer, and New York Weekly Day Book. Write your address plainly, and direct to S. SWAN & Co., Augusta, Georgia

Prizes paid in full—no percentage deducted from prizes and no other lotteries.

LOTTERIES.

The well-known Maryland Consolidated Lotteries, of which R. FRENCH & Co are the managers, are chartered by the state of Maryland, and a commissioner elected by the people, who is sworn to superintend and certify that everything connected with them is done in a strictly honorable manner, and that the interests of parties who reside at a distance are as well protected as if they themselves were present at the drawing. Another fact which the managers call attention to, is, that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to the people, as lotteries are legalized by special law in that state. A lottery is drawn every day of the month. If no particular class is named, orders are filled in the first drawing to take place after the communication comes to hand. The prices of tickets vary from $1 to $20. No tickets are, however, sent unless the money accompanies the order. Tickets on the drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket (after the Havana plan), and ternary combinations. Prizes range in amount from $20 to $100 '20. All orders for tickets or packages will receive prompt attention, and the drawing mailed to all purchasers immediately after it is over.

☞ The drawings of the Maryland Lotteries are published by the State Commissioner in the following papers, viz: Sun, Clipper, Patriot, American, Argus, of Baltimore; also, the National Intelligencer and Union, of Washington, D.C.

WHEREAS, it appears that the days of right, honor, and integrity are last fading away, and WHEREAS, the unscrupulous and ignorant are daily taking advantage of the profound and learned. BE IT KNOWN THEREFORE, to all, whether male, female, or unknown, that DR. CHASEMAN'S FEMALE PILLS are alone the certain panacee for the the troubles incident to female disorganization; they alone correcting all painful irregularities, assuaging palpitation of the heart, disturbed sleep, pain in the side, and causing health and happiness to whole sex; more especially to married females, they are certain to bring on the monthly period with regularity.—AND WHEREAS, these PILLS are purely vegetable and entirely free from mineral s, therefore they have no need to be concealed from the public unlike other medicines thrust upon the public, purporting to effect the objects already detailed. Therefore, we do proclaim to the world and spread amongst them, to their own everlasting benefit—always promising that said Proclamation in one year, shall be considered true, and vote; that is to say the Pills must not be taken when any female is in an interesting situation, otherwise a MISCARRIAGE will be the inevitable result.

S. D. & H. W. Smith,
—MANUFACTURERS OF—
Melodeons, Organ Melodeons,
—and—
PEDAL BASS MELODEONS.
No. 511 Washington St., Boston.

The first premium over all competitors, at the Fair of the Mass Charitable Mechanic Association, of the National Fair, Washington, D. C., also at the Ohio State Fair, held at Columbus, Ohio, was awarded to these Manufacturers.

By means of a new method of Voicing, known only to themselves, they have succeeded in removing the harsh and buzzing sound which formerly characterized the instrument, and rendering the tones full, clear and round. The action is prompt and reliable, enabling the performer to execute the most rapid music without blurring the tones. The swell is arranged to give great expression.

THE PEDAL BASS MELODEONS,

Are designed particularly for Churches, Lodges, Halls, &c. It is arranged with two manuals, or banks of Keys, the lower set running an octave higher than the other, and may be used separately, and thus get in one case two distinct instruments; or by use of the coupler, the two banks of keys may be played at the same time by use of the front set only. This connected with the Pedal Bass, will produce the effect of a large organ, and is sufficiently heavy to fill a house that will contain 1000 to 1500 persons.

THE ORGAN MELODEON

Is designed for parlor and private use. The construction is similar to the Church Instrument, being arranged with two banks of Keys, and when used together, by means of the coupler, is capable of as great volume of power as the Church Instrument when used without the pedals. Also, every variety of Melodeons for Parlor use.

Purchasers may rely upon instruments from our Manufactory, being made in the most complete and thorough manner. Having removed to the spacious Buildings

511 Washington Street,

We have every facility for manufacturing purposes, and have now but the most experienced and skilful workmen. In short, we will promise our customers an Instrument equal, if not superior, to any Manufacturer, and guarantee an entire perfect satisfaction.

Music Teachers, Leaders of Choirs, and others interested in musical matters, are respectfully invited to visit our Rooms at any hour, and examine or test the instruments on exhibition for sale at their pleasure.

As a still further guarantee to the public as to the excellence of the MELODEONS from our Manufactory, we beg leave to refer, by permission, to the following

Piano Forte Manufacturers of Boston, who have constantly on our premises, and will give their opinion when called upon:

Chickering & Sons,	Hallett & Cumston,
T. Gilbert & Co.,	Wm. P. Emerson,
Brown & Allen,	A. W. Ladd & Co.,
George Hewes,	Woodward & Brown,
	Newhall & Co.

MELODEONS RENTED.

Persons who wish to hire Melodeons with a view of purchasing at the end of the year, can have the rent credited as part payment of the purchase money. This matter we would special note, as it enables those who desire a fair test of the instruments before purchasing, to obtain it at the expense of the manufacturers, to the extent at least of a year's rent.

Orders from any part of the country or world, sent direct to the manufactory in Boston, with cash, or satisfactory reference, will be promptly attended to, and as faithfully executed as if the parties were present, or employed an agent to select, and on as reasonable terms.

Morning Chronicle.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—Mr. Clarkson, with the Lecompton Constitution, arrived here last night. He immediately placed it in the hands of the President. The Constitution is accompanied by a letter from Gen. Calhoun.

Clarkson says that the vote of Delaware Crossing precinct had been returned to the Commissioner for Leavenworth County, and it was in his possession at the time when the returns were opened and counted in the presence of the Speaker of the House, the President of the Senate and the Governor, and that it amounts to something over three hundred votes.

This gives the Democrats a majority in Leavenworth County, and consequently a majority in both branches of the Legislature. Calhoun is expected to arrive here in a few days.

The Union is informed that the free State vote said to have been rejected by Calhoun because it was returned to Denver, was the vote on the Constitution alone, and not for the State officers, and that it was therefore rejected.

Wm. Walker, in his speech at Mobile, says that last summer, in an interview with the President, he informed the latter of his intention to return to Nicaragua, and that his letter written in June was published by the President's consent. A day or two afterwards he was invited to an interview with a Cabinet Minister, who sought to obtain his confidence. The Minister told him where to go with safety and where with danger, remarking: "You will probably sail in an American vessel, under the American flag. After you have passed American limits, no one can touch you but by consent of this government." During an interview between a friend of Walker and a Cabinet Minister, when an alliance with Mexico and the conquest of Cuba was proposed, the Minister said, "If you do this, means shall not be lacking to carry out the enterprise."

Fatal Accident on the New Jersey Railroad.—A brakeman named William A. Ham, on the freight train, was accidentally ran over and killed after the arrival of the train at Jersey City, about 11 P. M., on Monday evening. Part of the train was being backed up to a turn out, and ran over him on the track, causing death in about an hour. He was a worthy man, and leaves a wife in Jersey City, where he lately came to reside from one of the Eastern States.—Newark Weekly Jour.

We regret to add to the foregoing, what truth compels, that but a little while before his death, Mr. Ham left in this city, entirely abandoned to want and destitution, a very worthy wife and four little children.—Dover, N.H. Gazette.

American Bible Society.—New York, Jan. 29.—There was a long and exciting discussion at the meeting of the Board of Managers of the American Bible Society last evening. After the rejection of two minority reports, the report of the majority of the Committee of Nine, who were appointed to consider the revised edition of the Bible, was adopted. It refers the present standard English Bible of the Society to the Committee on Version for revisions, to conform to the previous editions printed by the Society, or the authorized British edition.

Mutiny on Board a Cooly Ship.—We learn by a letter received at the Merchants' Exchange in Boston, from Capt. Ryan, of the ship Lion, dated Anjier, Isle of Java, Nov. 22d, that ship Kate Hooper, which took Coolies from Macao, bound to Havana, was at Anjier at that date, waiting for men from Batavia. The Coolies had mutinied and got in possession of the lower deck, and set the ship on fire three times, and before they could be subdued the officers had shot fifty of them. The captain was confined to his bed by sickness at the time.—Courier.

Duel in Minnesota.—A quarrel between a lumberman named Giggy and a Chippewa Indian Chief known as "Hole-in-the-day," was settled by a duel at the Indian Agency, above Crow Wing, Minnesota, on the 12th inst. The weapons chosen were revolvers, and the distance sixty feet. On the first fire Giggy was wounded in the right side, and on the second in the left. He then fell to the ground, but, recovering himself, fired the third round in a recumbent position, shooting Hole-in-the-Day through the heart, and killing him instantly. The unfortunate Chief leaves seven wives!

Jeff. Davis of Mississippi threatens, it will be seen by the Congressional report, a march into the North by an army with the sword in one hand and the Bible in the other. With a Mormon invasion from the West, such as Brigham Young threatens, and a slaveholders' invasion from the South, headed by Davis, we shall certainly be in a bad way.—Manchester American.

Naval.—The U. S. bark Release, Lieut, W. A. Parker, commanding, with Stores and a mail for the Squadron in the Mediterranean, sailed from Boston on Saturday last.

"My dear," said a distinguished gentleman to his wife, "I hear much about the age of Pericles. What are perikles?"

☞ For the week ending Jan. 22, there was imported at Boston $406,023.00 worth of sugar.

THOMAS JEFFERSON.

HIS PERSONAL APPEARANCE AND HABITS. The following sketch of Jefferson's personal appearance and habits is from Dr. Randall's life of that eminent man, the first volume of which has recently been published:

Mr. Jefferson was generally, rather a favorite with the other sex, and not without reason. His appearance was engaging. His face, though angular and far from beautiful, beamed with intelligence, with benevolence, and with the cheerful vivacity of a happy, hopeful spirit. His complexion was ruddy, and delicately fair; his reddish chestnut hair luxuriant and silken. His full, deep set eyes, the prevailing color of which was a light hazel, (or flecks of hazel on a ground-work of grey,) were peculiarly expressive; and mirrored, as the clear lake mirrors the cloud, every emotion which was passing through his mind. He stood six feet two and a half inches in height, and though very slim at this period, his form was erect and sinewy, and his movements displayed elasticity and vigor. He was an expert musician, a fine dancer, a dashing rider, and there was no manly exercise in which he did not play well his part.

His manners were unusually graceful, but simple and cordial. His conversation already possessed no inconsiderable share of that charm which in after years was so much extolled by friends, and to which enemies attributed so seductive an influence in moulding the young and the wavering to his political views. There was a frankness, earnestness and cordiality in its tone—a deep sympathy with humanity—a confidence in man, and a sanguine hopefulness in his destiny, which irresistibly won upon the feelings, not only of the ordinary hearer, but of those grave men whose commerce with the world had perhaps led them to form less glowing estimates of it.

Mr. Jefferson's temper was gentle, kind and forgiving. If it naturally had anything of that warmth which is the usual concomitants of affections and sympathies so ardent, and it no doubt had, it had been subjugated by habitual control. Yet, under its even placidity, there were not wanting those indications of calm self-reliance and courage which all instinctively recognize and respect. There is not an instance on record of his having been engaged in a personal rencontre, or his having suffered a personal indignity.

Possessing the accomplishments, he avoided the vices of the young Virginian gentry of the day, and a class of habits which, if not vices themselves, were too often made the preludes to them. He never gambled. To avoid importunities to games which were generally accompanied with betting, he never learned to distinguish one card from another; he was moderate in the enjoyments of the table; to strong drinks had an aversion which rarely yielded to any circumstances; his mouth was unpolluted with oaths or tobacco!

With such qualities of mind and character, with the favor of powerful friends and relatives, and even of vice-royalty to urge him onward, Mr. Jefferson was not a young man to be lightly regarded by the young or old of either sex.

HOLLAND—INSANITY, &c.—We publish the following communication from a literary correspondent,—and by special request make no changes in it, or omissions, as we often do where no request is made to the contrary.

Mr Editor Seeing an article in your chronicle of 1st inst under the name of insanity evidently written by a person who forged a few pieces out of a geographical book and who at the same time knows no more about Holland than the Dutch man who came from Holland knew about New york in attempting to go and hunt the Buffales around that city stating that "In Holland the consumption of intoxicating drinks is two gallons to every individual" now that story is about as much worn out as the authors coat which is in a very poor condition we will for the information of the public state that when we visited Hollan last there had already great efforts been made to suppress the use of intoxicating drinks and we were present at the many temperance meetings at Rotter and Amsterdam which were fully attended. Holland does not use the tenth part of gin it used five years ago most all the gin manufactured at the present time is exported to New york and the poor inhabitants of Holland have to pay for gin twice the price of former days in consequence of the great demand for gin from America again the gentleman states that "there is one lunatic to every 3000 of the people" does the writer mean to say that insanity is the result of the use of intoxicating liquor we will then say to him that among plus minus 96 insane persons which are at present in Holland one lunatic to every 20000 there is not one who used intoxicating drink to any extent I for my part think that Spiritualism is far ahead of gin in cultivating insanity Un estrangero

Coggswell's Medical Salt,
A PERFECT SUBSTITUTE FOR THE LANCET, LEECHES AND BLISTERS.
INSTEAD of being a panacea for all maladies, it has control over but ONE MALADY—has but ONE AIM—accomplishes but ONE THING, to wit: SUBDUES INFLAMMATORY DISEASE—whatever be its form or locality—whether in the head, throat, chest, abdomen, extremities or skin. Every form of inflammation (but no other disease) is subdued, by it as easily as fire is extinguished by water. Is it asked, how it does this?—simply by restoring the lost balance between the fluids and solids. Such is its potency, that like vaccine matter, it requires merely what adheres to the point of a quill dipped into a solution of it, to affect the entire system.
☞ Of its intrinsic value, the enlightened community, and not the discoverer, must be the judge.

WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 3, 1858.

MEXICO.

Mexico is again in the midst of a bloody and sanguinary revolution. The elements of discord and faction have again united for the overthrow of peace and order, and the establishment of anarchy and dissension. To those who have observed the course pursued by this unfortunate nation for a few years past with any degree of attention and care, this annunciation will appear neither novel nor surprising. The Mexicans have long been preparing for this great event. It is the normal effect of mediate and proximate causes. The meanness of her public men, her want of just and equitable laws, the absence of profound civil ability in her cabinet, the toleration of a weak and superficial system of national politics, and the profligacy of her people, prove all told but too true, of the carnage and desolation which must ensue, before she can appreciate the blessings of security, peace and prosperity.

The constitution of the Mexican people is highly favorable to change and innovation. It is unstable, desultory, capricious. It abounds with incongruities, contradictions and absurdities; ever tending to disruption and hostile to restraint. Sagacious and politic regulations are totally disregarded in the ambition of her public men to attain to political eminence and distinction. The people constantly clamor for equality, privilege, and immunity from exorbitant taxation. Virtue is a by-word of reproach, rectitude an anomaly, and integrity and just-dealing professed by few and practiced by less. The leaders of the factions are as unscrupulous, grasping and arrogant as their followers are turbulent and presumptuous. The high and the low have their partisans who mutually indulge in abuse, calumny and violent recriminations.

Society derives its distinctive features from the character of the people who constitute it, and the laws by which it is regulated and governed. Especially does this hold true in Mexico. Composed of elements which are at once hostile, dissimilar, belligerent,—societies instituted for social happiness and political reformation have alike proved useless and abortive.—They have never been instrumental in diffusing knowledge, nor effective in destroying semi-barbarous customs and superstitions. They have never been devoted to the establishment of equity, honor and justice, nor allowed themselves to be perplexed by questions relating to intercourse with foreign nations, and the utility of internal improvements. Such topics are wholly ignored. It occasions too much confinement and restraint to patiently investigate the fundamental principles of social security and sound political action, and hence the Mexicans are theoretic and superficial. If this be true, how, we may ask, can society be otherwise than discordant and an auxiliary to discord?

Ample and sufficient as are these causes for the production of anarchy and revolution, there remains still another, underlying all others, and of the first magnitude and importance. The cultivation and intelligence of the people are at the very lowest ebb. They have made but very little advancement in polite learning, since they declared themselves independent of the dominion of Spain. Literary institutions are few in number, and enjoy no reputation with those who should be their stay and support. The elegance and refinement of the scholar are not respected in the presence of a military or political functionary. The masses are ignorant, and have an affection for those only who are of the same kin. Hence they are often made the dupes of cunning, deceit and knavery. They are unfit to think for themselves, and are consequently obliged to let others do it for them. This delightful office is given to the highest bidder; and he who can think and act for the greatest number of people, is sage of public and private emolument.

The last reason we shall advance to show that Mexico, under its present laws and institutions, must frequently become merged in civil broils and factional altercations, is founded upon the fact that trade and speculation, without some sufficient counter-poise, always eventuate in innovation and war. This doctrine is distinctly laid down by Adam Smith in his Wealth of Nations. History testifies to its soundness by a multitude of examples. A people so uncultivated and vacillating as the Mexicans, surely cannot afford a contradiction to a principle in political science, which has held good with all other nations. So long as they devote their whole energy to the acquisition of wealth, without cultivating the reason, that opulence may be used to advantage, so long they must suffer from revolution and contest. The fact that Mexico is not a rich nation, also shows the absurdity of affluent barbarism. Let them become frugal, industrious and intelligent, let them elevate to the head of the government none but politic, sagacious and able statesmen, and reconstruct their society upon a more enlightened and judicious plan, and speculation will no longer be the fruitful parent of civil out-bursts and rebellion. Until this is done, such scenes as are enacting there to-day must be common in all future time.

In view of these things, no one need be astonished at a war in Mexico. It will happen, and happen often. If further disclosures from that unfortunate and belligerent nation shall justify our conclusions, we shall resume the subject and endeavor to substantiate more fully those arguments which we have hinted at rather than elaborated in the present article.

T. K. A.

An Outrage.—Last Saturday, says the Worcester Transcript, an Irish woman called at the house of Mr. Henry Gill, in Worcester, and entering without knocking, demanded some clothing of Mrs. Gill. Some food was given her, but she was told there was no clothing for her. She ate the food heartily, and then assailed Mrs. Gill, and beat her until she was senseless, after which she stole a large bundle of clothing and departed. Mrs. Gill was found about an hour afterwards by an accidental visit of a neighbor, and the woman who committed the outrage has been arrested.

Rachel.—On the death of Rachel, the French newspaper Figaro in twenty-four hours, compiled and published an account of her life, her sayings, with extracts from her letters, which occupies ten pages of that print. Common report named Count Walewski and the Prince de Joinville as the fathers of Rachel's two children. The eldest is at Geneva, the other at Paris, at the College Sainte-Barbe. She leaves them two millions of francs.

☞ We are very happy to learn from the Augusta Banner, and other Maine papers, that the Hon. Parker Sheldon, whose sickness and poverty were lately mentioned, has been effectually relieved, by liberal friends, who have provided for him a proper boarding place, where he has all needed comforts, except a sound mind in a healthy body. This is as it should be.

Popular Sovereignty.—We have seen a great deal of poor writing on this subject;—but we ask any friend to point to one single right or privilege, conferred upon the people by the Kansas Nebraska Act, which has not been conferred upon the people of every other Territory since the organization of the government; and taking the Lecompton and Washington interpretation of that act, the people have not all the rights conferred upon the people of other Territories. Taking the practical application of the great principles of that Act, as exhibited in Kansas—it proves to be the most infamous humbug and swindle on record.

☞ A girl aged fifteen years, in the employ of Mr. William Blair, of Pittsburgh, Pa., was discovered, on the return of the family from church, last Sunday week, lying on the floor, tied hand and foot, and her clothes much burned. She said that two men with blackened faces, had forced open the kitchen door, tied her, &c., and then ransacked the house — and a gold watch was missing.

The girl afterwards acknowledged that in handling the watch, she broke the crystal, and for fear of being reprimanded, she had tied herself up, burned her clothes, hid the watch, and concocted the story about the thieves; and she proved it by producing the watch from a corner where she had secreted it.

"Deacon Johnson is in the Shoe Business in our village," writes a friend in the country, "and last fall he bought a large lot of leather of a dealer, larger than he needed, and more than he would have bought but for the fact that the seller was hard pressed and let him have it at a little reduction. The deacon stored it in his barn, and 'calculated' that the price would rise, and that he should make a good spec of it. But just then the panic and hard times came on, and leather like almost everything else, went down flat. After a while, the deacon came to the conclusion that he should have to wait a long time for the price to come up so as to enable him to get his money back. One night his wife waked him up out of a sound sleep, and told him that she heard a noise in the barn, and she was sure the thieves were there stealing his leather. It took her some time to rouse him enough to understand what was to pay; but when he did, he growled out, 'Well, if it falls on heir hands as it has on mine, they'll wish hey had let it alone.'"

CONGRESSIONAL DEBATE.

On Monday, in the Senate, there was an interesting and important debate, on a motion of Mr. Douglas that the Senate should consider the bill admitting Minnesota to the Union, saying that he was in favor of the Pacific Railroad bill, but thought that the question of allowing Senators from the new State to take their seats, ought to take precedence of other business. The Pacific Railroad was a measure in which those gentlemen were most deeply interested.

Mr. Gwin was anxious to consider the Pacific Railroad bill. The Senators from Minnesota, he was inclined to think, could not get their seats before the passage of that measure.

Mr. Senator Mason of Virginia made a speech, in which, like a true pro-slavery tactician, he connected Kansas and Minnesota together. He said:—

It was known that in the course of this week, and possibly in a day or two, the application of another Territory would be received for admission into the Union as a State. He did not know where the Senator from Illinois (Douglas) would stand upon that question. If Kansas should present herself for admission in the manner which was expected, he did not know where the great array of Senators on the Democratic side would stand. He was not prepared to take up the bill for consideration. The Lecompton Constitution is now in Washington, and when it shall be presented to the Senate it will probably be accompanied by authentic information touching all matters connected with it.—He hoped that it would not meet with so much opposition as has been anticipated; but thought not a single step should be taken in reference to the admission of new States until we are able to see exactly where we stand. There might be circumstances when it would be found necessary for the Southern States, in order to determine where they stand in the Union, that the questions should be taken together.

Mr. Wilson of Massachusetts said, that in Minnesota,

There were irregularities, but all parties agreed to the Constitution, which was submitted, and received thirty thousand votes against five hundred. The voice of Minnesota on this subject approached unanimity. All irregularities as to form ought to yield to the substance. He hoped that the Senate and the country would notice the position taken by the Senator from Virginia, who was opposed to giving consideration to this measure, because he supposed the Senators upon the Republican side of this House may oppose the admission of Kansas under the Lecompton Constitution.

He would say to the Senator from Virginia now, in order that there can be no misunderstanding, that they would oppose the consummation of the Lecompton swindle by all the means they could employ under the rules of this body, and he presumed this will be the case in the other House.

Mr. Hale said there had been no proposition which looked so seriously to a conflict that might end in the disruption of the Union, as the one entertained by the Senator from Virginia, namely: to make the admission of Kansas, under the Lecompton Constitution, a touchstone by which fidelity is to be tried, and without which no other State can come into the Union. He did not know whether the measure would pass both Houses or not, but thought it would be more likely to go through if the five regiment bill passed;—for there was so much patronage connected with it as to taint the atmosphere and have an insensible influence upon votes in favor of it. [Laughter.] Senators on his side had been lectured for speaking about disunion, but whenever Senators on the other side spoke of that subject, nobody lectured them.

Mr. Douglas rose to a question of order, as to whether Kansas was a proper subject of debate, the Senate not having decided whether they would take up the Minnesota bill or not.

Mr. Hale remarked that the movement of the Senator from Illinois afforded a practical illustration of what had just been said about lecturing. Why was not the Senator from Virginia, who started the debate on Kansas, lectured, instead of going off to the foot of the class and lecturing him (Hale)?

In the House, Mr. Lane presented the State Constitution of Oregon, which was referred to the Committee on Territories.

Mr. Parrott asked leave to present certain joint resolutions of the Legislature of Kansas, with the view to have them laid on the table and printed.

Impatient exclamations—"What are they? Read! Read!"

Mr. Craig objected, and raised the question that the papers could not be read.

After a struggle by the pro-slavery members against the reading,

The resolutions were read, strongly censuring the action of the Lecompton Convention, and the odious and oppressive party machinery of the law under which the delegates assembled, saying that the Convention repudiated and crushed out the distinctive principle of the Kansas-Nebraska act, by not leaving the people free to form and legislate on the subject of their domestic institutions in their own way, but at every stage had been prevented from so doing; and strongly protesting against admission into the Union under the Lecompton Constitution, as violating the rights of nineteen-twentieths of the people of the Territory.

A second series of resolutions from the Kansas Legislature was read, in effect asking to be received into the Union under the Topeka Constitution, and saying that the first Legislature was seized on by fraud and violence, revolting to a large number of voters in the Territory.

The resolutions were laid on the table and ordered to be printed.

TORONTO MARKET REPORT.

Front Street, Corp-Market Square,
Toronto, C. W., Jan. 28, 1858.

The Ice-Bridge over the St. Lawrence, at Montreal, has at last taken,—a month later than usual—and our market, but especially that of Montreal, has been relieved of the accumulated supplies of weeks. Never was the importance of the Victoria Bridge undertaking so sensibly impressed upon Western Canadians as this winter; and those who exclaimed against it, formerly, as a Lower Canada project, now see that it must secure to Toronto, a large proportion of a direct produce trade with the Eastern States, hitherto chiefly enjoyed by Montreal. Notwithstanding the delay in filling orders and transport of produce, consequent on the unusual state of the weather, and the roads, there has been an accession of new buyers, as well as extensive orders in our market for Flour of the higher grades, for the East. A speculative demand for Montreal account, has tendered to stiffen, without materially advancing prices. Low grades are in active demand for Montreal and Quebec at an advance.

Although the last English news is favorable, financially, and the Bank rate of interest reduced to 6 per cent., our Banks, as yet, manifest no disposition for any but short or sight draft operations.

Supplies of wheat are very small, and will continue so till we have a change in weather and roads.

Fine Flour, $2 40 to 2.50 per bl.; No. 2 Superfine $ 12 to 8.25; No. 1 do., 3 50 to 3 60; Fancy, $ 70 to $ 80; Extra, 4 00 to 4.05; Double Ex., 4 25 to 4 65.

In quantities not less than 100 bbls. of any one grade.

Wheat.—Prime white winter 86 to 90c; fair average do. 80 to 85c; Spring 65 to 70c; per 60 lbs.

Oats 25c per 34lbs. Barley 50 a 55c per 48lb.

Rye 50c per 56lbs. Peas 50 a —c per 60 lbs.

Hogs $ 75 a 5 00 per 100lbs.

Bank Drafts on New York par to ¼ per cent. premium; Boston par. American Bills ¼ per cent advance of New York quotations.

Freights from Toronto by rail, for full car loads only, to Montreal 90c a bl., 13c bush.; to Boston 120c a bl., 36c a bush.; to Portland 110c a bl ,33c a bush.; to Ogdensburgh 50c a bl., 15c a bush.; to New York 115c a bl., 40c a bush. Rates to Island Pond, Northumberland, Danville Junction, are the same as to Portland; to Bangor 25c per bl more than to Portland.

To Concord, Manchester, Portsmouth, Nashua, Keene, N. H., Lowell, Fitchburg, Salem, Worcester, Groton Junction, Mass., 130c per bl, 46c p bu.

Charges on Wheat are 5c. per bushel, which covers commission for selecting, purchasing, storing, bagging, and putting on cars; or may remain stored till Spring without extra charge, except for Insurance, which will be about 1 per cent. more.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

MONEY SAVED! HOW?

Some people hoard it away in old stockings, others again like the man in New Haven, keep it twenty years on the promise to pay of a bank, and lose the interest upon it while running the risk of losing the principal. The best plan to save it and the safest means of adding to its value is to invest $10, $5, or $2,50 in S. Swan & Co's legalized lottery, which draws every Saturday at Augusta Ga. It comprehends a magnificent capital prize of $70,000, entitling the fortunate holder to the whole amount of the prize or a half, or a quarter, as the ticket purchased may entitle him.

Creating such a stir among invalids as Dr. Sanford's Invigorator or Liver Remedy. It gives such quick relief as to convince the patient of receiving benefit almost as soon as the medicine is taken. It has acquired its wide popularity simply because it does what it is recommended to do. It is constantly enlarging its circle of friends, carrying healing on its wings, and joy to the hearts of those suffering from Liver Complaint, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, or general debility.

LOCAL.

☞ The storm of Monday night was quite severe; and as usual this winter, we had a little snow and much rain. The steamboat Forest City, Prince, left Portland at 7 P. M. Monday, for Boston and experienced the full force of the gale. At 1 o'clock, however, Capt. Prince run his vessel into Portsmouth, anchoring in the outer harbor, where he lost his heaviest anchor, owing to the violence of the gale.—At daylight, fearing to trust the steamer with one anchor he ran her ashore on the flats at Kittery, it being low water, landed her passengers there, and came up to the Navy Yard in the forenoon.

☞ Mr. C. S. Depp, who was for twenty-two years a slave, will give a lecture on slavery this evening, in the Temple, commencing at 7 o'clock. The door will be open at half past 6. Admittance 5 cents, paid at the door.

Turn out, gentlemen and ladies, to hear the black orator tell his story, and sing his songs, which he will do in the most approved style. Mr. D. is a minister, a correspondent of Fred. Douglas's paper, and comes well recommended by eminent men.

This (Wednesday) evening, at the Universalist Church, there is to be a public Exhibition of the Sunday School connected with that society. The exercises will be speaking, singing, declamation, and Sacred Dramas,—the whole designed to furnish a chaste, elegant and interesting entertainment. The doors will be open at half past 6,—and exercises commence at seven.—Tickets of admission 10 cents, to be had at the stores of Brackett Hutchings and John Harrat,—and at the door.

☞ "Memories of Home," a splendid Piano piece, by Carl Hause—just received, with a lot of New Music, by Charles C. Harvey. See advertisement.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—(Herald correspondence.)—It is reported that Mr. Buchanan contemplates withdrawing the troops from Utah. Dr. Bernheisel, the Mormon delegate, has submitted propositions to the administration, indicating the willingness of the Mormons to vacate Utah and colonize on some of the islands of the sea, outside of the jurisdiction of the United States, provided the government will purchase, at a fair valuation, the Salt Lake City improvements.

The caucus of the Democratic Senators has been postponed. They desire to wait until the Lecompton Constitution is referred to the Senate Committee on Territories, as it will be reported by a majority of the Committee, with the Minnesota bill hitched to it, and both put through the Senate together. The Cabinet feel confident that Congress will admit Kansas with the Lecompton Constitution. They do not anticipate so much opposition from Democratic members from the North and West as is generally believed; but whatever there may be, they believe that hardly any Southern member of Congress will dare vote against it. The consolidated vote of the South will compensate for any defection in the North. Douglas has given notice that it is war to the knife, and from knife to hilt, and that the administration must take the consequences.

NEW YORK, Feb. 2.—Horace Greeley publishes a card this morning to the effect that till recently he never heard, nor never believed, or suspected, that Messrs. Lawrence, Stone & Co., or anybody else, paid, or promised any money whatever to members of Congress at Washington, to editors in New York, or to anybody else, to produce a change in the tariff; "yet, if said committee supposes I could shed any light on the matter, I am very much at their service."

☞ Samuel Carson, of Brewer, for maliciously killing a maple shade tree in that town, was sentenced by the police court of Bangor, recently, to thirty days imprisonment in the county jail.

S. D. & H. W. Smith,
—MANUFACTURERS OF—
Melodeons, Organ Melodeons,
—and—
PEDAL BASS MELODEONS,
No. 511 Washington St., Boston,

The first premium over all competitors, at the Fair of the Mass. Charitable Mechanic Association, of the National Fair, Washington, D. C., also at the Ohio State Fair, held at Columbus, Ohio, was awarded to these Manufacturers.

By means of a new method of Voicing, known only to themselves, they have succeeded in removing the harsh and buzzing sound which formerly characterized the instrument, and rendering the tones full, clear and organ like. The action is prompt and reliable, enabling the performer to execute the most rapid music without blurring the tones. The swell is arranged to give great expression.

THE PEDAL BASS MELODEONS,

Are designed particularly for Churches, Lodges, Halls, &c. It is arranged with two manuals, or banks of Keys, the lower set running an octave higher than the other, and may be used separately, and thus get in one case two distinct instruments; or by use of the coupler, the two banks of keys may be played at the same time by use of the front set only. This connected with the Pedal Bass, will produce the effect of a large organ, and is sufficiently heavy to fill a house that seats from 1000 to 1500 persons.

THE ORGAN MELODEON

Is designed for parlor and private use. The construction is similar to the Church instrument, being arranged with two banks of Keys, and when used together, by means of the coupler, is capable of as great volume of power as the Church Instrument when used without the pedals. Also, every variety of MELODEONS for Parlor use.

Purchasers may rely upon instruments from our Manufactory, being made in the most complete and thorough manner. Having removed to the spacious Buildings

511 Washington Street,

We have every facility for manufacturing purposes, and employ none but the most experienced and skilful workmen. In short, we will promise our customers an instrument equal, if not superior, to any Manufacturer, and guarantee an entire and perfect satisfaction.

Music Teachers, Leaders of Choirs, and others interested in musical matters, are respectfully invited to visit our Rooms at any time and examine or test the instruments on exhibition for sale at their pleasure.

As a still further guarantee to the public as to the excellence of the MELODEONS from our Manufactory, we beg leave to refer, by permission, to the following

Piano Forte Manufacturers of Boston,
who have examined our Instruments, and will give their opinion when called upon:

Chickering & Sons,	Hallett & Cumston,
T. Gilbert & Co.,	Wm. P. Emerson,
Brown & Allen,	A. W. Ladd & Co.,
George Hewes,	Woodward & Brown,
Newhall & Co.

MELODEONS RENTED.

Persons who wish to hire Melodeons with a view of purchasing at the end of the year, can have the rent credited as part payment of the purchase money. This matter is worthy of special note, as it enables those who desire a fair test of the instruments before purchasing, to obtain it at the expense of the manufacturers, to the extent at least of a year's rent.

Orders from any part of the country or world, sent direct to the manufactory in Boston, with cash, or satisfactory reference, will be promptly attended to, and as faithfully executed as if the parties were present, or employed an agent to select, and on as reasonable terms.

THE GREAT BEAUTIFIER

So long unsuccessfully sought,
FOUND AT LAST.

FOR IT RESTORES PERMANENTLY GRAY HAIR to its original color; covers luxuriantly the bald head; removes all dandruff, itching, and all scrofula, scald head and all eruptions;—makes the hair soft, healthy, and glossy, and will preserve it to any immoderate age; removes, as if by magic, all blotches, &c., from the face, and cures all neuralgia and nervous headache. See circular and the following:

Dover, N. H., Feb. 2, 1857.

Prof. O. J. Wood & Co.—Gents: Within a few days we have received so many orders and calls for Prof. O. J. Wood's Hair Restorative, that today we were compelled to send to Boston for a quantity, (the 6 dozen you forwarded all being sold,) while we might order a quantity from you. Every bottle we have sold seems to keep up the good name it gained the first summer, and the approbation and patronage it receives from the most substantial and worthy citizens of our vicinity, fully convinces us that it is A MOST VALUABLE PREPARATION.

Send us as soon as may be one gross of $1 size; and one dozen of $3 size; and oblige, very truly,

DANIEL LATHROP & Co.

Hickory Grove, St. Charles Co., Mo., 1856.

PROF. O. J. WOOD—Dear Sir: Some time last summer we were induced to use some of your Hair Restorative, and its effects were so wonderful, we feel it our duty to you and the afflicted, to report it.

Our little son's head for some time had been perfectly covered with sores, and some called it scald head. The hair almost entirely came off in consequence, when a friend, seeing his sufferings, advised us to use your Restorative, we did so, with little hope of success, but, to our surprise, and that of all our friends, a very few applications removed the disease entirely, and a new and luxuriant crop of hair soon started out, and we can now say that our boy has as healthy a scalp, and as luxuriant a crop of hair as any other child. We can therefore, and do heartily recommend your Restorative, as a perfect remedy for all diseases of the scalp and hair. We are, yours respectfully,

GEORGE W. HUGHBOTHAM,
SARAH A. HUGHBOTHAM.

GARDINER, Me., June 22, 1855.

Prof. O. J. Wood—Dear Sir: I have used two bottles of Professor Wood's Hair Restorative, and can truly say it is the greatest discovery of the age for restoring and changing the Hair. Before using it I was a man of seventy. My hair has now attained its original color. You can safely commend it to the world without the least fear, as my case was one of the worst kind.

Yours Respectfully.

O. J. WOOD & CO., 312 Broadway, N. Y., (in great N. Y. Wire Railing Establishment) and 138 Market street, St. Louis, Mo.

LOTTERIES.

THE Lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are chartered by the State of Georgia, and have sworn commissioners appointed to superintend their drawings, and certify that everything connected with the same is done in a strictly honorable manner. They offer to the public a safe opportunity for investment, the interests of parties at a distance being as well protected as if they were present. The Manager would respectfully call attention to the fact that the State lottery has a legal right to send orders for tickets to Georgia, as the lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are authorized by the Legislature of this State. A lottery will be drawn every Saturday throughout the year, all orders received being filled in the drawing next to take place after the same comes to hand. According to the scheme one ticket in every ten must draw a prize. Tickets are $10; halves, $5; quarters, $2.50. No tickets sent unless the money accompanies the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket, and are so simple that none can fail to understand them. There is no combination of numbers to magnify the prizes; prizes vary from $40 to $70,000; every prize being drawn, and result of drawing forwarded to all purchasers.

☞ A list of the numbers that are drawn from the wheel, with the amount each prize is entitled to, will be published after every drawing, in the following papers:—New Orleans Delta, Mobile Register, Charleston Courier, Nashville Banner, Atlanta Intelligencer, and New York Weekly Day Book. Write your address plainly, and direct to

S. SWAN & Co., Augusta, Georgia

Prizes paid in full—no percentage deducted from prizes as in other lotteries.

All communications strictly confidential. m18 1y

LOTTERIES.

The well-known Maryland Consolidated Lotteries, of which R. Fairess & Co are the managers, are chartered by the state of Maryland, and a commissioner appointed by the governor, who is sworn to superintend and certify that everything connected with them is done in a strictly honorable manner, and that the interests of parties who may be at a distance are equally secure, as if they themselves were present at the drawing. Another fact which the managers call attention to, is, that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Maryland, as lotteries are legalized by special law in that state. A lottery is drawn every day of the month. If no particular class is named, the order will be filled in the first drawing to take place after the communication comes to hand. The prices of tickets vary from $1 to $20. No tickets, however, will be sent unless the money for the same is received with the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket (after the Havana plan), and Ternary combinations. Prizes vary in amount from $20 to $100 000. All orders for tickets or packages will receive prompt attention, and the drawing mailed to all purchasers immediately after it is over.

☞ The drawn numbers of the Maryland Lotteries are published by the State Commissioner in the following papers, viz: Sun, Clipper, Patriot, American, Argus, of Baltimore; also, the National Intelligencer and Union, of Washington, D.C.

S. D. & H. W. Smith,
—MANUFACTURERS OF—
Melodeons, Organ Melodeons,
—and—
PEDAL BASS MELODEONS,
No. 511 Washington St., Boston.

The first premium over all competitors, at the Fair of the Mass. Charitable Mechanic Association, of the National Fair, Washington, D. C., also at the Ohio State Fair, held at Columbus, Ohio, was awarded to these Manufacturers.

By means of a new method of Voicing, known only to themselves, they have succeeded in removing the harsh and buzzing sound which formerly characterized the instrument, and render ing the tone full, clear and organ like. Its action is prompt and reliable, enabling the performer to execute the most rapid music without blurring the tones. The swell is arranged to give great expression.

THE PEDAL BASS MELODEONS,

Are designed particularly for Churches, Lodges, Halls, &c. It is arranged with two manuals, or banks of Keys, the lower set running and octave higher than the other, and may be used separately, and thus get in one case two distinct instruments; or by use of the coupler, the two Keys may be played by the same time by use of the front set only. This connected with the Pedal Bass, will produce the effect of a large organ, and is sufficiently heavy to fill a house that seats from 1000 to 1500 persons.

THE ORGAN MELODEON

Is designed for parlor and private use. The construction is similar to the Church Instrument, being arranged with two banks of Keys, and is furnished with a Pedal Bass Coupler, is capable of as great volume of power as the Church Instrument when used without the pedals, and possesses every variety of MELODEONS for Parlor use.

Purchasers may rely upon instruments from our Manufactory, being made in the most complete and thorough manner. Having removed to the spacious Buildings

511 Washington Street,

We have every facility for manufacturing purposes, and employ none but the most experienced and skilful workmen. In short, we will promise our customers an Instrument equal, if not superior, to any Manufactory, and guarantee an entire and perfect satisfaction.

Music Teachers, Leaders of Choirs, and others interested in musical matters, are respectfully invited to visit our Rooms at any time, to examine or test the instruments on exhibition for sale at their pleasure.

As a further guarantee to the public as to the excellence of the MELODEONS from our Manufactory, we beg leave to refer, by permission, to the following

who have examined our Instruments, and will give their opinion when called upon:

Orders from any part of the country or world, sent direct to the manufactory in Boston, with cash, or satisfactory reference, will be promptly attended to, and as faithfully executed as if the parties were present, or employed an agent to select, and on as reasonable terms.

INSULTING COMPARISON.

It seems that a former enterprising citizen of an up-river town in Maine, having prematurely attained to his second childhood; in his poor and imbecile state, the guardians of the town bargained with a farmer to board him for $1.50 per week—probably the lowest sum for which they could keep him comfortable. The fact came out, and although no charge is made of ill treatment, of discomfort or of a lack of any necessary of life, still the fact that such a man, a man who has devoted his life to the interests of his town, should sink so low and be put upon so short commons, has produced a sensation in the community creditable to our common humanity. This feeling has reacted, we are told, upon the city of the unfortunate man's adoption, and successful efforts have been made to place him in a condition more in consonance with the promptings of the human heart. But a few New England papers, thoughtlessly, no doubt, have thrown out the sly intimation that if Mr. Sheldon had been a southern negro slave his condition would have been much more favorable. Papers further south, however, (and their insulting and invidious comparisons are copied approvingly into some of the papers nearer home) under the startling caption,—"SLAVERY IN MAINE," refer to this case, and calling Mr. S. a slave, use such language as this:—

The slavery in such cases is generally for a limited period, say one year, and consequently it is for the interest of the purchaser to get all he can out of his chattel within that time; whereas the interest of the Southern master requires him to prolong the life, health and strength of his slaves, except the superannuated, as much as possible.

No one, we trust, says the Bath Organ, will accuse us of any sickening feeling for southern slaves. By law, which is properly regarded as the measure of the average of public sentiment, the master is obliged to take care of his superannuated slaves—how much better than Mr. Sheldon has been provided for we do not say. It is not true, however, that interest always requires the southern master to prolong the life, health and strength of his slaves, for it is notorious that in some portions of the South the question is whether it is the more profitable to work the slaves moderately, and make them last as long as possible, or to work them up in a few years and replace them by new and fresh hands; and this question is decided precisely as a stage proprietor or a teamster would decide a similar question in relation to his horses. It is not true that the laws of the southern states make any more humane provision for the old, enfeebled and superannuated among the slaves than our New England laws make for the maintenance of the poor among us. Their laws in this respect are creditable to their humanity—and so are ours to the humanity of our people.

But we go, adds the Organ, for white humanity as well as colored; and it is not true that the white paupers of the South are as humanely provided for as the corresponding class with us, and on this ground we insist that such invidious and dishonorable comparisons as are made in the above extract, are an indignity to our State.

THE SEA OF LIFE.

And thou must sail upon this sea a long
Eventful voyage. The wise MAY suffer wreck,
The foolish MUST. O! then, be early wise!
Learn from the mariner his skilful art,
To ride upon the waves, and catch the breeze,
And dare the threatening storm, and trace a path,
'Mid countless dangers, to the destined port
Unerringly secure. O! learn from him
To station quick eyed Prudence at the helm,
To guard thy sail from Passion's sudden blasts,
And make Religion thy magnetic guide,
Which though it tumbles as it lowly lies,
Points to the light that changes not in heaven.—

CONTENT.—I knew a man that had wealth and riches, with several houses, all beautiful and ready furnished, and who would often trouble himself and family by removing from one house to another. From Hon. Chas. Mason, Commissioner of Patents.
U. S. PATENT OFFICE, Feb 23, 1855.
I take great pleasure in stating that during the time I have been acting as Commissioner of Patents, Samuel Cooper, Esq., of Boston, has been engaged as Solicitor, and has been in that capacity in constant correspondence and intercourse with the office; he has evinced a thorough acquaintance with the Patent Law, and with the rules and practice of the office, a close attention to the interests of his clients, and a marked candor and courtesy that has rendered the transaction of business with him a pleasure. I have no hesitation in stating that I regard him as one of the very best agents for the transaction of business with this office with whom I am acquainted.
CHARLES MASON, Commissioner.

A PERFECT SUBSTITUTE
FOR THE
LANCET, LEECHES AND BLISTERS.
INSTEAD of being a panacea for all maladies, it has control over but ONE MALADY—has but ONE AIM—accomplishes but ONE THING, to wit: SUBDUES INFLAMMATORY DISEASE—whatever be its form or locality—whether in the head, throat, chest, abdomen, extremities or skin. Every form of inflammation (but no other disease) is subdued, by it as easily as fire is extinguished by water. Is it asked, how it does this?—simply by restoring the lost balance between the fluids and solids. Such is its potency, that like vaccine matter, it requires merely what adheres to the point of a pin dipped into a solution of it, to affect the entire system.
☞ Of its intrinsic value, the enlightened community, and not the discoverer, must be the judge.

MYER'S EXTRACT OF ROCK ROSE, is peculiarly applicable, and if freely used will not fail to protect the constitution against the sudden and extreme changes of our variable climate It purifies the blood, strengthens the stomach, and invigorates the whole system, thus fortifying against the insidious attacks of uncongenial frosts and debilitating heats. STANTON'S ADDRESS.

Mr. Frederick P. Stanton, late Secretary and Acting Governor of Kansas, has issued an address to the people of the United States, dated Washington, January 28, in relation to his removal from office.—The document is very fairly abridged, as follows, in the Boston Courier. Mr. Stanton gives a condensed view of affairs as he found them.

"He says he did not solicit the office, and his acceptance of it was a proof of strong friendship for the President, and unbounded confidence in the firmness and faithfulness with which he would adhere to the line of policy agreed upon. Upon arriving in the Territory in April last, he found that slavery was not the only cause of dissension, and that the great mass of the inhabitants denied the validity of the existing laws passed by legislatures forced upon them by the fraud and violence of a neighboring State, and were determined not to submit to them. He labored in conjunction with Governor Walker to inspire confidence in the Government, through its agents, namely—Governor Walker and himself.

The worst portions of the small minority in Kansas, who had possession of the Territorial organization, loudly and bitterly complained of Governor Walker's policy of conciliation, and demanded the opposite policy of repression. The people generally were induced to participate in the October election. But the minority were determined not to submit to defeat. The celebrated Oxford fraud was perpetrated with a view to obtain majorities in both Houses. The returns received were so informal, that it was not necessary to go into the question of the frauds, in order to reject them. The minority, detested in their effort to prolong their power, became fierce in opposition and resorted to every means of intimidation, but found their most effectual means of operation by undermining himself and the Governor at Washington.

The Constitutional Convenonti, which had adjourned over until after the October election, upon meeting again, attempted to provide for the perpetuation of the authority of the minority, by adopting the Oxford fraud as the basis of their apportionment. The elections were hurried on in mid-winter—the 21st of December and the 4th of January—when emigrants could come only from the immediate border, under the qualification which invited to the ballot-box every white male inhabitant 'in the Territory that day.'

The frauds committed are notorious, and they can be established beyond all controversy. It was, he says, to enable the people to shield themselves from these frauds, and to give legal expression to their hatred and rejection of the instrument which permitted them and was to be carried by them, that he called the Legislature together.

By the organic act, the discretion of convening an extra session was confided in him, and the President had no rightful authority to exercise that discretion for him. He had the power of removal and such control as that power gave him. He preferred removal and loss of the confidence of the President rather than to refuse to the people an opportunity to assert their most essential rights, and to protect themselves against the basest frauds and wrongs ever attempted upon an outraged community. He had no instructions bearing upon the subject. The convening of the Legislature undoubtedly prevented difficulty and secured peace.

Whatever had occurred to disturb that peace was wholly attributable to the policy of the Administration in censuring his acts and removing him from office. The measure for which he has been condemned, has enabled the people of Kansas to make known their real will in regard to the Lecompton Constitution. The extra session also did good by giving means to expose and punish the monstrous frauds which have been perpetrated, and by preventing others which would have been attempted. It has driven the guilty miscreants engaged in them to become fugitives from justice, and has rendered it impossible for the peace of the Territory hereafter to be endangered by similar occurrences.

U. S. SOLDIERS IN KANSAS.—The N. Y. Evening Post, speaking of the new practice of stationing the army among our own peaceful citizens, says:—

"This sort of military despotism was begun in Kansas by President Pierce, and the rapidity with which it has spread there ought to alarm the country. At the end of the first three months of the year 1855, we had but 351 soldiers in Kansas. At the end of six months there were 912 there. At the commencement of 1856, we had 1086 there; at the commencement of 1857, we had 1342 there, and in October last, our military force in Kansas numbered 2516, just the number, as near as Mr. Stanton can calculate, of the pro-slavery party in Kansas. Thus, for every man who desires slavery in that territory and the adoption of the Lecompton Constitution, the government provides a soldier to oversee and discourage the twelve or fifteen thousand people who denounce that Constitution as a fraud."

☞ Mr. Shores advertises a New Lead Pencil Sharpener.—It is a great improvement on any we have heretofore seen, and not so quickly dulled. Buy one, and throw away your jack-knife.

THE HARTFORD EMBEZZLEMENT.—The Hartford Free Press says that the embezzlement of the funds of the Hartford Co. Savings Association by Mr. Seymour will probably absorb the capital of that institution ($100,000) but it is not likely the depositors will lose anything. Among the speculations for which Seymour used the funds of the Association, are the Bristol Copper Mine, a Silver Mine in Mexico, the Great Western Stone Company of Chicago, a furnace or rolling mill at Pridevale, Va., and a real estate speculation in Brooklyn. He transferred his real estate in Hartford to his relatives on Friday last. Mr. Seymour is 40 years of age and unmarried. He told a friend on Friday that he had used about $100,000 belonging to the Association; that he was going away and that his friend would never see him again. Which way he has gone no one knows.

AN AVALANCHE.—The farm of Mr. Elisha Murray in Montville, Waldo County, Me., is situated at the foot of Hog Back Mountain. On Monday last an avalanche came down against Mr. Murray's house with such violence as to break in the doors and windows, throwing Mrs. Murray upon the floor, dislocating her shoulder and fracturing both bones of her arms. It filled the house with water, snow and ice, making its way down by bursting the partitions into the cellar. It came with such power that it swept a path four or five feet deep and some forty to fifty wide, carrying away stone walls and fences, scattering the rocks and rails over the field to the distance of forty or fifty rods.

☞ The Manchester American says:—

Nearly three hundred persons have obtained naturalization papers in full during the sessions of the two recent courts in this city. A few of them were from Nashua, Hollis, and Hooksett, the rest belong to this city. We learn from the immediate parties that the expenses are paid by certain persons in this city, so that the papers are given free. Now, to say that the persons reputed to foot these bills do pay them from their own pockets, is sheer nonsense. The most prominent agent in hunting up these aliens, and providing them with papers, was never yet known to pay an honest debt of his own since he came to this city. Much less can he afford to pay those of his friends. Whether the money is furnished from the Fort Snelling swindle we know not. Certain we are it was never given by the professed donors.

We have ascertained that evidence is coming to light to prove beyond question in two cases, the persons having been made voters, have not been in the United States the required time.

☞ The new Mayor of Salem advocates the license system, of selling good liquors to promote temperance.—Whereupon, a correspondent of the Register says in reply:—

It is too late in the day for him to say, that the health and order of society will be promoted by the sale and use of good liquors. I hesitate not to say, that the use of good liquors, however well regulated, does not in any measure promote the health and well being of society. I doubt exceedingly, whether there is one case in ten, where intoxicating liquors are prescribed by physicians, in which it would not be better to dispense with them entirely. I remember to have accompanied one of the most honest and intelligent physicians this county has ever had, on his visit to an old lady of eighty years, who, after narrating her sufferings, and bearing his varied suggestions, said to him, "Isn't there something, Doctor, you can order to be taken, in a little spirit? I think that would benefit me." "Why, ma'am," said the Doctor, "there is the difficulty with you; your little doses of spirit are the primary seeds of all your ailments."

BUSINESS OVERDONE.—The Albany Journal, reviewing the statement of one of the New York Mercantile agencies, that there are 204,061 stores in the United States, estimates that this would be about one store to every one hundred and twenty-three inhabitants of all kinds, and adds:

Here, in a nutshell, is a whole theory of the uncertainty and fatality which do so characterize trade in America. It contains the strongest argument in favor of cash transactions between importers and merchants, and ought to be potential in driving out of trade half of its devotees into a pursuit that always makes generous returns upon the capital and labor invested—the grateful pursuit of agriculture.

☞ The property held by the Maine State (Free Will Baptist) Seminary at Lewiston, is valued at $66,000; the debt of the institution is $21,000. There are $4000 due on subscription; deducting the cash value (6000) of the lands in different parts of the village, with the $4000, and the actual debt is reduced to $11,000.

☞ At Senator Douglas' last ball in Washington, several of the exclusives had small hoops in the bottoms of the legs of their pantaloons. They were made of steel, and gave the pants a very pretty set around the boot.

☞ We learn from the Boston Transcript that the Police of that city, on Monday evening, arrested a heartless scoundrel, a young named William Coombs, about 24 years of age, pretending to hail from Bangor, and charged with being a heartless bigamist, having operated in the following manner. He was married, on the night before last Thanksgiving, to the daughter of a wealthy farmer in Carver, the young lady being but 16 years of age. After living with her but a few weeks he absconded, taking his wife's watch and chain and some money belonging to her father. Coming to Boston, he made the acquaintance of Maria Ryan, a maiden boarding-house keeper of 30, and married her ten days ago.

At his leisure, however, he repented the last hasty act, and began to devise a method of escape. He represented to his spouse that his family in Bangor were desirous that he should break up housekeeping, and go there to live. Accordingly the furniture was sold, and his wife's wardrobe was packed. Coombs, under pretext of taking the trunks to the boat, took them to the warehouse of Abijah Jenkins, where he pawned them; and then saw his wife to the boat, where he made her a parting gift of $5, promising to join her soon. Mrs. Coombs found no parents-in-law at Bangor, and returned to Boston to lament the wickedness of her husband. The latter fled to Dedham, but re-appeared in the city of Boston, and was promptly arrested and committed to the Tombs, consoling himself with the declaration that he "might as well go to the State Prison now as at any time."

☞ On Tuesday, Feb. 2, Rev. Mr. Nickerson was ordained at North Woburn, Mass. The council was unusually large, and comprised a part of the old one. The examination was perfectly satisfactory, and all the exercises passed off in a creditable manner. Rev. Mr. Stone of Boston preached the sermon. This is the ordination that was postponed for lack of satisfactory examination, and which gave rise to the talk in the newspapers about universal infant salvation.

BELGIUM.—Here is a geographical item of interest, because it is late and reliable:

"Belgium according to the last census, taken in 1956, contains 4,529,462 inhabitants. Its chamber of representatives consists of 108 members, of whom 40 are returned by the Walloon provinces, 51 by the Flemish, and 17 by that of Brabant, whose population is mixed. Though forming one kingdom, Belgium contains two races of distinct types and character, speaking different languages, and having little in common, except their religion.

A SKATING FEAT.—On Thursday afternoon, a young lady and gentleman skated from Bangor to Hampden, Me., on a trial of speed. The Whig says "the young gentleman had the longest legs, but the lady spread the most canvas, and the wind being fair and fresh, she beat him by 2 1-2 minutes, and the feat was performed in half an hour. So exhausted were the parties, however, and so strong the head wind to skate back, that they were brought to the city in a carriage."

☞ The ship Arctic, Capt. Zorega, which arrived at New York, on Saturday, Nov. 24, from Liverpool, when two days out was struck on the deck by a ball of fire, which burst with a tremendous explosion. With the exception of knocking down the third mate, carpenter, boatswain and several of the seamen, without seriously injuring any one; no damage was sustained from the fiery visitor.

Messrs. Editors:—Your literary correspondent of yesterday morning had better learn how to write intelligibly before he attempts to correct the mis-statements of others. His article, whether containing truth or falsehood is certainly quite a literary curiosity. He might at least have done as Lord Timothy Dexter did, that is, given us some punctuation marks at the close, with which each might pepper and salt it as he pleased. A LOVER OF LITERARY MEN.

A SQUADRON WORTH SEEING.—After the Prince of Prussia has married the Princess of England, he will carry her home, and their carriage on entering Potsdam will be preceded by a squadron of Garde-du-Corps, a splendid cuirassier regiment, with white uniforms and black facings and trousers, the helmets and cuirasses being of plated steel, and on the officers' helmets a silver eagle perched with outstretched wings.

SIGNOR BLITZ ROBBED.—The house of Signor Blitz, the great Wizard and Ventriloquist, in Brooklyn, L. I., was robbed of several hundred dollars' worth of silver ware last Saturday afternoon. By some magic or conjuration known to thieves, the silver ware was abstracted from the front basement while the family were in another part of the house.

THROUGH THE DARKNESS.

BY WILLIAM WINTER.

If the road grow dark before you reach
The home where your true love waits for you,
Will you linger within the light and preach
Of the dangers you may perchance go through?
Or will you go on, as you ought to do?
You will go, you will care not for darkness and storm,
For her dear love will shield you and keep you warm.

What sort of a life, I would like to know,
Will any man lead who does not love?
The frozen ground is cold below,
And the freezing stars are bright above:
But let him lie under the frozen mould!
For his heart and the stars and the earth are cold!

The night comes down with an angry frown,
And the fierce wind shrills on the lonely moor:
Look back—to the lights in the distant town!
Look on—to the dreary waste before!
What waits for you when the journey's o'er?
She will give you a sweet, sweet kiss you know:
Let the darkness come and the fierce wind blow!

In the path of duty grows many a thorn,
And bleak is the scorn of a selfish world:
But there never was night without its morn,
And after the tempest the clouds are furled.
For over all spreadeth the bright blue sky,
And we trust in our God who is always nigh!

TO CONSUMERS OF GAS.

The Carcel Gas Burner.

"WOOD'S PATENT," is recommended for the following reasons:—
Its Economy, which can be proved by any one who will take the trouble to try it with their own Meter, or at my store with a Proof Meter.
Its brilliant, though soft, diffusive light, equalized by the Carcel Lamp, acknowledged by Fresnel, "to be the finest artificial light yet produced."
Its self regulating power, requiring no alteration of the stop cock after lighting.
Its durability, and, where the Gas is impure, the ease with which it is cleaned.
Its adaptation for use with rich cut, or engraved globes, or the simple paper shade.
The absence of singing, so annoying to many persons.
It is a Gas Burner by which consumers can tell the quantity of Gas they are using, on looking at the spreaders.
And for every purpose where a continued Gas Light is used, as in Parlors, Stores, &c.
For a reading light in the family circle, it is Matchless.
The subscriber has been appointed Agent for the sale of the Carcel Gas Burners in this city, and would invite all persons who wish to economize greatly in the use of Gas, to make a trial of them. E. A. STEVENS.

MONEY SAVED! HOW?

Some people hoard it away in old stockings, others again like the man in New Haven, keep it twenty years on the promise to pay of a bank, and lose the interest upon it while running the risk of losing the principal. The best plan to save it and the safest means of adding to its value is to invest $10, $5, or $2,50 in S. Swan & Co's legalized lottery, which draws every Saturday at Augusta Ga. It comprehends a magnificent capital prize of $70,000, entitling the fortunate holder to the whole amount of the prize or a half, or a quarter, as the ticket purchased may entitle him.

LOCAL.

☞ The Sunday School Exhibition at the Universalist Church on Wednesday evening, was a very pleasant spectacle, and a successful effort. The exercises were carried out as proposed, with a good spirit, and to the satisfaction of a crowded audience. The spacious house was completely filled, and large numbers could not obtain admittance.

To accommodate these, and others, the Exhibition is to be repeated this (Thursday) evening, beginning at 7 o'clock.—Doors open at half-past 6. Admittance 10 cents.

☞ Rev. Dr. Peabody, before the Mercantile Lyceum, on Tuesday evening, gave a Lecture on the Mythologies of Greece and Rome, which he had prepared and delivered to the Young Men's Christian Union, of Boston. The lecture was a performance of much ability and interest, worthy the attention and thought of his intelligent auditors.

The closing lecture of the course will be given a week from Tuesday evening, by Benj. P. Shillaber, who will probably speak in the trance state, under the spiritual influence of Mrs. Partington.

In Congress, on Tuesday, Feb. 2., Mr. Mason of Virginia reported to the Senate a bill to indemnify the master and owners of the Spanish steamer Amistad and cargo, making payment for alleged slaves.

The Senate passed the House bill appropriating $360,000 for the support of the National armories.

The Army bill was debated, in the midst of which the President's Message was received and read.

Mr. Trumbull looked upon the Message as a perverted and incorrect history from beginning to end, of the difficulties in Kansas. He said that there was no usurpation in Kansas, further than that committed by the President and the army which had been employed there without authority of the law. He argued that the admission of Kansas under the Lecompton Constitution would be a violation of the Kansas-Nebraska act.

Mr. Douglas would not now go into any argument relative to the question raised by the Message. His opinion had been clearly expressed on previous occasions.—He thought the better course would be to refer the matter to the Committee on Territories. Hoping that course would be adopted, he asked leave to present a remonstrance signed by certain gentlemen and as Governor and State officers of Kansas, against the reception of that State into the Union under the Lecompton Constitution, which he moved be referred to the Committee on Territories and printed.

Mr. Toombs expressed his hearty co-operation with the President's policy.

The House spent several hours in considering the appropriating $790,000 to supply the printing deficiency, and it was finally rejected by 67 against 135.

The President's Message was received and read.

Mr. Stevens moved its reference to the Committee on Territories, and as the hour was late, thought better to adjourn.

Lost, 105 to 109; the friends of the Lecompton Constitution generally, voting in the affirmative.

After a struggle for the floor, Mr. Hughes moved a reference to a select committee of thirteen.

Mr. Bocock moved an adjournment.—Negatived by seven majority.

Some sharp words occurred between Messrs. Hughes and Harris of Illinois.

Mr. Hughes made a speech fully endorsing the Message.

Mr. Haris of Illinois offered a resolution that the Message of the President and the Lecompton Constitution be referred to a select committee of thirteen, to be appointed by the Speaker, to inquire into all the facts connected with the said Constitution, and the laws, if any, under which the Convention was held, and if so, whether the provisions of the law were complied with; also whether said Constitution provides for a republican form of government, and whether the population be sufficient for a Representative to Congress under the present ratio, and whether the Constitution is satisfactory to the legal voters in Kansas. Also, to ascertain the number of votes cast for the Constitution, and the places where cast, in each county: the census or registration under which the election of delegates were held, and whether the same was just and fair, and in accordance with the law: and all other matters bearing on the subject. Pending which proposition, the House adjourned.

☞ A Washington dispatch of Tuesday says:

The President's Message sent to Congress to-day has fallen still-born here. The opponents of Lecompton achieved a victory in the House; twice defeating motions to adjourn, because they were determined first to let Harris of Illinois get in his proposition for the reference to a select committee.

The same authority (Times) accuses Southern Senators of avowedly aiding disunion by urging the Lecompton swindle.

The Amistad and the Mormons.—Washington, Feb. 2.—The bill reported by Senator Mason to-day, from the Committee on Foreign Relations, appropriates $50,000 as an indemnity to the owners of the Spanish schooner Amistad. The report of the majority is the same as that made by the previous Congress.

The minority, Messrs. Seward and Foote, contend in their report that Ruez and Montes had no property in the fifty-three alleged slaves, for which payment is proposed to be made, and were themselves violators of law, and held the Africans in unlawful imprisonment. That our treaty stipulations with Spain contemplate the restoration of lawful merchandise recovered out of the hands of pirates or robbers on the high seas, but that those negroes were not lawful merchandise, having been stolen from their homes in violation of law. That the vessel and its owners were engaged in acts of piracy and robbery—that the claimants did not prove property, and that the claim generally is not supported by right or law.

It is true that Dr. Bernhisel has had several long interviews with the President relative to affairs in Utah.

He proposes that the troops be withdrawn and that a commission be despatched to the Territory to arrange for the settlement of difficulties.

The President rejected rather than received the proposition which Bernhisel made in virtue of his powers as delegate from Utah, and not pursuant of instructions from Gov. Young. The Dr. says that the people are disposed to peace, and would come to any reasonable terms of accommodation.

Pennsylvania Politics.—Philadelphia, Feb. 2.—The Democratic County Convention, after a session of seven hours, effected an organization, Thomas H. Forsyth being elected President by a majority of two. There was great confusion throughout. The contest was principally between the friends of Sharswood and Porter for Supreme Judge. Mr. Forsyth is considered a friend of Mr. Sharswood, the administration candidate.

Lancaster, Penn., Feb. 2.—Thomas H. Burrows, the anti-Lecompton Convention candidate, has been elected Mayor of this place by a majority of twenty-five over Zimmerman, Buchanan Democrat.

☞ The dwelling house of Joseph Mansur, in Concord, was burned on Saturday last; insured for $350.

THE GREAT BEAUTIFIER

So long unsuccessfully sought,

FOUND AT LAST.

FOR IT RESTORES PERMANENTLY GRAY HAIR to its original color; covers instantly the bald head; removes all dandruff, itching, and all scrofula, scald head and all eruptions; makes the hair soft, healthy, and glossy, and will preserve it to any improbable age; removes, as if by magic, all blotches, &c., from the face, and cures all neuralgia and nervous headache. See circular and the following.

Dover, N. H., Feb 2, 1857.

Prof. O. J. Wood & Co.—Gents: Within a few days we have received so many orders and calls for Prof. O. J. Wood's Hair Restorative, that to-day we were compelled to send to Boston for a quantity, (the 6 dozen you forwarded all being sold,) while we might order a quantity from you. Every bottle we have sold proves to have produced lasting or four-fear customers, and the approbation and patronage it receives from the most substantial and worthy citizens of our vicinity, fully convinces us that it is A MOST VALUABLE PREPARATION.

Send us as soon as may be one gross of $1 size; and one dozen of the $2 size, by express.

DANIEL LATHROP & Co.

Hickory Grove, St. Charles Co., Mo., 1856.

Prof. O. J. Wood—Dear Sir: Some time last summer we were induced to use some of your Hair Restorative, upon the strong testimony presented, we feel it our duty to you and the afflicted, to report it.

Our little son's head for some time had been perfectly covered with a scab, which we called it scald head. The hair almost entirely came off in consequence, when a friend, seeing his sufferings, advised us to use your Restorative, which set to work little hope of success, but, to our surprise, and that of all our friends, a very few applications removed the disease entirely, and a new and luxuriant crop of hair soon started, and we can now state that our boy has as healthy a scalp, and as luxuriant a crop of hair as any other child. We can therefore, and do hereby, recommend your Restorative, as a perfect remedy for all diseases of the scalp and hair. We are, yours respectfully,

GEORGE HIGGINBOTHAM,
SARAH A. HIGGINBOTHAM.

GARDINER, Me., June 22, 1855.

Prof. O. J. Wood—Dear Sir: I have used two bottles of Professor Wood's Hair Restorative, and can truly say it is the greatest discovery of the age for restoring and changing the Hair. Before using it I was a mass of grey hair, but now it has become its original color. You can recommend it to the world without the least fear, as my case was one of the worst kind.

Yours Respectfully,

O. J. WOOD & CO., 212 Broadway, N. Y., (in great N. Y.) Wire Railing (Establishment) and 114 Market street, St. Louis, Mo.

LOTTERIES.

THE Lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are chartered by the State of Georgia, and have sworn commissioners appointed to superintend their drawings, and certify that everything connected with the same is done in a strictly honorable manner. They offer to the public a fair opportunity for investment, the interests of parties at a distance being as well protected as if they were present. The Manager would respectfully call attention to the fact that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Georgia, as the lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are authorized by the Legislature of that State. A lottery will be drawn every Saturday throughout the year, all orders received being filled in the drawing next to take place after the same comes to hand. According to the scheme one ticket in every ten must draw a prize. Tickets are $10; halves, $5; quarters, $2.50. No tickets sent unless the money accompanies the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket, and are so simple that none can fail to understand them. There are no blanks, all numbers being mystify the buyer. Prizes vary from $40 to $70,000; every prize being drawn, and result of drawing forwarded to all purchasers.

☞ A list of the numbers that are drawn from the wheel, with the amount each prize is entitled to, will be published after every drawing, in the following papers:—New Orleans Delta, Mobile Register, Charleston Standard, Nashville Gazette, Atlanta Intelligencer, and New York Weekly Day Book. Write your address plainly, and address to

LOTTERIES.

The well-known Maryland Consolidated Lotteries, of which R. Franck & Co are the managers, are chartered by the state of Maryland, and commissioner elected by the people, who is sworn to superintend and certify that everything connected with them is done in a strictly honorable manner, and that the interests of parties who reside at a distance are as well protected as if they themselves were present at the drawing. Another fact which the managers call attention to, is, that all the prizes according to law are payable for tickets to Maryland, as lotteries are legalized by special law in that state. A lottery is drawn every day of the month, Sundays excepted. No tickets are sent unless the money for the same is received, with the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket (after the manner of the State and Ternary combination. Prizes vary in amount from $20 to $100 000. All orders for tickets or packages will receive prompt attention, and the drawing mailed to all purchasers immediately after it is over.

☞ The drawn numbers of the Maryland Lotteries are published by the State Commissioner in the following papers, viz: Sun, Clipper, Patriot, American, Argus, of Baltimore; also, the National Intelligencer and Union, of Washington, D.C.

—MANUFACTURERS OF—

Melodeons, Organ Melodeons,

—and—

PEDAL BASS MELODEONS.

No. 511 Washington St., Boston.

The first premium over all competitors, at the Fair of the Mass Charitable Mechanic Association, of the National Fair, Washington, D. C., also at the Ohio State Fair, held at Columbus, Ohio, was awarded to these Manufacturers.

By means of a new method of Voicing, known only to themselves, they have succeeded in removing the harsh and buzzing sound which formerly characterized the instrument, and rendering the tones full, clear and organ like. The action is prompt and reliable, enabling the player to execute the most rapid music without blurring the tones. The swell is arranged to give great expression.

THE PEDAL BASS MELODEONS,

Are designed particularly for Churches, Lodges, Halls, &c. It is arranged with two manuals, or banks of Keys, the lower set running an octave higher than the other, and may be used separately, and thus get in one case two distinct instruments; or by use of the coupler, the two banks of keys may be played at the same time by use of the front set only. This connected with the Pedal Bass, will produce the effect of a large organ, and is sufficiently heavy to fill a house that seats from 1000 to 1500 persons.

THE ORGAN MELODEON

is designed for parlor and private use. The construction is similar to the Pedal Bass instrument, being arranged with two banks of Keys, and when used together, by means of the coupler, is capable of a very full and rich volume of Church instrument when used without the pedals. Also, every variety of Melodeons for Parlor use.

Purchasers may rely upon instruments from our Manufactory, being made in the most complete and thorough manner. Having removed to the spacious Buildings

511 Washington Street,

We have every facility for manufacturing purposes, and employ none but the most experienced and skilful workmen. We feel confident of promoting our customers as Instrument equal, if not superior, to any Manufacturer, and guarantee an entire and perfect satisfaction.

Music Teachers, Leaders of Choirs, and others interested in musical matters, are respectfully invited to visit our Rooms at any time and examine or test the instruments on exhibition for satisfactory pleasure.

As a still further guarantee to the public as to the excellence of the MELODEONS from our Manufactory, we have leave to refer, by permission, to the following

Piano Forte Manufacturers of Boston,

who have examined our Instruments, and will give their opinion when called upon.

Chickering & Sons, Hallett & Cumston,
T. Gilbert & Co., Wm. P. Emerson,
Brown & Allen, A. W. Ladd & Co.,
George Hewes, Woodward & Brown,
Newhall & Co.

MELODEONS RENTED.

☞ Persons who wish to hire Melodeons with a view to purchasing, at the end of the year, can have the rent credited as part payment of the purchase money. This matter is worthy of special note, as it enables those who desire a fair test of the instruments before purchasing, to obtain it at the expense of the manufacturers, to the extent at least of a year's rent.

Orders from any part of the country or world, sent direct to the manufactory in Boston, with cash, or satisfactory reference, will be promptly attended to, and as faithfully executed as if the parties were present, or employed an agent to select, and on as reasonable terms.

MY SEWING MACHINE.

Dear Cousin Jane:—Such a change has passed
O'er my earthly lot since I saw you last,
That I cannot resist till my pen extends
The joyful tidings to all my friends.
My burden is gone, and my sky is bright,
My mind is strong and my heart is light;
I'm a happier mother, and wife, and self,
And I owe it all to a little elf,
The usefulest fairy that ever was seen,—
My No Plus Ultra Sewing Machine.

As I said just now, I'm a happier wife,
My husband's shirts were the plague of my life;
They were sometimes made, but were never done,
Bless me! the trouble was only begun!
It was always, "My dear, this shirt is not right,"
The neck was too loose, or the wrist was too tight;
They always were needing a button or stitch,
Were too large or too small, I could never tell which.
If I made twelve as like as leaves on one tree,
Though the first might be right, yet no other would be.
When I think of the shirt from beginning to ending,
Of the fitting and stitching, and scratching and mending,
Of the shirts that don't fit the disconsolate man,
Or the shirt that does fit him, so spick and so span,
So stiff and ungrateful, and yet the sole gain
From so much of labor, of time and of pain,
I almost am tempted my mind to express,
Men had better keep still on the matter of dress.
Could I make but one speech like a Webster's or Wirt's,
I think it would be on the subject of shirts.
But to come to the point, I had almost forgot,
I would now quite as fief have a husband as not.
He timidly, last week, brought me a pile
Of shirts to be made, which I took with a smile,
The first of the kind which he ever had seen,—
I thought he would like my Sewing Machine.

I have six young children—dear little ones,
Three little daughters, and three little sons,—
Six little children, all to be dressed
In school day clothes and in Sunday best;
Six pair of pants and nine pair of shirts,
Two dozen collars, and two dozen skirts;
Six little jackets, twelve little socks,
Outside garments for six little backs;
Kerchiefs to hem, and garments to mend,
And many another stray odd and end;
This was the work to be done this fall,
But then, dear me! it was nothing at all!
I gave it all, with a brow serene,
To my all-sufficient Sewing Machine.

And as for myself,—what with children and spouse,
What with visitors, servants, and market and house,
It is nothing more than might well be expected,
That my own private wardrobe was somewhat neglected.
I sewed up holes, and I ran up slits,
I put on patches, and I put in bits,
I went without button, and hook, and clasp,
I wore old things to their very last gasp;
But now I'm thoroughly fit to be seen—
Thanks to my good little Sewing Machine.

It would do you good to open the door
Of my linen closet, and see the store
For bed and table, of piles and tiers,
Enough to last us for twenty years.
So far as such things are concerned, I can say
I am perfectly ready to die to-day;
Though it WOULD seem a pity to quit the scene
So soon after buying a Sewing Machine.

You'll think me extravagant, I'll engage,
But, my dear, 'tis the subject of the age!
The world is divided 'twixt those who have got Sewing Machines and those who have not.
Poor, benighted beings are they
Who sit and sew in the old fashioned way.
Now, Cousin Jane, don't you want to see
What these wonderful things may be?
Come,—and your duties you need not shirk,—
But come with an extra trunk full of work.
You will never go back to your home, I ween,
Without taking with you a Sewing Machine.

I take great pleasure in stating that during the time I have been acting as Commissioner of Patents, Samuel Cooper, Esq., of Boston, has been engaged as Solicitor, and has been in that capacity in constant correspondence and intercourse with the office; he has evinced a thorough acquaintance with the Patent Law, and with the rules and practice of the office, a close attention to the interests of his clients, and a marked candor and courtesy that has rendered the transaction of business with him a pleasure. I have no hesitation in stating that I regard him as one of the very best agents for the transaction of business with this office with whom I am acquainted.
CHARLES MASON, Commissioner.

A PERFECT SUBSTITUTE
FOR THE
LANCET, LEECHES AND BLISTERS.
INSTEAD of being a panacea for all maladies, it has control over but ONE MALADY—has but ONE AIM—accomplishes but ONE THING, to wit: SUBDUES INFLAMMATORY DISEASE—whatever be its form or locality—whether in the head, throat, chest, abdomen, extremities or skin. Every form of inflammation (but no other disease) is subdued, by it as easily as fire is extinguished by water. Is it asked, how it does this?—simply by restoring the lost balance between the fluids and solids. Such is its potency, that like vaccine matter, it requires merely what adheres to the point of a quill dipped into a solution of it, to affect the entire system.

MYER'S EXTRACT OF ROCK ROSE,

THE PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE.

On the 2d day of February, President Buchanan sent into the Senate a message, with the Lecompton Constitution and documents.

The message fully endorses all the pro-slavery swindles, from the Kansas-Nebraska bill, down to the bogus constitution formed at Lecompton,—treats the Topeka men and free State men generally as rebels and traitors, and takes the most ultra ground in favor of the border ruffians and their measures throughout. We copy a few sentences:

The people of Kansas have then, in their own way, and in strict accordance with the organic law, framed a constitution and State government, have submitted the all important question of slavery to the people, and have elected a Governor, a member of Congress, the State Legislature and other State officers, and they now ask admission into the Union under this constitution, republican in its form.

[The people of Kansas, ah! Not 10 per cent. of the whole—but a set of usurping swindlers—in their own way.]

It is proper that I should refer to the elections held under the act of this Territorial Legislature on the first Monday of January on the Lecompton Constition. * * * * The election, which was peaceably conducted under my instructions, involved strange inconsistency. A large majority of the persons who voted against the Lecompton Constitution, were, at the same time and place, recognizing its valid existence, in the most solid and authentic manner, by voting under its provisions.

[Inconsistency! Yes, indeed. We said, some weeks ago, that the border ruffians in Kansas had so fixed matters, that if the free State men did vote, they would be charged with recognizing and acting under the bogus government there—and if they did not vote, they would be charged with neglect, and would have slavery fastened on their necks by Congress and the executive, with the plea that they did not vote when they might. Now the President charges them with both faults.]

Freemen of New Hampshire—Democrats of New Hampshire, look at the following stupendous judicial falsehood, or executive assumption. The President says:

It has been solemnly adjudged by the highest judicial tribunal, that slavery exists in Kansas, by virtue of the Constitution of the United States. Kansas is, therefore, at this moment, as much a slave State as Georgia or South Carolina; without this the equality of the sovereign States composing the Union will be violated, and the use and enjoyment of a territory acquired by the common treasure of all the States would be closed against the property of nearly half the members of the confederacy. Slavery, therefore, never can be prohibited in Kansas, except through the means of a constitutional provision, and in no other manner can this be obtained so promptly, if the people desire it, as by admitting her into the Union under the present Constitution.

Our suggestion here, is not, whether by some possible lawyer's quirk, such a decision might not be hammered out. But it is this: We were told by the pro-slavery Union savers, some years ago, that slavery would not, could not, go there. And again we were told, last winter, before the election, that so strong was the free sentiment there, so strong was the great democratic principle of popular sovereignty, that Kansas must come into the Union a free State.

But now our venerable President Buchanan tells us, mark his works,—"Kansas is at this moment as much a slave state as Georgia or South Carolina!!"

If this be true,—it is true because James Buchanan was chosen president, and because Fremont was not! for no well-informed man believes that the Dred Scott decision would have been made as it was made, had Fremont and Dayton been elected.

The president warns Congress not to reject the bogus instrument. He says:

On the other hand, should Congress reject the Constitution, under the idea of affording the disaffected in Kansas a third opportunity to prohibit slavery in the State, which they might have done twice before if in the majority, no man can foretell the consequences.

If Congress, for the sake of those men, should now reject the State because slavery remains in the Constitution, it is manifest that the agitation upon this subject will be renewed in a more alarming form than it has ever before assumed.

Every patriot in the country had indulged the hope that the Kansas-Nebraska act would have put a final end to the slavery agitation in Congress, which had for more than twenty years convulsed the country and endangered the Union.

If any patriot really indulged such an expectation, he must either have been a great fool, or must have supposed freedom and conscience throughout the world were dead; that the divine right of Kings was about the only right there was left, except the equally divine right of masters to hold slaves.

He says again:

He says again:

Should agitation again be revived, should the people of sister States be again estranged from each other with more than former bitterness, this will arise from a cause, so far as the interests of Kansas are concerned, more trifling and insignificant than has ever stirred the elements of a great people into commotion. * * *

Even if this were a question of mere expediency and not of right, a small difference of time one way or the other is not of the least importance, when contrasted with the evils which must necessarily result to the country from the revival of the slavery agitation.

But it is not a question of mere expediency, but a question of right and wrong. And a very important question, touching a very important right.

Now let us look at its insignificance!

In considering the question, it should never be forgotten that in proportion to its insignificance, let the decision be what it may, so far as it may affect a few thousand inhabitants of Kansas who have from the beginning resisted the constitution and the laws; for this very reason, rejection of the Constitution will be so much the more keenly felt by the people of fourteen States of the Union, where slavery is recognized under the Constitution of the United States. Again, the speedy admission of Kansas into the Union will restore peace and quiet to the whole country.

A very insignificant matter to the few thousand people who live in Kansas.—but so significant to the lords who live in 14 slaveholding states,—that they will feel it very keenly, and leave the Union.

The President's last paragraph reads as follows.

The dark and ominous clouds now impending over the Union, I conscientiously believe will be dissipated with honor to every portion of it, by the admission of Kansas during the present session of Congress, whereas, if she should be rejected, I greatly fear these clouds will become darker and more ominous than ever yet threatened the Constitution and the Union.

Here it is, members of Congress,—you must cram this bogus constitution down the throats of the unwilling majority in Kansas, in order to save the Union from being burst up by the fire-eaters.

Perhaps the people of New Hampshire will acquiesce in this decision—and then again, perhaps they will not.

SOUTHERN DOMESTIC ARRANGEMENTS.—Solomon Barrow, who was poisoned by his mulatto woman at Cedar Bayou, Texas, was the richest man in Liberty county, and had resided there for 35 years as a stock raiser. Margaret, the bright mulatto girl of 21 years, who mixed the arsenic with his bread and coffee, had for a long time been old Mr. Barrow's mistress, and he had made a will giving her freedom after his death, and $500 to carry her to a free State. Mr. Barrow's wife resided under the same roof with him, but he had not spoken to her for eight years. Margaret has been arrested.

MASSACHUSETTS INCIDENT.—The following incident connected with a recent vote in the Legislature,—the clerk calling the roll—"Marcus Morton!" "Yes!" responded the Ex-Governor, clearly but rather feebly, near the chair. "Marcus Morton, Jr.!" called the clerk. "No!" was the vigorous response of the member from Andover, from the center of the hall. "It was so often, in the Constitutional Convention," laughingly said the old gentleman to those near him.

☞ On Sunday afternoon last the barn of Mr. George B. LETTER FROM NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, Feb. 3, 1858.

Dear Chronicle:—The sudden appearance of two new luminaries in the firmament of "foreign correspondence" in the Portsmouth papers, is received as an encouraging compliment to the talents of your devoted attaché. The appearance of the renowned "Nena Sahib," wielding, in place of his terrible Hindoo war blade, a more peaceable instrument,

"That weapon which descends as still
As snow flakes fall upon the sod,"

(and about as harmless,) will be welcome news for the English readers of the favored sheet. We welcome the additions to the literary circle with the stereotyped phrase of the Broadway stage-drivers:—"Ride up, gentlemen, ride up? plenty of room for two more inside!"

Hon. E. Everett, for the second time here, delivered his lecture on Washington, on the 21st ult., at the Academy of Music, to an audience of over four thousand.—This hall is the largest and finest in the country—is capable of seating five thousand persons. It has five tiers of galleries extending on three sides of the immense building. The whole interior is ornamented and frescoed in superb artistic style.—The building is sufficiently extensive to contain the five largest churches in Portsmouth. This hall has been occupied the past season by the Italian Opera Troupe—this year the largest and most attractive ever in New York. For over a hundred consecutive nights, the world-renowned pianist Thalberg, the violinist Vieuxtemps, the equally celebrated prima donna Madame La Grange, and numerous other stars of equal magnitude, have by their combined musical talents attracted full houses of the beauty and fashion of the city. But a few weeks since the opera season closed, and the Academy is now used for various purposes. Few speakers here could fill a house with a more appreciative audience than the crowded throng who listened to the entrancing eloquence of Mr. Everett.

The past week with us, as well as with you, has been a season of joy for the firemen and their friends. The annual ball of the department was held at the Academy of Music on the 25th ult., and was a grand affair. These balls are a venerable institution here—having been held annually for thirty years; the proceeds are devoted to the Widows' and Orphans' Fund. On this occasion, the immense hall was floored over, level with the stage, for the dancers, while the un-terpsichorean spectators and tired participants retreated from the whirling throng below. The New York firemen are justly celebrated for their love of excursions, balls and other festivities. Besides this general ball, each company has its annual celebration or excursion.

No public institution (except perhaps the pockets of the office-holders) is so well cared for by our city government as the fire department—the discipline and promptness of the men, the elegance of all the tubs, and the prominently active part which they take in the daily life in the city, give them a place in the estimation of the world which is even unsurpassed by our displays of military power. Some of the engine houses are fitted up in a style of elegance hardly equalled by some of the parlors of up-town residences. New York has more firemen and companies than any city in the world except London. There are upwards of one hundred and thirty engine, hose and hydrant companies—the second-named class possessing the most fanciful and costly machines, which are their pride and glory. No occupation is so full of excitement and noisy enthusiasm as that of "runnin' wid der masheen."

For the first time in many years, England's Queen has seized the sceptre of fashion from the fair Empress Eugenie. The particular subject of this innovation is the petticoat.—The new mode, which has already commenced a fashionable revolution among the ever-imitative Gothamites, is seized upon with deserving avidity. It consists in wearing the gown looped up at the side in a graceful festoon, exhibiting a brilliant scarlet cotillon, the hem of which just reaches the ancle, and

"The feet beneath the petticoat,
Like little mice steal in and out,
As if they feared the light."

This new costume has more originality than any of the recent revulsions of fashion. Crinoline was merely an expansion, clam-shell bonnets a contraction, but the scarlet petticoat is a novelty as original in its conception as it is beautiful and tasty in its appearance. The new idea has seized the bon ton of our city, (some of them have but one new idea per annum) and the day seems near at hand when Broadway will be filled by a dazzling reflection of the Highland peasantry, the class from whom, on their fete days, Victoria and her Court borrowed this new feature of dress.

This bold move on the part of the fair sex challenges a corresponding freak, what is to be their new rage is hidden in the depths of the future. The tailors' inventive genius seems to have exhausted itself on the long-tailed coat. Later, the hatter has modelled that important article of dress after the style of a flower pot and saucer of a curved pattern—but as nothing has yet appeared to compete with the scarlet petticoat, now I propose an original, elegant, economical and healthy apparel, which would match the Ladies' mode to a charm.—It is that scarlet flannel shirts be substituted for the present inconvenient, old-fashioned, unattractive front of white linen, which a single spot of dirt renders more repulsive to good taste than a garment of plaited tarred rope would be in its place.—This proposition may be objected to as obstreperous by the gentlemen, but I am safe in venturing to insure for it the approval of the Ladies—How prominent among the little vexations of the married life, is the dreaded absence overlooked, of one or two of those troublesome household imps, pearl shirt buttons.

Respectfully, a minuit,

ISLINGTON.

CONGRESS.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.

SENATE.—Mr. Trumbull desired to call up a question of privilege, namely,—The report of the Committee on the Judiciary on the contested seats of Messrs. Bright and Fitch.

Mr. Bayard objected. He thought the Kansas question far more important, and ought first to be settled, as it involved considerations which might perhaps affect the stability of the Union.

Mr. Trumbull was of the opinion that the reason assigned by Mr. Bayard, was the very best reason in the world for the settling of the question of the right of those gentlemen to the seats they now occupy. If the Kansas question is so important as that Senator represented it, the first thing to be done is to determine who has the right to settle the question; and it is so much the more necessary that it should be settled by the Senate properly constituted. This contested election has been pending for nearly a year, and in order to have an understanding when it was to be disposed of, he move to make the subject the special order for to-morrow.

Mr. Hale contended that, as a question of privilege, the Senate was bound to consider and dispose of it, for if a question of this kind could be postponed by the action of the Senate, what advantage had such a question over any other?

Mr. Trumbull withdrew his motion, but said he would renew it to-morrow.

The President's Kansas message was then taken up.

Mr. Wilson attacked the President's position, stating that the history in the message was a stupendous and gigantic misrepresentation of the affairs of Kansas.—The President was not in the country when the Nebraska bill passed. He was nominated for the Presidency for that reason—in order that he might be able to prove an alibi. He denied that statement in the message, that the Free State party in the Territory set at defiance the Constitution or the laws of the land.

Mr. Brown resumed. In what he had to say he did not expect to convince those on the other side of the question. He proceeded to present some considerations to the minds of his political friends, and said, that the Republican party had not the shadow of an existence outside of the non-slaveholding States, and if it succeeded in its efforts to break up the National Democratic party, it was absolutely certain that the country would be divided into two sectional parties. In that case the Union would be drawn asunder, and this was as certain, as that the sun rose this morning and will set to-night. In reply to Mr. Stuart, he said, that the Senator had remarked that the woolly heads were constantly floating before his peepers. All he had to say was, that if the Senator would let the woolly heads alone he would be responsible that the woolly heads would let the Senator alone. [Laughter.]

HOUSE.—Mr. Bocock, from the Committee on Naval Affairs, made a report from the majority, concluding with a resolution that the act of Commodore Paulding in arresting General Walker and his followers, was not authorized by the instructions given him by the Navy Department; that while the Committee have no reason to believe that Commodore Paulding acted from any improper motives or intentions, yet they regard it as a grave error, which calls for the disapproval of the American Congress.

Mr. Sherman reported from the minority of the Committee a substitute, that Commodore Paulding in arresting General Walker and his associates and returning them to the United States, acted with the spirit of his instructions, and deserved the approbation of his country.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—(Herald correspondence.)—It is calculated, upon a close count of the House of Representatives, that there will be a majority of eight for the admission of Kansas with the Lecompton Constitution.

(Times correspondence.) The administration is evidently alarmed at the tactics of the opposition to Lecompton, consequently those members of the Cabinet, Cobb, Brown, and Black, were in the House all day, electioneering industriously. Desperate efforts are being made to defeat the proposition to refer the Kansas message to a committee, with instructions, for that motion is the most dangerous to the administration that could be made, as several Democrats will be disposed to vote for it, who would feel compelled to vote for Lecompton on the direct question. The chances are in favor of a select committee by a majority of from 5 to 10, if the Republicans are faithful.

(Tribune correspondence.) No purpose is entertained by the administration of recalling the troops from Utah, or of negotiating with Brigham Young, unless ordered by Congress so to do.

The administration confidently counts on uniting the whole Southern vote in the House for Lecompton, with three exceptions.

There continues to be five anti-Lecompton votes from Pennsylvania.

FROM PHILADELPHIA.—Philadelphia, Feb. 3.—The County Convention to select delegates to the State Democratic Convention held a stormy session during the day, on contested seats. Several free fights occurred, during which the reporters' table was abolished. The Anti-Lecompton contestants generally wear admitted.

Another immense audience assembled at the Academy of Music to witness Don Giovanni. The season ends here this week, after which the Troupe go to Baltimore.

TO CONSUMERS OF GAS.

The Carcel Gas Burner.

"WOOD'S PATENT," is recommended for the following reasons:—

Its Economy, which can be proved by any one who will take the trouble to try it with their own Meter, or at my store with a Proof Meter.

Its brilliant, though soft, diffusive light, equalling the Carcel Lamp, acknowledged by Frenel, "to be the finest artificial light yet produced."

Its self regulating power, requiring no alteration of the stop cock after lighting.

Its durability, and, where the Gas is impure, the ease with which it is cleaned.

Its adaptation for use with rich cut, or engraved shades, or the simple paper shade.

The absence of singing, so annoying to many persons.

It is a Gas Burner by which consumers can tell the quantity of Gas they are using, on looking at the spreaders.

And for every purpose where a continued Gas Light is need, as in Parlors, Stores, &c.

For a reading light in the family circle, it is Matchless.

The subscriber has been appointed Agent for the sale of the Carcel Gas Burners in this city, and would invite all persons who wish to economise greatly in the use of Gas, to make a trial of them.

POLICE COURT.

Feb. 3d. Before Justice Rollins,—Martin Adams alias Martin Fogarty, plead guilty to stealing an umbrella from a dwelling house, and was sent to jail for 30 days—also ordered to pay costs $4.70, and $10 damages.

Several petty thefts have recently been punished by this court. Patrick Bluck for stealing a hand-sled, and John H. Stringer for stealing a pair of India-rubber boots, were sent to jail 10 days each, and ordered to pay costs, &c. And Jeremiah Murphy went to the House of Correction for drunkenness.

CRACKED BELLS,—ARE THEY SPOILED?—Often they are cracked beyond all redemption, but not always. There is a good church bell now hanging in our neighboring town of Rye, which was cracked many years ago, at the lower edge, where such cracks commonly begin. It sounded badly, and grew worse, as the edges jarred more and more. But some one there had heard that sawing out the crack would stop the jar. It was sawed out—a piece wide enough and deep enough to take out all the crack was removed, and the bell is as good as ever, only raised a little in its tone. This hint may possibly be of some use in saving the old North Bell, if the crack there is not too deep already.

☞ Rev. C. S. Depp, the black orator, had a good audience at the Temple on Wednesday evening, although a more popular entertainment drew a crowded house in a church not far off, at the same time.

Mr. Depp so interested his hearers in his description of slave life, which he endured for 22 years, that many of them requested a second lecture.

He will therefore speak again, on slavery as he knows it, this (Friday) evening at the Temple. He will also sing some anti-slavery songs.—Commencing at 7 o'clock. The door will be open at half past 6. Admittance 5 cents, paid at the door.

MASONIC VISIT.—One evening last week, a party of about twenty "Free and accepted Masons" left our city on a visit to Haverhill, Mass. The Masters of both Lodges (St. John's and St. Andrew's), several Past Masters, (including our worthy Mayor,) and officers and members, constituted the delegation. They arrived in Haverhill about 6 o'clock, and were received in the most courteous and hospitable manner by the members of Merrimac Lodge. After tea, they were escorted by a committee to the Masonic Hall, where the Lodge was assembled and "at work."

The Masonic Hall in Haverhill is said to be the finest in New England. Everything in and about the hall is elegant, thoroughly Masonic, and in perfect taste, and there is every appliance for the comfort of the members and conveniences of the "craft."

After spending the evening in the Lodge, and having a good time—such as they only can appreciate who are of the "mystic tie"—we were invited to the Eagle House, to partake of a most bountiful supper.—The large dining hall of the "Eagle" was well filled by a party who did ample justice to the viands of "mine host." Bro. Geo. W. Chase, of the Masonic Journal, presided at the board; and some two or three hours were spent in the most agreeable manner at the table, listening to speeches, toasts, &c.

On breaking up, the whole party joined hands round the table and sung "Old Lang Syne"; they then separated for the night,—and next morning the Portsmouth delegation returned home.

This was one of the most pleasant excursions of the season, and one which will ever be remembered with the greatest pleasure and satisfaction by those who had the good fortune to participate in it. c.

SINGING.—That great divine, Dr. Jonathan Edwards, observes, that "as it is the command of God that all should sing, so all should make conscience of learning to sing,—as it is a thing that cannot be decently performed at all without learning. Those, therefore, (where there is no natural inability,) who neglect to learn to sing, live in sin, as they neglect what is necessary in order to their attending one of the ordinances of God's worship."

Those having the guardianship of youth would do well to consider this pointed remark.

Prof. O. J. Wood & Co.—Gents: Within a few days we have received your favor of orders and calls for Prof. O. J. Wood's Hair Restorative, that today we were compelled to send to Boston for a quantity, (the 6 dozen you forwarded all being sold,) while we might order a quantity more. Every bottle we have sold seems to have produced three or four new customers, and the approbation and patronage it receives from the most substantial and worthy citizens of our vicinity, fully convinces us that it is A MOST VALUABLE PREPARATION.

Send us as soon as may be one gross of $1 size; and one dozen of $2 size; yours very respectfully,

DANIEL LATHROP & Co.

Hickory Grove, St. Charles Co., Mo., 1856.

PROF. O. J. WOOD—Dear Sir: Some time last summer we were induced to use some of your Hair Restorative, and its effects were so wonderful, we feel it our duty to you and the afflicted, to report it.

Our little son's head for some time had been perfectly covered with sores, and some called it scald head. The hair almost entirely came off in consequence, when a friend, seeing his suffering, advised us to use your Restorative, we did so with little hope, but to our surprise, and that of all our friends, a very few applications removed the disease entirely, and a new and luxuriant crop of hair soon started out, and we can now say that our boy has as healthy a scalp, and as luxuriant a crop of hair as any other boy of his age. We can therefore, and do hereby, recommend your Restorative, as a perfect remedy for all diseases of the scalp and hair. We are, respectfully,

GEORGE W. THOMASBOTHAM,
SARAH A. THOMASBOTHAM,
CHARLES A. THOMASBOTHAM, Mrs. June 22, 1855.

Prof. O. J. Wood.—Dear Sir: I have used two bottles of Professor Wood's Hair Restorative, and can truly say it is the greatest discovery of the age for restoring and changing the color of the hair. Before using it I was a man of seventy. My hair has now attained its original color. You can recommend it to the world without the least fear, as my case was one of the worst kind.

Yours Respectfully.

LOTTERIES.

THE Lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are chartered by the State of Georgia, and have sworn commissioners appointed to conduct and direct the drawings, and certify that everything connected with the same is done in a strictly honorable manner. They offer to the public a fair opportunity for investment, the interests of parties at a distance being as well protected as if they were present. The Manager would respectfully call attention to the fact that all persons have a perfect right to send money for tickets to Georgia, as the lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are authorized by the Legislature of that State. A lottery will be drawn every Saturday throughout the year, all orders received being filled in the drawing next to take place after the same comes to hand. According to the scheme each ticket in every one must draw a prize. Tickets are $10; halves, $5; quarters, $2.50. No tickets sent unless the money accompanies the order. The drawings are upon the principle of only one number on each ticket, and we simply that none can fail to understand them. There is no combination of numbers to mystify the buyer. Prizes will be paid in full in cash, being drawn, and result of drawing forwarded to all purchasers.

☞ A list of the numbers that are drawn from the wheel, with the amount each prize is entitled to, will be published after every drawing, in the following papers:—New Orleans Delta, Mobile Register, Charleston Standard, Nashville Gazetteer, and New York Weekly Day Book. Write your address plainly, and direct to S. SWAN & Co., Augusta, Georgia

Prizes paid in full—no percentage deducted from prizes as in other lotteries.

All communications strictly confidential. m181y

LOTTERIES.

The well-known Maryland Consolidated Lotteries, Atlantic which E. FRANCIS & Co. are the managers, are chartered by the state of Maryland, and a commissioner elected by the people, who is sworn to superintend and supervise the drawings and connected with them is done in a strictly honorable manner, and that the interests of parties who reside at a distance are as well protected as if they were present at the drawing. Another fact which the managers call attention to, is, that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets in Lottery Goods, and are legalized by special law in that state. A lottery is drawn every day of the month. If no particular class is named, orders are filled in the first drawing after they are received with the money. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket (after the Havana plan), and Ternary combinations. Prizes vary in amount from $20 to $100,000. Write for tickets or packages will receive prompt attention, and the drawing mailed to all purchasers immediately after it is over.

☞ The Schemes for the drawings of the Maryland Lotteries are published by the State Commissioner in the following papers, viz: Sun, Clipper, Patriot, American, Argus, of Baltimore; also, the National Intelligencer and Union, of Washington, D.C.

S. D. & H. W. Smith,
—MANUFACTURERS OF—
Melodeons, Organ Melodeons,
—and—
PEDAL BASS MELODEONS.
No. 511 Washington St., Boston.

The first premium over all competitors, at the Fair of the Mass. Charitable Mechanic Association, of the National Fair, Washington, D. C., also at the Ohio State Fair, held at Columbus, Ohio, 1856, awarded to these Manufacturers.

By means of a new method of Voicing, known only to themselves, they have succeeded in removing the harsh and buzzing sound which formerly characterized the instrument, and rendering the tones full, clear and organ like. The action is prompt and reliable, enabling the performer to execute the most rapid music without blurring the tones. The swell is arranged to give great expression.

THE PEDAL BASS MELODEONS,

Are designed particularly for Churches, Lodges, Halls, &c. It is arranged with two manuals, or banks of Keys, the lower set running an octave higher than the other, and may be used separately, and thus get in one case two Diapason Stops; or by use of the coupler, the two banks of keys may be played at the same time by use of the front set only. This connected with the Pedal Bass, will produce the effect of a large organ, and is sufficiently heavy to fill a house that seats from 1000 to 1500 persons.

THE ORGAN MELODEON

Is designed for parlor and private use. The construction is similar to the Pedal Bass instrument, being arranged with two banks of Keys, and when used together, by means of the coupler, is capable of as great volume of power as the Church Instrument when used without the pedals. Also, every variety of MELODEONS for Parlor use.

Purchasers may rely upon instruments from our Manufactory, being made in the most complete and thorough manner. Having removed to the spacious Buildings

511 Washington Street,

We have every facility for manufacturing purposes, and employ none but the most experienced and skilful workmen. In short, we will promise our customers an Instrument equal, if not superior, to any Manufacturer, and guarantee an entire and perfect satisfaction.

Music Teachers, Leaders of Choirs, and others interested in musical matters, are respectfully invited to visit our Rooms at any time and examine or test the instruments on exhibition for sale in our warerooms.

As a still further guarantee to the public as to the excellence of the MELODEONS from our Manufactory, we beg leave to refer, by permission, to the following

Piano Forte Manufacturers of Boston,

who have examined our Instruments, and will give their opinion when called upon:

This matter is worthy of special note, as it enables those who desire a trial of the instruments before purchasing, to obtain it at the expense of the manufacturers, to the extent at least of a year's rent.

Orders from any part of the country or world, sent direct to the manufactory in Boston, with cash, or satisfactory reference, will be promptly attended to, and as faithfully executed as if the parties were present to select an agent to select, and on as reasonable terms.

Both are dead. The cause of the wife's act is stated to be, that she heard her husband was going to desert her. The tragedy took place in a basement in Duane street, near William street."

ROMANTIC.—Occasionally an incident occurs in a village even as regular in its habits as is this, which rivals some of the golden fables in the Arabian Nights.

A short time since, an unpretending Down East schooner arrived in our harbor. She was bound to New York, and probably put in in consequence of an unfavorable wind, to wait a fair chance to get a run over the shoals. The captain came ashore and one evening was making a visit at the house of an acquaintance. Here he chanced to spy a young woman who was stopping there, and at first sight the gallant tar was "smitten." Calling the young woman to the doorway, as he was passing out, he addressed her directly to the point, with—"Will you have me?" The lady was "struck" even as the captain had been smitten. "I am bound on a cruise," said the sailor; "and you can wait till a year has passed; or you can go on board and go home with me; or we will be married to-night, if you will. You can inquire of my friends (so and so) in regard to my character. I am a widower, and have a few thousands' worth of property." The lady "bustled round;" that night they were married, and went on board the vessel; and the next morning many of us from the shore were wondering why that coaster had so many gay flags flying. Happy voyages and pleasant gales may they enjoy.—Provincetown Banner.

How They Marry in Paris.—Mr. X. was lately walking before Tortoni's, looking at his cigar burning. Its perfume was sweet, and its white and solid ashes denoted a true Havana. Entirely absorbed by this sweet contemplation, he forgot the world and its cares, when a little cry awoke him to mundane realities. He perceived that an elegant dress was entangled in his. He disengaged it, not without tearing a little strip from it, and was about to present to his involuntary captive his very humble excuses, but on raising his eyes, he recognized Mlle. Y., whose lost glove he had found on an arm-chair at a ball, the winter before. He drew the glove from his pocket; presented it to her, and stammered a phrase in which the words 'previous souvenir' and 'hand' were to be distinguished. She addressed a supplicating look to her mother, who consulte 'an old servant, for forty years devoted to the family. Old servant drenches his handkerchief with his tears. Conclusion: The two young people, now wedded, preserve in a glass case a glove, a torn bit of dress, and a cigar stump, the innocent causes of a happy marriage. There's a subject for a novelist. —Sat. Eve. Gaz.

LETTER FROM NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, Feb. 3, 1858.

An item of news in your issue of the 27th ult. in relation to the rumored "filling up of New York Harbor," needs a little revision, as it seem to come to you perverted by the scribblers in the Boston papers. The only apparent symptom of filling up is the shoaling of the water in the narrow passage between the Battery and Governor's Island, a distance of one-half a mile—supposed to be caused in part by deposits of earth washed by the tide from the Battery extension, and threatening only to temporarily affect the ingress of large vessels into a part of East River. It is hardly consistent with the well known nature of the locality to predict the "filling up" of New York Harbor,—a deep expanse of water twenty-five miles in circumference,—the receiving and discharging reservoir of two mighty rivers flowing with deep and rapid current to the sea, each bounded by natural masses which can allow them no other passage. Even if vessels from foreign ports were for a time prevented from entering East River, it would not materially check the commercial prosperity of New York, so long as the Hudson rolls its deep waters extending to the width of nearly two miles, forming for the distance of fourteen miles, the Western boundary of the city, which will, undoubtedly, in less than one century, cover the whole of its island limits. Again, even should this entrance to the East river be rendered entirely impassable, the other channel between Governor's Island and the Brooklyn shore would proportionately become deeper, for the swift current (nearly as rapid as that of the Piscataqua,) must find for itself a natural outlet sufficient for its needs. To those who are acquainted with the formation of the island of Manhattan, it is a well known fact that the lower part for a distance of two miles or more, is composed of a sandy soil of the consistence of fine gravel, without rocks or foundation of any kind. The excavations for the cellars of many of the new buildings in the vicinity of Broadway, on Rock Place, Warner, Murray, and other streets newly opened to business, have been carried to the depth of more than thirty feet, and the soil has been found to be entirely of this nature, a compact but dry sand.—Again, if we follow the course of the Hudson up for two hundred miles, we find on its shores, particularly among the Highlands and by the Palisades, evidence (either of great revulsions of Nature, or, what is more plausible, of a current in former ages of immense force and swiftness. Legends of the Indians corroborate the existence of the latter cause. This current, then, gradually washed away the loose sand and earth along the sides of the Palisades, and carried much of it as far as the blunt, rocky foot of this island, the locality of which is now easily perceptible about three miles from the Battery, and where, by the conjunction of the tide of the East River, a deposit was made in an angular flat or beach, which gradually grew to the present shape of the island, which is strictly in conformity with the currents, thus verifying our theory. The works of civilized man—piers, made land, &c., as well as the unexplained but still evident slackening of the current, so retarded this seaward growth of the island as to render the shallowing hardly perceptible; but now the washing away of the Battery Sea Wall has given it a new foot-hold, and although the accumulation of earth has not been so rapid as before, it is gaining proportionately faster, as the channel becomes more shallow, giving it a more stable foundation.

Here then is our proposal, deduced from the above facts.—Instead of attempting at an immense cost to remove this impediment and deepen the channel, let the authorities assist the work of nature—build piers and seawalls, and turn the channel of the East River to the East side of Governor's Island, and allow the space now in question to fill in, which could be accomplished in a few years, and then add many hundreds of acres to the business part of our city, which is too contracted for its needs, and make of the broad field and steep shores of Governor's Island, the busy mart of the commercial world, the landing place of the monster steam fleet which is fast superseding the winged ocean-travellers across the Atlantic.

We trust our scientific friends will receive our project with more favor than the world did the plan of an enterprising philosopher who suggested that the English Leviathan, if she could not pass over the bar in the lower harbor, should be brought to our wharves by the following method—namely—allow her to run ashore on Sandy Hook; employ a few thousand carpenters to take her to pieces; bring each a piece up to the city on a dog-cart, via Jersey Shore, and have her rebuilt and launched at Webb's shipyard.—When she gets tired of New York, go through the operation vice versa, and send her back to England.

Respectfully, a minuit,
ISLINGTON.

American and Foreign Patents
R. H. EDDY, solicitor of Patents,
(Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837.)
No. 76 State st, oppo. Kilby st, Boston,
AFTER an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britian, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remmitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.
This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AVAILIBLE, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate.—The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.
All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.
TESTIMONIALS.
"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."
From the present Commissioner.
AUGUST 17, 1855.—During the time I have held the Office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the office, as a Solicitor. He is thoroughly acquainted with the law, and the rules of practice of the Office. I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

Coggswell's Medical Salt,
A PERFECT SUBSTITUTE
FOR THE
LANCET, LEECHES AND BLISTERS.
INSTEAD of being a panacea for all maladies, it has control over but ONE MALADY—has but ONE AIM—accomplishes but ONE THING, to wit: SUBDUES INFLAMMATORY DISEASE—whatever be its form or locality—whether in the head, throat, chest, abdomen, extremities or skin. Every form of inflammation (but no other disease) is subdued, by it as easily as fire is extinguished by water. Is it asked, how it does this?—simply by restoring the lost balance between the fluids and solids. Such is its potency, that like vaccine matter, it requires merely what adheres to the point of a pin dipped into a solution of it, to affect the entire system.
☞ Of its intrinsic value, the enlightened community, and not the discoverer, must be the judge.

MYER'S EXTRACT OF ROCK ROSE, is peculiarly applicable, and if freely used will not fail to protect the constitution against the sudden and extreme changes of our variable climate. It purifies the blood, strengthens the stomach, and invigorates the whole system, thus fortifying against the insidious attacks of ungenial frosts and debilitating heats. See Circulars.

Morning Chronicle.

SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 6, 1858.

UNCLE TOBY UNMASKED.

The N. H. Patriot of Feb. 3, zealously but without much knowledge, pitches into the Chronicle, and into its editor who talks temperance, in the following style.

He is really a violent, bitter black republican partisan, but tries to disguise his rabid partisanship under a pretended advocacy of the temperance cause, thinking thus most effectually to advantage the black republicans and thereby wring in a few temperance Democrats to the support of his party.

Ah! Ah!—said Uncle Toby, on reading this—what is fame? Here's a young man in Concord, enlightening all the readers of the Patriot with the "astounding development" that Uncle Toby tries to disguise the blackness of his anti-slavery politics under the white mantle of pretended temperance!

The dwellers at Clamshell Corner know full well that Uncle Toby's anti-slavery, or black republicanism, if any body choose to call it so, is not a very new thing here, and by no means a private or hidden matter.

It was avowed twenty-one years ago, in a Fourth of July address, delivered in Portsmouth, in the face of a town meeting called to put him down, and in the face of a mob raised to break up the assembly,—and it was repeated the next 4th of July in Chester,—the orator delivering a temperance address on the same day, to the same people.—Within these 20 years, from the pulpit, the platform and the press, Uncle Toby has exposed and opposed slavery, with its aids, abettors, and accomplices, hundreds of times—and now, forsooth, somebody has made the wonderful discovery, that he is a Black Republican.

Well! murder will out,—and Uncle Toby can't do better than to laugh at the astonishing disclosure of anti-slavery blackness, which he thought was visible to the most careless beholder.

"His pretended advocacy of the temperance cause," seems to him almost as good a joke as the other. Here he has been, for thirty years, on temperance pledges, from the old anti-rum pledge down to the teetotal—been appointed by the Washingtonians, each year from first to last, as an editor of their paper—has delivered scores of lectures, and written hundreds of articles in favor of temperance—thinking all the time he was in earnest—but now, forsooth, it turns out, by the Patriot's assertion, that he has only pretended to advocate temperance all this time! But the best of this joke is, that in these same thirty years, the liquor shops of Portsmouth, have dwindled down from 200 to 60, though the population in the same time has gone up from 7,500 to 10,000—and the liquor trade in the suburban towns, round this city, has diminished to almost nothing!—This change, if we can believe the Patriot, has been brought about by pretences and pretenders, of whom, from the beginning till now, Uncle Toby has been one.

If any body can believe that Uncle T. conceals his real blackness behind his pretended temperance,—and that he conceals his real temperance behind his pretended blackness; let them believe it. He is not aware of concealing either.

As to Uncle Toby's "party," the claws themselves might laugh in their beds, at the idea of his being either a party leader, or the follower of any party one step beyond his own ideas of duty or expediency. He wrote one of the earliest protests against Daniel Webster's speech in 1850—one of the earliest against Douglas's Kansas Nebraska bill—and has openly opposed every encroachment of slavery from that time down to the Lecompton swindle.

The Patriot goes on thus:

He takes issue with us upon our showing that the Maine Law had been made one of the planks of the black republican platform, and attempts to invalidate our statement by special pleading, notwithstanding the fact is patent to every person in the State.

This sentence is a patent falsehood, if there is any patent about it.—We took no such issue.—What the Patriot said was this:

For three years past, the Maine Law has constituted one of the most important planks in their platform.

The reader will see in a moment that it is one thing to say that the Maine Law had been at some time, one plank of a platform,—and quite another thing to say it had been one of the most important planks for three years!

The difference in the case is just this, the first one comes very near the truth,—while the other is entirely false.

In 1855, three years ago, the prohibitory law was a plank in the American platform.

But in the years 1856 and '57, the Republican party, (which succeeded the American)—had no such plank in either of their platforms!

The subject was left by them exactly where it is left this year, 1858, viz. out of their platform!

Yet the Patriot asserted that it has been a most important plank for three years past,—and seems troubled that they should not use it this year.

And when we contradicted this false statement, the Patriot does not correct its error, but shifts its ground as we have shown above.

But there will not be much political capital made out of the rum plank, this year, by anybody, in New Hampshire.

☞ The ordination of Mr. Stephen G. Nickerson, at North Woburn, Mass., was effected by the third council which has been called for the purpose by the Congregational Church in that place. Nine churches were represented in this Council, which consisted of 17 members, many of whom had served in the two previous Councils. The candidate underwent an examination, continuing some two hours and a half. At half past twelve the Council took a recess; and upon coming together again, at one o'clock, went into secret session, which continued four hours, during which time the audience remained in the church, waiting with exemplary patience the result of the lengthened deliberations. At five o'clock the Council came in, and proceeded with the ordination.

Thus peacefully ends this most notable affair, the particulars of which have been eagerly sought for by the public, which has watched the development of the matter from stage to stage, not so much on account of the church or the people engaged in the controversy, as of the theological opinions involved—principles underlying the whole superstructure of the Orthodox faith.

The Boston Transcript, whence we condense this statement, says:—

Mr. Nickerson is reported to have dismissed the congregation, after the adjournment of the first council, in these words: "The council have refused to ordain your humble servant, because they believe in infant damnation, and I do not." That public announcement is a part of the history of this case.

CONGRESS.—In the Senate, on Thursday, Mr. Jones of Iowa, presented the resolutions of instruction from the Legislature of his State to its delegation in Congress, as to their votes on the Lecompton Constitution, at the same time expressing his dissent from their provisions. A resolution offered by Mr. Mason, for inquiry respecting a proposed visit of Turkish dignitaries to this country was adopted; also, on motion of Mr. Stuart a resolution requiring information in respect to the expenses of Congressional and Departmental printing and advertising in Washington, for the past five years. The French Spoliation bill was reported by Mr. Crittenden, and its consideration was assigned for two weeks hence. After an attempt to take up the Indiana contested election case, the debate on the Kansas question was resumed with much warmth, and was concluded by Mr. Hunter's expressing his willingness for a vote on the reference of the question on Monday next—when the Senate adjourned over till that day.

In the House of Representatives, the bill granting pensions to officers and soldiers of the war of 1812, was postponed to 24th inst. J. D. Williamson of New York was then, arraigned before the whole House, on a charge of "contempt," he having refused to obey the summons of the Tariff Investigating Committee. No business was transacted during the day.

THE $87,000 INVESTIGATION.—The Washington correspondent of the Journal states that he has made inquiries, and finds "that the report that Gov. Banks has been implicated before the Corruption Committee is unqualifiedly false."

Washington, 2d.—(Special despatch to the Daily Bee.)—The statement in the New York Herald of yesterday, connecting Hon. N. P. Banks with the tariff fraud, is authoritatively pronounced false.

Washington, 1st.—The statement in the Herald about the Tariff Investigating Committee is a mere fabrication, made up from conjectures and idle floating rumors. Not a single detail is correct. Nothing in Mr. Stone's testimony implicates Mr. Banks in the least. The Herald's $7000 is the old affair of the $700 loan magnified tenfold. The statement that the Committee will not let Mr. Stone off for some days is contradicted by the fact that he leaves for Boston to-morrow morning.—Tribune Corr.

☞ At Rochester, N. Y., twenty-five families are living on board the canal boats this winter, to save house rent.

VICTIMS OF HYDROPHOBIA.—We have to record two recent deaths from hydrophobia. One of these is a remarkable case. A few weeks ago, a number of cattle and a horse belonging to James H. Hyde, of Norwich, Conn., were bitten by a mad dog. One of the cows which had been bitten was lately bought by a man named Randall, and a day or two after the sale, she was attacked with all the symptoms of hydrophobia. Mrs. Ann Randall, a sister-in-law of the purchaser, who kept house for him, was induced by curiosity to offer water to the cow to see whether she could drink it. The froth and saliva from the cow's mouth got into the water, and afterwards Mrs. R. thoughtlessly put her hand into the water to rinse out the pail. On one of the fingers of the hand, thus introduced into the water, was a slight abrasion of the skin. Last Thursday morning, Mrs. R. was attacked with hydrophobia, and after three days of terrible agony, died last Saturday night; and was buried on Sunday.

The other case occurred in Buffalo, New York. About three months ago, a young lad named Edward Hoyt, while on his way to school, was bitten in the nose by a strange dog that sprang upon him. The wound bled freely and in due time healed, leaving a scar. Last Wednesday, he played with the boys at school, more violently than usual, and in the night was heard moaning. On the day following he was taken with spasms, which recurred frequently; but during their intervals, he was perfectly rational. On Friday, medical aid was called; but it was impossible to afford him any relief. He started when any one spoke to him, his eyes shone with the peculiar glare of a madman, and he fell into convulsions which became more and more frequent and distressing till his death. From the first severe attack of the spasms till he ceased to breathe, he did not sleep. He was about 13 years of age.

VETERAN DECEASED.—Henry Straight, a soldier of the Revolution, died in Springfield, Ashtabula county, Ohio, on the 10th ult., aged 97 years. The deceased was born in Warwick, R. I., in 1760; enlisted in the army at the age of 14 years, and served throughout the Revolutionary war, enduring all its privations. He also served in the war of 1812, under a Lieutenant's commission; was in the battle of Plattsburg and other engagements.

FIRES.—On Wednesday night, at about 10 o'clock, a stable and an unoccupied house in Stoneham, Mass., belonging to the Hotel estate, were set on fire and destroyed. Loss $500; insured for $100.—The Temperance House, in Manchester, N. H., was set on fire in three places early Thursday morning. The flames were extinguished before any great damage was done.

ESSEX CO, MASS.—The Newburyport Herald says,—in the Court of Common Pleas, at Salem, on Wednesday, Catherine Nebbins of Newburyport, indicted for setting fire to the barn of Dr. Atkinson—verdict guilty. Sentenced to 18 months in the House of Correction at Ipswich.

Some forty indictments have been found for violation of the liquor law, about one half of whom have been arraigned.

It is reported that a liquor seller at the south-end, fearing the investigations of the Grand Jury, has left for parts unknown.

☞ Rev. Daniel Burrows died in Mystic, Conn., a few days ago, in the 92d year of his age. He represented Connecticut in Congress during the last term of Monroe's administration; was one of the Commissioners to define the bounds between Massachusetts and Connecticut; was Surveyor of the port of Middletown for twenty-four years, and an esteemed minister of the Gospel for sixty years.

☞ The Albany Journal says it is a remarkable fact that the amount of paper money now in circulation, issued by the Banks of the State of New York, is absolutely less than it was twenty years ago. This is a conclusive answer to much that is said about an inflated currency, bank suspensions, and the like.

☞ Among the names recorded as having voted at Kickapoo, Kansas, on the 21st December, and which help to swell the bogus pro-slavery vote, are those of Wm. H. Seward, Thomas H. Benton, Edwin Forrest, Horace Greeley, James Buchanan, John C. Fremont, Millard Fillmore, and Stephen A. Douglas.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Feb. 3.—By the destruction by fire, of the Ashtabula County Infirmary at Kingsville, four persons perished.

One man's misconduct may lead a host into a snare; beware how you follow man: "The prudent man looketh well to his going."

SUNDAY DESECRATION IN FRANCE.—A Cabinet Council was held at the Tuilleries on Sunday afternoon, and in the evening a grand ball took place. Dancing was kept up until a late hour in the morning. These desecrations of the Sabbath are matters of common occurrence in France, and many "soirees dansantes" take place every Sunday night without exciting the least reproof on the part of the Catholic clergy. In Catholic Austria matters are very differently managed. Under the new concordat a priest can send a police into any house where dancing may be going on, on Friday, Saturday and Sunday, and put out their lights. The giver of the fete may, moreover, be pulled up before a magistrate on the next day, and sentenced to fine or imprisonment.

SPURGEON'S IDEA OF HEAVEN.—Preaching at Shipley, near Leeds, Mr. Spurgeon alluded to Dr. Dick's wish, that he might spend an eternity in wandering from star to star. "For me," exclaims Mr. Spurgeon, "let it be my lot to pursue a more glorious study. My choice shall be this: I shall spend 5000 years looking into the wound in the left foot of Christ, 5000 years looking into the wound in the right foot of Christ, and 10,000 years in looking into the wound in the right hand of Christ, and 10,000 years in looking into the wound in the left hand of Christ, and 20,000 years in looking into the wound in His side."

DAMAGES AGAINST BOSTON.—In the case of Ellen Baker against the city of Boston, for injuries to her husband, causing his death, it was shown that Baker was intoxicated at the time, falling down a cellar way in going for more liquor—a cellar way which required a sober man to go down sidewise to go safely. Verdict for plaintiff of $150.—Trans.

LONGEVITY.—The Nantucket Inquirer says that there are now living in that town venerable twins aged eighty-five years and six months, both active and well. They are Capt. Andrew Brock and Mrs. Margaret Brooks.

☞ The office of Flour Inspector of Philadelphia yields a net profit of about $7000 per annum. The fees, as authorized by law, are one cent per barrel for flour and meal.

☞ M. Dilley, of French Creek, Mercer county, Pa., has been mulcted in the sum of $100 for slandering Susan McFarland, a school mistress who had whipped his daughter.

DEATH FROM CHLOROFORM.—J. McChesney, lumber and coal merchant, of Toronto, died suddenly on Monday morning in a dentist's chair, after taking chloroform for the purpose of having teeth extracted.

A TYPOGRAPHICAL ERROR.—A western paper heads a notice of Dr. Elder's book, "Bigamy of Dr. Elisha Kent Kane'—"Biography" being manifestly the word intended.

☞ It is rumored that the board of managers of the Washington Monument, unable to raise sufficient funds to finish it in the style originally intended, have concluded to build up with brick and mortar, and plaster it in imitation of marble!

TO CONSUMERS OF GAS.

The Carcel Gas Burner.

"WOOD'S PATENT," is recommended for the following reasons:—
Its Economy, which can be proved by any one who will take the trouble to try it with their own Meter, or at my store with a Proof Meter.
Its brilliant, though soft, diffusive light, equalling the Carcel Lamp, acknowledged by Fresnel, "to be the finest artificial light yet produced."
Its self regulating power, requiring no alteration of the stop cock after lighting.
Its durability, and, where the Gas is impure, the ease with which it is cleaned.
Its adaptation for use with rich cut, or engraved shades, or the simple paper shade.
The absence of singing, so annoying to many persons.
It is a Gas Burner by which consumers can tell the quantity of Gas they are using, on looking at the spreaders.
And for every purpose where a continued Gas Light is used, as in Parlors, Stores, &c.
For a reading light in the family circle, it is unrivalled.
The subscriber has been appointed Agent for the sale of the Carcel Gas Burners in this city, and would invite all persons who wish to economize greatly in the use of Gas, to make a trial of them. E. A. STEVENS.

SCHOOLS.—It is reported that the appropriation for schools, for the year about expiring, is running short. On Thursday evening, in Board of Aldermen, the Committee on Bills reported a bill requiring the School Committees to send in to the Committee on Finance, an estimate of the amount required to carry on their schools, at the commencement of the year. Adopted.

The Mayor has purchased the Astronomical apparatus, and the same has been put up in the High School.

☞ Mr. Pearson advertises a new Term of his Afternoon Singing School, to commence to-day. If it is desired that people should sing, it is certainly necessary to learn; and this School having been long established and well proved, and being the only one of the sort in the city—it would seem that there ought to be interest enough in the matter, to turn out a large class.—We don't know of any other way in which people can learn to sing together, (as in church, for instance,) except by practising together. All lovers and commenders of "congregational singing," should take notice.

☞ The President of the Howard Benevolent Society last month received a donation of $12.25, from a new source. It is customary for the boys of the High School to present their teacher some memorial of their regards on New Year's day. The present year, the principal, Mr. A. M. Payson, finding them subscribing their usual collection, requested that, in consideration of the wants of the season, they would bestow the amount, as his and their offering, to the funds of the Howard Society. Accordingly the above sum was handsomely bestowed.

☞ A paragraph in the Chronicle of Thursday morning in regard to Mr. Shillaber's lecture, might have been and was, as we understand, misconstrued by some persons. The article, in which reference was made to "the trance state," was intended as a pleasantry, and we supposed would be taken as a joke by all. We would now say, however, that B. P. Shillaber, Esq., our respected townsman,—Mrs. Partington—relict of Corporal Paul—and grandmother of the veritable little Ike, will give us one of his best poems on Tuesday evening, Feb. 16th, in the Temple.

☞ Rev. H. D. Moore, now of Portland, has spent a few days in this city, the past week. As Chaplain of the Odd Fellows, he attended the funeral of Mr. Wm. B. Robinson, a brother Odd Fellow.

☞ Capt. Wm. L. Dwight has been appointed Sec. & Treas. of the Ports. Mut. Fire Ins. Co., in place of the late Capt. John Salter.

DEATHS IN PORTSMOUTH.—The number of deaths in this city, during the month of January, was, according to Mr. Bell's record, 13.

Males, four—aged 4 years, 60, 69, 75.

Females, nine—aged 4 months, 18 years 6 months, 47 years, 56, 70, 70, 78, 79, 84.

TRENTON, N. J., Feb. 4.—The Kansas resolutions, denouncing the Lecompton Constitution, passed the House this morning, by a vote of 31 to 17. The negative votes were all Democrats. In the afternoon a resolution highly appreciating the character and statesmanship of James Buchanan, and expressing confidence in his administration, passed by a vote of 31 to 21, the Democrats all voting in the affirmative.—The discussions were very moderate. Politicians were trying to widen the breach.

DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION.—Philadelphia, Feb. 4.—The Democratic County Convention adjourned sine die this evening, after passing strong Lecompton resolutions. The Convention was a scene of confusion from its commencement to its close.

The President declared the resolutions carried, amid the confusion created by their introduction.

PROVIDENCE, Feb. 4.—The General Assembly has passed a resolution instructing the Senators and Representatives from this State to vote against the Lecompton Constitution. The vote was nearly unanimous.

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 4.—The Grand Jury found true bills yesterday against Walker, Anderson and others, for violation of the Neutrality laws, and they were held to appear on the 4th Monday in April.

☞ We have good reason to believe that in nine cases out of ten, coughs, colds, and all bronchial irritations, however severe, may be cured by the use of Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry. A single trial will prove this. O.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.—(Times correspondence.)—Mr. Williamson says that he knows nothing about Lawrence, Stone & Co.'s matters, and cannot imagine why he has been summoned.

In the course of the fight on the question of the reference of the Constitution in the House, various propositions will be made which will render it easier for Democrats to defeat the Lecompton Constitution without getting in a false position with the party. The great struggle will be on these, and the President finds it harder work to buy votes than he anticipated.

General Houston abandons his proposed Kansas bill, of which he gave notice recently.

Senator Sumner arrived to-night.

(Tribune Correspondence.)—Indications authorize the belief that the House will grant an extension of time to Mr. Campbell in the election case. The Douglas Democrats will unite with the Republicans in making it a test vote on Harris's resolutions, which the Administration is prepared to accept.

The Lecomptonites supposed to-day that they could command a small majority, but if there are twenty-five defaulters there is no reasonable prospect of this, though several Republicans are absent. One proposition entertained by the Douglas caucus last night, was to elect a Special Committee of thirteen; but the unequal distribution failed of satisfying the Republicans, and was abandoned this morning.

THE GREAT BEAUTIFIER
So long unsuccessfully sought,
FOUND AT LAST.

FOR IT RESTORES PERMANENTLY GRAY HAIR to its original color; covers luxuriantly the bald head; removes all dandruff, itching, and all scrofula, scald head and all some of your diseases; makes the hair soft, healthy, and glossy, and will preserve it to any imaginable age; removes, as if by magic, all blotches, &c., from the face, and cures all neuralgia and nervous headache. See circular and the following.

DOVER, N. H., Feb. 2, 1857.

Prof. O. J. Wood & Co.—Gents: Within a few days we have received a large number of orders and calls for Prof. O. J. Wood's Hair Restorative, that today we were compelled to send to Boston for a supply, (the 6 dozen you forwarded all being sold,) while we could easily dispose of quantity from you. Every bottle we have sold seems to have produced three or four new customers, and the approbation and patronage it receives from the most substantial and worthy citizens of our vicinity, fully convinces us that it is A MOST VALUABLE PREPARATION.

Send us as soon as may be one gross of $1 size; and one dozen of $2 size; yours very rep'ly,

DANIEL LATHROP & Co.

Hickory Grove, St. Charles Co., Mo., 1856.

PROF. O. J. WOOD—Dear Sir: Some time last summer we were informed of the virtues of your Hair Restorative, and its effects were so wonderful, we feel it our duty to you and the afflicted, to report it.

Our little son's head for some time had been perfectly covered with sores, and some called it a mild scald, the hair almost entirely came off in consequence, when a friend, seeing our sufferings, advised us to use your Restorative, we did so with little hope of success, but, to our surprise, and that of all our friends, a very few applications removed the disease entirely, and a new and luxuriant crop of hair soon started out, and we can now say that our boy has a healthy scalp, and is as luxuriant a crop of hair as any other child. We can therefore, and do hereby, recommend your Restorative, as a perfect remedy for all diseases of the scalp and hair. We are, respectfully, yours,

GEORGE W. HIGGINBOTHAM,
SARAH A. HIGGINBOTHAM.

GARDINER, Me., June 22, 1856.

Prof. O. J. Wood—Dear Sir: I have used two bottles of Professor Wood's Hair Restorative, and can truly say it is the greatest discovery of the age for restoring and cleansing the Hair. Before using it I was a man of seventy. My hair has now attained its original color. You can recommend it to the world without fear. The least fear, as my case was one of the worst kind.

Yours Respectfully.

LOTTERIES.

THE Lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are chartered by the State of Georgia, and have sworn commissioners appointed to superintend their drawings, and certify that everything connected with the same is done in a strictly honorable manner. They offer to the public a fair opportunity for investment, the interests of parties at a distance being protected as if they were present. The Manager would respectfully call attention to the fact that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Georgia, as the lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are authorized by the Legislature of that State. A lottery will be drawn every Saturday throughout the year, all orders received being filled in the drawing next to take place after the same comes to hand. According to the scheme one ticket in every ten must draw a prize. Tickets are $10; halves, $5; quarters, $2.50. No tickets are sold without the money; accompanies the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket, and are so simple that none can fail to understand them. There is no combination of numbers to mystify the buyer. Prizes vary from $40 to $70,000; every prize being drawn, and result of drawing forwarded to all purchasers.

☞ A list of the numbers that are drawn from the wheel, with the amount each prize is entitled to, will be published shortly after drawing, in the following papers:—New Orleans Delta, Mobile Register, Charleston Standard, Nashville Gazette, Atlanta Intelligencer, and New York Weekly Day Book. Write your address plainly, and direct to

Prizes paid in full—no percentage deducted from prizes as in other lotteries.

All communications strictly confidential. m18 1y

LOTTERIES.

The well-known Maryland Consolidated Lotteries, of which R. FRANCE & Co are the managers, are chartered by the state of Maryland, and a commissioner elected by the people, who is sworn to superintend and certify that everything connected with them is done in a strictly honorable manner, and that the interests of parties who reside at a distance are as well protected as if they themselves were present at the drawing. Another fact which the managers would attention to, is that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Maryland, as lotteries are legalized by special law in that state. A lottery is drawn every day of the month. If no particular scheme is named, orders are filled in the first drawing to take place after the communication comes to hand. The prices of tickets vary from $1 to $20. No tickets are, however, sent unless the money for the same is received with the order. The drawings are upon the simple system of one number on each ticket (after the Havana plan), and Tenary combination. Prizes vary in amount from $20 to $100 000. All orders for tickets or packages will receive prompt attention, and be promptly mailed to all purchasers immediately after it is over.

☞ The drawn numbers of the Maryland Lotteries are published in the leading newspapers in the following papers, viz: Sun, Clipper, Patriot, American, Argus, of Baltimore; also, the National Intelligencer and Union, of Washington, D.C.

A PROCLAMATION
TO THE LADIES.

WHEREAS, it appears that the days of right, honor, and integrity are last fading away, and WHEREAS, the unscrupulous and ignorant are daily taking advantage of the profound and learned. BE IT KNOWN THEREFORE, to all, whether MAIDS, WIVES, or WIDOWS, that Dr. CHESEMAN'S FEMALE PILLS are alone the certain panacea for all the numerous ills attendant upon disorganization; they ALONE correcting all painful menstruation, assuging palpitations of the heart, disturbed sleep, pain in the side, and causing health and happiness to flow anew; they, unerringly to the MARRIED PORTION, as they are certain to bring on the monthly period with regularity.—AND BE IT FURTHER KNOWN, that these PILLS are purely vegetable and entirely free from mineral's, therefore perfectly harmless in their operations and wholly unlike other medicines thrust upon the public, purporting to every one object, yet left undesigned. THEREFORE, BE IT KNOWN, that NOTHING but the said PILLS of Dr. CHEESEMAN will accomplish the desired end, and be found to merit the praise experienced under the regime of OTHER PILLS; and the Ladies will cause this Proclamation to spread amongst them, to their own everlasting benefit, always remembering that said PROCLAMATION in one case must be considered NULL AND VOID; that is to say the PILLS MUST NOT be taken when they think fit in an INTERESTING SITUATION, otherwise a MISCARRIAGE will be the inevitable result.

Explicit directions, to be carefully read, accompany each box. Price $1. Sent by mail on enclosing $1 to Dr. CORNELIUS L. CHEESEMAN, Box No. 4,531, Post Office, New York City. Sold by Druggists in every town throughout the United States.

S. D. & H. W. Smith,
—MANUFACTURERS OF—
Melodeons, Organ Melodeons,
—and—
PEDAL BASS MELODEONS,
No. 511 Washington St., Boston.

The first premium over all competitors, at the Fair of the Mass. Charitable Mechanic Association, of the National Fair, Washington, D. C., also at the Ohio State Fair, held at Columbus, Ohio, was awarded to these Manufacturers.

By means of a new method of Voicing, known only to themselves, they have succeeded in removing the harsh and buzzing sound which formerly characterized the instrument, and producing the tones full, clear and organ like. The action is prompt and reliable, enabling the performer to execute the most rapid music without blurring the tones. The swell is arranged to give great expression.

THE PEDAL BASS MELODEONS,

Are designed particularly for Churches, Lodges, Halls, &c. It is arranged with two manuals, or banks of Keys, the lower set running an octave higher than the other, and may be used separately, and thus get in one case two distinct instruments; or by use of the coupler, the two banks of keys may be played at the same time by use of the front set only. This connected with the Pedal Bass, will produce the effect of a large organ, and is sufficiently loud to fill a house that seats from 1000 to 1600 persons.

THE ORGAN MELODEON

Is designed for parlor and private use. The construction is similar to the Church Instrument, being arranged with two banks of Keys, and when used together, by means of the coupler, is capable of as great volume of power as the Church Instrument when used without the pedals. Also, every variety of MELODEONS for Parlor use.

Purchasers may rely upon instruments from our Manufactory, being made in the most complete and thorough manner. Having removed to the spacious Buildings

511 Washington Street,

We have every facility for manufacturing purposes, and employ none but the most experienced and skilful workmen. In short, we will promise our customers an instrument equal, if not superior, to any Manufacturer, and guarantee an entire and perfect satisfaction.

Music Teachers, Leaders of Choirs, and others interested in musical matters, are respectfully invited to visit our Rooms at any time and examine or test the instruments on exhibition for sale at lowest prices.

As a still further guarantee to the public as to the excellence of the MELODEONS from our Manufactory, we may be allowed, by permission, to the following.

Piano Forte Manufacturers of Boston,

who have examined our Instruments, and will give their opinion when called upon:

Chickering & Sons,	Hallet & Cumston,

MELODEONS RENTED.

☞ Persons who wish to hire Melodeons with a view of purchasing at the end of the year, can have the rent applied to the purchase money. This matter is worthy of special note, as it enables those who desire a fair test of an instrument before purchasing, to obtain it at the expense of the manufacturers, to the extent at least of a year's rent.

Orders from any part of the country or world, sent direct to the Manufactory, by letter, with cash, or satisfactory reference, will be promptly attended to, and as faithfully executed as if the parties were present, or employed an agent to select, and on as reasonable terms.

A GOOD RULE.—A man who is very rich now, was very poor when he was a boy.—When asked how he got his riches, he replied: "My father taught me never to play till my work was finished, and never to spend my money until I had earned it. If I had but one hour's work in a day, I must do that the first thing, and as an hour—and after this I was allowed to play; and I then could play with much more pleasure than if I had the thought of an unfinished task before my mind. I early formed the habit of doing everything in time, and it soon became perfectly easy to do so. It is to this I owe my prosperity.

☞ The Bangor Whig speaks of a dog in that city, that during the absence of his master's family, keeps sentry in the winter caboose at the front door of the house, to which he gains access by pushing a door which opens inward, and egress by pushing another door which opens outward.—Every day, except Sunday, he goes to the market and gets his allowance of meat for the day, which he carries home done up in a paper, and on Saturday he receives a double portion, which he makes last till Monday.

WILD PIGEONS IN VIRGINIA.—A correspondent of the Lynchburg Virginian, writing from Hat Creek, Campbell county, says the pigeon roost is the great subject of interest in that part of the country. It is supposed that nearly 100,000 of the birds have been killed in the war waged against them by the people in that section. The thrifty housewives have manufactured hundreds of beds from the feathers, and the people have feasted on their delicate meat.

We heard a story the other day which is too good to keep. A man not a thousand miles from Syracuse, having made an assignment, some weeks since, was called upon by a New York creditor to whom he exhibited his books, and with whom he proposed to settle at 50 cents on the dollar.

The New York man replied; "How can you pay 50 cents on a dollar? Your assets will not pay 40 cents."

"Well, never mind that," said the unfortunate debtor, "if my assets will not pay the 50 cents, I will make up the deficiency out of my own pocket."

What became of the New Yorker after that, deponent saith not.—Syracuse Journal.

TO LITTLE JENNIE.

Snowy, plump and good is she,
Just as sweet as sweet can be;
Soft, bright eyes of gentle blue,
Pouting lips of rosebud hue.
Little dimpled hands and feet,
Like a lily—just as sweet;
And her little, round, plump figure
Springs and jumps with baby vigor.

FROM COUSIN GRACIE,
10 years old.

OCCUPATION OF THE JEWS.—It is a singular fact revealed in the last census of the United States, that while there are seven hundred thousand Jews in this country, only one person who is a Jew is registered as a farmer. So literally is the decree of their dispersion fulfilled, that they are strangers to that occupation which, above all others, implies a resting place and a home. "For lo! I will command and I will sift the house of Israel among all nations." The Jews are travers, not attached to the soil where they are found, but ready on an instant to change their abode. In California they follow the universal rule. In all the towns they are found in large numbers. They nearly monopolize the retail business of the country. We have never known of a Jew who was engaged in mining, although there may be many such so occupied.—Pacific.

SKATING IN PARIS.—The correspondent of the New York Times remarks:

You will be surprised perhaps to learn that the Emperor goes skating among the "boys." The other day his majesty, with the Empress at his side, drove to the Bois in his American wagon, and after making the tour of the lakes, got out, descended to the ice, and putting on a pair of skates, carried by a domestic, skated for three-quarters of an hour, mixing indiscriminately in the vast crowd of skaters on the ice, much to their astonishment. His majesty even gave a helping hand to a skater who, in his trepidation, getting out of the way, was falling. You will agree that for a man of fifty, not often practicing this exercise, (if you know anything of its tiresomeness after years of abstentation,) the feat of skating three-quarters of an hour is one that ought to stop the mouths of those alarmists who are always killing his majesty with a malady of exhaustion. His feat on the ice does not look like physical exhaustion, at least.

Not the least curious exhibition on the ice of the Bois de Belogne, to the Parisians, was the ladies skating. In France the ladies rarely ride horseback, much less skate or swim; they say that horse-riding even is too cavaliere, and a woman who should venture upon ice would be classed at once among the masculine and "strong-minded." So that nearly all, if not all, the lady-skaters of the Bois de Belogne, were either Russian, English or American. Among the rest were two Americans, who were belles a few years ago at a certain fashionable summer resort—one of these, to the astonishment of the masculine skaters, cut her christian name with her skates on the ice—a feat rarely performed by the most accomplished amateurs in this art.

CRUELTY.—On Saturday evening last, about eight o'clock, officer Quigley, arrested, on the levee, between Locust and Olive streets, a negro girl about twenty years of age. Her appearance gave evidence that she had been pretty badly beaten. Her back was covered with fresh and bloody stripes, into which salt and flour had been sprinkled to dry them up and prevent suppuration. The officer took her to the police office, where she was furnished with an old blanket to cover her nakedness and wounds. She belonged to Mrs. L. Peters, living on Sixth, between Franklin avenue and Wash streets. She said she had been terribly whipped, and that she was trying to escape from her cruel mistress.

This is the same girl, we believe, whose brutal treatment was recently made the subject of judicial investigation before the criminal Court in this city, which resulted in a verdict against Mr. and Mrs. Peters, of $1000 fine and one year's imprisonment for each, from which judgment they appealed, and are now under bonds of $2000 each. Since that time they have continued to abuse the girl with as much barbarity as before. The neighbors say that to keep outsiders from witnessing further cruelties, the cracks of the fence surrounding the yard have been nailed up, and that the girl is now taken down into the cellar out of sight, where she is subjected to punishment and torments equal to any she has previously endured.

By some means she escaped the house, and was looking out doubtless for some chance to get across the river, when arrested.—St. Louis Democrat, 1st.

We wish to say that self-preservation, both of the individual and of society, requires the prompt suppression of the vile groggeries that are now poisoning their victims by wholesale. No man's liberty to drink what he pleases will be unjustly abridged if every grog-shop and bar-room in the State is closed to-morrow. They are absolute and unmitigated nuisances—and so pronounced by the great body of the community. They are prolific sources of violence and crime. They pollute the air by day, and make night hideous with disorder and revelry. They imperil the safety of peaceable citizens on the streets and at their own firesides. To say that society cannot be legally protected against these pests, is to deny to it the original right of self-preservation. Here is common ground for all men who value public peace and order and the well being of the community. Let these nuisances be suppressed, thoroughly and absolutely. There is law for it, and logic for it, and reasons as im portant and imperative as ever urged men to any enterprise.—Springfield Republican.

☞ The Paris courts value a young lady's teeth at 8,000 francs. An English governess was recently knocked down by a carriage, and lost all her teeth by the accident. She brought an action of damages, and the tribunal awarded the above amount.

Mr. Buchanan has all along been telling us he was in favor of the Kansas people settling their institutions to suit themselves,—in their own way. In his Message, now, he tells us, that if the Lecompton Constitution is rejected, (the rejection,) will be keenly felt by people of the "fifteen Slave States." The question, then, is not to be settled to suit "Kansas," but the "fifteen Slave States."

American and Foreign Patents
R. H. EDDY, solicitor of Patents,
(Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837.)
No. 76 State st, oppo. Kilby st, Boston,
AFTER an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.
This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate.—the immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.
All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.
TESTIMONIALS.
"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr Eddy as one of the best informed and most skillful Patent solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."
From the present Commissioner.
AUGUST 17, 1855.—During the time I have held the Office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the office, as a Solicitor. He is thoroughly acquainted with the law, and the rules of practice of the Office. I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse.

Commissioner of Patents.

Coggswell's Medical Salt,
A PERFECT SUBSTITUTE
FOR THE
LANCET, LEECHES AND BLISTERS.
INSTEAD of being a panacea for all maladies, it has control over but ONE MALADY—has but ONE AIM—accomplishes but ONE THING, to wit: SUDDUES INFLAMMATORY DISEASE—whatever be its form or locality—whether in the head, throat, chest, abdomen, extremities or skin. Every form of inflammation (but no other disease) is subdued, by it as easily as fire is extinguished by water. Is it asked, how it does this?—simply by restoring the lost balance between the fluids and solids. Such is its potency, that like vaccine matter, it requires merely what adheres to the point of a quill dipped into a solution of it, to affect the entire system.
☞ Of its intrinsic value, the enlightened community, and not the discoverer, must be the judge.

MYER'S EXTRACT OF ROCK ROSE, is peculiarly applicable, and if freely used will not fail to protect the constitution against the sudden and extreme changes of our variable climate. It purifies the blood, strengthens the stomach, and invigorates the whole system, thus fortifying against the insidious attacks of uncomfortable frosts and debilitating heats. See Circulars.

Morning Chronicle.

MONDAY, FEBRUARY 8, 1858.

NO DODGING.

A DIALOGUE.

Chronicle.—We can, by looking back a few years, see a man who was elevated to a much higher office in the State, so drunk in his seat in the State House, that the body over which he presided chose to adjourn to let him get sober: we can see cases in court postponed for the same reason; on account of the same man—and yet the people of New Hampshire helped to give him higher office still.

N. H. Gazette.—"Uncle Toby," isn't it rather late in the day, to attempt to create political capital, by repeating that stale slander against one, the purity of whose private character has been for years impotently assailed by abler and more vindictive pens than yours?

Uncle Toby.—No, sir; it is not too late to do justice. We have made no attempt in our statement above, quoted from the Chronicle, to create political capital—but only to "answer a fool according to his folly, lest he be wise in his own conceit."—We have repeated no stale slander against a pure man—but only painted the picture of an eminent drunkard so, truly that all his friends can see the likeness. The Patriot saw it, and "shut up" on that topic.

Gazette.—We ask you, can a resurrection of this dead and rotten trash, be really of service in the cause of temperance, freedom, &c., which you claim?

Uncle T.—We hope it may; but whether it can or not, the resurrection was not achieved at our bidding, but at the earnest request of the N. H. Patriot, which exposed by name, a recent case of drunkenness. The Patriot will please to repeat the prayer.

N. H. Patriot.—Now we ask the people of New Hampshire to think of this. We ask them to think of the disgrace brought upon the State, and upon them, by the election of such a man to a responsible and honorable office. We ask them to look back over the whole history of the State previous to the advent of black republicanism, and they will search in vain for a parallel to this prostitution of a high office—to this burning shame and disgrace to the State—this reproach to public morality.

Uncle T.—The Patriot called for a parallel, and we looked back and gave it worse than a parallel, though we did not tell more than half the story, called no names, and gave no dates. We could do all this, and prove the statements—but it is not needful. We will not tread too hard on tender toes.

Gaz.—Is it fitting that you, the moral Mentor of these benighted regions, divert public attention, and excuse his character by renewed attacks upon one now thousands of miles away, and no longer a servant of the people?

Uncle T. has attacked nobody, named nobody—diverted no attention—only fixed the public attention on the very parallel the Patriot prayed for—and made the case quite "patent."

Gaz.—You would maliciously and gratuitously insult.

U. T.—No insult; only a reply to one.

LAWRENCE, STONE & CO.—At a meeting at the court of insolvency in Boston, 3d, of the creditors of Lawrence, Stone & Co., Charles H. Head and John Lowell were chosen assignees. The amount of liabilities proved was about $1,280,000, including acceptances for the Bay State Mills, Pemberton Mills, Middlesex Mills and New England Worsted Company. Among several large claims proved by creditors, were the claim of Ezra Bourne for the sum of $330,000; one large private banking house, Blake, Howe & Co. for $120,000; and several banks in Boston and other parts of the State, varying from $30,000 to $87,000. Among the debts proved were several held by savings banks in the vicinity of Boston. It must be understood that parties proving debts against this firm, have other names upon their notes, upon which they will in most cases realize the face of the debts; as it is presumed that the mills of which Messrs. Lawrence, Stone & Co. were agents, and for which most of their indebtedness was contracted, will be able to pay in full, or, at worst, nearly one hundred cents on the dollar. The whole indebtedness of Lawrence, Stone & Co., on their own account, and for account of the different mills, is between three and four millions of dollars.

BAY STATE COMPANY.—The Investigating Committee made their report at a special meeting in Boston, on Friday. It appears that the whole amount of liabilities is $2,342,223. They voted to dissolve the company and close its affairs. The shares sold for $22, the lowest point reached, and a decline of $5 from the day previous. The report makes sad disclosures of breach of trust.

CONGRESS. — On Friday, the Senate was not in session. In the House of Representatives, a resolution was passed, calling on the President for a statement of the number of soldiers engaged in the war of 1812 with Great Britain, and other wars of the same period, &c. The proposition to allow further time for inquiry into the Ohio contested election case, was then taken up and decided in the negative. Mr. J. D. Williamson's amended answer was deemed reasonable, and he was released from custody. The President's Lecompton message was then taken up, and, after a speech from Mr. Grow against it, Mr. Stanton moved that it "be referred to a select committee of fifteen, with instructions to inquire into all facts connected with the formation of the said Constitution, and the laws under which the same originated, and into all the facts and proceedings which have transpired since the formation of the Constitution, and whether it is satisfactory to the legal voters of the Territory,—the committee to have the power to send for papers and persons."—This gave rise to a stormy debate, and the most frivolous resorts to parliamentary tactics.

[This report is the condensed editorial view of the Boston Courier—and we observe by the full report, that these frivolous resorts were mostly made by the pro-slavery Lecompton members.]

The yeas and nays were called upon every trivial question, including repeated motions for adjournment. About 4 o'clock,

Mr. Keitt moved an adjournment.

Mr. Stanton moved a point of order.

Mr. Cobb asked to be excused from voting, and also that the question be determined by yeas and nays.

Mr. Warren, this being Friday, moved that the private calendar be taken up.—[Laughter.] The confusion was great, members standing up in all parts of the House.

The Speaker asked them to please come to order, and knocked with his gavel until they did so. [Cries of "Call the roll."] A motion was made from the Democratic side for an adjournment. The Republicans demanding the yeas and nays on that question.

Mr. Seward, in a loud voice, said: It's too late. (Cries of order.)

The motion to adjourn was defeated by a majority of 14.

The Speaker announced the pending question to be the excuse of Mr. Cobb from voting.

Mr. Houston—That being an important question, I move for a call of the House. [Laughter.] It involves the fate of the country.

Mr. Washburn (of Maine) called Mr. Houston to order.

Mr. Letcher asked to be excused from voting on the question to excuse Mr. Cobb from voting. [Laughter.]

The House, at half-past five o'clock, again refused to adjourn, by a majority of 21.

Some of the members paired off for dinner.

The yeas and nays continued to be taken on trivial motions on the Democratic side.

Mr. Davis (of Miss.) appealed to the Republican party for liberty to speak for an hour. He said if this privilege was denied him, his personal prosperity would be sacrificed.

Among the questions voted on was a motion to lay on the table the motion to reconsider the vote by which Mr. Miles was excused from voting, on the motion to excuse Mr. Garnett from voting, on the motion to excuse Mr. Letcher from voting; and the motion by Mr. Seward, to lay on the table the appeal by Mr. Stanton from the decision of the Speaker, that a motion to adjourn till Monday may be entertained for a second time.

Mr. Davis of Mississippi rose to a privileged question, saying that the heat from above was blistering his head, which is bald, and he asked unanimous consent to wear his handkerchief over it. [Excessive Laughter.]

Mr. Florence, whose head is also bald, objected, causing renewed laughter.

10 o'clock.—Several members asleep, and galleries thinned out.

Two unsuccessful motions were then made to adjourn. On the last one, only 15 members voted in the affirmative, and 95 in the negative. Not a quorum.

At 11 o'clock, the House was in session, with a fair chance to sit all night. Showing that the pro-slavery party have not much majority, if any—though enough may yet be bought by executive favor!

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—The House was in session all Friday night. A fight occurred between Messrs. Grow of Pennsylvania, and Keitt of South Carolina. The latter struck Grow twice, and Grow knocked him down. The parties were then separated.

One o'clock A. M. Mr. Davis of Mississippi, unacceptibly proposed by way of variety that the House have a few speeches. Mr. Grow objected.

The proceedings were exceedingly dull, about one-tenth of the members being either asleep or nodding in their seats. A few were smoking cigars, and others going and coming from the refreshment rooms. Just at this point the House was thrown into most violent excitement, and a fearful scene of confusion took place.

A member of Congress, who was a witness, gives the following particulars:

Mr. Grow objected to Mr. Quitman's making any remarks.

Mr. Keitt said, if you are going to object, return to your own side of the House.

Mr. Grow responded, this is a free hall, and every man has a right to be where he pleases.

Mr. Keitt then came up to Mr. Grow and said—I want to know what you mean by such an answer as that?

Mr. Grow replied—I mean just what I say; this is a free hall, and a man has a right to be where he pleases.

Mr. Keitt taking Mr. Grow by the throat, said: "I will let you know that you are a damned black Republican puppy."

Mr. Grow knocked up his hand, saying: "I shall occupy such a place in this hall as I please, and no nigger driver shall crack his whip over me."

Mr. Keitt then again grabbed Mr. Grow by the throat, and Mr. Grow knocked his hand off; and Mr. Keitt coming at him again, Mr. Grow knocked Keitt down.

The fight took place 20 minutes to 1 o'clock. Further difficulties are apprehended. The respective friends of both parties rushed to the rescue. Various members on each side engaged in the fight, which took place in the area fronting the Clerk's desk. Mr. Washburne of Ill. was conspicuous among the Republicans, dealing heavy blows. The Speaker loudly and imperatively demanded order, and called on the Sergeant-at-Arms to interfere. That functionary, carrying his mace of office, together with his assistants, hurried to the scene and crowded into the thickest of the fight, in which at least a dozen members were engaged. Some moments elapsed before this truly fearful contest was quieted. The members having reluctantly returned to their seats, there was a dead calm in comparison with the scene just enacted.

Mr. Quitman proposed that they now adjourn, and take the reference of the Kansas Message on Monday at 1 o'clock.—There was emphatic and general responses from the Republican side, "No, no, no." The confusion began to break out afresh, when the Speaker said he would direct the Sergeant-at-arms to put under arrest those who disregard the order of the House.

Three o'clock, A. M.—The House is still voting by yeas and nays to excuse absentees.

Mr. Quitman wished to make a proposition with the view of ending this unprofitable contest.

Objections were made, but were afterwards withdrawn.

Mr. Quitman's proposition read that all motions now pending, since the call for the previous question on the amendment of Mr. Harris of Ill., should be withdrawn, and that a vote should then be taken on sustaining the demand for the previous question, and if carried the House will adjourn till Monday, and that at 1 o'clock on that day a vote shall be taken on the main question.

Mr. Phillips said as the proposition was for a vote to be taken to-night he objected.

Four o'clock, A. M.—The House has just refused to adjourn. There is no immediate prospect of a vote being taken on any of the questions connected with the Kansas message. From 4 to 6 1-2 o'clock the time was wasted in trivial motions.

Mr. Quitman submitted a resolution that the House adjourn till Monday, when the subject under consideration, the Kansas message, should be resumed and the vote on the pending propositions should be taken without further delay.

Unanimous consent was given for the introduction of the resolution, which was agreed to, and the Speaker announced the House adjourned till Monday, when the subject will come up as the special order.

WHERE THE CANARY BIRDS COME FROM.—There is an association in Philadelphia, composed of about thirty Germans, who aim at improving the breed of Canary birds; and last month they published their 13th annual report. From that it appears that the bird sales of Philadelphia are confined to Germans and amount to $40,000 annually, and three-quarters of that are canaries. The common or original canary is of the least value, and sell at about $2 apiece; the improved kinds bring from $8 to $10 apiece, and are from Central Europe. The great majority of these birds were obtained from Belgium, where they are bred in houses by the peasants, who raise them as a pastime. There are what are called 'long' and short breeds. Birds of the long breed are procured from Brussels, Antwerp and Dietz, where they sometimes obtain extravagant prices. Their cost depends upon the color and shape, the pure golden yellow being the most esteemed. They are only used for the purpose of breeding, and oftentimes sell for $30 a pair. The short breed is raised by the the people of the Hartz mountains. Next to the Belgian, the French bird is most prized.

WILLIAMSON THE WITNESS.—Washington, Feb. 5.—(Correspondence of the New York Post.)—Williamson appeared before the Tariff Corruption Committee last evening and answered all questions. He says he knows nothing about the last tariff, but he informed the committee he could show that the tariff of 1846 was carried by bribery of Congressmen, and seven millions of dollars of British money and 80,000 francs of French was used. The Administration members of the Committee say there is no power to investigate that tariff.

[Until Toby thinks Williamson is one grand humbug—and the investigating committee are hunting after a flea.—The Bay State Committee don't rely much on the story of the $87,000 bribe.]

NAVAL.—The U. S. steamer Saranac, Commander Kelley, from Philadelphia, Barbadoes, was taking in coal at Pernambuco Jan. 8. She is bound for the Pacific.

BELLS.

The New York Musical World says, the large bell at the New York City Hall is cracked again, and will have to go the melting-pot. Of course this implies an abeyance of its usefulness, and will entail considerable expenditure.

The "World" therefore invites attention to the following extract from an article on Bells, which appeared in that paper, under date of Nov. 7th, 1857.

"There is no small danger of breakage, if the blows given be at all violent, and more especially if the hammer or clapper be permitted to remain a moment in contact with the bell after the blow is struck.—More bells are broken in this way than in any other; a fact to which the attention of the city authorities may well be called, as it is understood that accidents to large bells are not infrequent. We know not how the city bells are hung; but if they happen to be fixed in their places, meaning thereby rendered incapable of any pendulous motion in the direction of the blow of the hammer, we venture to suggest the propriety of making an arrangement to give them some lateral play,—a little liberty to swing, if it be but a few inches.—This hint, besides securing a better tone, may save the life of many a valuable bell."

But it did not "save the life" of the City Hall bell,—perhaps because it was not acted upon!

Another hint may have its utility. A bell invariably struck upon the same spot must be gradually worn and weakened.—To obviate this danger, by rendering the bell capable of being turned or twisted upon its point of support, a new form of casting of the upper part or crown of the bell has been devised and patented in England. It resembles a large button; which is secured to the stock by means of iron fastenings, armed with flanges at the lower ends, (to clip or clasp the under side of the button,) and nuts and screws on the top. To shift the bell, all that is required is to let it down a trifle by relaxing the grip above, turn it as desired, and then make fast again by tightening the screws, after which the hammer will, of course, strike upon a new place.

If some course more judicious than that hitherto pursued, be not speedily adopted, the city of New York may look to have an item for a new bell or two in every yearly account; which might be very good for the bell-founder, but would certainly be not quite so satisfactory to the tax-payers.

TO CONSUMERS OF GAS.

The Carcel Gas Burner.

"WOOD'S PATENT," is recommended for the following reasons:—

Its Economy, which can be proved by any one who will take the trouble to try it with their own Meter, or at my store with a Proof Meter.

Its brilliant, though soft, diffusive light, equalling the Carcel Lamp, acknowledged by Fresnel, "to be the finest artificial light yet produced."

Its self regulating power, requiring no alteration of the stop cock after lighting.

Its durability, and, where the Gas is impure, the ease with which it is cleaned.

Its adaptation for use with rich cut, or engraved shades, or the simple paper shade.

The absence of singing, so annoying to many persons.

It is a Gas Burner by which consumers can tell the quantity of Gas they are using, on looking at the spreaders.

And for every purpose where a continued Gas Light is used, as in Parlors, Stores, &c.

For a reading light in the family circle, it is Matchless.

The subscriber has been appointed Agent for the sale of the Carcel Gas Burners in this city, and would invite all persons who wish to economize greatly in the use of Gas, to make a trial of them.

THERE IS NO REMEDY

Creating such a stir among invalids as Dr. Sanford's Invigorator or Liver Remedy. It gives such quick relief as to convince the patient of receiving benefit almost as soon as the medicine is taken. We do not know of a single instance where it has been taken without benefit, and in nearly all cases a complete cure is effected by its use. It has acquired its wide popularity simply because it does what it is recommended to do. It is constantly enlarging its circle of friends, carrying healing on its wings, and joy to the hearts of those suffering from Liver Complaint, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, or general debility.

LOCAL.

THE OLD NORTH BELL, which has been our town bell for nearly a century, "is silent now, and rings no more," as in days lang syne. An examination made last week, disclosed a crack on the southern side, near the edge, where the tongue strikes, four or five inches in length on the inside, but not more than two inches on the outside. The bell at that spot is at least two inches thick. Those who think it strange that a bell could thus be cracked, should read the article on Bells in another column. This bell was cast in London in 1764, was of peculiar richness of tone, and has ever been the town bell. It will not be used again in its present condition.

☞ We learn that the old Portsmouth Stocking Factory Building, at the Creek, is to be forthwith converted into a Brewery—to consume the grain that the people ought to have for bread, and manufacture it into "Dutch swill" that none but human hogs would touch. Verily, a community is taxed more for their vices and follies, than for necessities, comforts, or even real luxuries.

SALE OF PORTSMOUTH LAWNS.—The public sales of Portsmouth Lawns at New York, realized prices below the owners' expectations. The bulk of the sales of 1200 Madder Lawns were at 8 1-2 a 8 5-8, and of 1400 do at 9 1-2 a 9 5-8c.

☞ Hunt's Merchant's Magazine for January, 1858, is missing from the Chronicle Office. If any body has borrowed or "hooked" it—will he please to bring it back? We would like to look it over.

FACTS IN REGARD TO FISHING BOUNTIES. A quarter of a century ago, Newburyport was one of the first, perhaps the first, fishing town in the State, and had a fleet of a hundred and thirty sail of vessels. At the same date Gloucester had some fifty vessels, inferior in size, and of relatively less value. Then Dr. Moriarty, for writing his letter against the bounties to Col. Benton, suddenly left Gloucester, and the bounties continue to be paid to this day. On the other hand, a Collector then refused the customary bounties to three-quarters of the Newburyport vessels, and they have not since been paid, with exception of four years. Under this operation, paying in Gloucester and not paying in Newburyport, the Gloucester fleet has gone up from fifty to four hundred sail of vessels, and Gloucester is to-day the most prosperous town in the county, while our fleet has sunk from one hundred sail to forty, and these forty do not pay their way. We should judge that the fishing fleet taken as a whole, in the twenty-five years named, had run out twice the sum they were worth to begin with. The facts are before us also to show that the business is constantly becoming more uncertain. Fish of all kinds are more scarce upon own coast, and the value of vessels and the costs of sailing them to more distant waters, have constantly increased.—Newburyport Herald.

The above facts are worthy of attention. The old system of a liberal construction of the bounty law, was in conformity with its spirit—which purported to be, encouragement of the fishery as a nursery for seamen. But the narrow construction, however literal, in Newburyport and elsewhere, nullifies that spirit, and cuts down the fishery.

"STUDYING LAW."—A young gentleman from one of the rural districts, in our good County of Carroll, came into the City last week, to "study law,"—before engaging in the dry duties of which he concluded to look about and see some of its most eminent disciples. Accompanied by a suitable cicerone, he visited various places of entertainment about Dover Landing, Squall Point, and such localities; and at the conclusion of his perigrinations, found himself minus some $50. Thinking he had not got the worth of his money, the next morning he applied to the police for redress, who being put upon the track, soon brought up a batch of his entertainers. They were arraigned before the Police Court on Monday, and after a long trial extending through that and the next day, the principal offender was bound over in the sum $500 to appear at the supreme judical Court in March, to answer further to the charge of introducing the young gentleman by the wrong door to the mysteries of the law.—Dover Enquirer.

RUMORED NEGRO INSURRECTION.—Chicago, Feb. 5.—A rumor comes to us from Charlottesville, Arkansas, that a fearful insurrection had occurred near that place, said to have been incited by two white men. The negroes are represented to have attacked two settlements, killing twenty-three persons, burning houses and killing cattle. The insurrection was finally subdued by the organization of a force of volunteers, who killed seven and captured eighteen of the insurgents. The truth of the rumor is doubtful.

Very doubtful. The wicked fleeth when no man pursueth—and the murderer trembles at the shaking of a leaf.

MR. SEWARD ON THE MORMONS.—The following from Senator Seward's speech is graphic and seems to be true:

I am told that these Mormons will not fight; and I know that it is not until after a long time that any community makes up its mind to defy an imperial power like this; but, sir, these Mormons are exceptional in the first place. They have done nothing but fight from the beginning. They are an armed and military sect, a superstitious sect, and war is an element of their progress. They fought themselves out of the State of New York, when they were but a handful of men, into Ohio.—They wrangled themselves out of Ohio into Missouri. Civil war grew up around them in Missouri, and they fought their way into Illinois and established themselves at Nauvoo, and a civil war attended their exit from Nauvoo to the Salt Lake. They are worthless for any other purpose but to fight. Their religion makes them fighting men; for it is a religion which can submit to no civil authority that is administered or exercised over them by a Christian people. It is a religion which gives license, in the name of government and God, to the indulgence of the basest propensity of human nature. I never yet have read, I never yet have heard, I never yet have seen, any superstition of this kind that did not take in, as its weapon for proselytism, the sword.

DOES THE WORLD HATE PIETY.—In answer to this question, the celebrated Sidney Smith says: "It is not true that the world hates piety. The modest and unobtrusive piety, which fills the heart with all human charities, and makes man gentle to others and severe to himself, is an object of universal love and veneration.—But mankind hate the lust of power veiled under the garb of piety. They hate cant and hypocrisy; they hate advertisers and quacks in piety; they do not choose to be insulted; they love to tear folly and impudence from the place which should only be a sanctuary for the righteous and the good."

The Legislature of New Jersey, 31 to 17, passed resolutions denouncing the Lecompton swindle. The negatives were all democrats. The same day, by 31 to 21, they approved the character and statesmanship of Buchanan and expressed confidence in his administration. The democrats all voted in the affirmative. Some of the members by thus voting in the afternoon against what they had voted for in the morning, made fools of themselves; but the time is at hand when they must stick to Buchanan and Lecompton or go against both.—Newburyport Herald.

☞ In the Lousiana Senate, notice has been given of the introduction of a bill to import 5000 negroes from the Coast of Africa. A joint resolution was also introduced denouncing the act of Com. Paaulding, and instucting the Senators and requesting the Representatives in Congress to cause the views expressed to be carried into effect.

☞ Millions of wild pigeons passed over Louisville last week, in their flight northward. The flock seemed more than a mile long, and they flew much higher than usual. Their flight north is indicative of mild weather for the rest of the winter.

☞ We have good reason to believe that in nine cases out of ten, coughs, colds, and all bronchial irritations, however severe, may be cured by the use of Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry. A single trial will prove this. O.

THE GREAT BEAUTIFIER
So long unsuccessfully sought, FOUND AT LAST.

FOR IT RESTORES PERMANENTLY GRAY HAIR to its original color; covers luxuriantly the bald head; removes all dandruff, itching, and all scurfiness, leaving the scalp healthy;—makes the hair soft, healthy, and glossy, and will preserve it to any imaginable age; removes, as if by magic, all blotches, &c., from the face, and cures all neuralgic and nervous headache. See circular and the following.

DOVER, N. H., Feb 2, 1857.

Prof. O. J. Wood & Co.—Gents: Within a few days we have received a dozen bottles of your Hair Restorative, that to-day we were compelled to send to Boston for a quantity, (the 6 dozen you forwarded all being sold,) while we might order a quantity from you. Every bottle we have sold seems to have produced three or four new customers, and the approbation and patronage it receives from the most substantial and worthy citizens of our vicinity, fully convinces us that it is A MOST VALUABLE PREPARATION.

Send us as soon as may be one gross of $1 size; and one dozen of $2 size; yours very truly,
DANIEL LATHROP & Co.

Hickory Grove, St. Charles Co., Mo., 1856.

PROF. O. J. WOOD—Dear Sir: Some time last summer we were induced to use some of your Hair Restorative, and its effects were so wonderful, we feel it our duty to you and the afflicted, to report it.

Our little son's head for some time had been perfectly covered with scurf, and some called it scald head. The hair almost entirely came off in consequence, when a friend, seeing our distress, advised us to use your Restorative, we did so with little hope of success, but, to our surprise, and that of all our friends, a very few applications removed the disease entirely, and a new and luxuriant crop of hair soon started out, and we can now say that our boy has no healthy a scalp, and as luxuriant a crop of hair as any other child. We can therefore, and do hereby, recommend your Restorative, as a perfect remedy for all diseases of the scalp and hair. We are, respectfully,
GEORGE W. HIGGINBOTHAM,
SARAH A. HIGGINBOTHAM.
GARRETT, Putnam Co., Ind., Nov. 22, 1856.

Prof. O. J. Wood—Dear Sir: I have used two bottles of Professor Wood's Hair Restorative, and can truly say it is the greatest discovery of the age for restoring and changing the Hair. Before using it I was a man of seventy. My hair has now attained its original color. You can recommend it to the world without the least fear, as my case was one of the worst kind.
Yours Respectfully,

O. J. WOOD & CO., 312 Broadway, N. Y., (in great N. Y. Wire Railing Establishment) and 114 Market street, St. Louis, Mo.

LOTTERIES.

THE Lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are chartered by the State of Georgia, and have sworn commissioners appointed to superintend their drawings, and certify that everything connected with the same is done in a strictly honorable manner. They offer to the public a fair opportunity for investment, the interests of parties at a distance being as well protected as if they were present. The Manager would respectfully call attention to the fact that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Georgia, as the lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are authorized by the Legislature of that State. A lottery will be drawn every Saturday throughout the year, all orders received being filled in the order they need to take place after the same comes to hand. According to the scheme one ticket in every ten must draw a prize. Tickets are $10; halves, $5; quarters, $2.50. No tickets sent unless the money accompanies the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket, and are so simple that one can at a glance see if they have drawn a prize. There is no combination of numbers to mystify the buyer. Prizes vary from $40 to $10,000; every prize being drawn, and result of drawing forwarded to all purchasers.

☞ A list of the numbers that are drawn from the wheel, with the amount each prize is entitled to, will be published every Saturday morning, in the following papers:—New Orleans Delta, Mobile Register, Charleston Standard, Nashville Gazette, Atlanta Intelligencer and New York Weekly Dry Dock. Write your address plainly, and direct to S. SWAN & Co., Augusta, Georgia

Prizes paid in full—no percentage deducted from prizes as in other lotteries.

All communications strictly confidential. m181y

LOTTERIES.

The well-known Maryland Consolidated Lotteries, of which R. FRENCH & Co are the managers, are chartered by the State of Maryland, and a commissioner elected by the people, who is sworn to superintend and certify that everything connected with the same is done in a strictly honorable manner, and that the interests of parties who reside at a distance are as well protected as if they themselves were present at the drawing. Another fact which we would call attention to, is, that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Maryland, as lotteries are legalized by the laws of that State. A lottery is drawn every day of the month. If no particular class is named, orders are filled in the first drawing to take place after the communication comes to hand. The prices of tickets vary from $1 to $20. No tickets are, however, sent unless the money for the same is received with the order. The drawings are upon the simple principle of one number each ticket (after the Havana plan), and Ternary combination. Prizes vary in amount from $20 to $100,000. All orders for tickets or packages will receive prompt attention, and the drawing mailed to all purchasers immediately after it is over.

☞ The drawn numbers of the Maryland Lotteries are published in the Baltimore newspapers in the following papers, viz: Sun, Clipper, Patriot, American, Argus, of Baltimore; also, the National Intelligencer and Union, of Washington, D.C.

A PROCLAMATION
TO THE LADIES.

WHEREAS, it appears that the days of right, honor, and integrity are fast fading away, and WHEREAS, the unscrupulous and ignorant are daily taking advantage of the profound and learned; BE IT KNOWN THEREFORE, to all, whether MAIDS, WIVES, or WIDOWS, that Dr. CHESEMAN'S FEMALE PILLS are alone the certain panacea for all those troubles and obstructions of menstruation; they alone correcting all painful menstruation, assuaging palpitations of the heart, interrupted sleep, pain in the side, and causing health and happiness to the sufferer; they especially to the MARRIED PORTION, as they are certain to bring on the monthly period with regularity.—Now, GENTLEMEN, these PILLS are perfectly safe, portable and entirely free from mineral's, therefore perfectly harmless in their operations and wholly unlike other medicines thrust upon the public, purporting to be the objects of which they defined. THEREFORE, BE IT KNOWN, that NOTHING but the said PILLS of Dr. CHESEMAN will accomplish the desired object, which has been so long and so experienced under the regime of OTHER PILLS; and the Ladies will cause this Proclamation to spread amongst them, to their own everlasting benefit—always remembering that said Proclamation in one case must be considered KILL AND ROB; that is to say the PILLS MUST NOT be taken when any female is pregnant, as MISCARRIAGE, otherwise a MISCARRIAGE will be the inevitable result.

S. D. & H. W. Smith,
—MANUFACTURERS OF—
Melodeons, Organ Melodeons,
—and—
PEDAL BASS MELODEONS.
No. 511 Washington St., Boston.

The first premium over all competitors, at the Fair of the Mass. Charitable Mechanic Association, of the National Fair, Washington, D. C.; also at the Ohio State Fair, held at Columbus, Ohio, was awarded to these Manufacturers.

By means of a new method of Voicing, known only to themselves, they have succeeded in removing the harsh and buzzing sound which formerly characterized the instrument, and producing the tones full, clear and organ like. The action is prompt and reliable, enabling the performer to execute the most rapid music without blurring the tones. The swell is arranged to give great expression.

THE PEDAL BASS MELODEONS,

Are designed particularly for Churches, Lodges, Halls, &c. It is arranged with two manuals, or banks of Keys, the lower set running an octave higher than the other, and may be used separately, and thus get in one case two distinct instruments; or by use of the coupler, the two banks of keys may be played at the same time by use of the front set only. This connected with the Pedal Bass, will produce the effect of a large organ, and is sufficiently loud to fill a house that seats from 1000 to 1600 persons.

THE ORGAN MELODEON

Is designed for parlor and private use. The construction is similar to the Church Instrument, being arranged with two banks of Keys, but when used together, by means of the coupler, is capable of as great volume of power as the Church Instrument when used without the pedals. Also, every variety of MELODEONS for Parlor use.

Purchasers may rely upon instruments from our Manufactory, being made in the most complete and thorough manner. Having removed to the spacious Buildings

511 Washington Street,

We have every facility for manufacturing purposes, and employ none but the most experienced and skilful workmen. In short, we will promote our customers an instrument equal, if not superior, to any Manufacturer, and guarantee an entire and perfect satisfaction.

Music Teachers, Leaders of Choirs, and others interested in musical matters, are respectfully invited to visit our Rooms at any time and examine or test the instruments on exhibition for their own satisfaction.

As a still further guarantee to the public as to the excellence of the MELODEONS from our Manufactory, we may leave to refer, by permission, to the following

Piano Fortes Manufacturers of Boston,

who have examined our Instruments, and will give their opinion when called upon:

Chickering & Sons, Hallett & Cummings,
T. Gilbert & Co., Wm. P. Emerson,
Brown & Allen, A. W. Ladd & Co.,
George Hewes, Jonathan Woodward & Brown,
Newhall & Co.

MELODEONS RENTED.

☞ Persons who wish to hire Melodeons with a view of purchasing at the end of the year, can have the rent credited as part payment on the purchase money. This matter is worthy of special note, as it enables those who desire a fair test of the instrument before purchasing, to obtain it at the expense of the manufacturers, to the extent at least of a year's rent.

Orders from any part of the country or world, sent direct to the manufactory in Boston, with cash, or satisfactory reference, will be promptly attended to, and as faithfully executed as if the parties were present, or employed an agent to select, on as reasonable terms.

GOVERNMENT REFUSING ITS OWN PAPER.

The New York Express says:

The government is completely bankrupt, and besides paying its employees in irredeemable paper, has to-day refused to receive Treasury notes in payment of duties. The case to which we especially refer is that of a Philadelphia house having duties to pay here, for which its agent offered Treasury notes, which the Collector refused to received unless endorsed by the Philadelphia house. As the notes were payable to bearer, this demand for endorsement was simply an excuse for refusing to take the notes. All the money wanted can be had at a cheap rate, but the lenders must be consulted instead of having the rate thrust upon them. It is alike disgraceful to pay the public creditors with irredeemable paper, or to refuse to take the obligations of the government for dues, after agreeing to do so.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.—The House to-day passed a resolution directing the Special Committee on Kansas not to make a report till the 10th of March next, by a vote of 128 to 64.

Kansas affairs occupied most of the session. A Republican member moved to refer Mr. Buchanan's message to a committee, to remove the delusions in relation to Kansas, and to convince members it was not treasonable to assert that the people of Kansas had a right to form and regulate their institutions in their own way. The motion was lost.

The French Spoliation bill, reported by Mr. Crittenden from the Select Committee of the Senate, is accompanied by an able and elaborate report. The former is similar to that heretofore introduced, and appropriates $5,000,000 of 5 per cent. stock, in satisfaction of the claims.

The Douglas Democrats were again in council this morning.

LIQUOR CASES IN SPRINGFIELD, MASS.—Elihu Phelps was convicted for a single sale of liquor, and appealed. T. Egan was arraigned for the same offence, but a flaw was found in the complaint, and the case was abandoned.

The building occupied by these rumsellers is owned by Robert G. Marsh, of Holyoke, the high sheriff of Hampden county. Park Restaunt has been closed by its proprietors, who chose to quit the business rather than be prosecuted. The authorities seem determined to close the public illegal sale of liquor, and this is what should be done in every city and town in the Commonwealth.—Newburyport Herald.

IGNORANCE AND CRIME.

There are few subjects about which legislators are more at variance, than the means for the removal of ignorance and the checking of crime. While the more profound and sagacious observers of human nature have advocated a highly judicious and comparatively lenient system of jurisprudence on this point, their vehement and impassioned opponents have boldly proclaimed the necessity of exercising the utmost rigor and severity towards the fraternity of barbarism and infamy. The Girondists afford a good example of the former, the followers of Turgot and Tourney of the latter class of philosophers. It is a fact worthy of note, that nations have adopted such theories for social and intellectual advancement, as best accorded with the cultivation and refinement of their people.

The fundamental error of reformers of all shades, consists in their aiming wholly at the eradication of existing vices, and in not paying sufficient attention to the causes which produce them. Absorbed in the great idea of liberating the present generation from abuses which have acquired stability by long-standing, and character from general practice; they have neglected to establish such institutions as are best adapted to give permanency to integrity and virtue. Hence the labored theories of schooled philosophers have often become lost or discarded at the death of their originators. Devised exclusively for the present, they prove totally unfit for the future; and the virtuous no longer look upon them as a protection, nor the vicious as a restraint.

History abounds with numerous illustrations of the absurdity of attempting the abolition of iniquity and crime, while ignorance is respected by public sentiment and tolerated by law. A lack of intelligence is a lack of principle, and a lack of principle is the very requisite of crime. It is impossible for probity, honor and equity to exist, where moral delinquency and mental turpitude are the objects of emulation and desire. What occasions the difference between civilized and barbarous nations, if it be not that the one is polished by churches, schools, and institutions for improvement in the arts and sciences, while the other is weighed down by crude superstitions and infamous ignorance?—Greece cherished learning and philosophy, and achieved for herself a reputation co-existent with time itself. Persia fostered idolatry and despised refinement, and when her armies were overthrown on the field of Arbelior, she was known no longer except by the pen of the annalist.

The connexion between ignorance and crime is perfectly natural and consistent. They are mutually dependent upon one another for existence and support. Lamartine's and Alison's expositions of the causes which conspired to bring about the most stupendous social and political revolution recorded on the pages of history, are but so much proof of the truth of this assertion. At the breaking out of the French Revolution, says Alison, only one in fifty could read or write. This is convincing evidence of the festering wickedness and abandonment of principle which occasioned such anarchy and disruption in that powerful empire. There was not only no restraint upon injustice and iniquity, but a strong incentive to nourish them.—A fallen monarch could pay no reward to integrity; demagogues lavished their munificence upon those who despised it.—Where one man was governed by enlightened reason and a sense of duty, forty-nine were the dupes of passion, avarice, and a sordid ambition. In view of this fact, can any one be amazed at the multitude of instances of outraged humanity and violated justice, which disgrace the annals of France during that dark and eventful period?

The multiplication of virtues upon human nature, says Bacon, rests upon well ordained and well disciplined societies.—Never were words more true. They are exactly to the point. If government would free itself of those combinations which threaten its stability,—if society would attain to a higher degree of completeness and perfection,—if individuals would enjoy exemption from discord and hurtful innovations,—then a lofty public sentiment must be cultivated, morality respected, and learning cherished. In no other way can the elevation of humanity be accomplished. Force and violence are the instruments of weakness and despotism.—They are never brought into requisition, except when reason and philosophy have been disregarded by the supercilious and inconstant rabble. Sometimes indeed they serve to awe into submission the elements of cupidity and faction, but their influence is ever transient. The true and only philosophical method of removing vice, is to remove ignorance. Once let the benignant light of knowledge shine upon all men, and our prisons would become empty, and crime no longer be known among men.

From Hon. Chas. Mason, Commissioner of Patents.
U. S. PATENT OFFICE, Feb 23, 1855
I take great pleasure in stating that during the time I have been acting as Commissioner of Patents, Samuel Cooper, Esq., of Boston, has been engaged as Solicitor, and has been in that capacity in constant correspondence and intercourse with the office; he has evinced a thorough acquaintance with the Patent Law, and with the rules and practice of the office, a close attention to the interests of his clients, and a marked candor and courtesy that has rendered the transaction of business with him a pleasure. I have no hesitation in stating that I regard him as one of the very best agents for the transaction of business with this office with whom I am acquainted.

Coggswell's Medical Salt,
A PERFECT SUBSTITUTE
FOR THE
LANCET, LEECHES AND BLISTERS.
INSTEAD of being a panacea for all maladies, it has control over but ONE MALADY—has but ONE AIM—accomplishes but ONE THING, to wit: SURDUES INFLAMMATORY DISEASE—whatever be its form or locality—whether in the head, throat, chest, abdomen, extremities or skin. Every form of inflammation (but no other disease) is subdued, by it as easily as fire is extinguished by water. Is it asked, how it does this?—simply by restoring the lost balance between the fluids and solids. Such is its potency, that like vaccine matter, it requires merely what adheres to the point of a quill dipped into a solution of it, to affect the entire system.
☞ Of its intrinsic value, the enlightened community, and not the discoverer, must be the judge.

TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 9, 1858.

FACE THE MUSIC.

The Concord Democratic Standard of Feb. 6, copies a semi-official article from the Washington Union, which reads out of the party all rebels, in the most summary manner. It says:—

The Democrats are right on this issue, or the "Republicans" are right; James Buchanan is right, or James Lane is right. And no good Democrat will catch at nice and unnecessary distinctions in order to enrol himself, in or out of Congress, on the side of Lane, the traitor and rebel. There is not (we believe) one Democratic District, North or South, in this Union, when history shall duly record the great facts in this case, that will support, by Democratic sanction, the exclusion of Kansas on the Lecompton Constitution.

The Democratic Standard says: "The Music must be faced,"—and then remarks, in regard to this piece:—

It is evidently an authorised exposition of the views and purposes of the President, with regard to the admission of Kansas under the Lecompton Constitution. It is especially addressed to the Democracy of the country.

It will be seen, that the President has resolved to stand upon the admission of Kansas with the Lecompton Constitution, and to make that measure a test of party fealty and fidelity. It presents boldly the issue to Mr. Douglas and his friends, and demands of them, in substance, an unconditional surrender, upon the pain of ex-communication from the Democratic Church.

Such is the import of the article. Now, what will our State Committee do? What will the presses which have denounced the Lecompton Constitution, and taken position with Douglas, do? Will they retrace their steps and stand by the President?—Or, will they put themselves in open and avowed opposition to the Democratic Party, and the Administration?

There can now be no more double-dealing, or evasion. The President demands, through his organ, that the Democracy shall support him against the rebels of Kansas, and their sympathizers out of Kansas. He does not mean that men, who call themselves democrats, shall swear by him, and by Douglas too. He does not understand their hypocritical gibberish, "we are Buchanan men, and we are Douglas men." He means that they shall be for him, and for him alone.

Per contra, the Augusta Age, a noted paper of the democratic party in Maine, comes out flat-footed, against the Lecompton swindle and gag,—and says:—

"We cannot agree with the President, that the admission of Kansas under the Lecompton Constitution, will give either peace to Kansas, or quiet to the country. On the contrary, we believe, that if that instrument is forced upon the people, against their earnest protest, that event will be the signal for new troubles in Kansas. * * * * We are, therefore, decidedly and unequivocally, opposed to the Lecompton policy of the administration.

We are opposed to it because the project is unjust and wrong in itself.

We are opposed to it, because it would be an act, unprecedented in the history of the country, to force a territory into the Union as a State, under a constitution known to be obnoxious to a vast majority of the people.

We are opposed to it because we believe it to be in open disregard and violation of the great principle of "popular sovereignty." * * * We are opposed to it as being in direct conflict with the first principles of Republican government.

We are opposed to it as certain to annihilate the Democracy of the North, when on the very eve of a recovery from their defeat consequent on the struggle to inaugurate the principle of popular sovereignty on the ruins of demolished compromises.

We are opposed to it because its probable result will be to throw the government into the hands of Black Republicanism in 1860.

If, therefore, the Democratic party in Congress does not court all these calamities, we conjure them to strike down Lecompton. Strike it down, or it will strike down the Democratic party. Strike it down, or it will strike down the great principle of "popular sovereignty."—Strike it down, or it will sunder the only remaining bond of political union, by which it is possible to continue together a national party. Strike it down, or Black Republicanism will strike you down.

☞ The Democrats of Philadelphia, "who voted for James Buchanan in 1856, and who are determined to maintain the principles and pledges of the Cincinnati Platform, and are therefore inexorably opposed to all attempts to force the Lecompton Constitution upon the protesting people of Kansas, in violation of the majority," were to hold a meeting Monday evening, to be addressed by Hon. Robert J. Walker and Frederic P. Stanton.

NOL. PROSEQ.—The Boston Bee states that a nol pros. has been entered in the case of Commonwealth vs. Rev. I. S. Kalloch.

☞ The original dish of beef tea is said to have been made by Henry Eight, when he dissolved the first Papal bull.

MR. KEITT was one of the late Bully Brooks's body guard, in his cowardly attack on Charles Sumner. The Boston Courier says, speaking of Keitt's attack on Grow:—

"In the particular event which distinguishes the long session, it must be admitted that Mr. Keitt was the aggressor. The profane and vulgar language which he employed is inexcusable; his personal assault of a member deserved the public and prompt humiliation which followed it.—Any man who seizes the throat of another, ought to be knocked down."

The same paper of Monday says:—

A telegraphic dispatch, dated at Washington on Saturday evening, reports, on the authority of "rumor," that "notes of a belligerent character have passed between two or three gentlemen,—growing out of the fracas which occurred in the House." Our own dispatch, dated last evening, represents that the affray was still the subject of conversation; but that there was "no probability that any further difficulty would occur between the two principal belligerents." The friends of Mr. Keitt claim that "he was not knocked down," but was "wrenched from his hold by Mr. Reuben Davis, who interfered as a peacemaker;" and further, that "as Mr. Keitt premeditated no disturbance with Mr. Grow, he the more seriously regrets the occurrence."

In regard to the motion of Mr. Harris, which has excited all this feeling and ill-blood, and which is to come before the House again on Monday at twelve o'clock, it is difficult to predict the result. A Philadelphia cotemporary has estimated the strength of parties; and, after mentioning that Mr. Caruthers of Missouri is absent from the country, and that Mr. Matteson of New York will not return to his seat, expresses the opinion that upon a full vote there would be a majority of votes against the Lecompton Constitution. A dispatch from Washington, to a New York paper, conveys a qualified opinion that the Administration members will on Monday defeat Mr. Harris's motion, notwithstanding the occurrences of Friday night.

FACTS ABOUT THE OCEAN.—Lieutenant Maury, whose facts, gathered from extensive observation of the winds and currents of the ocean, are so valuable to commerce, states that July and August are the most favorable months to cross the Atlantic.—The most tempestuous month is January, the next is December, the next February. March and November are nearly alike, as are September and April. He states, contrary to general opinion, that doubling Cape Horn, which is generally regarded so dangerous, can never be compared for storms, with the winter passage between England and America.

A correspondent of the Nashua Register asks the following apt question: "Within the last two months I have, on several occasions, heard the word profile pronounced as though spelled profiel, and for fear that in this progressive age we shall soon be obliged to call a woodpile, woodpeel, I should feel obliged to you if you will inform me whether there is any good authority for so pronouncing the word."

Aye, aye, says Uncle Toby, Woodpeel will be right, one of these days. Even now we hear Engin or Engeene, instead of Engine. We know no good reason for it, only people pronounce it so,—and when it becomes general, the best way is to "let it slide."

☞ A young man named Amos Wilson, alias David Stone, has just been arrested in Wisconsin, on a charge of having committed a forgery for the amount of $1000 in Biddeford, some time since. Wilson obtained about $300 on the forged paper, and immediately after left for the head of Black River, Wisconsin, where he was arrested by officer Whitten on a requisition from Gov. Morrill of Maine.

☞ The Albany correspondent of the Journal of Commerce says that he saw the other day six runaway negroes marched through the streets under the protection of Stephen Myers, a black man, who claims to be the President of the "Underground Railroad."

A QUESTION OF FACT.—The Spiritual Telegraph expresses the belief that the spiritualist of Boston do not "commit the impropriety of sitting in their circles unclothed." It has "instituted inquiry, and has as yet been unable to find any person, either spiritualist or skeptic, who believes such a thing has occurred."

☞ A Philadelphia paper says that one of the most painful cases that ever came before a Coroner, was presented on Wednesday morning. A woman forty-five years of age, who is said to have children married and in good circumstances, died without a home, from exposure, starvation and intemperance. Her name was Mary McMacken. Her clothing consisted of strips of rag carpet wrapt around her person.

☞ The crew of the sloop-of-war Cyane were paid off Feb. 3d, at the Gosport Navy Yard.

FROM EUROPE.

ONE WEEK LATER.

Steamship Arabia, from Liverpool Jan. 23, arrived at New York 7th. The intelligence from China is of warlike character, but that from India is unimportant. The French advices are important, showing the plot to assassinate the Emperor, to be a deep one, with many conspirators.

The effect of the explosion of the three projectiles, proved on investigation to be far more disastrous than was at first supposed.

The number of persons more or less wounded fell little, if any, short of one hundred and fifty, and six had died of their wounds. The projectiles employed were of the most formidable kind, and it is said that not less than twenty-one of them were meant to be used. Five minutes previous to the explosion, an Italian named Pierre, who was expelled from France in 1853, was recognised by the police, and arrested. He was armed with a six-barreled revolver and a dagger, and was the bearer of a bomb similar to those exploded.

Count Orsini, who was arrested at his lodgings, upon information given by his servant, said he confessed that he threw one of the bombs.

These parties, and two others, named Gomez and Da Silva alias Rulio, also in custody, are supposed to be the chiefs in the affair.

The Paris correspondent of the London Advertiser says that a formal demand has been preferred upon the British government, for the expulsion of Victor Hugo, Ledru Rollin, Mazzini and Louis Blanc from the British territory.

It is stated that Rudio, the youngest of the Italian prisoners, has revealed everything connected with the plot to assassinate the Emperor. The trial will take place about the 10th of February.

The correspondent of the London Herald says that on the 21st twenty-two persons were arrested in the Gardens of the Tuilleries, each with a loaded revolver in his pocket.

The Revue de France and the newspaper Le Spectateur, formerly the Assemblee Nationale, have been suppressed for the publication of articles upholding republican principles. The conductors of the Estafette newspaper have been condemned to two months imprisonment and 500 francs fine, for an outrage on public morals and religion.

In the English markets, money was easier, cotton had advanced a farthing, 'breadstuffs were dull, and prices weak.'

The festivities in honor of approaching nuptials of the Princess Royal, were the dominant topic in England. A great array of distinguished visitors from the Continent, including the King of Belgium and numerous Prussian Princes, &c., were the guests of British Court. State balls, concerts and banquets at Buckingham Palace, and festival performances at Her Majesty's Theatre followed each other in rapid succession.

The Duke of Devonshire died suddenly on the 18th of January, of paralysis.

Lady Boothby, formerly Mrs. Nesbit, a distinguished actress, had also died after a brief illness.

The Court of Directors of the East India Company had drawn up a lengthy petition to Parliament against the transfer of the government of India to the British crown.

The dignity of a Baronet had been conferred upon the son of Gen. Havelock, and his (the General's) widow had been officially declared entitled to all the honor she would have enjoyed had her husband survived.

WILL LAGER BIER INTOXICATE? is a question which we supposed had once been settled in the negative by Doesticks. But a Brooklyn jury is investigating the matter, and have hard evidence on both sides. Dr. Chiton says that lager contains four per cent of alcohol; but various persons, male and female, principally Germans, swore that they never were intoxicated from drinking lager bier, yet they had drank from thirty to one hundred glasses a day! Phillip Von Kock drank seven gallons and a half within two hours, went home sober and ate his dinner. This is a case of deep drinking or tall swearing.

☞ Alcohol was invented, 950 years ago, by the son of a bond woman, Hagar, in Arabia. Ladies used it with a powder to paint themselves, that they might appear more beautiful. During the reign of William and Mary an act was passed uncouraging the manufacture of spirits.—Soon after, intemperance and profligacy prevailed to such an extent, that the retailers of intoxicating drinks put up signs in public places, informing the people that they might get drunk for a shilling, and have some straw to get sober on again.

☞ The Sat. Eve. Gazette says:

We find in an exchange a poem called the "Song of the Farmer's Boy," beginning "Ho, brothers, ho!" Nothing could be more appropriate if the farm boy stick to his vocation; but there be farmer boys we wot of who come to the city, whose song after a while might read, "Rake, brothers, rake!" and be very appropriate.

Punch says England has got only quarrels and contentions from her Canadian colonies, except the boat song, and even that begins "Row, brothers, row!"

☞ A scientific medical writer in the London Veterinarian is of opinion that the "progress of action in a horse's feet is from the heel to the toe, and not from the toe to the heel," as generally supposed—that is the heel comes up first and goes down first, as in man and other animals.

☞ Thomas L. Harris of Illinois, the member of the House who moved that the Lecompton Message be referred to a special (instead of a standing) Committee, is a Democrat; but a follower and supporter of Senator Douglas.

Some graceless wag has suggested a new reading of Shakespeare, to suit the times: "Help me, Cash-us, or I sink!"

TO CONSUMERS OF GAS.

The Carcel Gas Burner.

"WOOD'S PATENT," is recommended for the following reasons:—

Its Economy, which can be proved by any one who will take the trouble to try it with their own Meter, or at my store with a Proof Meter.

Its brilliant, though soft, diffusive light, equalling the Carcel Lamp, acknowledged by Fresnel, "to be the finest artificial light yet produced."

Its self regulating power, requiring no alteration of the stop cock after lighting.

Its durability, and, where the Gas is impure, the ease with which it is cleaned.

Its adaptation for use with rich cut, or engraved shades, or the simple paper shade.

The absence of singing, so annoying to many persons.

It is a Gas Burner by which consumers can tell the quantity of Gas they are using, on looking at the spreaders.

And for every purpose where a continued Gas Light is used, as in Parlors, Stores, &c.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

PRETTY FAIR AND TRUE AS GOSPEL.

The Georgia papers tell a capital story of a lady formerly resident of that State, but who had removed to Mississippi, characteristic of the attachment of the daughters of that quarter of the Union to their birthplace. We will relate the story as it is now going the rounds of the papers; and then will make the correction of the error which we regret to see our Georgia friends have inadvertedly committed. The lady alluded to was shouting at a camp meeting in Mississippi, and in the ecstacy of her happiness, she exclaimed, "Glory Hallelujah!—I feel like I was in Georgy!" The fact is the lady had drawn a prize in S. Swan & Co's legalized lottery, which draws every Saturday at Augusta, Ga., and to which point by sending $10, $5, or $2.50 the fortunate purchaser will be intitled to a whole, half or a quarter, of $75,000.

Creating such a stir among invalids as Dr. Sanford's Invigorator or Liver Remedy. It gives such quick relief as to convince the patient of receiving benefit almost as soon as the medicine is taken. We do not know of a single instance where it has been taken without benefit, and in nearly all cases a complete cure is effected by its use. It has acquired its wide popularity simply because it does what it is recommended to do. It is constantly enlarging its circle of friends, carrying healing on its wings, and joy to the hearts of those suffering from Liver Complaint, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, or general debility.

LOCAL.

A SAD PICTURE.

Messrs. Editors:—I wish to call the attention of this community to the fact that we have no protection in our business or our families from the unlawful sale of intoxicating liquors.

A man, formerly intemperate, but who has been totally abstinent for the last 10 months, has been tempted to drink at a well known groggery at the North End, and by the influence of the liquor he fell from his cart and is severely injured.—His earnings are cut off, and his family is thrown into great distress and poverty. His wife and four little children are sufferers,—one is sick and not likely to live—the wife in no condition to take care of the wounded man.

The efforts of temperance men and women to save this man and his family, have been untiring,—and they are now defeated in this way, by the cupidity of a dramseller, who for a few paltry coppers breaks over the law, and sends desolation into a household.

Under the present city arrangements, there is nothing to hope for but such cruelty as this. I would therefore hope that the friends of good order may consult with each other at a public meeting called for that purpose, to see if anything can be done to save the city from the destructive influence of this dreadful rum traffic, which mars our otherwise happy community.

Respectfully yours, K. M. S.

WHAT SHALL I DO THIS EVENING?—This question, so universally propounded, perhaps to self, we shall endeavor to answer, by hereafter giving as full a list of meetings, religious or otherwise, as we may be able to obtain.

This (Tuesday) evening there is to be a Prayer Meeting in the vestry of the Methodist Church, beginning at 7 o'clock.

The Ladies' Missionary Circle will meet at Rev. Mr. Medbery's residence, at 4 o'clock this afternoon.

There will be a Prayer and Conference meeting at the Vestry in the Temple, this evening at 7 o'clock.

The Ladies' Missionary Circle will meet at the residence of Rev. N. Modbery, at 4 o'clock this afternoon.

☞ The ordinance of Baptism was administered to ten converts, by Rev. Messrs. Lamson (Baptist,) and Hall (Methodist,) on Sunday morning last; and to eight, by Rev. Messrs. Holmes (Christian,) and Gouch (Advent,) in the afternoon of the same day—at Noble's Island.

☞ "Uncle Sam" has been delinquent for some months past, in meeting his obligations here and elsewhere, but Secretary Cobb is financiering, no doubt, to get his treasury notes in circulation, and when this is accomplished we may expect regularity in payments—not till then.

One fortnightly "payment" was made at this Station, last week—leaving one or two more due.

☞ We learn from the Exeter News Letter that Mrs. Mary H. Sperry died in North Hampton, early in January. She was a sister of the late Rev. Dr. French. Her husband was Rev. Mr. Sperry, settled for some time in Wenham, Mass., afterwards in the State of New York.

The same paper mentions the death, in Exeter, of Mr. Andrus Julian, aged 86.—He was a native of Portugal, but lived most of his life in this city, where he followed the business of a rigger, and was known to all our merchants, mariners and shipbuilders as a worthy, industrious, christian man.

☞ We are informed by an Odd Fellow that Rev. H. D. Moore of Portland is not now the Chaplain of the Lodge in this city, but that he took a regular and honorable dismissal by card from the Lodge, a few weeks since, probably to join one in Portland.
